HERE THE PART & REPORT OF A VALUE OF

CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE General Business Improvement 's Still Felt in this City. FAITH OF AN IMPORTER JUSTIFIED His Order for Fancy Dry Goods Quickly Taken by His Customers - Prices on Staples Stiffening Rapidly-

Reports concerning general business throughout the country are very satisfactory, and as usual Omaha is at the head of the procession. It is true that during the first two or three days of April there was some alight diminution in the number of buyers in the wholesale district, but the fact that business returned to an active basis as soon as the weather had become more agreeable indicates that the change was merely a temporary matter. The country merchants continue to express entire confidence in their trade, but there is some little anxiety in regard to the crops, which have given promise of exceptional abundance all the spring. Most of the country districts are much in need of rain and unless the soil is moistened soon it is feared that

Crop prospects will be seriously damaged. A comparison of the first week of April A comparison of the first week of April with the corresponding week of last month shows that there has been a remarkable improvement in the tone of the jobbing Buyers are far more liberal in their orders and seem to have acquired confidence that was almost entirely lacking thirty days ago. This is also indi-cated by the largely increased demand for lines of every description. Trade a month ago was conducted along fancy which staple lines had branched out and is now as general as is usual at this time. This feature is marked in the case of linens, for which there is an active demand. Lines of damask for which there was practically no sale a month ago are now meeting with a considerable demand. The experience of a local dry goods firm furnishes a good illustration of the new order of things. A couple of weeks ago they received a heavy consignment of samples of Swiss embroiderles and laces. At the time when they were ordered it looked as though such luxuries would be a drug on the mar-ket, but the jobber had faith in prospects and went ahead. The goods only arrived at the custom house last week, but in the meantime the samples had been sent out, and orders are now on the books for more than one-half of the shipment. The incident justifies the confidence of the importer, and shows that the Omaha market has surely reached a healthy basis. There has been a decided tendency to stiffen the market in many staple lines dur-ing the week. The expected advances on various lines of cotton goeds went into effect April 1, and the influence has been felt to a considerable extent. The most marked advance has been in the grocery line, in which there has been another sharp advance in canned goods and dried fruits. Peaches are quoted from 15 to 25 cents higher per dozen. and the small fruits, such as strawberries. red and white cherries and gooseberries, have dvanced from 5 to 15 cents. The supply of dried peaches, apricots, plums, etc., is nearly exhausted, and the market is tending conthusally upward. One result of the advance is that a more active trade is springing up on California prunes, raisins, grapes and orrants, which are proportionately cheaper. Sugar is stronger, although prices are not quotably higher, except on one or two low grades. Provisions are stiffer, and advances are quoted of three-fourths of a cent on kettle rendered lard, and of one-fourth of a cent on side meats and breakfast bacon. Local bank clearings during the week are as follows: .

AS DUN SEES IT.

Heavy rains at this season of the year are COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL a recognized necessity in this climate. The soil must be thoroughly well soaked before the dry summer season is upon us. A few damp days at this time would be of incal-culable value. "The promoters of the Platte canal enter-"The promoters of the Platte canal enter-prise have been unusually active of late, and it appears that $141,060 have thus far been subscribed to that fund. It is claimed that when the sum reaches $150,000 an addi-tional $100,000 is pledged by several local capitalists. The plan so far submitted cer-tainly seems feasible, and if carried through to a successful issue this canal would mean much to Omaha. The activity and prosperity, the large immigration which would follow the inauguration of this gigantic en-terprise, makes it a question of paramount interest to Omaha and to business men. Many of the leading business men and property owners have given this project much time and considerable attention, and seem willing to back the same without stint. The high price of fuel is one of the main obsta-cles to the growth of manufacturing interests in this locality. The solution of this question would decide the fate of Omaha as manufacturing center and place it high on the list of industrial centers. The trans-mission of power by means of electricity would, it is claimed, enable the canal company to furnish power to all the factories of Omaha and vicinity at a minimum of cost This enterprise is only one among a number which attest the activity and enterprise of local business men even under the adverse circumstances now prevailing, and I do not hesitate to say that this same energetic spirit will do much toward establishing Omaha and the west in the confidence of the country at large."

Guests of the Jobbers. The following Nebraska merchants were in the city during the week and left orders with the Omaha jobbers: C. J. Robinson, Spiker; O. G. Snell, Memphis; C. Produce Pointers.

