Opinion is General However that Europe Witt Sooner or Later Be Compelled to Join this Country in Establishing Silver Coinage.

WASHINGTON, May 4.- The international bimetallic congress in England continues to be the subject of much faverable comment at the capitol. Senators and representatives who assisted in the repeal of the Sherman act take even greater interest in it than those who resisted the repeal and express themselves very freely as in hearty sympathy with the movement. Senator Hill was found among others to be very willing to express his opinion upon the movement in England in the interest of bimetallism, as indicated by the conference. He said: "I joined in the dispatch to the bimetallists of England because I desired to encourage them in their carnest efforts to promote the cause of a double standard. The best interests of the world would be subserved by making gold and silver the standard money of all cuntries. The best thinkers and the best writers, the best statesmen and the best financiers are gradually but surely realizing the fact that a single standard of gold means the impoverishment of the people everywhere, and that some adequate relief from present conditions is essential. An international agreement between the leading nations recognizing silver as standard money with gold is the goal to reach which every with gold is the goal to reach which every effort should now be made. It is feasible; it is desirable; it is important. It would promote the interests of Great Britain as well as those of every other great commercial country. There are some indications that English sentiment is now drifting toward bimetallism. It is the duty of this government to pursue that course, which will surely hasten the day when bimetallism shall be an accomplished fact. BIMETALLISM THE FUTURE ISSUE.

"If the present administration does no shape its ruling in that direction the people will select one that will. Bimetallism, either by international agreement or independently, if necessary, is to be the great issue of the future."

Senator Allison, who was a member of the last international monetary conference, said of the present movement: "The conference in London is significant as respects its membership and as respects the strong utterances favoring the full use of silver as money. It shows the growth of public opinion in Europe in favor of the international use of silver as money of full legal tender. I notice that leaders of public opinion in England are in full sympathy with the conference. I have faith that when opportunity is given the growing sentiment in favor of the full use of silver with fact. in favor of the full use of silver will find expression at the election in England, Scotland and Ireland, when a dissolution takes place, as it will be impossible to keep this question out of the campaign."

Senator Voorhees said of the conference: "It is a step in the right direction. It shows that the idea is alive and commanding great respect. It indicates that the nations will not long consent to the continued disuse of silver as money and points to the restora-tion of free coinage. If silver should con-tinue to be denied its right as a money metal it will be at the behest of the money power the world over and at the expense of the laboring and producing classes. I expect the issue to be met, especially in this country, at a very early date and in a very determined manner. Let me say, also, that I look upon the recent repeal of the Sherman act as a movement in the direction of free colnage and the full use of silver as money. NO IMMEDIATE RESULTS.

"I look for no immediate result from the bimetallic convention in England, but it shows that the subject is alive and at the front among able and thinking people. In this respect the convention will be of use to the friends of silver money. The friends of silver money have no occasion to be discouraged. The people have a way of deterand under fitting circumstances, which cannot be resisted. I look for a general, strong and popular movement on the subject, such that when it comes it will defy the opposition of the money centers and the power of money. I hope to live to take part in this movement when it shall come."

Asked if he thought this movement would take place during the present session of congress, Scnator Voorhees said he thought

Senator Morrill said: "I am glad to ob-serve the movement in England in the interest of bimetallism and I think there is some ground for hope that something may be accomplished. I doubt very much, how-ever, whether anything can be done under the present administration of the country. With Sir William Harcourt out of power and with Balfour and Salisbury reinstated I should be very hopeful of accomplishing good results in the interest of international bimetallism under English influence."

The financial leaders of the house ex-pressed hearty approval of the cablegram sent by the senators to the lord mayor of Representative Bland authorized the following statement concerning the bimetallic conference at London: "I have never considered an international agreement of sufficient importance to delay action by our government. I think we are able to maintain our own system of bimetallism. The efforts toward an international agreement in the past have been abused as a pretext for delay. I have no doubt, however, that the present movement of Euro-pean countries is in good faith, and may lead to results. But that is too remote to warrant delay on our part for ourselves."

Representative Dingley, republican member of the coinage committee: 'I heartily endorse the views expressed in the cable gram. An international agreement is the only means by which we can accomplish the free coinage of silver and gold. Great Britain must be the moving factor in such an agreement, and when she acts the rest of the world will do likewise."

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL PASSED.

Uneventful Day in the Lower House of Congress. WASHINGTON, May 4.-Promptly after the reading of yesterday's journal the speaker laid some bills from the zenate before the house. There was some misunderstanding to the administration of the new quorum rule this

The speaker told Mr. Hepburn of Iowa his rame was reported by the tellers yes-terday as being present and not voting and his name had been called again to give him another opportunity to vote.

