Repairing the Sewer. City Engineer Etnyre has evolved a plan for remedying the defect in the sewer on Broadway between Main and Fourth streets which will be laid before the city council next Monday evening. As the people living in that vicinity know well enough, the sewer is practically worthless, all on account of a mistake made by the city engineer several years ago when it was laid. At that time the water company already had a main laid on Main street across Broadway, and rather than require the water company to take up its pipes and lay them differently, the city engineer, Harry Birkinbine, conceived the idea that mud could be made to run up hill and siphoned the sewer underneath the water main. As a result the siphon has gone on accumulating mud and fifth ever since, and now the entire three-foot sewer for a distance of 1,600 feet east of the corner has become full. At the next meeting of the council Engineer Etnyre will recommend that the water main be taken up and laid differently, and that the sewer also be changed so as to allow the free passage of sewage. If this suggestion is adopted it will result in the lasting advantage of property owners on both sides of the street. Charles Lunkley, the well known undertaker. charles Lunkley, the well known undertaker, will occupy the building at 238 Broadway after April 29. Various improvements will be made which will give him one of the finest undertaking establishments in the

A set of resolutions were adopted applauding General Kelly and denouncing the meeting of shippers at which the delegations that came from Omaha to capture a train for the Industrial army were styled mobs. They condemned the utterances which characterized the demonstrations of April 20 and 21 as 'invasions or violations of our territory,' and insisted that the demonstrations were spontaneous and participated in by citizens of both cities with a common purpose. The governor was roasted for becoming "the victim of misplaced confidence, as he was on April 14," and putting the "citizens of our tate to the expense and trouble of a need-

ASCENSION DAY SERVICES.

Masons of this City Put in a Day of Church

Going and Feasting. Yesterday was a big day among the Masons of this city and vicinity. Almost the entire day was put in by the Knights Templar in various forms of enjoyment, for it was Ascension day, a day which is almost universally celebrated by the Masons, as well as by the church. During the morning the guests began to arrive, and by the time the evening of pleasure had been ushered in more than 100 Masons and their friends were on hand to participate in the festivities.

A procession was formed at the Masonic temple and marched to St. Paul's church, where religious services were held at 11 o'clock. Dalbey's band headed the parade. The services at the church were interesting and impressive. Rev. E. J. Babcock and Rev. E. J. Simpson conducted the exercises, the former preaching a sermon approto the day and which had been augmented by outside talent, rendered some excellent music, the anthem, "O Risen Lord," by J. Barnby, anthem, "O Risen Lord," by J. Barnby, being particularly effective.

After the services the knights left the church, and headed by Dalbey's band, marched to the residence of W. J. Jameson on First avenue, where lunch was served. They then proceeded to the hall, where the afternoon was spent in secret work, I. M. Treynor being given the knight's degree. The ranks were inspected knight's degree. The ranks were inspected by Past Grand Master W. F. Cleveland

Carroll and His Menagerie.

Frank Carroll was brought before the commissioners of insanity yesterday afternoon and succeeded in convincing them that he was insane, for the second time within a few months. They acceded to his request, however, and silowed him to go to St. Bernard's hospital for treatment for a term of two weeks. The fact is that Carroll is simply suffering from an acute attack of snakes in his foot gear. He spent all of Wednesday night rowing about his cell in the county jail. One minute he would be yelling bloody murder in tones that could be heard for two blocks, and the next he would be chasing a sportive kitten with yellow and green rings around its tail, that always succeeded in eluding him just as he grabbed it. In another minute he would yell "fire," and his

He said that if he went back to the Clarinda asylum they would not let him out so soon, and the chances would be excellent for him to stay there. All he wanted was a vacation of a couple of weeks in which to get the whisky out of his sys-tem, so that he might go and fill it up again and capture a new menagerie. To accom-modate him the commissioners made ar order to that effect and sent him to St. Bernard's hospital for two weeks.

A. P. A. CONVENTION DIVIDED.

Radical and Liberal Factions Unable to Agree on a Policy. DES MOINES, May 3 .- (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-The supreme council of the A. P. A. was in session from 9 to 12 and from 2 to 5 o'clock today behind closed doors. About 150 delegates are present and about that number of officers of the supreme and state councils. Thirty-eight states are represented and the secretary reported that about 1,400 charters for new councils had been issued since March, 1893. Reports from state secretaries showed a remarkable growth. Supreme President Trayner of Michigan read his address, which was mainly in line of recommendations. The sections referring to schools, immigration, naturalization and other vital questions were referred to committees, and the whole address was referred to a committee.

Very little business of public interest was transacted. A committee was selected to draft a declaration of principles which, when completed and approved by the supreme council, will be given to the public. There are two pronounced factions in the conven-tion, one radical and the other conservative The former wishes to have the order endors a policy of aggression in the matter of citi zenship and the Catholic church, while the other favors a moderate course. The su-preme president is understood to have sided with the radicals in his address. This, the other faction holds, is only an expression of personal opinion, and they do not intend to lot the address go out until certain portions of it have been eradicated, the whole docu-ment revised and finally approved by the majority of the convention. There are num-erous bids for the next session. San Fransisco and Chicago are working the hardest. Denver and Milwaukee are after it, but one Boston delegate said they were not caring much, but they did want the council of 1896 to meet at Washington or Boston. The election of officers will probably not take place until Saturday.