An orchard near Las Cruces, N. M., re-ently sold for $750 an acre. Prospects are very favorable for a fine ruit crop along the Snake river, Wash-fruit erop ngton, this season. Eastern Colorado reports an immense egg rop, one dealer near Holyoke having shiprop, one dealer near this, yed fifty cases this spring.

The egg market has been very quiet all the week. The receipts have been moder-ate and prices have remained about stationary.

Bermuda potatoes are now on the mar-et in small quantities. The first shipment f Salt Lakes also made its appearance iuring the week.

The poultry trade was rather sluggish for a couple of days, as dealers were generally pretty well supplied. It is expected that stocks will work off all right this week. The tomato crop in Mississippi was severely dealt with by the recent freeze. The leaves turned black and the plants are destroyed beyond hope of resuscita-tion.

Minneapolis Wheat Market.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 7.-During the early part of the day business was very active and prices were lower than yesterday from the first and closed rather more than 16 lower than yes-terday for futures and 16 lower for eash wheat. There has been rath in the southwest, and it was believed possible for a part of the reported damage from dry weather in that section to be mage from dry weather in that section to overred from with good rains. That caus Houldation of some long wheat that we acht at higher prices, and the market so what steadily to near the close, which was a Houldation of some long wheat that was bought at higher prices, and the market sold down steadily to near the close, which was at 615e for April, 615e for May, 52e for July and 52ige for September. Juluth receipts were 29,870 bu, toslay, and for the week, 151,910 bu, having some 750,000 bu, of receipts in Minneapells above the shipments, but as the mills ground somewhat more than 890,600 bu, for the week it leaves a decline in local stocks. The mills are grinding very steadily, although not at their full capacity. The demand for flour was moderate, but prices were hardly sustained, owing to the decline in wheat the last two days. Pratents were quoted at $2,40873.65; bakers, $2,00872.40. Sept.... Pork per bbl May... 12.00672.40.

It Was a Weather Market in the Wheat Pit. CORN OPENED A FRACTION LOWER Trade in that Cereal Was Light Without Any Prominent Transactions on Either Side of the Market-Business in Provisions Very Moderate. CHICAGO, April 7.-It was a weather market in wheat, with variegated crop reports thrown in. The majority of the crop reports received today made quite light of lamage, and the trade gave ear to that version of the story. The feeling was heavy, and while trade was light there was less timidity shown by short sellers. At the close May wheat showed a loss of about 14c. The spread between May and July is now 1%c. Corn was weak, and left off with a loss for the day of %c. Oats were firm for near months, and weak for the more deferred months. Provisions were in the main quite firm. After the close of the regular session of the board yesterday wheat on the curb was very weak, but turned again to the bull side before trading was resumed. May sold privately yesterday as low as 63%c, but the trading at the opening in the pit was at 64%c, with some little as high as 64%c. The market kept steady at 64%c for a time, but there was some nervousness on the part of the longs, as the sellers appeared to be acting with much confidence. There were light rains in eastern Kansas, with an indication of these spreading, and a majority of the crop reports which came in were inclined to minimize the amount of damage done by the freeze. The foreign outlook was not encouraging, inasmuch as the great recent strength of the market here had only caused about 1d advance at Liverpool. From Frankfort, Ky., the reports were that the damage was being greatly magnified, and a dispatch from a farmer who works an exten-sive area near Louisville was that there was no damage to any extent. Missouri wired that it was raining there today and that the wheat prospects were better. Other re-ports from many widely scattered localities were in a similar strain, and the market sell 300,000 bu, by George Baldwin, resulted in a drop from 64% to 63% the last than two minutes. As soon as the last 50,000 bu, of the lot referred to was sold, and the crowd saw there was no more to follow, the price dropped again to 633%c. After that and up to the close business was dull, but the tendency continued to be toward a lower level. There was an-other drop which carried the price off to 63c, followed by a reaction to 63%c, and the latest transactions were at that price, but there were more sellers than buyers at that price Corn opened from ½c to ½c lower than it Corn opened from %c to %c lower than it closed yesterday, and in the course of the day declined %c more and closed at a loss of %c. Receipts were not heavy today and still lighter are expected for Monday. Trade in the pit was light, without any prominent transactions on either side of the market. May closed at an advance of %c over yester-day's losed at an advance of %c over yesterday's latest quotations. Trading in provisions was of a moderate olume. Prices were firm at the opening, but vere followed by a period of weakness, Later on an attempt to buy at the slight decline occasioned by the selling of lard, the market ruled firmer and prices advanced beyond yesterday's closing prices and rested with a slight advance. Compared with last night May lard is 2%c higher and May ribs 7%c higher.

