REPUBLICANS LOSE THEIR MAIN CHANCE

Opportunity of Splitting the Majority Goes by in a Moment of Confusion.

HILBORN OF CALIFORNIA IS UNSEATED

English Given the Place by a Vote in Which Republicans Took No Part.

ELAND'S LITTLE BILL DEAD FOR GOOD

Motion to Pass it Over the Veto Put in Spite of Reed's Opposition and Lost -Some Sparring Between the Leaders.

WASHINGTON, April 4 .- As soon as the house met today the republicans resumed their filibustering tactics to prevent the unseating of Mr. Hilborn of California. They resisted the approval of the journal and forced the yeas and nays upon the demand for the previous question. The democrats failed to secure a quorum on the demand for the previous question on the approval of the journal, and to avoid the tedious and complicated proceedings involved in a call of the house Mr. Springer moved to adjourn, with the understanding that the democrats would vote down the motion. hundred and eighty-five democrats voted down the motion to adjourn and thereupon Mr. Springer made the point of order that a quorum having appeared, the demand for the previous question on the approval of the journal was an intervening motion under the terms of the order under which the house was operating.

The speaker sustained the point of order and refused to entertain an appeal from his decision. He stated the question to be on the latter half of the subresolution, declaring Mr. English not elected and not entitled to his seat. This half of the resolution was disagreed to by a vote of 12 to 187.

Mr. Reed demanded a division on the ma-Mr. Reed demanded a division on the ma-fority resolution, and the next vote was taken on the resolution that "Hilborn is not entitled to a seat." Adopted by a vote of 170 to 13. The resolution to seat Mr. English was adopted by a vote of 165 to 17. Upon the announcement there was a burst of applaine from the democratic side, which was rangewed when Mr. English was the was renewed when Mr. English was es-corted to the bar of the house and sworn in. Those who voted against scating En-glish were: Messrs. Bartlett of New York, Breckinridge of Arkansas, Coomba of New York, Crawford of North Carolina, Everett of Massachusetts, Hall of Minnesota, Harris of Kansas, Harter of Ohio, McLaurin of South Carolina, Richards of Ohio, Ryan of New York, Shell of South Carolina, Strauss of New York and Warner of New York, all democrats, and Messrs. CONFUSION ALMOST CONFOUNDED. Mr. Bland then called up the seignlorage bill as returned by the president without his approval, and moved that it pass, the objections of the executive to the contrary not withstanding.

Mr. Tracey of New York raised the ques tion of consideration against it and Mr Balley made the point of order that the constitution required the consideration of a bill returned with a veto, and that the consideration therefore should not be raised against it.

The speaker sustained the point of order. Mr. Bland stated that on Saturday at 3 o'clock he would demand the question. From all quarters of the democratic side there seemed to be a general desire to avoid the conflict of opinion in debate, and Mr. Bland's suggestion of three days' debate was met with a chorus of cries of "Vete, vote

Then followed one of the most remarkable scenes witnessed in the house in years. The republicans were euchered out of their chance of seeing the dissensions in the democratic ranks thoroughly aired. Mr. Tracey. who was standing in a side aisle, said that as far as the democrat; of the minority of coinage committee were concerned, they were willing to take a vote immediately This statement was received with shouts of approval from the democratic side. Mr Tracey went on to say, however, that he had not conferred with the republicans of the committee, and suggested that he would like to have the opinion of Mr. C. W. Stone of Pennslyvania, who made the minority report against the bill.

Mr. Stone replied, after conferring a moment with those about him on the republican side, that the debate in the when the seignforage bill was passed had been so limited that he was unwilling enter into any argument to close the bate at this time. When he ceased speak ing there was a great confusion on the oor. Members on both sides were conferring in groups. The speaker, with up ment. Mr. Bland expressed a willingness to have the vote taken immediately. Mr Reed, Mr. Dingley, Mr. Burrows and Mr Stone were in earnest consultation to the sequently appeared, they agreed that Mr Dingley should make the opposing argui Meantime no one addressed the chair, and the speaker stated the question to be on the motion to pass the bill, the president's objections to the contrary not withstanding.

