

MARCUS VISITED LINCOLN

Swindler Who Operated in Omaha Detected at the State Capital.

EXPOSE IN THE BEE DID THE WORK

Skips for Denver When He Found His Game Was Up in Nebraska—Lincoln Laborers Take Action on Kelly.

LINCOLN, April 28.—(Special to The Bee.)—It was not until the arrival of the Omaha Bee this morning that several people learned for the first time that they had had a narrow escape from being victimized by the same smooth individual who bilked a number of the business men in Omaha under the name of Marcus. The news of the fellow's success reached Lincoln last evening, but a careful search of the hotels failed to unearth any traces of a man named Marcus & Bailey's show. It was learned today, however, that he did visit Lincoln and that he undertook to play the same game here that he worked so successfully in Omaha. He went to the Capitol hotel and registered as H. L. Marks. He represented himself to the clerk as an agent for Ringling Bros. circus, and arranged for the accommodation for several hundred people connected with that company. Inasmuch as Ringling Bros. show is to visit Lincoln next morning, it was further known that the man named Marks and his associates were busy engaged bilking the city and country for the show, Marks' story went down very readily. Later in the day the clerk of the hotel saw an order for a number of tickets to Barnum's circus, which the alleged Marks had given to a Rock Island employee. The fellow then dropped out of the fellow in an instant. He slipped out and telephoned for the police, but before an officer arrived the fellow disappeared. He has not been found and it is believed that he took the noon train for Denver. As far as known he failed to secure any money from the people he bilked in this city.

ENDORSED THE OMAHA BEE.

The regular weekly meeting of the Lincoln Labor club was held last evening and Danish hall was packed to the doors. The club now numbers nearly 600 members, all belonging to recognized labor unions and all being enthusiastic. It is a warm sympathizer with the Industrial movement, and during the past week has met in three open sessions at which the attendance ranged from 1,000 to 2,500. At the meeting last night the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, The corporation press of the city of Lincoln and the other laboring men have lost no opportunity to sneer at and belittle the laboring men and their cause at present and in the past:

Resolved, That the Lincoln Evening News and the Omaha Bee be and they are hereby endorsed by this club for the fair treatment this club and other labor and industrials have received at their hands in mention of our meetings and editorially.

An amendment to include the Omaha World-Herald in the resolution was voted down with considerable emphasis. A facious member also offered a resolution extolling the thanks of the club to the Lincoln Journal for its "sympathy" and "laboring classes." It was received with jeers and hisses and then withdrawn amid a chorus of "rats" from every part of the hall.

LOUIE MEYER AT HOME AGAIN.

Louie Meyer, the Lincoln business man, whom business troubles last summer drove partially insane, was brought home from New York last evening by his friends. He is being cared for at a private house. The trip seemed to improve his mind, and his friends hope that he will not be necessary to place him in the insane hospital. There is little hope of his recovery, as the ablest physicians in New York pronounce his mind so softened that he will never be able to take care of himself. He is now in Lincoln, where he is being cared for by his friends. He is now in Lincoln, where he is being cared for by his friends.

THREATENED A POLICE SUIT.

George W. Blake, last year chairman of the independent state central committee, came into Justice McCandless' office this morning and made affidavit that his life was in danger and that the man who had inspired him with fear was James C. Kramer. Both men claim jurisdiction over some lots in Blodgett's Park addition, and Blake is in possession. Kramer has several times threatened to destroy the garden truck already planted on the lots in dispute, and from threatening to take Blake's life. Blake swore that he had every reason to believe that Kramer meant to carry his threats into execution, and asked that he (Kramer) be arrested and bound over to keep the peace. Kramer was arrested this afternoon and placed under $1,000 bonds.

TRAVELING MAN IN TROUBLE.

The county judge this morning issued a warrant for the arrest of W. L. Hall, a well known traveling man, living in this city, on complaint of his wife. Hall and his wife have been involved in some domestic difficulties, and some time ago he drew out of the American Exchange National bank of this city some money which he claimed belonged exclusively to her. He commenced the suit against him in county court, and secured a judgment for the amount. Since receiving the judgment she has been unable to get execution thereon served upon him. Fearing that he was about to leave the state, she applied for a warrant under the statutes which empower the judge to arrest a judgment debtor and compel him to make a showing to the court as to the money and credits in his possession which he refuses to apply to judgments against him.

LINCOLN IN BRIEF.

A. B. Haggerty, an ex-student of the Lincoln business college has been held to the district court in the sum of $200 bail for taking mail out of the postoffice on a forged order.