Mr. Hepburn said he had come into the his name had been called again to give him another opportunity to vote.

At 12:20 the house went into the committee of the whole on motion of Mr. Catchings to consider the river and harbor bill. (Mr. Hatch in the chair.)

Mr. Walker of Massachusetts and Mr. Walker of Massachusetts and Mr. McCrawry of Kentucky and into the chair.

McCreary of Kentucky got into a tariff dis-cussion, in which each charged the other with knowing nothing about the tariff question. The chairman finally alled them both to order with the remark that members seemed to forget that it was the river and harbor bill that was being fiscussed, and not the tariff bill.

At ten minutes before the usual time for recess Mr. Catchings asked unanimous consent that the house should continue in session after 5 o'clock for the purpose of completing the consideration of the river and harbor bill, when he would ask that when the house adjourned it would be until Mon-day. This was agreed to and the consideration of the bill was resumed. The con-sideration of the bill, without action being taken on further amendments, was continued until shortly after 6 o'clock, when the committee of the whole rose, reported the bill to the house, and it was passed.

Thereupon a recess was taken until 8 o'clock, for the consideration of private penaton bills.

The evening session continued until 9:40 and then the house adjourned until Monday.

MOST OF THE CHINESE REGISTERED. Only Exception the Mountain Districts

Where Heavy Snows Prevented. WASHINGTON, May 4.-Yesterday was the last day for registration under the Chinese act and the amendments thereto. pliance with the law in all parts of the country. The only notable exception to the rule so far as learned has been in the mountainous districts of Montana, where deep snows and the rigors of winter have prevented those living in the interior from reaching points where registration books were open. In these sections, the deputies have been obliged to travel on snowshoes and endure hardships which the Chinese would hardly be expected to undergo. According to the census returns of 1850, there were approximately 107,500 Chinese in this country, and it is believed about this number have registered. Under a recent opinion of the attorney general, Chinese merchants who left the United States temporarily prior to November 3, 1833, will be permitted to return within a reasonable time provided their individual names appear in the firm designated. Members of firms whose individual names do not appear except in the general designation of company will not be permitted to return. While no ruling has as yet been made upon the point, it is believed that firm members who left the United States prior to November 3, with the knowledge that as the law then stood, they would be permitted to return. Will be allowed to prove that they are bonafide members of firms, provided, however, that the firm name be at once changed so as to include their several names. It is the opinion of some of the officials if this restriction is literally and rigidly enforced fully 30 per cent of all the merchants who left this country prior to November 3 will be debarred from returning. pliance with the law in all parts of the country. ABOLISHING THE SUGAR BOUNTY.

Repealing Act Attached as a Rider to an Appropriation Bill. WASHINGTON, May 4.-It has been con sidered probable that in the course of this session of the house there might be an attempt made to attach to one of the appro-priation bills an amendment providing for the repeal of the sugar bounty clause of the McKinley act. There has been hesi-

the repeal of the sugar bounty clause of the McKinley act. There has been hesitation about this matter among the democratic members as it might be taken as an indication that they had doubts about passing the tariff bill in the senate. Today, however, Mr. Dockery of Missouri introduced the following resolution, which was referred to the committee on rules:

Resolved, That the committee on ways and means is hereby directed to prepare and report to the house for consideration in connection with the legislative, executive and Judicial appropriation bill when the same shall be reported at this session an amendment as follows:

That so much of the act entitled "An Act to Reduce Revenue, Equalize Duties and for Other Purposes," approved October, 1800 as provides for and authorizes the issue of licenses to produce sugar and for the payment of a bounty to the producers of sugar from been, sorghum or cane grown in the United States and the same is hereby repealed to take effect July 1, 1894, and thereafter it shall be unlawful to issue any license to produce sugar or to pay any bounty for the production of sugar of any kind under the said act.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE. 1407 F Street, N. W. WASHINGTON, May .4. The fourth assistant postmaster general says that the trouble at Crowell, Neb., so far as the official papers in the case give information to the department, is due to family disculties and political complications and it is believed by the department that the order of the railway mail service declining to handle letters dropped into the letter boxes of the mail cars will result in bringing about a settlement of the matter. A letter written by a citizen of Crowell, stating that the mail at that point had been tampered with, and that the people have no confidence in the management of the office, was laid before the fourth assistant postmaster general, who said: "No complaint of that kind is on file in this department, and the report of the special agent in the case does not indicate any foundation for the statement reflecting upon the character and integrity of the postmaster at Crowell." There appears to be no foundation for the charge of irregular practice in the Crowell