"On this," said he, looking down upon the confusion upon the floor, "the constitution requires that the vote shall be taken by year and mays." He hesitated. Still every one on the floor, engrossed with the pro-gram in the coming debate, heeded him not "All those in favor will answer aye, continued, "contrary, contrary sign."

TOOK THEIR BREATH. Again he paused, but, no one addressing him, he added, with a bang of the gavel:

r. Allen." began the clerk. There was gasp of astonishment on the republican as they awakened to realize the roll call had begun. The democrats who were auxious to see the bill suppressed were overjoyed. imid a great uproar a dozen republicans jumped to their feet and clamored for recogition. They saw the coveted opportunity of olding up to the public gaze the dissensions in the camp of the enemy slipping from them. They fought hard. The confusion was so great the clerk got no further than beard. At last, by hard pounding, a semplance of quiet was restored.

"Mr. Speaker," said Mr. Reed, "my col-league, Mr. Dingley, was ready to address the house upon this question before the roll began." The gentleman, Mr. Dingley, made no buch statement until after the first name on the roll had been called."

"The reason he did not," said Mr. Reed, was because the gentleman from Missouri r. Bland, was entitled to the floor, and I nit to the speaker and the house notable, because my colleague was ready address the chair, and if he did not do o, it was because in the confusion the first portunity was afforded to the house to know it the situation was." Regular order!" shouted the democrats.

"The chair understands the circumstances," responded the speaker. "The gen-tleman from Missouri (Bland) was recogstances." nized, whereupon some suggestion was made to an agreement between that gentleman and the gentleman from New York (Tracey), and the gentleman from New York (Tracey), who called upon the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Stone). There was a general call throughout the house of 'Vote, vote,' whereupon that gentleman failing, the gentleman for Missouri (Bland) stated he was willing to have the vote taken now, and no gentleman arose to address the chair."

CRISP'S STATEMENT OF THE CASE. A dozen of the republicans protested, but the speaker disregarded them and con-tinued: "The chair stated the question and stated that under the constitution the year and mays must be entered upon the journal. Still no gentleman arose to address the chair. The chair then directed the clerk to call the roll, and the first name was called, and then for the first time the chair had an intimation that the gentleman from Maine (Dingley) desired to address the house."

(Dingley) desired to address the house."

The explanation of the speaker was not satisfactory. The republicans, led by Mr. Reed, were appealing for recognition amid shouls for regular order from the democratic side. The excitement was intense.

"I want the speaker to understand this matter," said Mr. Reed, finally.

"The speaker does understand." retorted the speaker, sharply cutting off Mr. Reed, "and the speaker directs the cierk to resume the roll call."

A burst of democratic applause greeted

"But-" protested Mr. Reed.

"The chair will not allow the roll call to be interrupted." "I think the speaker has not heard my colleague's statement," persisted Mr. Reed. "The gentleman will take his seat," re-

"The gentleman will take his seat," re-turned the speaker finally.
"Certainly I will," replied Mr. Reed, but he still remained standing.
"The gentleman will take his seat," continued the speaker. "The gentleman will be seated. Nothing will be accomplished by this resistance.'

"There is no resistance, Mr. Speaker, The gentleman will take his seat and the clerk will call the roll."

Mr. Reed sat down, but immediately jumped to his feet again. He would not surrender without one more protest.
"Mr. Speaker," he said, defiantly, "I ask to be heard."
"The chair declines to hear the gentleman.

The clerk will call the roll."
"Will the speaker hear a word?" 'The chair will not.'

"My colleague states-"
"The chair will not hear the gentleman,

The clerk will call the roll. The uproar was teriffic at this point, and above the din Mr. Boutelle shouted: "I shall decline to east my vote in such a condition of confusion as this.

REPUBLICANS REFUSE TO VOTE. Mr. Burrows attempted to address the thair, while Mr. Wilson of Washington cried, "Tyranny, tyranny," But the speaker would not listen and ordered the clerk to proceed with the roll call. Once or twice afterwards Mr. Burrows and Mr. Reed at-tempted to break in, but the speaker de-clared emphatically he would not hear them; that the roll call could not be interrupted for any purpose. The republicans were beside themselves with anger. The fused to vote on the first roll call. anti-silver democrats were in despair, as the first roll call gave the silver men the necessary two-thirds. Finally, after a consultation they agreed to vote and did vote on the second roll call. This turned the tide, and upon the announcement of the vote it was found the motion to pass the bill over the veto had been defeated, the silver men lack ing seventy-four of the necessary two-thirds The house then, at 5 c'clock, adjourned,

Allison Makes His Argument Against

WASHINGTON, April 4.-Senator Allison this afternoon resumed his speech against the Wilson tariff bill.

