War on Butterine-Other Business. The regular weekly session of the county commissioners was held yesterday afternoon with all of the members in attendance. As the routine business progressed Major Paddock, the Little Pappio member, made his grand stand play, which was printed by this paper over a week ago. At that time he declared his intention of introducing a resolution to the effect that during the balance of the year each commissioner should remit to the county one-fifth of his salary, or $30 per month. Yesterday afternoon the resolution was introduced and referred to the committee on charity, to be reported upon at an adjourned session of the board, to be held next Wednesday afternoon.

The claim of Sophia Bennett, wife of George A. Bennett, for $1,150 for alleged services as matron at the county jail for twenty-two months, was rejected by a unaniious vote, the members holding that there had never been any authority given for the employment of any person to serve in that capacity.

There had been some butterine purchased for use at the poor farm. When the bill was presented Mr. Paddock introduced a resolution boycotting the product. The resolution Mr. Williams declared that the use of butterine at the hospital was not doing justice to the American cow, and he hoped that in the future county officials would not purchase the unnely stuff for county pauper consumption. In the end the bill was ordered paid, and the superintendent of the county hospital in-structed not to purchase any more butterine for the boarders.

The American Publishing company was the lowest bidder for the printing of tax reccipts at a former meeting when the con-tract was awarded, resterday the com-pany wrote that it had made a mistake and had bid too low. The bidder wanted to back out or be paid a price more than double what it bid. The matter was referred.

By resolution an assistant at the county store was ordered employed for the period

The resolution ordering the issue of the $150,000 of road improvement bonds was introctuced and adopted.

Bids were received from the Nebraska National, the United States National and the Merchants National banks for the county funds during the year 1894. Each bank offered to pay interest at the rate of 3 per cent per annum on the daily balances. The bits were accepted and the bonds of the banks, in the sum of $100,000 each, guar-anteeing the safe keeping of the bonds, were of one month at $50 per month.

By the adoption of a resolution offered by Mr. Stenberg it was decided that the deposit at any particular bank should never exceed 20 per cent of amount of the paid in apital stock of that bank.

ware-Events of the Week.

Events of the week, locally, among fire and life underwriters have been of great variety. In the circles where the energetic life insurance agent button-holes his victim and exerts all the powers of persuasive elequence in behalf of a policy the week has been exceedingly quiet. Even the stalwart form of President Neely has flitted over the state and chased fugitive business. It is said that one of the causes of the depression in life underwriter circles is due to the fact that Colonel Jeffries captured nearly every uninsured man in Nebraska and wrote him up before he departed for the Pacific coast

o live upon reminiscences and sea breezes. There has been a great activity among fire insurance men. The city is filled with adjusters attending to the aftermath of the Boston store fire. Nearly all the fire underwriters are lamenting the fact that Omaha started out with a big fire so early n 1894.

The insurance men are pushing with great unanimity the necessity of an amended electric wiring ordinance and more rigid building laws. It is rumored that the city council will give the matter some consideration at an early date. The regular monthly meeting of the Life Underwriters association of Nebraska was held at the rooms of the Commercial club Monday evening. After support the meeting was called to order by President Neely. The was called to order by Fresident Neely. The routine business of the association having been disposed of, an excellent paper was road by Mr. William M. Thompson of the Mutual Life on the topic furnished by the national convention for discussion at the February meeting. A very general discussion fol-lowed, and then the matter of banquet was taken up. It was decided to at least post-pone it until after Lent, and in view of the prevailing distress the association, by a unanimous vote, presented to the manimous vote, presented to the Associated Charities of Omaha a check for $50, with the best wishes of the associa-tion that the small contribution might be of some assistance to them in prosecuting their good work. The meeting then adjourned to meet again to hear the report of a committee appointed to obtain bids for the reg-ular annual banpuet. The adjourned meeting being called to order the association took up the matter of bids that were presented, and is was the unanimous opinion of all present that further consideration of the question of giving a banquet should be deerred until the regular meeting in Septem-

SECRETARY HARTIGAN'S IDEA. Some Timely Suggestions on Life Insurance

in Nebraska. Frank E. Hartigan, general agent of the State Mutual and secretary of the Omaha Life Underwriters association, expresses his sentiments on life insurance in Nebraska as

"The hard times of last year have not effected life insurance business as much as the public is inclined to believe they have. While it is true that the volume of business written was not as large as for the previous year, yet the results for this year will compare more favorably with the results of last year than any other line of business. Care-ful and prudent men will not be without insurance, as they are as apt to die in hard times as they are in good times. The re-cent panic has demonstrated that a man's reliable resources are his personal ability while living and his life insurance in cas of death. It has been a great hardship to many men during the past eight months to meet their insurance premiums as they be-came due, yet the auditor's report thus far shows that the lapses for the past year in msurance are comparatively light, every-thing being considered. "In fact, all the companies represented in

