DAILY BEE NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

OFFICE - - NO. 12 PEARL STREET. Judge Deemer Explains the New Liquor Law to the Grand Jury

IT WILL BE HARD ON SALOON KEEPERS

Regulations that Will Prove a Burden to Retail Dispensers of Liquor-Income of the City Materially Reduced -Other Court News.

Judge Deemer opined the April term of district court yesterday, empaneling the grand jury and making an assignment of cases for trial. Mr. and Mrs. Melzer, Charles Snyder and Bob Limerick of Sheriff Hazen's picture gallery were arraigned and entered pleas of not guilty. One of the interesting features of the day was Judge Deemer's remarks to the grand jury on the subject of the new mulct liquor law. From his exposition of it the saloon keepers, particularly in the rural districts and small towns, will have a nice time of it before they are allowed the freedom in selling wet goods which they now enjoy.

"The building in which the saloon business is carried on," he remarked in substance, "is subject to the assessment of a tax of $600, payable in semi-annual installments, due April t and October 1. This tax is to be collected the same as any other tax, but the payment shall not b: a bar to any prosecu-tion under the prohibitory law, unless, in cities of 5,000 population and over, the saloon keeper has obtained and filed with the county auditor the consent of the majority of th voters of the city. Then this tax may be paid in quarterly installments, and on giving the required bond of $3,000 and complying with the requirements of the law regarding the way in which the establishment shall be operated the payment of the tax shall be a bar to all prosecutions under the prohib itory law. "In towns of less than 5,000 inhabitants the saloon keeper must file the written con-sent of 65 per cent of the voters in the county living outside of Council Bluffs, and he may then sell intoxicants, and the pay ment of the tax is a bar to prosecution Whether this tax is paid before or after the consent is filed with the county auditor, half of it goes to the town in which the business is carried on and the other half to the county. The town or city may impose additional penalties in its own behalf and provide other regulations." But little stress has been laid heretofore upon the fact that out of town saloon keepers must travel over their whole county before they can safely carry on their busi-ness, but from Judge Deemer's lucid state ment it is evident that they are at a great disadvantage under the present law as com-pared with the men in the same line of business in Council Bluffs. There is but little doubt that the board of supervisors will try their best to enforce that portion of the law relating to the payment of the tax, for a very comfortable portion of the county's revenue will come in through that channel. On the other hand, the revenue the city has been receiving from the saloons for the past been receiving from the saloons for the past ten years will be cut quarely in two, and the council will find it necessary to impose quite an additional tax in order to counter-balance the loss. This in turn will cut down the number of saloons, and the result will be that the whole saloon business, now divided in among seventy men will be condivided up among seventy men, will be con centrated in perhaps half that number. $3,000 bond will cau e grief to a large num ber of the saloonists of this city, and that too, will have its effect in lessening the number of places where liquor will be sold.

In fact, all that were present were unable to see the maryelous work of the champion owing to the circumscribed accommodations. Every inch of space was utilized and many viewed the exhibition from the tops of adjoining tables. First on the program was a game between Malone and Mr. Ebersole, a New York traveling man, an expert pool player. Malone played 200 to Ebersole's 100, and when the last sphere was holed the New Yorker had but twenty-one buttons to his credit. Succeeding the game Champion Malone executed a serier of fancy shots, every one of which seemed a miracle. He makes a cue and the numbered balls talk. The crowning achievement of the evening was the pocketing of six balls, placed in the center of the table, at a single shot, each ball being put into a separate pocket. A. N. Vanderweldep Asked for $20,000 After He Had Accepted $300 in Full of All Claims Against the Northwestern.

CEDAR RAPIDS, In., April 5 .- (Special Telegram to The Bea) -An important rolling was made today by Judge Shiras of the federal court in the personal injury suit of A N. Vanderwelden against the Chicago & Northwestern railway. He sues for $20,000 damages. He settled with the company upon the payment of $300 and signed an instrument releasing it from all further liability. The company now claims that he is stopped from recovery of further damages in view of the fact that he falled to return the consideration received. The plaintiff's attorneys claim that the release was fraudulently obtained and that Vanderwelden was not acquainted with his rights. Judge Shiras decided, first, that the release of liability executed by the plaintiff to the company for the injury sustained and which he claims was obtained by frau-must be set aside by an action in equity and that until done the plaintiff could no maintain an action at law for damage Second, that having received $200, for which the release was given, the plaintiff should return it and make tender of same in order to maintain the present action for damages. The judge then took the case from the jury and was about to instruct a finding for defendant when the plaintiff asked court to dismiss the case, which was done

C., April 5 .- The cor oner's jury has rendered a verdict to hold McLendon for the killing of Norment, Kain for the killing of Redmond, and that Redmond killed Pepper. The military court will submit its report to Governor Tillman, but it is understood to concur as to the facts as

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 5 .- A dispatch from Darlington says that an opinion in the dispensary cases has already been drawn up and signed by Justices McIvor and McGowan, and has been sent to Justice Pope, n whose hands it remains. The state say: the opinion declares the act unconstitution but whether in whole or in part it is not ascertained. CHARLESTON, S. C., April 5.-There seems to be trouble in Governor Tillman's official family on the subject of the recent actics of the governor. Every the cabinet, except, perhaps, Mr. Mayfield deprecates his conduct, and several are outspoken in denunciation of Tillman's tyranny This information comes direct and In addition to this, Secretary of State J. E. Tindell is incensed because Tillman issued the police proclamation and had his name signed to it, while he (the secretary) was n Charleston As is well known all the lamations are signed thus: "B. R. Tillman governor. By the governor. J. E. Tindell secretary of state." This is not a mere form, but the secretary must sign his own name and affix the scal of the state to the document issued.
