The stuff is supposed to have been stolen, and the police are now looking for the owner, while Charles is in the city jail on a general charge of suspicion.

The ministers of the city held a meeting yesterday morning for the purpose of laying yesterday morning for the purpose of laying further plans for reviving the Chautauqua assembly this summer. A committee was appointed to ascertain the cost of moving the amphitheater from the grounds in Gar-ner township to some point in the city lim-its. A piece of ground just east of the High school is looked upon with a good deal of the prove the star engineering the profavor by those who are engineering the pro-ject as a location for the building.

The school board made a trip yesterday to Courtland beach to look over the situation. They found seventy-two pupils cooped up in a single room, 18x40 feet in size. The recent refusal of the voters to allow an ap-propriation for a new school house has ren-dered the erection of a new building out of the question, and President Field states that there is no other room in the town that can be rented that would answer the purpose any hetter. So the chances are that the pupils will go on until the end of the year with y better educational facilities than they mave now.

Application of the Mulet Law Now a Problem Pressing for Solution.

WHAT WILL THE COUNTY BOARD DO

Little Doubt but an Effort Will Be Made to Enforce the Tax - New Industry that Will Be Fostered by

A meeting of the county supervisors will be held at the court house this afternoon. The question of enforcing the new Martin mulct law is certain to come up in a day or two, before the board finally adjourns. Heretofore the city clerk or the city marshal has collected the monthly fine. Now the county treasurer will have entire control of the collection of saloon fines and after the quarterly payment has been made to him by the saloon keeper, one-half the amount will be turned over to the city, the same as any other tax.

In view of the fact that four-fifths of the members of the board are from the county and the nonenforcement of the law will lose the county just $300 per annum on every saloon keeper doing business in Council Bluffs, it seems fair to presume that the board will demand that Council Bluffs be brought under the dominion of law once more, at least so far as the tax matter is concerned. Some one has discovered that a new in dustry is likely to spring up as the result of the new law. For an out-of-town saloon the new law, For an out-of-town should keeper to carry on his business without hindrance a petition will be necessary bearing the signatures of 65 per cent of the voters, not of his town or city, but of the entire county. It is easy to see that for every saloon keeper to start out on his own book armed with a petition and traverse the whole county would be out of the question. It would cost him as much as he could ever hope to make during the year, and he would then be uncertain as to whether public sentiment throughout the county would be such as to enable him to get the required 65 per cent. It is likely, therefore, that some enterpris-ing man who is out of a job will start out with seventy-five or 100 petitions and make a tour of the county. Every farmer he runs across will have to sit down and write runs across will have to sit down and write his name on the entire lot if he believes that people ought to be allowed to drink beer. If he doesn't believe that way, or if he says he hasn't the time to spare, the syndicate must pay him for his time or compromise with his concience, as the case may be. When he has made the round of the county and has secured the petitions he back and sell them at a good can come round figure to the out-of-town saloonists. WHY NOT TAX THE DRIVING PARK?

is it Because it is Owned by the Street Car Company?

The democratic convention gave sweet as surance that the candidates, if elected, would compel the street car company to pay all its taxes and other dues to the city. Right on the start the council has decided to relieve the Driving Park association from taxation. The present driving park is a goodly sized piece of real estate, held for a propituous time in which to subdivide into lots and throw upon the market. In the meantime it affords its owners a yearly revenue from being leased and from occa-sional races. The property is practically owned by the street car company, there being but four shares not held by stockholders in the mater line. the motor line.

In connection with this subject a little investigation has been made with a view to ascertaining just what ground the Driving Park association has for complaint on the score of taxes. It owns seventy-six acres of land in the northwestern part of the city, and the whole tract of land is assessed at $6,300. The taxes amound to $392. Just west of the south end of the grounds is a patch of twenty acres belonging to John W. Paul and known as "Paul's Place." The ground is exactly the same, so far as the general contour is concerned, and the only

MRS. HENNETT WAS IGITATED. When the Mother of Her Alleged Victim

Approached She Was Nervous.