Making the Business Exclusive. DES MOINES, May 3 .- (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-Discussing the sum at which the council will fix the saloon license, which it is expected will be done at the next meeting. Monday evening, a prominent city hall official said this morning the figure would be fixed in all probability at $1,000 to $1,200, naking the total $1,600 or $1,800 after the $690 provided in the new law is added. either sum is demanded there will not be to exceed twenty saloons started in the city, as the license will effectually bar out the small fry saloon keepers, who have not $4,000 or $5,000 at their command with which to pay the license, fit up places and purchase stock. The saloon men object to paying the full annual license in advance, and will seek to influence the council to CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., May 3 .- (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-The session of the conference of Young Men's Christian association secretaries opened today with devotional exercises, after which a paper, by Secretary See of Brooklyn, N. Y., on the association's rare opportunity to greatly extend the study of the English bible was read. This afternoon's session was presided over by I. E. Brown of Chicago. The sided over by I. E. Brown of Chicago. The afternoon's work was divided in sections, and the "Gymnasium," "Bible Study," "Boys' Work," and the "General Secretary" were treated in able papers by Waiter C. Douglas of Philadelphia and W. A. Ventor of Trenton, N. J. The attendance is very large.

Interstate Fair Society Incorporated. SIOUX CITY, May 3 .- (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-The Interstate Fair society organized by electing H. C. Wheeler of Odebolt president and C. H. CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., May 3.—The coke strikers made an assault on the Fort Hill plant today and forced the workmen to flee for their lives. In the melee a number of the men were badly beaten. The plant is now closed down. The capture of the Morewood dynamiters last night and the attack on Fort Hill has caused the greatest excitement and the feeling of unrest is more pronounced than since the last strike began. Mobs are marching through the country and raids are feared at several points. Women made an attack on the Davidson works, but left disgusted when they found but one man at work.

CLEVELAND STILL IN MORS HANDS. Police Are Very Active, but There Has Been

More Rioting. CLEVELAND, May 3.-The city of Cleve land virtually rested under military protection last night. Between 800 and 900 men were sleeping at the various armories with armed sentries watching over them ready to arouse them at the first sound of alarm. At 3:30 o'clock a detail of police under Captain Gates was sent to Newburg, where the large iron mills are located, and where disorder was threatened. The Poles in that district held a meeting fate last night and determined to make a raid on the wire mills today. The military were held in readiness to go to the aid of the police should the force inadequate to handle the mob.

The first report of trouble today was received from the Cleveland Spring Bed com-pany at Wason and Hamilton streets stat-ing that a gang had attempted to break into the place and drive out the workmen. A patrol wagon full of officers was dispatched to the scene, but the crowd had al-eady dispersed. At noon, on the Cleveland & Pittsburg ore At noon, on the Cleveland & Pittsburg ore docks, where a gang of men were unloading, rioters tried to drive the workmen away. A fight ensued, but a patrol wagon with officers soon reached the spot and dispersed the mob and work was resumed.

As the day wore on it became evident that there would be no general attempt on the part of the rioters to mass their forces. The police were constantly on the alert and the various military companies were still at their armories, where they will probably be kept inder arms for several days however. Four hundred men struck at the works of the H. P. Nail company today because of the discharge of one of their number, the men

Who Wrote

Answer: The Men Who Fought the War

Some idea of the greatness of that work may be had from looking over the following list of important campaigns and battles and noting how they are treated. The Century War Book is not simply a picture book (although it is the most superbly illustrated work on the war ever issued nor is it the story of the battles told by any one man, but it is the One History of the World's Greatest War told by the Leading Generals on Both Sides.

The Union side by GEN DOUBLEDAY, Executive Officer of the Fort, and by a sergeant of the garrison; the Confederate side by GEN STEPHEN D. LEB. Aiddes-Camp to Gen Beauregard, the Confederate Commander, who besieged Fort

Bull Run.

The Union side by GEN FRY of the staff of Gen McDowell, commanding the Union forces, and by Welt Western the poet, who describes the return of the retreating troops to Washington as seen by him while nursing in the hospital; the Confederate side by GEN, BEAUREGARD, commanding the Confederate Army of the Potomac, and by GEN, IMBODEN, commanding a battery of artillery.

Fort Donelson. Graphically described by GEN, LEW WALLACE, author of "Ben Hur," etc., commanding the Third Division of the Union forces.

By GEN. GRANT, the Union commander, supplemented by an article by GEN. BUELL: the Confederate side described by COL. WM. PRESTON JOHNSTON, son of the Confederate commander, Albert Sidney Johnston, killed at Shiloh—the second day's fighting, described by GEN. BEAUREGARD, who took command after the death of Gen. Johnston.
