ROCK ISLAND AGAIN TODAY

Omaha Will Try to Make it Two from the Brawny Visitors.

WILL HAVE A NEW PITCHER IN THE BOX

Whitehill, Late of Sloux City, Will Give the Local Fans a Sample of His Style - Lincoln Whitewashes Quincy a Second Time.

The Rock Islands and the Omahas will again try conclusions this afternoon, and with fair weather another large crowd will assuredly be on hand. The cranks are highly pleased with the talent Manager Rourke has gathered about him and evidently intend to attest their appreciation by turning out to see them play.

Whitehill, Omaha's new pitcher, will make his debut this afternoon and marvelous things are expected of him. While with Sioux City this spring he let the big singging Pittsburg team down and out with but three little hits, and the hope is he will be able to do equally well against Captain Sage's brawny followers. Andrews will be pitted against Whitehill in the box and as pitted against Whitchill in the box and as he is a strong man the Rourke family can count on no easy thing. Rock Island will also have another new face in their make up, that of young McFarland in center. Captain Sage feels sore over Thursday's defeat, inasmuch as he had the game as good as won at one time, and to have it snatched from him at the last moment was a triffe too much for his nerves. He declares he will win this afternoon, Whitchill, The players:

JACKSON STILL NEGOTIATING FOR A TRAIN

Members of the Army Remain Quietly in Camp Awaiting the Pleasure of Des Moines People to Move Them.

DES MOINES, May 4 .- (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-So far as can be learned this evening nothing more definite has been accomplished in the direction of getting transportation for Kelly's army. All sorts of rumors were affoat today, but none of them could be confirmed when run down. It is known, however, that the governor has been negotiating all day with one road and another, but so far has failed and declines to say just what the situation is this evening. This afternoon the general impression prevailed that the army will be started over the Des Moines & Kansas City road tomorrow morning. The governor met a portion of the citizens committee this afternoon and soon after a delegation was sent out to Camp Kelly to see the general. It is not known positively what terms have been made with the road, but the inference is that some plan has been devised.

Superintendent Sherwood of the Des Moines & Kansas City, accompanied by Superintendent Goodrich and Vice President Cuyler of the Keokuk & Western, left the went down to Van Wert, from which place the Keckuk & Western officials went on east. Just what agreement was entered into with Mr. Sherwood that official refused to disclose. Sherwood said that it would not be wise to announce when or by what road the army was to leave, if at all. He would not say that the army was not going over his road. The situation at the camp today was un-The men are waiting quietly for omething to turn up.

ALLEN APPEARS FOR COXEY.

Trial of the Commonweal General Proceeding at Washington.

WASHINGTON, May 4 .- Jacob S. Coxey and his lieutenants, Carl Browne and Chrisopher Columbus Jones, were star attrac tions in the district police court today, where they were arraigned for violation of the capitol grounds act on May 1. The court room was filled with spectators, populist members of congress constituting a notable part of the assemblage.

Attorneys Hyman and Lipscomb appeared for the defendants in the preliminary proceedings and raised the issue of the constitutionality of the law under which their clients were arrested. The point was argued at considerable length by Senator Allen of Nebraska. Congress, said he, had no power to confor upon the vice president and the speaker of the house the right to suspend the speaker of the house the right to suspend the enforcement of the act, any more than it had the right to confer the power on the exar of all Russias. He denounced the courts for assuming legislative functions. This case, the senator declared, would assume a national importance. He quoted the Magna Charta and American revolutionary history and declared that the arrest ary history and declared that the arrest of the defendants implied a denial of the rights of peaceable assemblage and petition. Those rights were implied in the con-stitution as regarded every spot in the District of Columbia, just as much as in District of Columbia, just as much as in California, Texas or Florida.

Judge Miller, after the arguments closed, overruled the objections of counsel for the defense to the information, the judge holding that the capitol grounds act was constitutional. He also denied Coxey a special

Mr. Lipscomb endeavored to show by the major that the capitol grounds had often been used for purposes such as Mr. Coxey endeavored to carry out, but was overruled The trial will be continued tomorrow, and the attorneys stated to the court they expected to conclude then.

READY TO MARCH ANY TIME.

Omaha's Contingent Proclaims Itself Prepared to Go to Washington. There was another large meeting of laboring and unemployed men at Jefferson square last night. General Duff and his Industrial army from Lincoln did not come up from their quarters at South Omaha. "General" Kelsey thought that an army of 500 could be raised here tomorrow. Jason Lewis spoke raised here tomorrow. Jason Lewis spoke on organized labor and was followed by General Duff, who said his men were going to Washington. "We will ride if we can; walk we may; get there we must," said the general. Allen Root was introduced and he and Royal Hudspeth, who gave a good many of the men their supper last night, made a few appropriate remarks. Dr. Rodolf closed the meeting with a short talk.