Mr. Harris objected to Mr. Quay reading the petition, and was sustained by the chair. Mr. Quay was permitted to make a brief statement concerning the petition The senate then took up the horse racing and pool-selling bill and agreed to the amendment prohibiting pool selling and bookmaking in the District of Columbia. The bill, as amended, was passed. Peffer had begun a speech on the proposi tion to repeal all laws authorizing the sec retary of the treasury to issue bonds with-out specific authority from congress, when the matter was put over until tomorrow and debate on the tariff bill was resumed

Mr. Allison took up the thread of his speech where it was interrupted yesterday devoting his remarks to the departure from specific to ad valorem duties, and pointed out he inconsistency of retaining specific dution some articles and the ad valorem system off others. In response to a question Senator Allison declared he intended to vote for free sugar, both raw and refined, as it was in the bill as it came from the house, and then be would propose an amendment replacing th law. In conclusion, he asserted he should not knowingly contribute by this bill, or any other, to the promotion of the interest of Great Britain at a sacrifice of the interests of his ewn country.

Mr. Mills followed, confining himself chiefly to defense of the ad valorem duty. "You must come to the confession, and I must come to the confession," Mr. Mills continued. "we cannot pass our bill without making some concessions. I am between the devi and the deep sea, and when it is a question of going to the devil by keeping the Mc Kinley law, or of going to sea and there must be some favorable wind to blow me back to land. KANSAS CITY, April 4.- The three men eported as fatally wounded in yesterday's A. P. A.-Catholic election riot are still alive but reasonable hopes of their recovery are not entertained. J. N. Pate, the deputy onstable who precipitated the riot while trying to arrest one of the Pryor family, old his story of the affair while suffering ntensely from his wound. He said he selieved that Mike Callahan, the only one that was killed outright, is the man that shot him. He says that while he was attempting to take Pryor some one threw his arms around him and Callahan fired. Pate is one of those mortally wounded.

Harry Fowler is another who is mortally younded. His statement may be regarded as an ante-mortem statement, for it is thought nothing short of a miracle can save "I do not know just how the fight began," said he. "I saw a man unknown to me attempt to shoot Callahan. I reached out to grab the man's gun and save Callahan and somebody shot me in the back. dropped to my knees, then got up, ran across the street, and fell again."

The eight men under arrest are all leputy constables, appointed by a suburban judge or deputized by Westport councilmen to arrest the Pryors for an alleged assault. Only one of the Pryors has been arrested in connection with the riot, as the others ere far from the scene when it occurred. were far from the scene when it occurred.

Leader of the Irish Parnellites Using Threats Against the British Government-Evicted Tenants as the Medium for the Fight.

DUBLIN, April 4.-The convention of Parnellites met here yesterday. A dispatch was read from the president of the Irish independents of New York sending greetings and an order on the Bank of Ireland, Dublin, for $5,000. A message of sympath; was also received from the Irish independents of Chicago. John E. Redmond in an address said the oblitical situation was so changed that the caders felt they could not bear alone the responsibility for the future course of the party. The cause of Ireland was confronted almost by ruin because of the selfish jealousies of men, who under the name of anti-Parnellites were slavishly subservient to the English government and hindered the cause of the people they represented by their petty disputes. Referring to constitutional agitation, Mr. Redmond remarked that he believed in it when it was conducted by fearless men, but if this class of agita-tation was allowed to sink into a farce and a sham as it had in the hands of the anti-Parnellites, then it was better that it be abolished and that men of modern methods OAKLAND—The election was held yesterday and the license ticket elected as follows:

Baden-Powell Telts His Objections to the Bearing Sea Treaty.

