

KENTUCKY'S SHAMEFUL DOG

Complete Collapse of the Man Whose Sin Has Found Him Out.

TO OUST BRECKINRIDGE FROM CONGRESS

His Expulsion May Be Moved at Once if the Jury Returns a Verdict Against Him—Moral Turpitude Beyond Belief.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE.

WASHINGTON, March 24.

"Can it be possible that the voters of the Seventh Kentucky district, or any other section of the country, will continue such a man in congress?" This question is upon every tongue in Washington, referring to the Pollard-Breckinridge breach of promise and damage suit, and the political future of the defendant.

Whether or not Colonel Breckinridge is acquitted or convicted by the jury, which is expected to bring in a verdict within the next two or three weeks, there never will be any question in the minds of the people of Washington who have followed the proceedings in this remarkable trial whether it is a man of good moral character.

Here is a man ripe in years, white-haired and venerable in appearance, honored by long public service at the hands of his people and trusted by all the good people of Kentucky, who, with a lovely wife and family, allures a young woman—whether an innocent school girl or one experienced in the ways of the world—into a life of shame, and carries her about from place to place, first as his daughter, then as his mistress, and finally as his wife.

His UNPARALLELED DEPRIVITY. Meanwhile he is making overtures to another woman, promises to marry her, and even goes to New York and marries her secretly, but at the same time, according to testimony, he takes the first woman with him, registers her at the hotel as his daughter, occupies the same rooms, and consorts with both women almost within the same hour.

While a great deal of interest is being shown by the country in this celebrated case, it is bringing up in the minds of the people in Washington the most interesting moral questions. People are here inquiring among themselves whether, after all, Colonel Breckinridge is a man of more worth than other men in public life. This is one of the "unfortunates" caught in the act.

It is stated that should the jury convict Colonel Breckinridge, it is contended that the charges against him should be expellid, because his presence in the house would not only degrade that body and deteriorate the usefulness of its individual members as public officers, but injure the moral status of the individual members of the house.

NEWS FOR THE ARMY.

Retiring Boards to Meet at Fort Leavenworth, Mo., March 24.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—An army retiring board is appointed to meet at Fort Bliss, Tex., for the examination of such officers as may be ordered before it.

Who Will Shy the Domic? An effort to expel Representative Breckinridge of Kentucky from the house of representatives on the ground that he was of immoral character has been made.

Flaming Up the Big Redwood Tree. WASHINGTON, March 24.—The Sequoia gigantea, the big tree which formed part of the Washington state exhibit at the World's fair, and which was presented to the government by the state of California, is almost finished.

Locating the Ute Indians. WASHINGTON, March 24.—A bill introduced in the house today by Delegate Rawlins of Utah provides for the allotment of lands to the Southern Ute Indians in the present reservation.

Western Pensions. Veterans of the Late War Remembered by the General Government. WASHINGTON, March 24.—(Special to The Bee.)—Pensions granted, issue of March 12, were: Nebraska—Original—Charles L. Palmer, Stephen H. Galloway, Samuel H. Schwab, Omaha, Douglas; Daniel H. Young, Lincoln, Lancaster; Noah C. Judson, Box Butte, Box Butte; Gottfried Burrow, deceased, Box Butte, Box Butte.

Reciprocal Registration. WASHINGTON, March 24.—Representative Martin of Kansas, today filed his brief with the senate committee on privileges and elections.

Jenkins Investigating Committee. WASHINGTON, March 24.—Representative Jenkins of Missouri, today filed his report with the committee on the investigation of the Pullman strike.

Salacious Details Recited Behind Closed Doors in Washington. Breckinridge Making a Vigorous Effort to Whiten His Own Record by Further Blackening the Reputation of His Victim.

PLEADING

Friends and Enemies of the Seigniorage Bill Try to Convince Him.

HIS DECISION YET A MATTER OF DOUBT

Neither Side Knows Whether They Have Been Successful or Not—Many Demands for a Veto—The Situation at Present.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—President Cleveland's private office at the executive mansion was a center of unusual activity today, as the leading silver men of congress appeared before him to urge that he sign the Bland silver seigniorage bill.

At one time there were fifteen of them ranged about the president and Mr. Gaily pleading with him. They had come singly and in state delegations. Representatives Williams, Forman and Macdonald of Illinois came with Representatives Martin, Brookshire and McNamee of Indiana.

