EARLY IN THE DAY IT WAS QUITE FIRM

Armour's Selling Started the Slide, and After a Slight Rally General Liquidation Followed and Almost Produced a Panic.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Wheat went down with a rush today, and after losing 2c and smashing all previous low prices closed with May 1%c lower at 60%c. Free selling by Armour two hours after the opening started the decline, and from that on the selling was fast and furious, Corn resisted the notion of wheat and closed unchanged for May. Oats closed %c lower, Provisions, in sympathy with wheat, finished lower CHICAGO, Feb. 9.-Wheat went down | here. a day. ions, in sympathy with wheat, finished lower all around, May pork losing 45c.

Wheat opened stendy with May 1/4c lower at 62%c. The indications that a very heavy cold wave was bearing down on the rain-soaked regions aided the discomfited bulls in gaining a little of their lost nerve, and May soon advanced to 62%c, where it closed yesterday. Until 11 o'clock honors were easy and fluctuations were confined to limit. But the news of the day was generally bearish. Cables were not encouraging, and the northwestern receipts were again in excess of those of last year. The export clearances were under 200,900 bu. Lester sold a big lot of wheat for Armour, who had bought yesterday. That started the decline and May went down to 6212c. From that figure it recovered slightly and then with another slide went down to 60%c, the lowest price for May ever made on the Chi cago board. A long line of New York wheat came out, liquidation by St. Louis parties followed and everyone seemed to have sell-ing orders. The selling at times was of semi-panicky character and continued to the close with a raily of but %c at the finish from the day's bottom figures. May opened %c lower at 62%c, advanced %c, declined %c, rallied %c, lost 1%c, rallied %c to close

In corn there was not much doing, the market ruling rather quiet. The feeling de-veloped was steady, considering the action of the surrounding pits. The market showed strength at the start, initial trades being at a fractional advance, and upon good buying sold up from %c to %c more The better tone was due to the stormy weather and more active European inquiry for cash corn at higher prices. It went down %c in sympathy with wheat, rallied 14c became steady and closed with May at the opening figures and but 1/4c from the highest prices of the day.

There was a stubborn market in cats

Business was moderate and prices held within a %c range, being firmer and 1/sc higher early on the early steadiness of wheat, but later when wheat weakened prices receded 4c and the close was easy, with May but %c above the bottom figures of the Provisions were dull early and steady with an undertone of weakness. The offerings were light and some disposition was exhibited on the part of local operators to ad-vance prices, due to slightly higher prices for hogs at the yards and the unchanged condition of wheat and corn. Later the bottom fell out of the market on the break in wheat and on the product being offered down in the absence of any support whatever. The market closed weak and near the inside prices of the day. Compared with last night May pork is 45c lower, May lard 10c lower and May ribs 22½ lower. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 83 cars; corn, 500 cars; oats, 165 cars; hogs,

St. Louis Board Experiences Quite a Flutter in the Cereal.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 5,—At the lowest prices for May the speculative option wheat documed 2c to 575c, the lowest ever known here. While there was considerable excitement, the market itself was not a wild one. It declined steadily from start to finish and that was all. With all this terrific decline, considering how low wheat was, no financial embarrossments are feared on the local board. The trade here has generally been bearish and short, though the price was too low for them to make good memory on the decline. Cash, No. 2 red, sold at 525c, which is within 2c of the lowest ever touched in the market has a summer while wheat was pouring in here. Now the receipts do not average 19,000 bu. in the Cerente.

Minneapolis Wheat Market.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 9, "WHEAT-Prices fell today in sympathy with all other points. There seemed to be a general liquidation, not only here, but in all other places, Chicago leading, probably due to the heavy load of wheat that city has carried for some time past. Many believe that prices will go as much too low as they were too high before the large supplies of wheat lying here are shipped out. The country roads in the morthwest are bad and teams, it is said, have difficulty in getting to the market with the grain. The late warm rains have made the roads bad and now, being followed by ice, it is not possible to move grain either with sleighs or wagons with facility. Minneapolis Wheat Market. grain either with sleighs or wagons with facility.

