New Point of Law Invoked to Avoid Build ing Transfer Switches.

HAS NOT THE RIGHT OF EMINENT DOMAIN

Since the Union Pacific is Unable to Acquire Property in this Manner it Cannot Secure Land with Facility.

LINCOLN, March 20 .- (Special to The Bee.)-Judge W. R. Kelley of Omaha, representing the receivers of the Union Pacific filed with the secretaries of the State Board of Transportation this afternoon a document explaining at length his reasons why his company should not be compelled to put in a transfer switch at Schuyler according to the findings and recommendations submitted by Secretaries Dilworth, Johnson and Koontze last week. Judge Kelley urges the following objections to the findings: 1. That all of the property of the Union Pacific has passed into the custody and controi of five receivers appointed by the United. States courts, and therefore it is not in the power of the company to take any steps in regard to the transfer switches.

2. That the Union Pacific shows that it in a corporation existing under and by virtue of the laws of the United States and not of

That the Union Pacific has no real estate at Schuyler, sufficient, fit or proper for the site of a transfer switch between its line and the line of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, and that it is impossible to build such a track without placing it upon real estate belonging to third parties. 4. That under the constitution of the state Nebraska the Union Pacific is prohibited the laws of the state of Nebraska.

from exercising the right of eminent domain. whereby the said company finds it impossible to obey an order of the board for the construction of any part of a connecting track . That since it is not within the power of the Union Pacific to exercise the right of eminent domain, therefore it is beyond the power of the State Board of Transportation to make an order requiring it to do that which is forbidden by the supreme law of . That the Union Pacific already maintains transfer switches at South Omaha, seventy miles east of Schuyler, and at Columbus, sixteen miles west. from Columbus to Omaha and the Burlington runs from Schuyler to Omaha, and there-fore the through business referred to in the findings of the secretaries does not require a transfer switch at Schuyler. The contention of Judge Kelley that the state of Nebraska, through any of its auth orized boards, has no power to compel the Union Pacific to obey any order requiring it to purchase real estate because the constitution prohibits the Union Pacific from exercising the right of eminent domain, unthought of. The secretaries of the Board of Transportation acknowledge that the new point raised by the Union Pacific has surprised them, and they have not yet studied the question sufficiently to enable them to predict the outcome.

ALLEGES A CONSPIRACY. According to the orders of the district court, today was the date for the sale of the balance of the Outcalt property on the judg-ment secured by the firm of Yonkers Bros. of Des Moines, but the sale failed to take place, owing to rather unexpected develop-ments. The history of the deal by which Mosher, Outcalt, J. D. Macfarland and Louie Meyers borrowed $22,000 of Yonkers Bros., and how Macfarland, who is the only solvent endorser, bid in the residence prop-erty belonging to Outcalt, and how he paid the firm of Yonkers Bros. $22,000 in the federal court, has all been recited at length sterests, but the sale was postponed. The Farmers and Merchants bank of Galva, Iil., this forenoon secured an injunction restraining Sheriff Miller from proceeding with the sale of the property according to the orders of the court. After citing the facts connected with the $22,000 deal already related in The Bee, the petition goes on to allege that immediately after the failue of the Capital National bank Macfarland, Outcalt, Mosher and D. E. Thompson entered into a con-spiracy to conceal and cover up the property belonging to Mosher and Outcalt; that in pursuance of this conspiracy the Outcalt property was deeded to Oscar Funke, who in turn deeded the residence to his sister, Mrs. R. C. Outcalt, and the farm to D. E. Thompson; that these transfers were made without consideration, were fraudulent and intended to place the property beyond the reach of creditors and to protect the property of Outcalt from the payment of his

In order to carry out all the terms of this conspiracy, the petition alleges, Mac-farland, Mosher, Outcalt and Thompson agreed that the latter three should use the influence of all their friends to secure the appointment of Macfarland as receiver of the defunct bank; that Macfarland should employ Outcalt as his clerk; and that there was also a secret understanding that Out-calt and his wife should make no claim for comestead exemptions, and that the title should be passed to the purchaser at the