LONDON, April 4.-A reporter of the Associated press had an interview with Sir George Baden-Powell, who was British commissioner in the Bering sea investiga-tion. Sir George has announced his intention of making an important statement criticising the main provisions of the Bering sea bill when it comes up for its second reading in the House of Commons. He said: "The Bering sea bill seems to be drafted with the object of destroying and not preserving the seals. I regard it as inhuman to urge the sealers to take the female seals in pup. The bill, in my opinion, will tend to destroy the seal industry ashore and at sea. Arrangements, however, could easily have been made to preserve the seals and the industry had expert advice been taken. I am certain the Americans and Canadians are equally anxious to preserve the seals, and all the parties in the trade ought to combine and devise new regulations which would be scientifically adequate. But if the three governments had agreed upon it the bill must be passed, although experts regard the measure as worse than useless.

FIGHTING THE RED MAN.

Oklahoma Settlers Contending with Cheyennes on the Warpath. EL RENO, Okl., April 4.-The military authorities at Fort Reno have received in formation of the reported Indian outbreak in G county, Oklahoma. The number killed and wounded in the first encounter is given as two whites and one Indian, and one Indian wounded. Information from other and reliable sources does not agree with the above, and is at least twelve hours later. William Delesdernier, a trader at Seger, a point about thirty-five miles from the origin of the trouble, came in today to purchase ammunition to take out to the settlers. He stated that the first reports came to his place by the Indians Saturday and they then purchased 3,000 rounds of ammunition and took it to the band in the fight. The settlers, Delesdernier says, are collecting at Seger and they have now a company of about 175 under arms, and several bands of soldiers have gone to the scene of the trouble. The Indians engaged are not of the band of Whirlwind, as at first believed, but are followers of Reil Moon. The location of the tight is on the Washita river, about 115 miles west of El Reno. Delesdernier and a party of settlers went to the scene of the fighting on Monday night and found that lifteen of the Indians and about as many whites had been killed. The Indians are all armed with Winchesters and have plenty of ammunition. The Indians are all armed with Winchesters and have plenty of ammunition. The Indians from other parts of the reservation have hastened to join Red Moon in his trouble and he now has a band of about 150 bucks in the fighting crowd that is moving up the Washita river.

A small skirmish occurred between a band of Indians and some white men at a point about thirty miles from Cantonment, the Indians being on the move to join Red Moon. Two white men were brought into Cantonment that were killed in the encounter. But the number of Indians killed or wounded was not known. This information was brought in formation. Cantonment is not burned as reported, but is strongly guarded by the people, who have gone there for safety. All the Cheyennes from that locality have joined Red Moon's band. The settlers are nearly all ex-cowmen and ex-cowboys and between them and the Indians no chance is lost to make trouble. above, and is at least twelve hours later. Great Coke Strike of 1894 Already Marked to Close in Murder.

DEADLY WORK OF A MOB AT DAVIDSON

Chief Engineer of the H. C. Frick Company Meets Instant Death.

FOUR OF THE STRIKERS SHOT DOWN

Two Killed and Two Mortally Wounded by Deputy Sheriffs Who Pursued.

RIOTING LASTS FROM DAYLIGHT TO DARK

Women Mistake a Striker for a Workman and Beat Him Fatally-Violence of All Sorts Resorted to by the Infuriated Foreigners.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 4.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)-Like fire sweeping along a train of powder, the spirit of riot sped through the coke regions today, from Fairchance to the Yoghloghony river. It culminated there in murder, and the murder was swiftly followed by retribution. Two men, perpetrators, were killed; others were wounded by pursning officers and left to suffer where they fell. More than three score were captured, and some of them were mobbed and slightly injured by indignant citizens.

The coke strike of 1894 is only three days old, but it is already doomed. Its failure will be written in the blood of Chief Engineer Joseph H. Paddock of the H. C. Frick Coke company, whose brutal murder at the Davidson works this afternoon by a mob of Hungarian strikers has aroused the public mind as no other event in the history of coke region struggles has done. There is a sudden and powerful revulsion of public feeling against the methods of the strikers, and with this adverse sentiment the strike cannot win. It is a striking illustration of unreasoning passion by which the leaders of this strike are governed that the Frick company, which alone has preserved its agreement with the men and is paying the highest wages in the region, should be the first to feel the violent hand of the strike.

