THE

LENTEN LEVITY SEVERELY FROWNED UPON

Girls Who Would Dance After Being Warned

Are Now Wondering What the Good

Dominic Will Do at the Meeting Tomorrow.

There are a good many people who are watching with not a little interest a contest that is just now going on between Rector

E. J. Babcock of St. Paul's church and the young ladies of his congregation. As everyone knows, this is the Lenten season, in which all who have not been good during the year are supposed to make up for lost time by being uncommonly good. Balls, parties and social functions generally are tabooed, and the fair maidens give themselves up to religious meditation and making plans and specifications for Easter bonnets

Lent was disturbed by a party at the home of one of the young ladies, to which quite a number of the young people of the church were invited. It was a rather informal and decidedly gay affair, and although the fair ones do not tell all they know, it is com-monly reported that more than one fantantic toe was tripped. Rev. Mr. Babcock heard of the affair and last Sunday he astounded some of his yonthful hearers by making a public allesion to their sinfulness in thus depriving themselves of the spiritual bene-offense would result in the offender receiv ing her letter from the church. Thi threat might reasonably be expected to have

Candidates for School Board Selected After a Stormy Convention.

There were sand burs in the road, and the people who held the nonpartisan convention last evening were all barefooted. Most of them were democra4s. The superior court room at the county court house was well filled when the meeting was called to order by Lucius Wells, who summoned W. H.

Ware to act as chairman. F. H. Evans was chosen secretary. A motion was made to appoint a committee of six to select candidates, and to have the committee composed of three republicans and three democrats. It was right at this point that John Ahles caused a commotion by voting, with a lot of his friends, against this proposition, and then jumping up and shouting: "Mr. Chair-man, I'm one of those who said no; there are a good many of us independents here, and we want to be represented." A division of the house was called for, and the motion was found carried by a vote of 65 to 28. After one and another had refused to serve on the committee, six men were found who were willing to serve, and their names were as follows: Oscar Keeline, John Pusey and he desired effect, but it did not.

Bush had on deposit in that institution about $7,000 of Johnson county's money. Before retiring from the office, and at his final settlement with the commissioners January 1, Mr. Bush presented in settlement the certificates of deposit on the collapsed bank for said amount. They were deemed worthless by the commissioners and the ounty attorney was instructed to take steps toward the collection of the amount from Bush or his bondsmen, and as the former is not worth the amount the loss threatened to fall on the latter.
