

SHIVERED BETWEEN BITES

Under Distressing Conditions the Grand Army Starts for Washington.

COXEY'S COMMONWEALERS' COLD COMFORT

Plenty of Good Food Was Provided and the Men Only Grumble Because They Were Not Entertained at the Hotels with Their Leaders.

CANTON, O., March 26.—Contrary to expectations the twenty-five women, wives and daughters of people's party men of this city, did not turn up at the camp grounds of the Commonwealth army on account of the weather, and consequently the men were obliged to hustle for themselves as far as their breakfast was concerned. At 6 o'clock in the morning the camp was turned into a veritable Valley Forge. Small groups of men could be seen shivering in every limb, trying to obtain shelter from the freezing blasts which came from the west. Two-thirds of the men who started with the army had taken lodging in the city prior, but at an early hour they began to gather at the grounds to get their rations. Some difficulty was experienced in getting men who could use the cooking utensils to advantage, but finally at the east side of the tent gasoline stoves were set up and the morning meal commenced. The donation, which consisted of one dozen boiled ham, 200 loaves of bread, five bushels of potatoes, baked beans and an abundance of other eatables, were soon utilized, and soon everybody was thoroughly satisfied, as far as the stomach was concerned. Fortunately the abundance of supplies prevented the tramps from getting into any altercations.

Many of the men who grumble about Mr. Coxe's taking lodgings at the hotel and were of the opinion that he should take a dose of his own medicine. A number were interviewed at the city jail in regard to what they would do in case provisions were not furnished along the road, and each and every one said he would make a raid on the farmers.

The most noticeable thing was the absence of anybody to command the much shattered forces. Carl Brown did not arrive upon the scene until 10:30 o'clock, when he also took a room in a prominent hotel. Once upon the ground his orders to the men were agreed to by the men, but the men were not in obeying orders. Horses and men, who had bunked together during the night, were huddled in small groups, endeavoring to keep warm while waiting for the temporary cooks to prepare their breakfast.

At 10:30 preparations were made to get dinner and camp was struck to go to the army on the road at 12. Stark Biding, one mile east of this city, a favorable place for a rendezvous while waiting for a new squad, numbering about fifty, to the army.

Mr. Coxe, who it is claimed is financially embarrassed, and who has been in the city since March 26 to settle an indebtedness of $24,000, seems to be much worried over the affair, and to verify the rumor, a number of populists of the city have issued a circular to the citizens of the United States asking them to contribute to help him pay his debt. The appeal, however, is a practical joke, and Mr. Coxe, who he may lift the mortgage which was incurred through his purchase of the famous horse Acolyte, for which he agreed to pay $10,000, contributions made this morning amounted to $4.50 and the prospects are not very flattering in this locality for Coxe's relief.

The Commonwealth army on the march shortly after noon, fully 200 strong, and expect to arrive at Louisville, O., their next stop, at 4 o'clock.

PTFSBURG, March 26.—An attachment was issued today by B. M. Everson of this city against General J. S. Coxe, commander of the Commonwealth army, for failure to furnish for mill supplies. Sheriff Richards will send deputies to the border of the county to meet General Coxe and escort him to the sheriff's office, where he will be required to give bail in the sum of $1,500 or remain here. The company organized in the Eighteenth ward of this city to meet Coxe has been disbanded.

SALZM, O., March 26.—An officer, who was covering the route for the Pennsylvania authorities, claims that Coxe will likely cross the Pennsylvania line with at least 8,000 men. He learns that at least half of his recruits will go into the army carrying firearms.

HAZELTON, Pa., March 26.—John Hammond, the colored recruit, who was arrested yesterday, was sent to the hospital. His feet, which have been frozen, are decaying for want of medical attention and the whole of one foot and the toes of the other will have to be amputated.

DENVER, March 26.—Pett Hamilton, who is organizing an army to go to Washington, is organizing 100 officers, each of whom will be held in the city for work upon the project. Mr. Hamilton says he will not start from Denver with less than 1,000 men and is confident of leaving Colorado with 5,000.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 26.—The Southern Pacific officials have received word that the United States industrial army of 700 men was put off the train at a siding near Finlay station on the El Paso division and that trains were run through without stopping. The "army" broke the lock on a switch causing the next eastbound train to take the siding. The men jumped on the cars and were taken to Finlay, where they were fed up pending orders. The train will stay there as the company has decided not to carry the men. The men will soon starve out.

They Will Have to Walk. DENVER, March 26.—"General" Hamilton's Denver contingent of Coxe's army will have to walk out of town unless they pay their fares. It was announced at last night's meeting that the Santa Fe would be called upon to furnish a train for the pilgrims. At the Finlay station it was said today that the company had refused to furnish a train to the California division of the army and would undoubtedly repeat its refusal should the Denver contingent make its promised demands. The other roads will also decline to give free transportation.

