SUMMER GIRLS ONCE MORE TO THE FRONT

The Unchelors Entertain the Cooking Club Splemildly-Surprise Parties in the Ascendant -- Little Promise for an Interesting Summer Season.

Outside of a few concerts, the opera and several informal functions, society can with entire propriety be said to have been in a non-existent state last week. But the calm which pervaded social circles was taken advantage of by the girls, who found the past six days particularly busy ones for them. Summer gowns have to be made and the fair sex took advantage of the lull to shop extensively. Dressmakers have been hurried and within a very short time summer girl will be in the ascendant once more.

A Poverty Party.

A poverty party was given Saturday night by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cole at their residence, 3328 North Twenty-sixth street, which was one of the pleasantest entertainments imaginable. The invitations were written on paper torn out of an old blank book and had several restrictions on them such as a fine for wearing flowers, dress suits or arriving at a fashionable hour. Mrs. George B. Tzschuck took the prize for wearing clothes that a gypsy would have refused, while Mr. C. A. Sharp was an ideal "knight of the road." The residence was decorated in keep-ing with the occasion. The refreshments were of the poverty kind and nobody left hungry.

A very unique feature of the evening was the art gallery, opened for the first time this occasion, and which was decidedly in-genius as well as interesting. It comprised some fifty subjects, titles to well known paintings, but which were humorously set forth by the objects representing the for instance "A Drive Through the Wood," which was down in the catalogue was noth ing more than a nail driven through a plee of wood. "Things to Adore" were a pair o utir of hinges, and so on through the whole collec tion.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs Howard Engleman, Mr. and Mrs. George B Tzschuck, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter and Mrs.-T. J. Beard, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beard, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Shriver, Mr. and Mrs. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Datley, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Kastberg, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Curtis C. B. Schmidt, Mrs. Bruno Tzschuck Mrs. Miss Tzschuck, Daisy Betts, Miss Blanche ond, Miss Madison, a sister of Mrs. Hamt Cole, Mr. John P. Evers, Mr. Donnelley.

Cooking Club Entertains.

bachelors who have contributed The largely to the delights of the Cooking club by being enthusiastic guests at the various dinners and luncheons given by the fair members and praising the dishes to the skies, threw open their club house Thursday evening to the members of the club and their friends. Mrs. H. W. Yates and Mrs. James McKenna chaperoned the party, which was very enjoyable. The dining room was beautifully arranged, being a veritable bower of American beauties. Each of the ladies present was presented by their hosts with a bunch of exquisite roses and everything possible was done to make the evening an enjoyable one. The supper was prepared by the members of the club and the punch, which, by the way, was deliclous, by the bachelors. Those present were: Miss Mary Nash, Miss McKonna, Miss Lemon, Miss Rodman, Miss Yates, Miss Ressie Vates Miss Mabel, Malcombe Miss Rodman, Miss Kountze, Miss Oliver Miss Dandy, Mr. David Cartan, Dr. Me Elderry, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Lyman, Mr. Gan-nett, Mr. Kountze, Captain Crowder, Mr. Dean, Mr. Drake, Mr. Penn, Mr. John Patrick, Captain and Mrs. Ayres, Mr. and Mrs. Offutt.

BANK WRECKERS GET TANGLED.