The decline in prices also checked the tentency of farmers to sell. In such parts of the morthwest as have much grain to sell, the farmers are in good financial circumstances and stop selling whenever the prices drop and don't begin again until there is a rise, for the prices have been down to a notch so low that they become used to them. In such sections as would be disposed to move wheat they have very little to sell. Still it is believed that in all parts the remainder of the last crop and all such preceding crops as have been carried over will be mostly disposed of. In many places farmers yet hold in their granaries two or three crops, or at least parts of them.

That wheat is even now beginning to come out.
If the next crop should promise to be a fair one it is not believed by the trade generally that much old wheat will be carried over. If that suspicton be true there will be considerable wheat marketed by farmers in the northwest yet, even admitting the short supplies they are said to have in their granaries in all of the newer settlements.

May opened at 59c and closed at 57%c. a deo have in their granaries in all of the newer settlements.

May opened at 59c and closed at 57%c, a decidedly new low price. July was about as weak as May, opening at 59%c and closing at 59c. February closed at 55c on track. No. 1 hard, Sic. No. 2 northern, 56c. Several quite large lots of May were sold at 55c and considerable July at 55%c. For a few minutes after the opening there was a steady market. Then the break occurred and there was a gradual loss of ic. The most of the No. 1 northern that was offered for sale on track brought 5565%c, or 15a above the closing figures. The sales were made earlier in the day, and after the decline there was very little to sell. Receipts, 210 cars, shipments, 35 cars.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

No Settled Plan of Action or Begularity of Movement. NEW YORK, Feb. 9.-The stock market is suffering from general lassitude and moves with general hesitation upward and downward. There seems to be no settled plan of action or regularity of movement. While one set of stock advances another is going down. Today's trading, if Sugar and St. Paul be excluded, was hardly sufficient to make a market and some of the usually active stocks were scarcely noticeable in the dealings. At the opening the market was firm. The railway and miscellaneous bond market was a trifle strong for the day. The Post says: What today's irregular stock market chiefly suggested was the wish of speculators for each account to reduce their outstanding contracts. The result was a slow and confused movement of prices alternating with complete stagnation. At the start yesterday's sellers for the short account bought back their stocks and prices throughout the list had a considerable advance. Later in the day the forenoon purchasers of stocks began to let their hold ings go and a reaction followed. The clos-ing was uniformly firm. There was little news beyond what was canvassed yesterday. The treasury's gold reserve today practically touched the hundred million mark for the first time since August 17, 1893. The gold payments for bonds this morning were obviously far heavier than payments in notes. Wheat broke again today, but this will be offset in the granger stocks by reports that, however it must b done, the full spring dividends on the leading granger stocks will be declared. The following are the closing quotations on the leading stocks on the New York ex-

CHATS IN THE CORRIDORS.

Ex-Governor Furnas of Brownville is at the Paxton. During the strained relations which existed between the north and south in 1862 the ex-governor was placed in command of the Second Nebraska cavalry, composed of volunteers. Instead of being sent to face the fee in gray the colonel and his regiment were kept busy looking after Indians between Omaha and Fort Sully. Speaking of that memorable campaign the old warrior said: "If any one thinks for one moment that the Second Nebraska was not kept exceedingly busy during the war they are laboring under a hallucination. We were mustered in during 1861 and camped in Omaha, near the present Union Pacific headquarters, which was then the Herndon hotel. Later we pitched our tents in the vicinity of the High school, which was at that time the old capitol grounds. Finally we got word of depredations committed by the Indians and started out after them. Our first march was from here to Sloux City. Then we proceeded north as far as Fort Suily. We fought the battle of the Big White Stone on September 3, 1862, and, although outnumbered by the red-skins at a ratio of ten to one, we licked them good and hard. I don't know how many Indians Major Pearman of Omaha killed upon that occasion, but, I understand, he hasn't got through counting them yet. I would rather fight confederates any time than Indians, because the latter are a treacherous and ambush foe. On our our campaign we started in pursuit of them, but I'll be hanged if they wasn't so slippery that they gave us a decoy and slipped around behind us. Our scouts were all ahead and we traveled for miles before we found out that the pesky reds were be-hinds us instead of in the lead. Then we doubled back and caught them at the Big White Stone, which resulted in a bloody battle. The old Nebraska Second was all right, as was proved when its courage was tested upon that occasion.'