The petition further alleges that the residence property is worth $20,000 and the farm property an equal amount; that the residence property has been advertised and sold as a part of Outcalt's property when the title has not been cleared, and that this has been done in accordance with a preconcerted agreement in order to prevent competition at the sale; that Macfarland will simply hold the title to the property in trust for Outcalt; that Macfarland caused the residence property to be sold in Yonkers' name in order that the latter might convey it to any one that might be named by the former; that Yonkers was not present at the sale and did not authorize any one to bid in the property; that since the alleged sale to Yonkers Macfarland has paid that firm all of it claim and that therefore Yonkers Bros. are fully satisfied; and finally that the property, which was to have been sold by the sheriff today, is now held by D. E. Thompson in trust for R. C. Outcalt. Receiver Hayden also petitioned the court to set aside the sale permanently. leges that he holds judgments against Out-calt to the amount of $58,091 on five prom-issory notes, and that he levied upon Outcalt's property on July 10 last; that the claim of Yonkers Bros. has been fully satisfied, thus giving way to the receiver for the first lien on the premises.

Judge Tibbetts postponed the sale of the farm property until Thursday, March 29, and in the meantime he will hear the arguments of the petition for a permanent in-junction. He also postponed the confirmation of the sale of the residence property until March 28.

NEBRASKA'S LIST OF AWARDS. Governor Crounse today received from J. Boyd Thacher, chairman of the executive committee on awards for the World's Co-lumbian exposition, the official list of awards to exhibitors from Nebraska. The list for each division is certified to and signed by the several department chiefs. In the agricultural division Nebraska received seven awards for wheat, twenty for corn, one for oats, two for popcorn, one for buckwheat and fifteen for butter.

The successful wheat exhibitors were: B. Stewart, Benedict; W. S. Delano, Leise Park; L. M. Meyers, Cheyenne county, J. N. Stewart, Broken Bow; W. E. Gilmore, Fair-bury; W. N. McBride, Clay Center; J. Cop-sey, Westerville.

The corn awards went to the following: J. N. Patterson, Craig; R. A. Templeton, Tekamah; A. P. Job, Summit; S. L. Glover, Westerville: J. Smith, Craig; John Shorwell and E. T. Sicson, Grizona; George Barker, Silver Creek; J. B. Lyon, Lyons; R. B. Bush, Brownville; John Lope, Sliver Creek; E. D. McKenny, Clarks; William Staley, Grand Island; R. W. Furnas, Brownville; John Swanson, Alda; E. Barnes, Grand Island; Joseph Roach, Alda; W. W. Lalte, Summit. in The Bee. The sale of the farm property belonging to Outcalt would undoubtedly have resulted favorably for Macfarland's interests, but the sale was postponed.

The successful exhibitors of dairy products were: Frank Carlysle, Geneva; W. A. while he was at supper, and that they had an all night opportunity to put distance between the sale was postponed.

man condemned to capital punishment should be permitted to occupy a cage of common iron with prisoners known as professional jail breakers can hardy be accounted for, they say, from the standpoint of consistency or reason. The jail is pro-vided with a steel cage, arranged for Shephard and Furst, who were hanged for the murder of Pulsifer in 1892, and which is considered reasonably safe. This, with the extra watch, should, it is thought, have been proof against any such an occurrence. But the people are not much inclined to blame the watch. He was attempting to do the double duty of jailer and watch, and as the sheriff was very much of the time absent it kept him on duty night and day, and he was not physically able for the work. He claims that he had heard suspicious activity in the cell for the two nights previcus to the escape, and as he was in the jail alone he could not sleep, so that on Sunday night, the sheriff being at home, he sunday night, the sherin being at nome, he slept too soundly to be awakened by anything that naturally occurred during the exit. He claims that he gave the prisoners supper and then left the jail and was gone nearly an hour and a half, probably return-ing between 7:30 and 8 o'clock, leaving no one in the jail but the girl. During this time he believes they left their cell and cut the hole in the roof and returned. When he returned from supper they were ap-parently asleep and snoring. He then took a novel and read until about 1 o'clock, when