Chairman Taylor then announced that there would be another meeting tonight, and that Mayor Bemis would make a speech. This announcement was received with cheers, and the Omaha army formed into line and marched back to their quarters in Knights of Labor hall. There were about 100 men in line last night, who said that they would march to Washington, and it has been practically conceded that Kelsey will go as general. He received a letter last night from a woman, who requested that she be allowed to go with the Omaha men and act as nurse in cases of sickness. Kelsey said that he would offer no opposition to women joining the army, and it is thought that several of them will go with the Omaha boys. Fortyfour new names were added to the enlisting their intention of going to the national capital. General Duff will bring his detachment to Omaha today, and will take up the march as soon as he finds out just what the Omaha army intends to do and when they expect to start. Showers Chill the Army's Ardor. WASHINGTON, May 4.-The frequent showers of rain that fell here today dampened to a considerable extent the ardor and enthusiasm of the Commonweal. The Hamilton Reputlican club held a rousing meeting at the club rooms, Seventeenth and Farnam atreets, Thursday hight, at which thirty new members were installed. A resolution was adopted requesting the district judges to name a republican to fill the vacancy on the park board. Another resolution requests the county commissioners to dispense with the deinogratic incumbent in the office of the county physician and ap-point a republican in his stead.

The club adopted a joint resolution, re-cently before the Union club, requesting Governor McKinley of Ohio to stop over in Omaha and deliver an address next month, when he passes through the city on his way By a unanimous vote the club elected to secure permanent quarters in the Patterson block at Seventeenth and Farnam streets.

Changed His Clothes. While the family of A. S. Walkup, 1816 South Tenth street, was away last night the house was entered by a rear door and quite a quantity of stuff taken. The thief, besides ransacking everything in the house, went into one of the bed rooms where Mr. Walkup's new suit was hanging, sat down and pulled off his shoes and just quietly xchanged suits, leaving his own. It was, however, rather surprising, as the suit left was a very costly garment, too, and quite likely it has been taken from some other place.

SOUSA'S BAND CONCERT.

There were very few vacant chairs in Exposition hall last night when John Phillip Sousa raised his baton for the first number on the program of the Apollo club be on time were compelled to wait over half an hour until the tardy ones had been scated.

The first number was a descriptive piece by Tschalkowsky, arranged for military bands by Mr. Sousa. The introduction was by the wood winds in a delightful adagio with organ effect. The result was entrancing and the arrangement of the entire num-ber, as well as its rendition, was foreible evidence of Mr. Sousa's ability as a musiclan and a director.

Of course it was encored. Sousa is always encored, not only because every num-ber that is played under his direction is worthy of that honor, but because the public knows that Sousa's resources are unlimited. Every number for the band on the program met with the same reception, and the re-sponses were equally numerous, the accomnodating conductor responding each time with some well known popular number whose opening strains were the signal for renewed applause. To say that this part of the evening's entertainment was most enloyable is superfluous.

The only instrumental solo on the program was a trombone solo by Arthur W. gram was a trombone solo by Arthur W.
Pryor, who played a pleasing composition of his own. His execution was excellent, especially the variation for triple tongueing, but the general effect was marred somewhat by the tendency on the part of the soloist to force tones below the natural compass of his instrument.
Miss lace Necusker was the vocalist of Miss Inez Mecusker was the vocalist of Miss Inez Mecusker was the vocalist of the evening, appearing in a "Staccato Polka" by Mulder. The nature of the se-lection is indicated by its name, and the lady sang it with great effect, the difficult passages which constituted the greater part of the song being executed with the greater part of the song being executed with the greaters case and precision. The number was one which required very little voice, but was very pleasing. The singer received a hearty encore, and responded by singing "Where Are You Going, My Pretty Maid?" and "Whistle and I'll Ceme to You, My Lad." The result was very disappointing. The singer's voice was very light and her sustained tones were without force. She attempted to supply the deficiency by gestures, a la soubrette, but the result was not enirely satisfactory.

The Apello club, under the direction of Mr. T. J. Pennell, appeared in two num-bers, the "Hall, Bright Abode" chorus from Tannhauser and the Easter hymn from Cavalleria Rusticana. The mixed chorus of 190 members presented a very imposing appearance as the members arose after the prelude to the Wagner chorus, and the audience waited for the great volume of sound which such a large number of singers seemed to promise. The volume was not what was expected. In fact, it was painfully weak. The band played softly as though to give the chorus a chance, and Director Pennell threw terrific force into his baton, but the volume didn't appear. It was only at the climax that the chorus could be heard to any extent, and then it sang in good style and produced a good effect, but the lack of force detracted from what would have been a good number. In the Easter hymn, however, the chorus redeemed itself to some extent and sang that beautiful selection with good effect, although the concealed choir was noticeably seemed unacquainted with the score.