Dallas Contribution. DALLAS, Tex., March 26.—A local group of twenty men has been organized here to join Coxe's army. They are to start from Dallas for Washington, via Shreveport and Vicksburg, next Monday or Tuesday and join General Frey's regiment, now enroute to San Antonio from El Paso, at some point east of Vicksburg about April 15. The men are under command of Captain Allen Fortier, late of Mississippi. A supply of rations, shoes, blankets, etc., is being raised and a command, when it leaves Dallas, is expected to number 100 men.

Agreed to a Small Out. POMEROY, O., March 26.—John Fahy of Jacksonville, O., member of the national executive committee of the United Mine Workers, met 300 Peacock coal miners. They agreed today that the price of mining should be reduced to $1.75 per hundred bushels, remaining immediately. This is a cut of half a cent per bushel.

Filed a Small Charge. One of the assistant county attorneys filed yesterday in police court another complaint against Edward P. Moriarty, alleging forgery. It is claimed that Moriarty forged the name of Constable McKenzie to an order for the release of a trunk. Moriarty was arrested on a similar complaint a couple of weeks ago, but secured a change of venue to Justice Smith's court, where he secured a thirty-day con-

The police say that the county attorney has induced to grant a change through misrepresentations of Moriarty, and that permission has been revoked by the filing of a new complaint and the issuing of another warrant for Moriarty's arrest.

PASSING OF A PIONEER.

Death of General Experience Estabrook After a Brief Illness. General Experience Estabrook, one of the most widely known of Omaha's pioneers, passed peacefully away at his residence, 411 South Seventeenth street, at 3:45 yesterday morning. He had reached the age of 81 years and in a few days would have celebrated his golden anniversary of his wedding. His figure was a familiar one on the streets until last Thursday, when he took to his bed with what the physicians give no name, but is understood to be a wearing out of the vital force. He was perfectly rational until the morning of his death, which was peaceful as the sinking into sleep of a child.

General Estabrook traced his descent from the passengers of the Mayflower, being eight generations removed from John Alden and Priscilla Mullen. The town of Alden, N. Y., where his son was born, was named after his grandfather. He was born in Lebanon, N. H., in 1813, and arrived in Omaha January 23, 1855, as United States attorney, appointed by Franklin Pierce, which office he held for four years and nine months. His earlier years were passed in eventful times. From the New Hampshire farm, where he was born, he went first to work in his father's sawmill and then obtained a position as clerk in the navy yards in Brooklyn, subsequently being enlisted in the navy, but resigned to take up the practice of law, a profession which he followed actively until 1840, when he was elected attorney general of the state of Nebraska. He held the office for two years. Previous to that time he had been a member of the Wisconsin constitutional convention. In Nebraska he was identified with most of the stirring events of early days. In the spring of 1855, after his arrival in the state, he was the only member of the bar, and on his motion all the veteran attorneys of that state and city were admitted, among them being Messrs. Redden, Williams, E. Bauer, J. C. Cook and John Freeman, clerks of the court. He was a member of the constitutional convention in 1871 and employed by the committee of managers to aid in the impeachment of Governor Davis. The latter was found guilty and turned out of office in June, 1871. From 1857 to 1859 he served as local district attorney. In 1859 he was named candidate for attorney general, but service a contest resulted in the loss of his seat, the successful contestant being Samuel R. Daily. In 1859 he was appointed by the governor to codify the laws of Nebraska and by the public printer he was appointed to superintend the publication and prepare the laws. While engaged at this Mr. Estabrook was with Culver, Page & Hoyle of Chicago, and while there embraced the opportunity to visit the city of Chicago. He was married at Geneva Lake, Wis., on April 14, 1844, to Miss Caroline A. Maxwell, daughter of Colonel James Maxwell, well known in the military service of the war of 1812. The two children left are both well known not only in Omaha, but over the state. Henry Estabrook, a practicing attorney, and one of the best known of the young orators of the state. The daughter, Caroline Augustina Estabrook, wife of R. C. Clowry of the Western Union, Mrs. Clowry and Mrs. H. D. Estabrook were in California when Mr. Estabrook was taken seriously ill. They returned home and arrived here Sunday morning.

Had the deceased lived until April 17 it was intended to have made the celebration of his centennial anniversary in a public and impressive manner, preparations being already under way. Senator Colquitt is Dead. WASHINGTON, March 26.—United States Senator Alfred Holt Colquitt of Georgia died at his residence in this city at 7:40 o'clock this morning.

