State Poard of Educational Lands on Treasurer Bartley's Track.

FINDS DIFFICULTY IN INVESTING ITS FUND

Supreme Court Asked to Issue a Writ of Premptory Mandamus Commanding the State Treasurer to Register the Warrants.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 16 .- (Special to The Bee.)-The Board of Educational Lands and Funds has encountered some opposition in Its efforts to enforce the recent decision of the supreme court in regard to the investment of the permanent school fund in state warrants. The board set aside a large amount of money for the purpose and directed Treasurer Bartley to take up unregistered warrants as fast as they were presented for registration. On Monday Stull Bros., the well known warrant brokers of this city, presented to Treasurer Bartley seventeen warrants, ranging in amounts from $5 up to $198.12. They requested the treasurer to register the warrants and he refused, offering to purchase them for the permanent school fund. They refused to sell their warrants to the school fund. This forenoon Stull Bros. applied to the supreme court for a peremptory writ of mandamus commanding the state treasurer to register the warrants. Stull Bros. have long been the leading warrant brokers of Lincoln. They have made a fortune by handling warrants, and a member of the firm stated to The Bee representative this morning that he believed he had a good case against the state Treasurer Bartley states that everybody will be served in the same way. Holders of current warrants will be given their op-tion of selling their warrants to the permanent school fund or losing their interest.

The orders of the Board of Educational Lands and Funds, as formulated by Governor Crounse, will be obeyed strictly to the

WANTS A REHEARING. C. O. Wheedon, one of the attorneys of ex-Treasurer Hill and his bondsmen, this forenoon filed a motion for a rehearing in the case in which the supreme court two weeks case in which the supreme court two weeks are held that it had original jurisdiction to try the case in which the state of Ne-1-uaka seeks to recover from the ex-treasurer the $236,000 lost in the Capital National bank failure. In his brief Mr. Wheedon takes issue with the recent decision of the court. He claims that under that decision the court assumes the power to make laws governing particular cases. He lays espegoverning particular cases. He lays espe-cial stress upon the argument that if the con-stitution provides that the supreme court may have original jurisdiction in cases in may have original jurisdiction in cases in which the state is a party, it is the duty of the legislature to provide the rules governing the presentation of the case to the court. If the legislature failed to pass such rules the supreme court has no right under the constitution to supply the rules. GOSSIP AT THE STATE HOUSE.

Attorney General Hastings goes to Omaha omorrow to take the last testimony in retomorrow to take the last testimony in re-buttal in the maximum rate case. The state has practically been ready for the trial of the case for three months. The supreme court today confirmed the findings of Judge Barnes, referee in the case of the state against the Plainview State bank. This action shuts out the claims of a number of eastern creditors and will enable the receiver to pay 100 cents on the dollar to every depositor and to every creditor of the bank except the stockholders. As soon as these claims can be paid off the receiver will be discharged, leaving the eastern creditors and individuals to settle their own private deals.

Interest on Nebraska's floating indebted-Interest on Nebraska's floating indebtedness will cease on May 25. The first of the notices to warrant holders were sent out today, and the others will follow as rapidly as the clerks in the treasurer's office can compute the interest. The order of the board regarding warrants issued for current expenses of the state has already gone into effect, and quite a number are taken up every day.

Commencement Exercises at Falls City. FALLS CITY, Neb., May 16 .- (Special to The Bee.)-Preparations are being made to Kearney, grand chaplain of the grand lodge, opened the service with a short scriptural quotation. Following this was an anthem by the chorus choir, "Bow Down Thine Ear." Rev. W. K. Beans of Omaha preached a forcible and appropriate sermon, the service closing with prayer and the singing of "Abide With Me." The casket was embedded in a perfect bower of flowers, many elaborate Masonic emblems being furnished celebrate the commencement exercises of the Fall City High school in grand style this year. The dates are Tuesday and Wednesday, June 5 and 6, and the exercises will be held at Gehling's new opera house. On Tuesday evening the class day program will be given and most of the mem bers of the class of '94 will participate. The address of the evening will be delivered by State Superintendent A. K. Goudy. Or Wednesday evening the commencement program will be rendered and a recitation will be given by each and every graduate, there being seventeen. The address of the evening will be delivered by Chancellor Can-field of the State university. On Thursday evening the Alumni association of the Falls City High school will hold its annual meeting and an excellent program has been pre-pared. The alumni will be addressed by Prof. Howard Caldwell, professor of history,

Rain Needed in Central Nebraska. M'COOL JUNCTION, Neb., May 16 .-(Special to The Bee.)-For three days the wind has been blowing hard from the south and has already damaged prospects of a good small grain crop. Unless rain comes soon farmers say small grain will be burned

CHAPMAN, Neb., May 16.—(Special to The Bee.)—All crops in Merrick and the adjoining counties are suffering for want of rain. Rye and wheat look badly and are being plowed under in many places and planted in corn. The oat crop can only be saved by getting rain in the next few days. Two-thirds of the corn acreage is planted and one-half is up, but looking somewhat feeble. The sugar beets are up and present by far the best prospects for good returns and many farmers whose cereal crops have been ruined by the drouth will plant the land with bests.

From 8 tter Creek. SUTTER CREEK, Cal., April 12, 1894.—
Tom Green of this place says: "Last summer I had a sudden and violent attack of diarrhoea. Some one recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I procured, and after taking a couple of doses was completely cured. Since then I have often persuaded friends sible, to put the young republicans in charge to use it for the same complaint, and in every case a prompt cure has been effected. In my opinion it is the best remedy on the market for bowel complaints." For sale by druggists. Military Matters.

The board of officers convened by Coneral Brooke to meet yesterday at Fort Omaha to try First Lieutenant Marcus Maxwell, company A. Second infantry, on several serious charges met at the fort on time. Lieutenant Maxwell, through his counsel, requested that time be allowed him to pro-duce depositions of witnesses who could not possibly be here.
