MOSHER'S DUPES FAVORED
Two Institutions Made Preferred Creditors by the District Court.
WILL BE TAKEN TO THE SUPREME COURT

Municipal Election at Lincoln Today Likely to Be Very Warm—Principal Contest to Be Over the Office of Water Commissioner.

LINCOLN, April 1.—(Special to The Bee.)—Two very important cases in connection with the Capital National bank failure were decided by Judge Tibbets in the district court this forenoon, whereby the sum set apart for dividends to the creditors will be considerably diminished. Heretofore the receiver has refused to recognize any one as a preferred creditor. Two banks, the Coldwater National of Coldwater, Mich., and the First National of Cadiz, appealed to the court to have their claims against the defunct bank paid in full without regard to a pro rata division with other creditors. The Coldwater bank had forwarded to the Capital National a note upon the Hemingford bank for collection, amounting to $1,334. The Capital National collected the money on the note on the same day that it closed the doors. The Coldwater bank set up the claim that it was not a creditor of the Capital National, but that the latter bank simply collected the money in trust. Judge Tibbets decided that the claim of the Coldwater bank for the full amount was just and legal and that the receiver should set apart $4,334 for the use of its bank for the payment of the claim.

The case brought by the First National of Cadiz, which had purchased a lot of notes from Mosher and had sent them back for collection just prior to the failure of the bank. Some of the notes had been collected and the proceeds remained in Mosher's hands. Still others of the notes were rediscounted and the proceeds retained, while the rest of the notes were renewed. Judge Tibbets rendered the Cadiz bank judgment for the entire amount of the notes and ordered the receiver to set aside $9,950 for their final payment. Both cases have been appealed to the supreme court and some time will elapse before they are finally decided.

CITY ELECTION TOMORROW.
The exciting municipal campaign closes tonight, and the ballots will settle the warmest contest ever known in the history of Lincoln tomorrow. The principal contest has been over the water commissionership, the republicans nominated J. W. Percival, the democrats S. S. Royce and the independents William Crombie. A strong effort was made early in the campaign to induce either Royce or Crombie to withdraw, but both insisted on running out the contest to the end. The fight on Percival, the republican nominee, has been waged upon the alleged grounds that he is incompetent and that he has been unduly influenced by contractors. Other charges of a less serious nature are also made. Both charges are vigorously denied by Percival and his friends. There seems to be but little fight on the other candidates on the republican ticket. Judge Tibbets Water, City Attorney Abbott and City Engineer Dobson will be re-elected by the usual large majority out in on the majority he would have received had his support been undivided. There is also a lively contest for the school board, as there are three or four tickets in the field, one nominated by the ladies. An earnest effort will be made to induce a large number of women to vote, and it may be that the result of the election will depend upon the number of ladies who cast their ballots. H. H. Meyers and O. W. Webster, republican candidates in the seventh and fourth wards, are having considerable opposition, but their friends claim their election by good majorities.

HE IS A BRYAN DEMOCRAT.
Congressman Bryan has been recognized to a limited extent by the new administration in the appointment of T. D. Worrell as superintendent of the mails. Mr. Worrell was the chairman of the democratic county central committee in last fall's campaign and in the local democratic state convention he was one of the few who stood up and fought for his chief in the contest in which the Bryan democrats met so signal a defeat. The election of F. A. Miller as the dem-independent candidate for county sheriff last Saturday night by tendering his resignation and today accepted the position of superintendent of the mails, at a salary of $1,200 per year. The office has but recently been created. The duties of the position have been filled by an officer who was known as the assistant postmaster. He also tendered his resignation Saturday night and Mr. Worrell stepped into his place. The postoffice department has also authorized the appointment of an assistant money collector at Lincoln, the position will be given to M. L. Blackburn, who will take charge on April 15.

LINCOLN IN BRIEF.
Walter Wood, a young boy of unsavory reputation, is under arrest for attempted burglary. He is also charged with an attempt at a criminal assault upon the 5-year-old daughter of Jacob Kreiswirth.
During the month of March the Lincoln police made 169 arrests.
J. C. Tuttle, the well known real estate agent of Lincoln, is laboring under financial difficulties which are believed to be temporary. He confessed judgment in district court today to the amount of $19,700, in favor of the First National bank and other parties. He was granted a stay of one year without bond.
J. J. Mullin, the life insurance agent, whose recent escapades have been the subject of gossip for some weeks past, has left Lincoln, leaving several questionable transactions behind him. He is charged with having sold mortgaged property.

Farmer Commits Suicide.
TERKAMAH, Neb., April 2.—(Special to The Bee.)—Henry Brush, a German, hung himself Saturday on his farm in Arizona precinct, six miles east of this city. He was found Saturday night in his stock yard, some thirty yards from the house, hanging from a small tree by a hitching strap. He was 55 years old, was fairly well-to-do and no cause was assigned for his act. He had lived in the county for over fifteen years with a bachelor friend. He is not known to have any relatives in this country. Sheriff M. S. Andrews acted as coroner, in absence of that official. The jury returned a verdict to the effect that Brush died from strangulation by his own hand. The funeral was held Sunday.

