COOKING CLUB DANCES THE COTILLION

Miss Clarkson's Wedding in the Land of Flowers-Omaha Guards Give a May Party-What the Circles of Society Found to Entertain Them.

Society tried Its best last week to make lizelf believe things were not as stupidly dull as they are, and like all its highly commendable efforts this one deserved suctess.

But was it successful?

That is another question, quite an unkind ine, for society needs encouragement these beautiful days of May and should be afforded every assistance in its attempts at deceiving itself.

However, the week was not devoid of interest, the tea at Bishopthorpe, the cotillion of the Cooking club and the informal dancing party of Mrs. Meikle, to say nothing of other functions quite as noteworthy, making a rather gay May week. There is nothing in evidence that society is going to try to be gay this week, although the season of opera may enliven matters somewhat to the extent of a few box parties. At best the swell world shows signs of running down at the heel, which condition will probably prevail until September calls for new shoes and rainment befitting the fall.

The Thurston Rifles.

The Thurston Rifles, company L. First regiment, infantry, Nebraska National Guards, paraded for inspection at its armory on Monday evening May 7.

First call sounded at 8:05 o'clock p. m., when the men were inspected by Sergeant Lee Forby prior to the assembly.

At 8:15 the assembly sounded. The men all fell in promptly, and the company was formed by First Sergeant William E. Stockham. Formation, thirty-two files double rank. After roll call the command "rest" was given, and the sixty new waist belts and plates just received from Lincoln were issued to the men by Acting Quartermaster Sergeant Herbert B. Taylor, assisted by Corporal Jesse Tompsett. The company Sergeant Herbert B. Taylor, assisted by Gorporal Jesse Tompsett. The company then marched to its parade ground, where the inspection was conducted. This was carefully made by Captain Scharff and First Lieutenant Foye. The company pre-sented a very creditable appearance, the men preserving commendable steadiness during the ceremony. The drill in the man-ual was most creditably executed, the pieces handled with "snap" and precision At the meeting called after drill last Monday evening the following applicants for "members-elect" were favorably reported by the recruiting committee and elected members of the Thurston Rifles, viz.: J. A. Shaw, C. P. Warren, C. F. Hackenburg and John G. Hahl.

The membership in the Rifles having reached the extremely gratifying number of ninety officers and men, upon the rec-ommendation of the company commander nominations were in order for the selecgeant Lee Forby and Private John Hayward were the nominees for the position, the bal-lot resulting in the election of Private Hayward, who received a majority of all the votes cast. Four O'Clock Tes at Bishopthorpe Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Worthington gave one of the prettiest teas that has been given this season, a season remarkable for the large number of handsome entertainments. This occasion was in honor of Miss Kohisaat of New York, niece if the hostess, who will be her guest for a few weeks. "Bishopthope," the hospitable home of Bishop and Mrs. Worthington, is, from an artistic point of view, one of the most interesting residences in the city, with its wealth of old carved woods, marbles, bronzes and Severa china, paintings, cloisonne, enamela and silver ornaments. There doesn't exist a bit of bare wall nor corner throughout the long suite of rooms. Italian peasants and Boucher cherubs smile at one from out their Florentine frames, rethe Plazza di Spagna. A multiplicity of old grandfather clocks, with ancient chased dials, strike the hour in harmonious chorus and melody, while on all sides ard antique mahogany cabinets, old French furniture of the empire, Venetian chests and carved hall seats which have come from countries beyoud the sea and represent, in many in-tances, valued family inheritances. stances, valued family inheritances. The large dining room, with its rich color-ing and subdued light stealing in through stained glass windows, let in high in the wall, presented a charming picture. The table was decorated in roses and at one end Miss Kountze poured tea and Miss Yates, at the opposite end, served chocolate. At a side table Miss Doane served ice cream and berries and Miss Kountze of Denver served Mr. the strawberry frappe. Miss Bessle Yates, Miss Dundy and Miss Oliver also assisted in serving the light refreshments. Kountze.

Independent Order of Odd Fellows' hall, a grand ball was given Miss Eleanor Wright of 2719 Decatur street, Monday evening, by her parents, and it was a very fit initiatory for the above hall, which is one of the finest in the city. The grand march was led by Miss Wright and Mr. J. C. Buchanan, and was participated in by forty couples. The decorations were superb, there being palms and ferns in profusion around the hall. A large floral piece, the gift of the U. German for the Cooking Club. There could not have been anything more appropriate or more thoroughly delightful than the cotillion which Miss Nast gave to the members of the Cooking club and a few invited guests Wednesday evening. The rooms were prettily arranged for dancing the music was particularly inviting and Mr. John Patrick led his associates through many intricate figures, which were danced with all the zest of days gone by, when many of the guests were members of the Capitel Hill cotillion years ago. The favors were very unique, everything being sug-gestive of the culinary department. One set for the young ladies were white dotted swiss aprons, while the gentlemen received huge paper carving knives. Besides this there were a large number of tiny papier mache plates, upon which were different fruits and vegetables. The refreshments were all prepared by the members of the club, and they were delicious. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Offutt, Mr. Mrs. Hull, Mr. and Mrs. Learned, and Miss Chandler, Miss Mabel Balcombe, Miss Nash, Miss Mary Nash, Miss Rodman, Miss Kountze, Miss Kountze of Denver, Miss Oliver of Pittsburg, Miss Yates, Miss Bessle Yates, Miss Pratt, Miss Lemon of St. Joseph, Miss McKenna, Mr. John Patrick Robert Patrick, Mr. Drake, Mr. Cartan Mr. Cudahy, Mr. Guicu, Mr. Crofoot, Mr. Dean, Captain Crowder, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Hall, Mr. Gannett, Mr. Lyman, Mr. Pretty Dancing Party.

