Aldrich Makes a Mild Reply—Income Tax Will Remain in the Bill—No Actual Progress Made With the Tariff Measure.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Senator Harris, who is in charge of the tariff bill, lost patience today at the way in which progress was impeded by Senator Hale in the morning hour.

Mr. Wolcott interposed a question as to whether the committee now intended to re-visit the amendments which would change the whole scope and character of the bill.

Mr. Aldrich said it was due to the senate and the country that they should know what the bill was to be considered.

Mr. Hill submitted an observation or two which did not seem to please the democratic colleagues.

Mr. Aldrich admitted this was true in a parliamentary sense, but that it was not to be true of this committee.

Mr. Aldrich accepted the challenge and rose with the statement that he was "informed and believed that amendments had been added to the bill since it had been reported to the senate."

Mr. Aldrich followed in a brief, sharp speech, characterizing the proceeding of the day as a protechnical on the part of the republicans.