"Ex-Governor Boyd has gone to southern Mexico to invest in Mexican mines, and incidentally to inspect a large tract of coffee land, remarked a man about town at the Millard." "He will be joined in the City of Mexico by W. W. Catlin of Chicago, and ex-Consul Sutton of Washington, and will proceed southwest for a distance of 160 miles for the purpose above named. An eastern syndicate is behind the scheme, and it includes Ben Cable of Illinois, Josiah Quincy of Massachusetts and other capitalists. It is the intention of the syndicate to purchase a large tract of coffee lands, reclaim them and engage in the cultivation of coffee on an ex-

"Colorado will have a golden crown as well as a silver one," remarke d Supervisor Pierre B. Russell of Denver, in the Paxton corridor. "There are a number of new gold strikes at Criple Creek, Yankee Hill, Central City and other mining camps throughthe state. The state is recuperating wonderfully from its recent depression, and if the newly discovered gold mines are developed and the annual output of yellow metal is increased correspondingly, Colorado vill be well fixed no matter which way the financial question jumps. The people out our way, however, are still un-alterably in favor of the free coinage of silver, because as a silver producer Col-orado will not take a back seat for anybody, Politics in Colorado are a little mixed, esecially at city hall. The board of aldermen s deadlocked and has split square in two. There are twelve members of that body, and the divisions are now known as the big six and little six. There is some talk among the populists, fusionists and independent re-publicans of nominating Hon. I. N. Stevens for congress. Stevens has for years been a leader in the republican ranks, but recent developments indicate that he has had a little difference with other moguls of the G. O. P., and the result is that he is looking out for his own political interests. The special session of the Colorado legislature has accomplished very little at a great expense to the taxpayers of the state, but it is evident that notwithstanding all the ridicule heaped upon Governor Waite, his pull among the populists seems to be in a good, healthy condition.'

"I belonged to the famous Seventh Pennsylvania cavalry during the war and I'm mighty proud of it," said L. J. Wood of Carlisle, Pa., at the Mercer. "That regiment was in many a battle and lost more men at the front than any other regiment in the war. We never had but one coward in our ranks. Once while we were sur-rounded he displayed his cowardice and was killed by one of his own comrades for doing it. That is the way we weeded out cowards in our ranks, and there was mighty few of them after that. Our colors were never al-lowed to trail in the dust. If the man who was holding the dear old flag was shot, he hold on to the colors with the grin of he held on to the colors with the grip of death until another man could snatch 'em up and wave them on high again to urge the boys on. I tell you that Old Glory has the boys on. a wonderful effect on a man when he is swinging a saber or pulling a trigger. Al-though the smoke is thick and blood runs like water, the stars and stripes waving through it all gives a man renewed courage. After the first volley is fired in battle, a soldier loses his nervousness and he makes the fight of his life. Previous to the first battle nearly all the boys feel a bit nervous, but most of 'em go on the theory that they would rather be a dead here than a live coward. They aget accordingly. a live coward. They act accordingly. The remedy of the Seventh Pennsylvania for cowards was quick, certain and effective.'

OMAHA LIVE STOCK MARKETS

Improvement in the Cattle Trade is the Encouraging Feature.

DEMAND WAS BETTER FOR ALL GRADES

Dealers Cheered by Prospects for Even a Temporary Advance-Hogs Go Up Another Dime Under Brisk Demand-Sheep Trade.

FRIDAY, Feb. 9. Receipts so far this week compared with last show a gain of about 400 cattle and 1,200 hogs, while sheep supplies have fallen off nearly 1,500 head.