Around the bedside when he passed away were Senator Gordon and his daughter, Mrs. Jones, Senator Colquitt's private secretary, his nephew Mr. Bunn, his son, Mrs. Colquitt, and a number of other relatives. As the end approached the senator's breathing became very heavy, but he retained until unconsciousness and suffered no pain.

The funeral will take place in the senate chamber at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and will probably be conducted by Rev. W. Milburn, chaplain of the senate. He is at present absent from the city, but has been wired to come, and will, doubtless, in time officiate.

The remains will be taken to Macon, Ga., for interment. After the funeral services in the senate chamber will probably take a recess until 12 o'clock.

Mrs. Henrietta Swayland. Mrs. Henrietta Swayland, wife of Edward Swayland, well known among the older inhabitants of Omaha, died on Easter Sunday at 7 o'clock p. m. after an illness of several months. Her sickness was due to her unceasing labor and sacrifice during the past five years in caring for her invalid husband. She fed and ministered to him, lifted him in his bed and unaided did everything necessary for his comfort and care. Five months ago she failed, and since that day has never left her bed.

Funeral services will be held at the house, 1819 Davenport street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Father Williams officiating, and the burial will take place in Forest Lawn cemetery.

Joel Pound. CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., March 26.—Joel Pound, uncle of ex-Congressman C. Pound and Postmaster of this city, died this morning at the age of 95. He was one of the earliest settlers in the Chippewa valley, and was a remarkably active man up to within a few days of his death.

Mrs. Judge Gantt Dead. Mrs. Gantt, widow of Judge Gantt, at one time one of the justices of the Nebraska supreme court, died yesterday at the Nebraska Home for the Aged in this city. Interment will be at Nebraska City.

Lieutenant John Alexander. SPRINGFIELD, O., March 25.—Lieutenant John Alexander, a West Pointer and military instructor at Wilberforce college, died suddenly today in a barber shop while being shaved.

Mr. Robert Prescott. DUBLIN, March 26.—Sir Robert Prescott Stuart, the well known musician and composer, is dead. He was born in this city in December, 1825.

Conditions Have Become More Favorable to Labor in Emperor William's Realm—Empire Benefited by Free Admission of American Pork.

Two distinguished arrivals at the Paxton are Carl Buens, imperial general consul for Germany, with headquarters at Chicago, and C. Haller, an attaché of the German legation. The gentlemen are making a tour of the western consulate circuit. Consul General Buens said: "You will not see much German immigration to the United States within the next year. There has been a perceptible decrease of late, due in a large measure to the existence of an improved condition of labor at home, which could not be bettered by immigration to another country. Germans endeavoring to find employment in this country will find it well enough alone. The prosperity of Germany has been greatly increased by a treaty on foreign affairs and the extension of commercial treaties. Times in Germany have been materially improved since the widening of commercial relations with other countries and a humane consideration for the condition of the working classes.

It is not generally known that an insurance company has been organized in Germany. The workman pays one-third of a premium to insure himself and his family against sickness, accident, incapacity of old age, etc. The employer also pays one-third and the government pays the other—so the workman is thus practically pensioned against old age. This plan has been the cause of checking immigration of laborers. Wages are lower in Germany than they are here, but the cost of living is cheaper.

The removal of restriction against American pork has proved beneficial to the empire. The recent treaty with Russia is an indication of the friendly relations which exist between the czar and Emperor William. The people in Germany do not attach any significance to the recent demonstrations in France, when the Russian naval officers were dined and worshipped by Parisians.

The recent reconciliation between Emperor William and Bismarck was received with popular approval by the people. The emperor is highly esteemed by the masses and all talk of a socialistic revolt is totally unfounded. It is only the work of a few irresponsible agitators. Germany, I am happy to state, has a protective tariff which is not only a source of revenue, but also a source of strength to the government. It is clearly evident that some legislation, doubtless of a radical nature, will be held in the future and that Germany will be ably represented upon that occasion."

FORBIDS THEM TO COME. New Electric Light Franchise Hostile to All but Company Now Here. H. C. Eddy, the agent of the Western Electric company, said to a reporter yesterday: "It has been reported that I am here in the interest of the Western Electric company as a prospective bidder under the ordinance proposed some few nights since. I desire to state in this connection that I am not here for that purpose. It is in my opinion there is no electrical company which would build a plant and operate the same under the provisions of the new ordinance. The restrictions that are placed therein apply only to a new company and would make it about impossible to intrust any capital in the project. The ordinance, as it stands, grants permission to build and operate an electric light plant for such length of time as the council may determine. It further imposes obligations as to the manner of constructing the plant, which would make it about impossible to intrust any capital in the project.
