Last Sunday's Bee contained an account of the killing of City Marshal A. E. Clark at Como, Colo., by Levy J. Streeter, but few of those who read it recognized the man at the breech end of the gun as a former resident of this city. Streeter came here about two years ago, and, after workring for S. A. Pierce, the shoe man, for a year, left for the west last May. Mr. Pierce says he was one of the best shoemakers he ever employed. He had been working contentedly enough, when a couple of tramps came along, who said they came from the same town that he had lived in They were on their way west, and he imme diately packed up his bags and baggage and went with them.

Saloon Men of Iowa Arranging to Comply with the Mulet Law.

PROHIBITIONISTS WILL HINDER THEM

Avoca Attorney Who Prosecuted Joint Keepers Under the Old Law Refuses to Interfere Since Dealers Desire to Do Business Lawfully.

The saloonists from the rural districts are on the move to comply with the new mulet law. A meeting is to be held in this city tomorrow in which twenty-six saloon keepers from Westen, Neola, Minden, Underwood and other small towns in Potcounty will participate tawattamie They have formed a syndicate for the purpose of securing a canvass of the county for signatures to petitions to allow them to engage in the liquor business. They estimate that it will cost them $1,500 to get the signatures. The prohibitionists in the east end are also on the move. Realizing that it has also on the move. Realizing that it has been a comparatively long time since Pottawattamic county was torn all to pieces by a soloon war. Fred Kinney, one of the ardent prohibitionists from the eastern part of the county, called on F. A. Turner, an Avoca attorney who has been identified with saloon prosecutions under the prohibition has in those peat and asked him to bition law in times past, and asked him to take up another saloen war under the mulct law. He declined to do so, however, on the ground that the saloon keepers had already taken steps which showed that they intended to abide by the law so far as

The Pollard libel case is almost finished, and will probably go to the jury today noon Yesterday T. C. Dawson was on the stand, and, in the course of his testimony, he stated that a number of interviews had taken place at his office between Mrs. Pollard and A. Z. Bowen, and that during one of these there was a great deal of talk about a common law marriage, which Bowen wanted Mrs. Pollard to have made public before he would consent to live with her any more. On one of these occasions in Dawson's office Mrs. Pollard became very angry at Bowen and struck him repeatedly in the face with her open hand.

the stand and testified that Mrs. Pollard has told him that she had always thought o Bowen as a son, and that, while he had urged her to marry him, she had refused to do so on acount of the great difference in their ages. This statement evidently relieved the plaintiff greatly, for she put her hand to her face and cried out in a tragial

"Thank God! Thank God!" Early in the afternoon the last of the evi-dence was laid before the jury and Attorney Sweet began his argument, which lasted several hours. Mr. Vanatta, Sweet's part-ner, gave notice that he should want two hours and a half, so that the prospects for the submission of the case before this noon do not seem very flattering.

Keep Off the Grass.

The board of supervisors has decided to put a stop to the use of the lawn in front and at the side of the court house as a play ground for children and a promenade for grown persons. A night or two ago President Black of the board went past the court house and saw a crowd of boys playing a game of base ball on the lawn. The ring-leader seemed to be a worthless colored youth, who is serving out a six months' sentence in the county jall at hard labor for stealing a revolver. Mr. Black called the attention of the janitor and asked him to fire the crowd. The janitor tried, but came back soon, saying the crowd refused to be fired. Vesterday afterneon Shrift. to be fired. Yesterday afternoon Sheriff Hazen was summoned before the board and nformed that it had been decided to put a top to such proceedings, and his co-operation was requested. A wire fence is to be put around the lawn and signs will be posted up saying, "Keep Off the Grass." The sheriff will be directed to arrest all trespassers, and they will be fined $1 and costs.