A. H. Dalley, a glass-cutting fake, who has been holding forth at the Museo for the past week, was this morning sentenced to ninety days in the county jail for perpetrating a nameless crime upon a young boy.

Five soldiers of "Grayson's" which has started from Denver for Washington reached Lincoln last night by the box car route. They stopped off here and joined Commander Duff's brigade. Other members of the Grayson army went on east to join Kelly at Des Moines. Two of the men who stopped here possessed a rifle and a drum, which were enthusiastically received by Duff's men. They claim that Grayson's company consisted of 110 men, and that they are all working their way eastward in small parties.

Arrangements have been completed for a grand opening of the regular baseball season in this city next Thursday. The opening game of the season will be played with the Quincey team. Both clubs will be preceded through the streets of the city with the Nebraska State band in full uniform and will be followed by the mayor and city council in carriages. At the base ball ground Mayor Vreil will make a brief address and will throw the ball to the pitcher and call the game. Ladies will be admitted free.

Nelson County News.

NELSON, Neb., April 28.—(Special to The Bee.)—Levi Helzel, proprietor of the Arlington hotel of this place, has rented his hotel to Frank Edwards. Mr. Edwards will take possession next week.

Mr. S. E. Davis, who has been B. & M. station agent at Nelson since the road went through here in 1886, left with his family this morning for Wilber to take care of the B. & M. station at that place. Mr. Davis is succeeded here by Mr. Frank Fuller of Hanover, Kan.

For the past two days Hon. S. W. Christy of Edgar, special commissioner for the United States court for the district of Nebraska, has been taking evidence as to the value of certain improvements in the case of J. K. O. Sherwood against Theodore J. Moelle. This case involves the title to a quarter section of land in this county, and has been litigated in the United States courts for the past nine years.

A plentiful supply of rain in this section has made the prospects for crops and fruits of all kinds good.

INVESTIGATING BONACUM.

Archbishop Hennessy Visits Hastings Accompanied by the Accused Bishop.

HASTINGS, Neb., April 28.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—Archbishop Hennessy made Hastings a flying visit, accompanied by his secretary, Rev. T. Linnhan of Fort Dodge, and Bishop Bonacum of Lincoln today. The object of his visit was the investigation of the charges against Bishop Bonacum of the diocese of Lincoln, ordered by Mr. Satoll. This morning he went to the convent of the Sisters of Visitation, accompanied by the defendant prelate. Together they made a very informal investigation of the charges against Bonacum, which had failed to protect the Hastings convent, which had by the establishment of the York convent, been subjected to ruinous competition, and had been caused to fall behind in the payment of its interest due the complainant. This charge was embodied in the complaint against Bonacum, made by the protesting priests. No investigation of the specifications as to Bonacum's intercepting letters sent by some of the Sisters was made. The specifications of the priests alleged that Bonacum had intercepted letters sent by two of the Sisters, and on account of some of the statements made by them had suspended them. The deposed nuns were not interviewed. The archbishop left for Dubuque this morning.

Peculiar Discovery Near Kearney.

KEARNEY, April 28.—(Special to The Bee.)—A few days ago R. E. Barney, who lives on his farm four miles west of Kearney, found a peculiar looking substance that had been dug up by prairie dogs. He sent a small piece to Prof. Barber of the State university and that gentleman found it to be ivory. The professor came here the early part of this week to investigate the discovery further, and yesterday the workmen dug up one piece of the same substance five and a half inches in diameter and another two feet long and five inches in diameter. Prof. Barber is satisfied the ivory is that of some prehistoric animal, and to find a part if not the entire skeleton of the monster. This is not the first time huge bones of extinct animals have been found near here as a few years ago men on the canal unearthed some huge bones and they were on exhibition at the Midway hotel when it burned four years ago.

The Kearney Cycling club now numbers over eighty members and expect to increase it to 100 in the near future. It gave a street race on Monday night, which was a very attractive affair. It was followed by a ball, and the proceeds will be used to complete their track and fix up their club room.

An effort is being made to secure the independent state convention here this fall. A meeting has been called for next Tuesday night to take action in the matter.

Hon. Church Howe, department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, is to be here May 7 to inspect the two regiments of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Hon. A. G. Scott had a paralytic stroke yesterday which paralyzed his entire left side, but he is better now.

J. L. Malone, who claimed to be the champion pool player in the world, gave an exhibition of his "skill" at the Midway billiard rooms last night. He had better practice up a little if he expects to hold his title, as Charles Swan of this city beat him in his own game. The "professor" claimed it was one of his "off days."

Editors Denounced by a Preacher.

