

THE DAILY BEE NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS OFFICE: NO. 13 PEARL STREET

Affairs of the Late Samuel Theodore in Bad Shape. Said to Have Handled the Standard Oil Company's Business Dishonestly - Peculiar Features of the Case - Evidence Carefully Considered.

NEW KIND OF BEES. Extraordinary Vegetable Culture in Council Bluffs. In becoming a fact in Council Bluffs, the most popular bee in Council Bluffs, of course, are the Omaha Morning, Evening and Sunday Bees, and throughout the state, on account of prohibition restrictions, the second most popular is the bottled BB, the thinly disguised and gulfed lager that is fixed up in the river towns for the interior prohibitionists.

There are a large number of the democratic members of both houses deeply enough interested in the property of the state to honestly do all they can to assist in changing the present political conditions, the active, the mouthy fellows who are running and talking outside, are putting every obstacle possible in the way of success. They are perhaps justified in their course on the score that such a course would be given, for they feel sure the democrats will be given another legislative power in the state if the present legislature fails to keep the pledge made by the republicans before the election. I do not believe the democrats would dare to come out openly and oppose anything that would give even a meagre relief, but there is no disguising the fact that they are giving all the aid and comfort they can to the enemy. The rejoicing that has gone up from democratic camps over the state over the defeat of the Carpenter bill and the multibill in my opinion will be short lived, for the republicans will not rest until they have done anything that causes democratic joy must mean republican sorrow. I think the outlook for the democrats now for a good, sensible law, greatly modifying the present law, is better than it has been at any time since the legislature convened. The republicans will get their share of the relief, but the democrats will stand up and do their duty.

from catarrh of the head, throat, stomach and bowels, which has been substantially cured after thirty-five years. It was attended with a good deal of headache, the pain being mostly in the temples and in the back of the head. For some fourteen or fifteen years, the patient had been suffering with a watery substance, while there was also an almost constant dripping of mucus into the throat. The patient had been treated by several eminent physicians, but with no success. The Copeland & Shepard treatment, however, has effected all these distressing symptoms and has restored the patient to his former health after many years previous.

SHORT SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS. Was Samuel Theodore a defaulter? This question has been asked many times since the Standard Oil company's manager died from an overdose of morphia in his room at the Ogden house a few days ago. It was the first question asked by the reporters after the news of his death was received, and was propounded to the new local manager who promptly came over from Omaha and took up the work here. Mr. Smith, the new manager, was familiar with the details of the case, for he had been arranging for several weeks prior to take Theodore's place for a year at least. His assurance that the accounts were perfectly straight went a long way toward setting at rest the suspicion that Theodore had committed suicide. But now, while the sound of the door falling upon his coffin has scarcely died away, new and more startling stories are being bruited about, which attain him with self-murder and brands him a defaulter. That he committed suicide there was enough evidence at the start to leave little room for doubt, for three pill boxes were found lying on the floor of the room, one containing a quantity of morphia powder. There was not a scrap of paper other than a newspaper clipping in his room except three envelopes addressed to his books and accounts. A little wood stove in the room showed the ashes of a large number of papers, but the only one that was found on his person were found, not even a cigarette or an undergarment.