The second week of district court opened Monday, Judge Ambrose presiding. The seventeen original cases on the docket were disposed of last week and the court began this week on the seventy civil cases. Court will adjourn at the end of this week, with an adjourned session the latter part of this month.
For a long time it has been the practice for attorneys to have $50 to $75 for the defense of criminals in their county, but Judge Ambrose made the following order, which will be sustained by the county commissioners: "Hereafter, in the allowance of compensation to attorneys for the defense of criminals under the statute, the minimum fee will be $25. Any further or greater compensation will be based upon the importance of the case, together with the time necessarily spent in making such defense."

Damage to Nebraska Wheat.
NEBRASKA CITY, April 2.—(Special to The Bee.)—Reports from the county are to the effect that the recent cold weather and high winds have greatly damaged the wheat crop. In several instances whole fields have been ruined.
V. M. Street, the newly appointed postmaster, took charge of the office today. P. E. Hevey, the retiring postmaster, goes to South Omaha, where he will act as secretary for the Nebraska Live Stock Commission company. During the four years Mr. Hevey had charge of the postoffice he conducted it upon business principles, instituting many reforms, and brought the service up to its present high standard. It is not known whether the newly appointed postmaster will make any changes in the office force or not.

Robber and Forger Captured.
ST. PAUL, Neb., April 2.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—Quite a stir was created here this morning when Sheriff Kendall arrested a young man, Ora C. Huff, alias J.

FACTS ABOUT OMAHA'S TEAM
Some Things that Are Known of the Players and the Grounds.

PLEASANT PROSPECTS FOR LOCAL CRANKS
Work on the Grounds Under Way—Arrangement of the Buildings and Accommodations—The Men and Their Positions on the Field.

The problem with the cranks just now is what does the season of 1894 hold for them. In Omaha to have a winning team or is it not? While that seems to be the all-absorbing question, no attempt will be made here to solve it. The work of tearing away the veil which enshrouds the future will be left to more competent hands. That Omaha is to have a team, however, and a good one, is boldly and unreservedly asserted, but good teams do not always win the pennant. Be that as it may, a vast deal of interest is already being manifested over the local prospects, as the crowds that constantly throng the scene of the new grounds abundantly attest. The graders and carpenters are busy at work, and it will require but a marvellously short space of time to metamorphose the commons on Charles street between Seventeenth and Eighteenth, into a model ball park—the most accessible, convenient and admirable grounds every way that the city has ever had.

The grand stand, which is to be L shaped and situated in the northwest corner, will seat 1,500 people, and while there will be nothing elaborate about it in point of architecture, it will be a comfortable and substantial building and one in which at no stage of the game will the spectators be exposed to the sun. The bleachers will be lined along the north side of the grounds just east of the grand stand, and extensive enough to accommodate all the people who will be present. Each department will have its own entrance, which will obviate all trouble of separating ticket holders after they have passed within the grounds. The grand stand, excepting in detail than the old buildings at Sportsman's park. The whole will be surrounded with a ten-foot, tight board fence, surmounted with a network of wire twelve feet in height. The club house or dressing room is located in the southwest corner and is a neat and commodious frame building.

The diamond itself will be unexcelled in the west, as level as a floor and with a coating of black loam on the top four feet deep. The whole ground will slope gradually toward the field, and but little trouble will be experienced with wet grounds, excepting in case of hard and protracted rainfalls. Without exaggeration the park will be the most complete and thorough that the city has ever had. As to its dimensions, no apprehensions need be entertained on that score, for while it will be considerably smaller in the old grounds, it will be laid out with such an idea of economy that space that practically the lack of space will not be felt.

WHAT THE CLUB CONTAINS.
Manager Rourke is on the go constantly and expects but little rest until the day the boys line up for their championship battle. The team as it stands, while subject to change, is certainly a creditable aggregation and one that will be capable of putting up good and reliable ball. O'Rourke himself will guard first, and will guard it well. Billy Driscoll, who is now coach at the Dennison, O. college, and who is already fit for active championship work, will be on second. The reliable Jack Munyan on third, Pat Boyle at short and Frank Far, E. E. Hendricks and W. D. Wood in the outfield. These men are all likely candidates for future laurels, while several of

West Point Burns Burned.
WEST POINT, Neb., April 2.—(Special to The Bee.)—About 11 o'clock last night two large barns, one belonging to the brewery, the other to William Strain, were burned. Three fine horses being lost in the brewery. The cause of the fire is unknown. The Congregational church and parsonage, the Catholic church and the residence of William Strain, being in the direct line of the wind, caught fire several times, but the superhuman efforts of the firemen saved these buildings. The water pressure was inadequate, thus making the work still harder and more dangerous. On the sites on which these two barns stood, exactly sixteen years ago to the day, two large barns were burned and two fine horses incinerated.