On account of the continued light cattle receipts and the slightly better shipping demand for them the market is beginning to show some symptoms of recovery, and although this may be and probably is only temporary it is none the less acceptable to stock growers and handlers. The demand is still very limited, but slaughterers are compelled to have some cattle, and this is about the only reason for the firm markets yesterday and today. Prices today were unevenly higher-from strong to a dime higher-and with less than sixty loads on sale the offerings were not long in changing hands. Some good 1,260 and 1,303-tb. beeves sold at $3.60 and $3.65, while fair to pretty good 1,000 to 1,200-tb. steers sold at $3.25 to $3.40 and nothing of any consequence sold at under $3.15.

There was a lively market for butchers' There was a fively market for outchers and canners' stock and prices ruled a shade higher all around, common to fancy cows and helfers selling at from $1.85 to $3.10, calves at from $2 to $5.50 and bulls, exen and stags at from $1.75 to $3.

Business in stockers and feeders was comparatively light, both supply and demand being limited. Prices, however, were well sustained and there was a good, firm feeling on all sides. Good to choice feeders are quoted at $3.00% 3.40; fair to good at $2.70 #3.00, and lighter, commoner grades at from $2.70 down. Representative sales: DRESSED BEEF.

HOGS-Although the receipts today were rather liberal, the market scored another 5c to 10c advance, but the close was rather weak and unpromising for Saturday. There were some 5,510 head received, the general quality of the offerings averaging up very good. All local houses were out after supplies, and with encouraging reports from the east, dealers were not long in get-ting down to business. Never in the history of the market at this point has the range of prices been narrower, when the quality of the hogs is taken into consideration. Good logs weighing from 189 to 365 ibs. brought the top and common to fair grades weighing from 209 to 378 lbs. sold at the bottom. The top was $5.05 and the bottom practically $5, although some common light stuff sold on the very weak close at $4.95. On Thurson the very weak close at $4.95. Cattle Were Strong Yesterday and Scored a Further Advances CHICAGO, 1/eb. 9.—The cattle market was again strong, yesterday's advance being supplemented by a further small addition to prices. That there should be some appreciation in val-ues was to be expected, in view of the continued mail receipts. There were only about 5,000 cold on today's market and the total for the expired part of this work is less than 49,000 head, as against 54,712 head a year sigo, 69,467 in 1802, and 53,001 in 1891. Trade was fairly id while the supply lasted and the close was There was a small supply of hours here today.

makes a total for the last five days of $2.82 head, against 128.62 head for the same time last week, 52.52 for the same time last week, 52.52 for the same time last year, 187.628 two years ago, and 222.53 in 1891. Trade in horse opened brings at an advance of 5c and that advance was held to the close, though the last feeling was less firm. Sales were at from $1.95 to $5.25. The considering was paid in two or three heatness only, but there were hany trades at $5.30 and the bulk of the stuff sold above $5.19. A comparison of present prices with those carrent one week ago shows very little change.

There has been quite a pronounced decrease in the arrivals of sheep—a loss of $5.50 hand—but there were more sheep and lambs than were needed and the market is barely as good as it was a week ago. There is considerable inquiry for shipment, but that demand is not sufficient to have M1 appreciable influence in helping the course of prices. The choicest offerings brought from $2.50 to $5.50. Not many sales were made at better than $2.55. but the bulk changed hands at from $2.55 to $2.55 and child as to see start sold at from $2.55 to $2.55 and child as to see a few see from $2.55 to $2.55 and child as the same start from $2.55 to $2.55 and child as to see a few see and sold at from $2.55 to $2.55 and child as the same start was instant and weak at the above prices.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

Syllabi of the Opinions Handed Down by the Judges at Lincoln. LINCOLN, Feb. 9 .- (Special to The Bee.) -Following are the syllabi of the opinions of the supreme court in cases adjudicated: Upton against Levy. Error from Douglas county. Affirmed. Opinion by Ragan, C. It is a settled rule of this court that the finding of fact made by a jury or trial judge will not be disturbed if supported by competent evidence.

