From the very evident reluctance of the unemployed to enlist in the industrial army...

The pullbacks, mossbacks and tax shirkers are opposed to raising the assessment.

The senate did the appropriate thing in passing a resolution expressing regret at the death of Kossuth.

The democratic national headquarters at Washington are to be formally opened by a reception to the democratic members of the two houses of congress.

The Interstate Commerce commission may yet establish itself in the confidence of the people.

The blizzard which swept over northern and western Nebraska this week was a blessing in the guise of a disaster.

Whenever the lawyers at the state capital suffer from business depression they file a few petitions with the district court.

It is strange that congress should have left the Yellowstone park this long without the protection of law for the preservation of wild animals within its borders.

Increasing complications in the garbage situation demand that the council apply itself to the devising of some means by which the refuse of the city may be disposed of.

Keep it before the police commission that the law abiding citizens of Omaha have no confidence in or respect for detectives who close their eyes to notorious violators of law.

The Chicago school building that burned the other day is described as being constructed of pine scantling, veneered with a layer of brick.

Here is an opportunity for the Iowa woman suffragists to shout. The new mulct liquor law provides that no female person shall be employed in any place where liquor is sold.

We have heard nothing yet as to the whereabouts of George Woolridge alias Woolington, a man charged with forgery who pleaded guilty when arraigned in court on February 20.

The new Iowa mulct liquor law prohibits the sale of liquor to any one who has taken any of the recognized cures for drunkenness.

AN IMPOSITION ON THE GOVERNMENT.

According to a recent dispatch from Washington, Mr. Enloe, one of the congressmen from Tennessee, is highly incensed at a publication just issued by the Bureau of Education...

If the house decides to make inquiry into the abuse of the publications of the Bureau of Education it should not stop with the one pamphlet that happened merely to be affixed to the state pride of one of its members.

There have been many instances of imposition upon the people in the matter of books published at the government printing office, from learned treatises on the diseases of cattle down to the insertion of many George Washingtons into the Congressional Record.

THE PRESSURE ON THE PRESIDENT.

The pressure on the president in connection with the seigniorage bill has been very great, both from the friends of the measure and those who think it ought to be vetoed.

THE PRESSURE ON THE PRESIDENT.

The arguments from this source were not altogether without influence with the president, but the bill had seemed apathetic. It was not until after it began to be seriously thought that Mr. Cleveland might sign the seigniorage bill or allow it to become law.

THE PRESSURE ON THE PRESIDENT.

There are reports of agreements and pledges in connection with the approval of the seigniorage bill. One statement was made by a certain southern senator...

CONTEMPLATING A TRIP AHEAD.

The law which governs the apportionment of the state school money among the different school districts of Nebraska requires that the number of children of school age residing within the respective districts be ascertained...

AN ELECTRIC POINTER.

Right on the heels of the brazen attempt to prevent competition in electric lighting and the abolition of the office of city electrician comes a resolution by Councilman Hascall directing Gas Inspector Gilbert to move into and occupy the office in the city hall set apart for the city electrician.

LET HIM DICTATE IT.

Mr. Olney has so exhausted his energies in his own right on the violation of the laws against conspiracies in restraint of trade that he would have had a co-operating force there if the Kearseys had not been wrecked.

NOBLE IMPULSES UNDER RAGGED COATS.

All the heroes do not do deeds of picturesque daring and self-sacrifice. There are also the quiet heroes of the underworld, men who work in the shadows and save lives.

THE FIGURES TELEGRAPHED FROM WASHINGTON.

The figures telegraphed from Washington comparing the progress of removals of fourth-class postmasters under the present administration and under the previous administrations must be gratifying to the democrats who were fearing that the republican incumbents were not being compelled to make way for them with sufficient rapidity.

MAN AS A JUMPING-JACK.

There are two reasons why the average woman finds it easy to make a jumping-jack of the average man. One is a very vain creature, and the woman who knows best how to play upon his vanity can.

OTHER LANDS THAN OURS.

Lord Rosebery evidently appreciated the difficulties of his position, and hastened to say in his Edinburgh address that the meaning of his remarks to the House of Lords had been misapprehended.

"GIVE ME WORK."

"Make Your Own Terms—My Wife and Children Have Nothing to Eat!" There has been much disposition as to whether the low tariff of 1846, upon which Wilson's bill is avowedly modeled, brought good or bad times to this country.

SUNDAY FEATURES.

Among many noteworthy features of the Sunday Bee (tomorrow) may be found the following: Wyoming Female Voters—A special correspondent reviews woman suffrage in that state and proves it to have been a failure.

Political Bossism Denounced—Congressman Harter discusses machine politics as distinguished from disciplined organization.

The Hungarian Patriot—Rocky Mountain News: His deeds and fame... a bright chapter in the world's struggle against imperialism.

Chicago International Ocean—He lived a large life, a full life, in deeds as well as in years.

Boston Globe: Kossuth in all his career has been one of the great heroes of the world in the contest for human freedom.

Globe-Democrat: For more than forty years he was a man without a country.

Chicago Post: A nonconformist, the world will pardon his sin of strange conceits.

Plain Dealer: The robber usually attacks a train in a tender place.

Chicago Tribune: "I have always had a presentiment," said Miss Pansy.

Buffalo Courier: Wits—Yes, thermometers, you say, are all right for cold, but...

New York Commercial: "What on earth has come over Fitzgibbon's head? Put me in the class of a first class liar."

Detroit Free Press: The corkscrew sprouts in a modest way, the hat jigg starts to climb the fishpole tree on the grassy lawn.

Signs of the Seasons—The earth exhibits signs of spring. And brighter grow the days.

Each season has its signs—the fall, Spring, winter, and the summer is for all. The sign, "Keep off the grass."

The Right Time—When should a girl marry? With her orbs, dark and starry.

In youth, sweetly tender, My love shall obey; Or when womanhood's splendor Enriches love's throne?

Pray tell me, my dearest, My love shall obey; And wed the one nearest The age that you say.

She answered me, "Freddy dear, Don't say I shall obey; But she's a girl, I think, my year, And she's After she's won."