MARSHALLTOWN, Iag April 9.-In the Sennett murder case formy fourteen witnesses were examined by the state, and greater progress was made than on any day of the trial. It was shown by Mrs. Bennett's physician that after the murder he was physician that after the murder he was called to see her, and while she complained of being sick he could discover nothing the matter, and from the amount and charac-der of the medicine left, which they claimed was given her, and the effect it produced, it was evident that she did not take it. She claimed to be sick when ar-rested and put in Jail. A physician was called and left medicine for her, and the person who had charge of the medicine swore that she refused to take it and poured it out. One witness testified that he followed footmarks leading from the scone of the murder toward Mrs. Ben-nett's home. They could be followed nearly half the distance.

The victim's mother testified to Mrs. Ben-mett's extreme agitation the first time she met Mrs. Bennett after the murder and her anxiety to show her sympathy. The feigned sickness to cover up her agitation and nervousness was strongly brought out and formed an important link, Alleged Murderer on the Stand.

CRESTON, Ia., April 9 .- (Special to The Bee.)-The testimony for the defense in the Goodale murder case was resumed today. Goodale murdler case was resumed today. So far the defense has been endenvoring to prove that Balderson is a simple-minded fellow, not responsible for his statements, and in fact an idlot. The witnesses so far examined have testified to Balderson's fool-ish actions, and testimony has been pro-duced showing that other children in the Balderson family are mentally weak. Sam Kidd, who was implicated in the murder by the confession of Balderson, was placed on the stand this morning, but he disclosed nothing that would implicate him in the erime. It is the general opinion that Balderson and Kidd will not be convicted.

May Not Increase the Court Membership. DES MOINES, April 3.- (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-Governor Jackson stated to-day that he had not yet signed the bill passed by the late lexislature providing for an additional member of the supreme court. He believes there are some defects in the law which ought not to be over-looked. He is opposed to making the mem-bership of the court an even number, and thinks the manner of dividing the work of the court will not expedite business. It is thought by some that the bill will be ve-toed. Meanwhife there are a number of candidates in the field for the position, among them Judge Deemer of Red Oak, Judge Weaver of Iowa Falls and E. E. MRS. HARRY LAW 949 North 25th st., Omaha. "I den't think that any woman who has taken treatment with Dr. Shepard even feels as though she could speak too highly of his work. My health had been poor for many years and was much worse from la grippe, which attacked me every winter for the past four years until Dr. Shepard grippe, which attacked me every winter for the past four years until Dr. Shepard restored me. Every little change in the weather gave me a cold and made me sick. My blood was thin as water and poisoned by catarrh and the stomach and kildneys suffered from this cause. My food gave me pain and often vomiting. It was called billous dyspepsia. The stomach seemed in a ferment continually. The muscles of my back and sides were always sore. Any ex-tra exertion made me feel faint as though I would vomit. My nerves were all un-strung so that I could not sleep and my heart was easily disturbed. In short I was weak and prostrated in every part. "Several of the best doctors in Omaha helped me for the time, but I wanted to get entirely free from my trouble and be a well woman if possible. As a result of Dr. Shepard's treatment I have regained excellent health. I am stronger than I have been for years. One striking result of his treatment is that I have not caught cold since I began, or, at least, my colds don't effect me at all, for I have not been down sick a day of late. I have every con-fidence in Dr. Shepard and in his skill in chronic diseases, and commend him to my friends who may need medical help."

driving park, inasmuch as the latter has direct connection with the motor line, and occasionally affords its stockholders a little revenue, while the Paul tract is several blocks distant from the motor, and in hard times like the present affords not the slightest revenue to its owner. There are 104 lots in this tract of twenty acres, and each one is assessed anywhere from $30 to $45. The entire assessment is $3,610. Granting that this assessment is just and that the two parcels of ground are equally valuable, the assessment of the driving park should be $13,718, instead of $6,300.

The stockholders of the company and their friends claim that they should be exempt from taxation on the ground of their work-ing for the good of the city. Those who believe in every man and every corporation bearing his due share of taxation find it difficult to see why the Driving Park assoclation is entitled to any different treatment from the ordinary citizen who has had land lying idle on his hands during the recent business depression, and doing nothing but pile up taxes which he has not influence enough to have remitted. Dohany's operhouse is run for the benefit of the public, to a certain extent, but it is assessed at $8,000, and the taxes are not remitted.