Nebraska which obtain their business legitimately show a good increase of the amount in force over last year. The suide concerns and those which obtain their business by misrepresentation and by rebating lapsed more than they wrote. The matter of obmore than they wrote. The matter of ob-taining life insurance and keeping it resembles other lines of business very much-it must be obtained honestly. The life insurance men draw consolation from the belief that the future for the business is promis-The financial test for the ing. year has been a cruckeal one. It has had no equal in the past twenty years. Men who had accumulated savings and invested them in the various business enterprises have been heavy losers. The days of large profits and quick returns are things of the past. Conservative men will be more inclined to invest their surplus in insurance, which will give ample protection for their families in case of their death; and should they live to reach old age the money which they have intrusted to the insurance companies will return to them as a competency for their de-clining years. Men are being insured every day which could not have been interested in the subject at all ten years ago. It is no longer looked on as the price of a man's life by his family, but it is to them a shrewd business transaction in every sense of the word. It requires as much to care for a man's family when he is dead as when he is living, and nearly every head of a family is unanimous in the sentiment that it keeps him exceedingly busy to provide for them while he is alive. Life insurance is the only reliable substitute for his productive ability 'No, very few men have substituted the cheaper forms of assessment insurance for

Called the Underwriters Down. The Merchants and Manufacturers association of Baltimore has decided to immediately put in operation its contemplated plan of organiz ng several branch is of Lloyd's insurance system. This is the result of the Baltimore Underwriters association's raise in insurance rates. In each branch twenty manufacturers and merchants who own large plants or warehouses pledge themselves for an amount not to exceed $10,000 in fire losses to any one of the members of the branch. No risk is to exceed $10,000 in any one particular branch. Twenty per cent of the money will be paid in when the policies are issued next week and the funds will be placed on denos ; drawing interest with a Baltimore trust com-pany. In case of a fire in which any member suffers loss an assessment will be made on the remaining 89 per cent of the $100,000 in proportion to the amount of the loser's policy. This method of procedure continues as long as the total amount is unused. Many members of the newly formed branches have property worth many times more than the one policy of $10,000 calls for, and whatever extra insurance is desired will be placed with one or a number of the branches of Lloyd's in New York.

Object Lesson to Incendiaries. At Wilmington, Del., recently the most evere sentence that has been imposed on my prisoner in the courts of that state for years was imposed upon John Smittix, evening the knight's rank we colored, for barn burning. Smittix pleaded guilty to setting fire to the barn of Alonzo Whittock, near Odessa, on the night of dially invited to be present-

The barn was valued at $2,500 and the stock at $2,000.

Chief Justice Lore said the case was the most diabolical, cold-blooded one that had been before the court for years. He then sentenced Smittle to six years imprisonment, to stand one hour in the pillory and be whipped with twenty lashes Saturday, to pay a fine of $500 and pay $2,000 in restitute. tution money. The severe sentence did not seem to effect Smittix, who left the dock

Premiums and Losses in Iowa.

Insurance companies have been meeting protests from various sections against advances in rates on the ground that the law of averages does not recognize any state lines. The claim is made that the experience of companies in any given section for one or two or a series of years cannot be taken as an absolute criterion of rates. If the figures given below are correct the Sioux City Journal presents an argument City Journal presents an argument against the recent advance in Iowa rates, the logic of which will appeal to the laymen at least.

It says:
"So far as fire insurance companies attempt to justify the increase in Iowa rates, on the ground that the old rates were unremunerative, the attempted justification proceeds from a false foundation. For the two years 1890 and 1891 the premiums received by the fire insurance companies from Iowa business amounted to $270,000,000, while losses paid on Iowa losses were only $124,-1003,000, leaving to the companies $146,000,-000, or a sun greater than the value of the corn crop of the state. For the year 1892 there was as great a difference. The premiums collected were $160,000,000 and the losses paid were $77,000,000.

Entry Into a New Hall. One of the most enjoyable events which occurred in the past week was the social given by Ancient Order United Workmen lodge No. 18 at the new hall, located on the corner of Seventeenth and Farnam streets, the lodge having recently moved from the old hall to the large and elegant one facing Farnam street, formerly occupied by Chambers' Dancing academy. The invitation was extended to all the members and friends of the order to meet and spend a social evening. They responded nobly by filling the place to overflowing, and the enand a general good time was had. E. Yocum presided and the following promittee had prepared a dainty lunch, sisting of ice cream and cake, which was served at the conclusion of the musical and literary program. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and at ards.

The various committees deserve due occasion one of thorough enjoyment to all, in which they succeeded most admirably. The lodge promises to give similar enter-