At this point President Cleveland framed the reply to the many pleas which had been pouring in upon him, and, up to this point, he had not attempted to give an answer, except by casual remarks.

At this point President Cleveland framed the reply to the many pleas which had been pouring in upon him, and, up to this point, he had not attempted to give an answer, except by casual remarks.

GETTING CLOSER TO CHINA

Text of the New Treaty Negotiated Between the United States and the Emperor.

IMMIGRATION CONDITIONALLY SHUT OFF

Regulations Providing for Ten Years of Prohibition Under Stringent Rules—Commercial Treaty in Prospect—Secretary Gresham's Great Ambition.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Touching the new treaty which has been negotiated between the government of this country and China, it is learned that for several years past the Chinese government has been earnestly pressing upon our government the desirability of such an agreement.

When the main body of congressmen had retired others arrived, and then a stream of silver pleas continued throughout the public hours of the president.

WESTERN PENSIONS.

Veterans of the Late War Remembered by the General Government.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(Special to The Bee.)—Pensions granted, issue of March 12, were: Nebraska—Original—Charles L. Palmer, Stephen H. Galloway, Samuel H. Schwab, Omaha, Douglas; Daniel H. Young, Lincoln, Lancaster; Noah C. Judson, Box Butte, Box Butte; Gottfried Burrow, deceased, Box Butte, Box Butte.

Locating the Ute Indians.

Reciprocal Registration.

Jenkins Investigating Committee.

Salacious Details Recited Behind Closed Doors in Washington.

Breckinridge Making a Vigorous Effort to Whiten His Own Record by Further Blackening the Reputation of His Victim.

Kelley, Stiger & Co. The highest grades of French Fabrics, The very Latest Novelties, Fresh New Spring Goods, are the leading attractions THIS WEEK

Kid Gloves. Our importation of spring gloves has arrived. The "Trefosse," as in the past, is in great demand.

New Wash Goods. 60 pieces of crinkled gingham, changeable effects, at 15c. 1 dozen of 32-inch fine zephyr gingham, 1 dozen of 32-inch fine zephyr gingham, 1 dozen of 32-inch fine zephyr gingham.

Ladies' Spring Jackets. Ladies' Spring Capes. Ladies' Spring Wraps. Ladies' Spring Suits. Ladies' new Spring Capes, made of fine ladies' cloth and trimmed with lace insertion.

Laces Laces. The very latest novelties just received, comprising: CREME, ECRU AND BUTTER COLOR, POINT DE GENE AND POINT DE VENICE.

Black Dress Goods. NEW CREPONS—75c. $1.00, $1.85, up to $2.25. BATISTE—Superfine, Plain and Figured, at 60c. FRENCH NOVELTY DRESS PATTERNS—The best productions at lower prices than ever before.

Ladies' fine Clay Diagonal Jackets, full skirts and large sleeves, tailor made, worth $10.00; Monday, $7.50. Ladies' fine Clay Worsteds Jackets, half lined and made in the very latest style, price $8.50; worth $12.00.

Orders by Mail Solicited. Kelley, Stiger & Co., Corner Farnam and 15th Streets.

POLLARD CASE IN PRIVATE

Salacious Details Recited Behind Closed Doors in Washington. Breckinridge Making a Vigorous Effort to Whiten His Own Record by Further Blackening the Reputation of His Victim.

ALL BUT THE LAWYERS EXCLUDED

Public had scarcely any representation, only newspaper men and lawyers appearing in the court room. Just before the hour for the court to open a whisper passed among the lawyers and they slipped one by one into the judge's consultation room, adjoining the court room.

Lack of a Quorum Again Prevents the Passage of the Bill

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The lack of a quorum today prevented the passage of a number of bills of local importance, for which unanimous consent was asked.

IN THE HOUSE.

Mr. Cannon of Illinois criticized some of the provisions of the bill. The amount appropriated for railroad transportation, $25,500,000—$1,400,000 less than the estimate—was predicted to be inadequate.

Martin Ignores the Contest.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Hon. J. W. Martin of Kansas, today filed his brief with the senate committee on privileges and elections.

Jenkins Investigating Committee.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Representative Jenkins of Missouri, today filed his report with the committee on the investigation of the Pullman strike.