Miss Sheldon and Miss Olive Sheldon enertained their friends at a dancing party at their home, 2228 Ohio street, Thursday evening. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening, after which dancing was resumed. Beresford and Godso

One of the prettlest weddings of the season occurred last Wednesday, when Mr. Paul D. Beresford and Miss Grace M. Godso were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Patterson. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's mother, 202 North 18th street, and was strictly private, only the relatives of the bride and groom being present. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion with ferns and roses. Immediately on the conclusion of the cere-nony Mr. and Mrs. Beresford departed for

New York, where they will remain for some time.

IN LOCAL MUSICAL CIRCLES.

On Friday evening, May 18, the Omaha Mandolin Orchestra and Imperial Banjo and Guitar club gives its concert at Boyd's, and judging from the sale of tickets it is safe to say that no local concert has ever before aroused such general interest and enthusiasm in Omaha. Every box is engaged, and as the occupants of most of the boxes, as well as the clubs, intend to decorate, Boyd's will present quite a gay appear-ance Friday evening. Following is the

May Party of the Omaha Guards.

The May party given by the Omaha Guards Wednesday evening at their armory was one of the most delightful functions given by this crack company of the "home guard." The hall was a mass of color, silken bannerettes, flags and festoons brightening the interior beautifully. At the north end of the hall a raised dias was erected for the musicians, surrounded by paims and evergreens, making a wonderfully effective picture. Dancing began at 9 o'clock, the music being furnished by the Musical Union orchestra, which played the twenty numbers chestra, which played the twenty numbers and four extras in a musicianly manner. There was a delicious punch served during the evening the members of the guards doing all in their power to make the even-ing a pleasing success. Too much credit cannot be given the committee having the affair in charge, Messrs Art Cooley, James McDonald and Charles Witman, Mr. Mc-Donald being responsible for the artistic manner in which the hall was decorated. Readers of light literature will be agree-author, is already known in literary circles.

In his prologue the author defines his aim

In this provide the author defines his aim as "a desire to present food for reflection in the form of a short order lunch that will not produce literary dyspepsia," and to tell the truth he has far exceeded this aim, his skit being a sure and infallible cure for all forms of blues. who believes in "smoking in this world and not in the next." On his 30th birthday his mother sends him a cake that "looked larger than a cyclorama building." and at the same time throws out a hint that this would be an appropriate time to make a "choice of church." Between bites at the cake he reflects, and in the midst of his reflections is carried off in the arms of Mor-pheus, by whom he is finally planted on the back of a "trusty" Pegasus. From this on begins the narrative of his sights and experiences in the upper realm, where he meets the ghosts of the good and the bad, the wrongdoers and the wronged.

SAENGERFEST TO BE HELD AT COLUMBUS

A Musical Event that Will Add Several

Chapters to the German History of the State-Society

Notes.

The blennially recurring enjoyable event,

the Nebraska Saengerfest, will take place this year at Columbus, Neb., on August 24,

25 and 26. Participating in this will be all of the German singing societies of note throughout the state. The program, only partially completed as yet, evidences that the arrangements are to be upon a scale not inferior to those of former years. This year's effort, if anything, promises to surpass previous ones at a grand vocal concert by hundreds of German singers. Conspicu ous among the different vereins in attendance will be, of course, the several

Omaha societies, notably the Saenger-bund, Liederkramz and Schivelzer Gesang-verein, the members of which are now unde special training by Prof. Charles Petersen

Austerely adhering to a course of training considered perhaps a little too rigorous by some, Mr. Petersen has fully demonstrated his abilities to bring voice culture to a high standard in the societies under his charge, and expression is therefore given in German circles to the opinion that the local partici-pating members in the saengerfest will distinguish themselves to the credit of the city, musically speaking. From sev nty-five to 100 local singers have so far signified their intention to take part at Columbus, and from 200 to 300 more are expected from other places. An excursion train will be run from this city to the point of meeting on Friday, August 24. This being the first day of the fest it will be devoted mainly to re-celving the visitors at Columbus. Beyond some vocal music being rendered discur sively and a saenger comerce in the eyen