The day has been a feverish one all over the region. It began with marchings of armed strikers before daylight, and grew in violence until it culminated in the murder of Engineer Paddock and the death of two of his murderers at the hands of enraged citizens of Connellsville.

VIOLENCE MARKED THEIR COURSE. The first move of the rioters in the early morning was to perfect the strike in the southern end of the region. Before daylight a large mob marched through Uniontown and visited all the works from here to Pairchance, the extreme south territories. Their course was marked by violence. The rioters were in charge of foreigners, and they were armed with clubs and revolvers. The workmen seeing resistance was useless, dropped their tools and joined the strikers. The Leith, Redstone, Oliphant Tayle and Fairchance companies were added to the list, and this made the strike complete in the region from Connellsville to Fairchance, a distance of eighteen miles. The strikers then started northward where the brunt of battle was yet to be fought, and where thousands of other marchers were mustering their forces. In this part of the region only a few of plants had joined the strike, and both operttors and men were preparing to resist. J. Rainey had made a special stand against the invaders. The strikers had succeeded in getting the men out at several of his works and were delighted at their progress, as this was the first time in ten years that they had been able to get Rainey's men to join in a strike. The Rainey company, however, started to concentrate its efforts at the Moyer works, and had a large number of deputies sworn in and placed on guard armed with Winchesters, and in command of Officer Franks. The strikers, on their march to Moyer, met with a warm reception, and this plant yet remains in possession of armed

CONFLICTS NUMEROUS AND DEADLY. Prior to the bloody climax reached at the Davidson works this afternoon, the day was filled with exciting events, and reports of minor conflicts came in thick and fast. A riot occurred at 10 o'clock this morning at the Mayfield works of McClure Coke company, in the Mount Pleasant branch, in which a Hungarian was shot by one of the guards stationed about the plants. At Trotter, where a mob of 700 men camped last night, a striker named Andy Milta, who was taken for a workman, was assaulted by a gang of women, wives of strikers, and beaten into insensibility. A similar assault was committed on a workman by the wives of strikers at the Painter works of the Mc-Clure company near Scattdale. When some of the English-speaking men undertook to work at Donnelly and Mayfield a mob of foreign strikers surrounded the works. The superintendents, bosses and guards gave battle and the strikers dispersed, one of the strikers having been shot. The McClure company asked Sheriff Wilhelm to swear fifty deputies to guard the Painter and Diamond works and the sheriff and a large posse of deputies have been busy all day in stationing guards and making arrests, as has also Sheriff McCann of Westmorland county at the works on this side of the county line. About 600 miners from Wheeler, Morrell and the Lessinring works marched to the works along the Dickerson Run branch this morning. On their approach the men at work threw down their tools and joined the strikers. These works are owned by W. J. Rainey and James Cochran & Sons, and are

PADDOCK BRUTALLY MURDERED. The climax was not reached until this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when a body of strikers, numbering several hundred, strikers, numbering several hundred, marched on the Davidson works of the H. C. Frick Coke company, Connellaville, Pay-ette county, where men were working. When the strikers approached they were ordered to stop. They came on and tried to get at the men at the ovens. The deputies fired. The strikers returned the fire, and charged, driving the deputies and men from the plant. Chief Engineer Paddock of the Frick company was shot in the back of the head, and the strikers beat him and crushed his head with stones and threw his body from a tipple window to the ovens, forty feet below. They attmpted to fire the Upple, but left when they saw the deputies returning with a large force from Connells-ville. The pursuing party overtook the strikers half a mile from Davidson and opened fire on them. The strikers fired in return, but ran on. Four strikers fell, two being killed and two others fatally

Sixty-four strikers were captured. level-headed citizens were required to prevent the lynching of all who were taken to Connelisville. The law-abiding element had their way, and at 8 o'clock a special train arrived here with sixty four of those who scrived here with sixty four of those who were in the mob who killed Paddock. A were in the mon who kined Paddock. A great crawd greated their arrival, and, amid cries of "Lynch them," the prisoners were hurried up a back street to jail. A large body of strikers were present and made a rush to reacue the prisoners, but were held