TEKAMON, Neb., April 28.—(Special to The Bee.)—Rev. Peter Clark, D.D., of the Methodist Episcopal church roared the editors of the city last Sunday in both of his sermons and both of the local papers responded to it this week. This has angered the preacher, and he has given it out on the street that tomorrow he will repeat the dose.

The North Platte conference of the Nebraska synod of the Lutheran church closed a three days' session in this city Friday morning. Several prominent ministers from different parts of the state were in attendance.

The adjourned session of district court convened in this city Monday morning. Judge G. W. Ambrose will preside. The criminal cases were all disposed of at the former session and the seventy civil cases will be taken up this morning.

F. W. Conkling of this city is getting in readiness "Chimes of Normandy," which he will put on the boards in this city in the near future. Mr. Conkling gave "Pinafore" several weeks ago, which was a success. He was at one time a member of the Hess Opera company.

The Burlington county court house has undergone extensive improvements from top to bottom.

Avoided a Strike.

ROCK RAPIDS, Ia., April 28.—(Special to The Bee.)—A strike in a sawmill way has been threatened at the Lyons Band Manufacturing company at this place, owing to differences between Manager Thompson and the men. A change in management has stopped any further difference. H. C. Midnebrook, the patentee, has been placed in charge as superintendent, with foremen over the band and guitar departments to supervise the work, and a board of managers consisting of three members over all.

The work will now be pushed to the fullest extent, as the company is behind with its orders.

The grand jury has been in session since last Monday and yesterday returned indictments against A. Spurcer, Ed Goddell, J. H. Ritting and James Phelan, the charged with burglary, petty larceny and impersonating an officer. There is still more grist to grind and surprises are looked for.

H. M. McGill, section foreman on the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern, failed to answer a subpoena to appear before the grand jury yesterday and on being brought in on a bench warrant paid $2 and costs.

Reorganized the Hastings Alumni.

HASTINGS, April 28.—(Special to The Bee.)—The alumni of the Hastings High school met in the superintendent's office last night and reorganized the old Alumni association. Five classes were represented. A number of changes were made in the plan of organization, such as experience had dictated and shown necessary. The following officers were elected: President, Miss Maud Jorgensen; vice president, Miss Anna Chapman; secretary, Miss Bessie Nowlan; treasurer, George Payne; executive committee, C. B. Atchison, Miss Nowlan and Miss Maud Jorgensen.

A number of young gentlemen who are crazy on base ball, and a number who are merely lunatics, fought a hard battle on the diamond at the asylum Thursday afternoon. The incurables kept their heads better than the cranks, for the inmates of the asylum were enthusiastically won by Duff's men. The game was a source of great amusement to the patients at the asylum.

Flag Day Celebrated at Ashland.

ASHLAND, Neb., April 28.—(Special to The Bee.)—Friday the people of Ashland celebrated Flag day in an appropriate manner. About 2 o'clock in the afternoon a parade was formed at the school house, including all the students of the public school, Grand Army of the Republic, Woman's Relief corps, Uniform rank Knights of Pythias, general corps of Ashland, Royal Guards, Ashland Cornet band. After the procession had marched over the principal streets, the crowd moved in a body to Stinson's opera house, where speeches were made concerning the cause of the celebration. Among the speakers were ex-Lieutenant Governor H. H. Shedd, Mayor-elect Mansfield Ira Reardon, Don C. Gould and John Orange. In the evening Prof. W. A. Clark of the Western Normal university lectured to the people and teachers who had come to attend the teachers' meeting to be held here Saturday.

cessful meetings of the association that has ever been held in the county at the new Methodist Episcopal church here, and closed with an address by Prof. J. J. Bryant of the St. Louis Business college on the "Bible as a Text Book." Prof. J. J. Bryant was elected president, John Olson, secretary and Miss E. May Henderson, treasurer.

COZAD ROBBERIES FRUSTRATED.

George P. Nelson's Life Saved by His Courageous Hired Man.

COZAD, Neb., April 28.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—Last evening about 9 o'clock George P. Nelson, living about eight miles northwest of town, was summoned to his door and attacked by masked men who knocked him down and attempted to murder him. No one in the house but the hired man, who was up stairs, hearing the disturbance below, was seized a shotgun and started down. One of the intruders shot at him as he was on the stairs. He returned to the upper story, but one of them was undoubtedly wounded as he fell to the floor, but was taken away by his companions, a horse belonging to Nelson being appropriated to carry him. The horse returned this morning stained with blood. Nelson was quite seriously injured, being unconscious most of today. Robbery was doubtless the motive that prompted the crime, as Nelson is well to do.