Queer Explanations Made in the Indianapolis Cases.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 19 .- In the crossexamination of F. A. Coffin today in the bank wrecking cases the witness showed an acuteness and ingentous evasion of questions that even attorneys for the government admired. Notwithstanding this, however, the government succeeded in tearing down the theory of the defense, and there has been nothing gamed by it in placing the defendants on the stand. Letters were pro-duced which the witnesses were compelled SARATOGA, N. It was fur-ther shown that the defendants were in fear of the visits of the national bank examiner, and regulated their actions accordingly. This has been denied all along by the defense. Coffin explained the drafts on the branch concerns by saying they were given to make the bank a creditor of those concerns, to give it a lien on the goods sent out from under its lien on the main company. In this he disregarded the fact that the drafts had been all cashed by the bank when presented. This unique explanation of proposed closer relations between the general assembly and the various Presbytorian Theological seminaries, with a power of absolute control over them on the part of the general assembly, which was sprung upon the commissioners near the close of yesterday's session, has been the subject of conversation and conferences ever since. When it was proposed to make the discussion a special order for this afternoon a member of the board of directors of the McCormick seminary at Chicago objected very vigorously, saying that such an arrangement would cut off many from taking part in the debate, since they had been appointed to preach in out-of-town palpits. United States Judge Asks for Deputies to Protect Him.

KANSAS CITY, May 19 .--- A special to the Journal from Guthrie, Okl., says: About 2 o'clock this morning a mesenger on horse back rode furiously into this city and stopped at the home of United States Marshal Nix. He brought a message from Chief Justice Dale, who is holding court at Stillwater, stating that his life was in danger and asking that a large force of armed deputies be sent at once. All the deputies in the city at once left for the scene, and others were ordered there from other parts of the territory. It was learned that the danger anticipated is from the Dalton gang, who are encamped some distance from that city and preparing to make a raid upon the town and liberate Tom Jones, alias "Arkansas Tom," of their gang, now being tried there for the murde deputy marshals at Ingalls last fall and also to be revenged upon Judge Dale and other officers who are causing them much trouble. Several hundred citizens of Stillwater have been sworn in by the sheriff protect the jalf and court house, and every hody in the town is carrying arms for the battle which may occur at any time. Coxeyites Address an Appeal to Cleveland

While dining with some friends recently in Geneva Verdi gave out a piece of news that will be interesting to musicians. He anounced that in his leisure hours he had composed eight "Ave Marias" for voices plone with different words to each, written by Bolto. These are works of which the world knows nothing. He also told that he had been commissioned to compose a vocal mass, to be sung at the centenary of San Antonio in Padua in 1895.

ROMANCE OF TWIN BELLES.

How a Brace of Love Sick Sisters Made the Most of Cupid's Pranks.

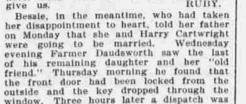

NEW YORK, May 19 .- The village of Flatlands, L. I., is excited over the discovery that Bessie and Ruby, the handsome twin daughters of Farmer Daudsworth, have eloped, and with the wrong men. Popular excitement rose even to a higher pitch when the villagers learned that Ruby had run off with Bessie's intended husband on the very eve of the day set for the wed-ding, and that Bessie, in a moment of pique, had eloped with a former flame a few days after her sister's disappearance The sisters are just 20 years old, their join birthdays having been celebrated three weeks ago with one of the most brilliant evening parties Flatlands has ever enjoyed. Four years ago Johnson West loved Bessie Daudsworth, and after a courtship of over deferred until next week. twelve months Bessle finally accepted him All of Bessle's lovers accepted the situation as gracefully as possible, except Harry Cartwright, a young law clerk. It has since been learned that West went to Dakota to obtain a divorce from a variety actress whom he had wedded six years before in a moment of youthful folly. West hastened back to Brooklyn two months ago, and it was arranged that he and Bessie should be wedded last Sunday. Ruby Daudsworth and Johnson West disappeared be-tween noon and midnight a week ago today. Nothing was heard of them until yesterday, when Mr. Daudsworth received a telegram dated Syracuse, which rest.

Johnson and I are married and stopping here. Both send love to all. Please for-give us. RUBY.

Bessie, in the meantime, who had taken her disappointment to heart, told her father on Monday that she and Harry Cartwright were going to be married. Wednesday evening Farmer Daudsworth saw the last of his remaining daughter and her "old friend." Thursday morning he found that the front door had been locked from the outside and the key dropped through the window. Three hours later a dispatch was
