THE CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

Two Alleged Murderers Arraigned-Minor Fractures of the Law. The criminal division of the district court was in charge of Judge Keysor, who was kept busy during most of the day.

Edward J. Collins, the man who was charged with having murdered Louis Me-Pherson at the town of Valley on the night of November 18, and who was held to the district court to answer for the commission of the crime, was brought into court for arraignment. He pleaded not vality to the charges contained in the information and the case went over until the February term. Since his arrest Collins has lost most of the bravato that was so prominent on the day of his arrest and, instead of being loud and noisy, he looks pale, submissive and nervous. He was asked if he had a lawyer to took after his case. He replied that he had none and that he was without the funds to employ and pay an attorney. He had talked with Pat O. Hawes about the case, Edward J, Collins, the man who was had hole and that he was whold the ranks to employ and pay an attorney. He had talked with Pat O. Hawes about the case, but had not hired him. Mr. Hawes at once stepped to the front and informed the court that he defended the prisoner at the pre-liminary and that he would like to have the case in the district court. Looke Keysor recase in the district court. Judge Keysor re-plied that Judge Scott would have the crimi-nal docket next term and that he did not feel like making the appointment. After pleading, Collins was remanded to jail and locked in the muriter's cell.