Estimated receipts for Monday: Wheat, 50 cars; corn, 195 cars; oats, 120 cars; hogs, 32.000 head. The leading futures ranged as follows:

This, of course, caused firmness, but an-other and perhaps more potent reason for the advance was the improved export and local demand for the product. Another, and by some assigned as the main cause, was the bulge in provisions. Armour had pro-visions bought and was consequently inter-ested in higher prices for hogs. Most of the smaller packers were sellers all spring and, if they could get hogs cheap enough and lots of them, "Your Uncle Phil" would have to go down pretty deep into his pocket, before June. He was a heavy buyer at all western markets this week, and when Ar-mour wants hogs it is hard to keep prices SATURDAY, April 7.

Receipts were not at all fairly liberal this week, and while falling heavy, but the weakness to the heg and pro-vision markets at the close Friday made buyers bearish and seliers weak. A lighter show a sharp increase as compared with a year ago. In sheep the receipts have been comparatively light, but sheep supplies on shipping and speculative inquiry also con-tributed to the general weak feeling and this market are so irregular as to afford no most sellers, under the circumstances, were ready and willing to accept a moderate decline. SHEEP TRADE STEADY.

Light supplies of sheep, both here and everywhere else, have kept the demand increasing and the market improving. Now when the marketable sheep have about all been run prices take a boom and killers can-not get them fast enough and in sufficient numbers. Those who rushed their muttons to market all winter, regardless of cost, are now repeating in sacketoth and ashes, while the man who has a good band of sheep wears a smile broad enough to see when his back is turned. Men are like sheep; they go with the crowd. The sheep don't know, any better, but the men ought to. Prices have advanced fully 50c this week and the demand is very urgent at the advance. ### Business Slowly Improving and Country Buyers Helping Out.

"Trade continues to improve, though recovery is exasperatingly slow," said W. H. Roberson, local manager of R. G. Dun & Co.'s Mercantile agency. "There were fewer country merchants in the city during the week and consequently sales fell off somewhat from this source. Orders from the outside increased, however, and the week is reported better than fair all around.

'By the way, the visiting merchants helped weeks. In one principal line it is stated that 60 per cent of the sales were to vis-rors. They bought coyly, but they were a good class of dealers and many of them were new in this market. The experiment proved a success, and probably next fall it will be undertaken again. The only draw-back to a full realization of the benefits of this method of stimulating trade, aside from the evil conditions of the times, is found in the petty jealousies existing between com-This market is now strong enough to abandon the puerile practices of small places and competitors should confine their imosities to the legitimate activity which is considered the life of trade.

At the banks the purse strings are still held with a tight grip, though money is by no means scarce. Bankers have not fully overcome the nervous prostration Bankers have not yet 1893 and are timorous to a remarkable de gree. However, no man who offers gilt-edged security is refused and in some quarters there is a disposition to ease up customers and to look ahead cautiously for loans.

A well known banker, referring to the canal meetings and other public gatherings for considering public matters, criticises the tone of the discussion, justly, as I think, when he insists that the calamity cry shall be abandoned. He says Omaha is in better condi-tion commercially than any of her com-petitors and has a bright future before her. He says it will help immediately and im-mensely to inaugurate the canal enterprise, but he wants the advocates of that under-taking to shout Omaha's advantages and not proclaim from the house tops her nil fortunes or her disadvantages. He says that when a Kansas City man registers in a New York hotel he spreads the name of his home clear across the page, and my banker friend thinks Omaha men should quit apologizing and be-tome aggressive.

'Speaking again on the paramount idea of the canal, it is proper to say that the enterprise is progressing, but it should not c. Citizens who wish to place Omaha on high road to an immediate, rapid and substantial growth ought to come forward and subscribe the small balance required guarantee the beginning of the enter-

There are two great enterprises which Jhould not be abandoned or hindered—the canal and the union depot. The year 1894 should see both these assured."

Retail Trade Improved-Platte Canal Project Growing Apace.

Albert Andriano, local superintendent for Snow, Church & Co.'s Mercantile agency, BRY81

"A slightly improved retail trade was the natural result of warmer weather during the week.

"In wholesale lines there is little apparent change in the situation. Boot and shoe men are nearing the end of their season and appear reasonably well satisfied with the business done. In dry goods business is keeping up very well. Hardware men report an increased trade. Commission business is fair. There seems to be in-creased activity in furniture, and collec-tions are somewhat better. Taking into consideration the extremely unfavorable weather of the last for weeks this is a
