TOOK HIS HANDCUFFS ALONG. Prisoner Escapes from a Detective by

Jumping from a Train. A prisoner charged with grand larceny was permitted to escape from a Missouri Pacific passenger train at South Omaha about daylight yesterday.

Several weeks ago a young man named Yates, who has an office in the New Yrok Life building, had a bicycle stolen from the entrance of that building. The wheel was valued at $125, making the theft an act of grand larceny. Officers were put at work on the care and succeeded in fastening the crime on A. Noland. Before he could be placed under arrest No land escaped from the city, and telegrams and letters of description were sent out over the country for the purpose of apprehending him. A few days ago Noland was captured in Kansas City, and the chief of police here notified of the arrest. Chief of Detective Haze secured the proper papers and started after Noland. He secured custody of the young man and started for Omaha Monday.

When the train arrived at South Omaha it is alleged that Haze was dezing in his seat as the train came to a stand still. But subsequent events go to show that Noland was very much awake, for when the train left the depot the prisoner was on the ground making lively tracks for Haze did not notice the disappearance his prisoner until the train had traveled some distance from the station and was going at full speed. He then came on to Omaha and, after leaving a description of Noland and notifying the officers in charge at headquarters of the escape, he secured a buggy and started back toward South Omaha in hopes of recapturing the figitive.

As Noland was still wearing handcuffs when he made his escape he will have considerable trouble in avoiding the officers, and should he ask for assistance in removing the 'darbies' he will excite the suspicion of people, who may hold him for the officers The police are watching the blacksmith shops, believing that sooner or later Noland will show up at one of them to get the hand cuffs broken off. No one seemed to know much about the escape of Noland at the police station and an effort was made to keep the matter from becoming public, but it leaked out soon after Haze's arrival here. The last heard of Haze was that he was north of Papillion and was was that he was horn of raphilot and was still going, but he had not gained any information regarding the whereabouts of Noland. Haze described Noland as, "age 21, height 5 feet 5, weight 139, dark suit, calico shirt, black tie.

Suspected of Several Burglaries.

For some time past a gang of good fo nothing colored men, who hang around low dives, have been suspected of many of the petty larcenies committed in the lower part of town. Early yesterday John Ginnis Isaac and Harry Kane were seen coming from the rear of Shields' saloon, Ninth and Capitol avenue. An investigation showed that the door had been pried open and the money drawer robbed of its contents. The three men were arrested and charged with burglary. Entrance to the saloon had been effected by prying open a side door with a short crowbar. The bar was found near the saloon door this morning.

Another burglary was reported by A. Mershaulk, 216 North Eleventh street. Taleves had entered his place and stolen $8 in cash and groceries and tobacco to the value of $20. Detective Dempsey was sent down to look up these cases. He found by compar-ing indentations in the wood that the same bar used in opening Shields' door had been used to force a rear window of Mershaulk's

The three men now under arrest are suspected of doing both jobs. About 10 o'clock yesterday Officer Ryan found Perry Phillips asleep in a vacant house and sent him to jail as a vagrant. This prisoner was only released from the county jail four days ago and the police think that he knows something about Monday night's burglaries.

DR. MILLER ACCEPTS.

Will Appoint Con. Gallagher as His Chief Factorum of the Office.

Dr. George L. Miller yesterday teleraphed to the president his acceptance of the appointment to the position of surveyor of the port of Omaha. In speaking of the matter, the doctor said that he had seen Judge Crawford of West Point, who had repeated to him the utterances of the president at the time his name was presented for interstate commerce commissioner by Secretary Morton and Messrs. Castor and Crawford, and that after such assurances he would feel in duty bound to accept a posttion of even roadmaster, if it were tendered him from such a source. He said he had received a most delightful letter from Surveyor Alexander relative to his appointment, and in voicing his appreciation of the courtesy extended, said that if he could maintain the office at its present exalted standard, both officially and personally, he would be more than satisfied.

The doctor was asked as to his inten-tions with reference to the conduct of the office, and replied that he would put Con Gallagher in charge of it. 'I do not de-sire to devote all my time to the detail work of the office," he said, "and I shall, therefore, leave that to Mr. Gallagher, so far as is consistent with my duty to the public." nore than satisfied.

When asked how soon he expected to take possession of the office, Dr. Miller said that he would do so just as soon as the necessary preliminaries were concluded. He thought it would require about ten days before his bond could be prepared and forwarded to Washington and approved.

In speaking of Dr. Miller's appointment In speaking of Dr. Miller's appointment Collector Alexander remarked: "I thoroughly appreciate the honor of being followed in office by so distinguished and admirable a successor as Dr. Miller. While he is fitted, in character and ability, and entitled by long and intelligent service to greater reward from his party. I think the doctor will like the position to which he has been entitled. His responsibilities will be been appointed. His responsibilities will be almost entirely within the limits of the city instead of being all over the state and part of Dakota, as are the internal revenue col-lector's and the court officials. The details f the service are interesting, and the stud-f the system, and its operation, to me, a east, is very attractive. I am glad the ap-pointment has been made, because it will mirry adjustment of balance due me, amount-ing to several hundred dollars, and enable me to begin other business in April. I go to Chicago Friday night to meet Mr. Ash-brook of Philadelphia to discuss the opening of a general agency in Omahs for the Provident Life and Trust company, one of the grandest life insurance companies in the country. I shall also meet another gentleman who has urged me to consider a general agency of a leading mutual life com-pany for western New York, with head-quarters in Buffalo. It is quite likely that one or the other of these propositions will be determined upon before I return. Spienlid encouragement has been given me to bring the Philadelphia company to Omaha. and certainly my own inclinations will be in that direction, for a wide, and exceedingly pleasant acquaintance in Omaha and Ne-braska is a valuable capital. Moreover, Omaha's greatest development has been ac-

"When the friends of Mr. Ijams filed papers for his appointment to the position they entered charges against Mr. James McShane." All, or nearly all of my testimonials passed through my hands and were transmitted by me, no one of which contained a word derogatory to the character of any applicant, and I do not believe that any person acting in my interest filed charges against McShane or against any-body. I hoped to obtain the position of surveyor of customs through my personal merits and not by defracting from the character of any oppenents.

Furthermore, it looks very like willful misrepresentation, this quoting from the "high official," for both he and your correspondent, having access to the chargen and counter charges that have grown out of this contest, know very well that none of them have been made by me, nor by any one in my interest.

BRYAN IN DENVER.

ernor Waite, Mayor Van Horne, the state and federal judiciary, state, city and county officers and private citizens attended. Mr. Bryan spoke on "Bimetallism and Tariff Reform—Not One, but Both." These two reforms he said must triumph together, and be brought to a successful issue by the same people and against the same opposition.

"Colorado must not think that she has a superior interest in the success of bimetallism," he said. "We need silver as money, because there is not enough of any other metal to supply the money necessary for commerce. By the usual treatment of both metals at a fixed ratio any change would work a great hardship upon the debtor classes."

The banquet at the Windsor hotel was attended by over 200 prominent citizens.

Mr. Bryan, in reply to a toast, said: "It is time that principles long taught by the democratic party be adhered to with the greatest tenneity by the western members of the party. Tariff reform had its rallying territory west and south when it was denounced as heresy in the cast. The income tax was supported by the western democracy sud is soon to become the law of the land. Western democrats have maintained the democratic position on silver when the eastern democrats have maintained the democratic position on silver when the eastern democrats have maintained the democratic position on silver when the eastern democratic traditions."