2. A new trial will not be granted a litigant 2. A new trial will not be granted a litigant on the ground of newly discovered evidence when it appears that such evidence was not produced at the trial of the case because the litigant had forgotten its existence.

3. To maintain a counter claim for damages for false representations the defendant must allege and prove, first, what representations were made; second, that they were false; third, that the defendant believed the representations to be true; fourth, that he relied and acted on them; fifth, and that he was thereby injured.

S. Where the terms of an agreement were in-S. Where the terms of an agreement were intended in a different sense by the parties thereto, in a suit between the parties on such agreement, the court will construe the agreement as understood by one party when the evidence shows that the other was aware of such first party's understanding of the agreement, and that such understanding laduced him to execute it.

Farmers and Merchants Bank of York against Anthony. Appeal from York county. Affirmed. Opinion by Ragan, C. against Anthony. Appeal from York county. Affirmed. Opinion by Ragan, C. When the possession of property described in a chattel mortzage remains with the mortgage, is not filed, as required by section 14, chapter xxxii, Compiled Statutes of 1893, the mortgage is absolutely void as to creditors of the mortgage, no matter whether they have actual notice of the mortgage or not. Houck against Condon, 40, Ohlo Statutes, 569; Sayre against Rewes, 32, New Jersey Equity, 652; Brothers against Mundell, 60, Texas, 240, followed.

2. It seems that a "subsequent purchaser in good faith," within the meaning of section 14, chapter xxxii, Compiled Statutes, 1893, Is one who acquires title to mortgaged property by contract with the mortgage or a lis venue, after the execution of the mortgage and without notice thereof, and that a purchaser of such property at execution sale would take it discharged of the mortgage lien irrespective of such purchaser's knowledge of the existence of such mortgage lien.

3. The rule of compelling a first resort to a particular one of two funds for a creditor's benefit who can reach but one of them will not be enforced when to do so will operate to the prejudice of the party entitled to the double fund. Swift against Redhead, 76, Illinois, 374, followed.

2. That under the laws of this state the administrator could only sell the interest high intestate had in the rail estate at the date of his death; this law appellant was conclusively presumed to know and having permitted the sale to be confirmed without objection, he could not then be heard to allege, as a reason why he should be released from his bid, an agreement with the administrator to misapply the proceeds of the sale in violation of law.

Hambolt against Strang. Error from Dourse

Rambolt against Strang. Error from Douglas county. Reversed. Opinion by Ragan

C.

1. The code of civil procedure provides that a pleader shall state facts and not conclusions, and it is essential to a pica of usary that it state with whom the agreement alleged to be usurious was made, when made, where made, and the facts which it is alleged make the transaction usurious. It must also state the amount of interest agreed to be paid, taken or reserved, or that was paid, taken or reserved in the transaction.

2. This was a suit on a contract: the answer of the defendant set out in the coinion. Held, not to state facts sufficient to constitute the defense of usary.

Will Never Resume.

Hon, Alvin Fox, receiver of the suspended First National bank of Hot Springs, S. D., is a guest at the Paxton. Mr. Fox said yesterday that he had just been to Washington, where he conferred with Comptroller Eckels with relation to the institution. He is confident that all direct liabilities will be paid. Upon his return to Hot Springs he will issue checks to pay the 15 per cent dividends recently declared. The receiver says that the bank will never resume. Speaking of current topics at Washington, Mr. Fox expressed the belief that the Wilson bill would pass the senate and the bounty on sugar would be repealed. He reports that the galleries and lobbies of the house of rep-resentatives were literally jammed with at-Interested mass of humanity the other day when Reed and Wilson debated the tariff bill. It was the largest crowd that had assembled in congressional halfs since the Father Corrigan's Witt. HOBOKEN, N. J., Feb. 9 .- An old will has been found in the late Father Corrigan's papers. It was made seven years ago and gives all his property unconditionally to his church. Father Corrigan's last will, made on January 5, four days before his death, is being contested by a niece on the ground of undue influence. It is discussed whether of undue influence. It is discussed whether the old will shall replace the new one if
