Call for a Conference of Nebraskans Who Do Not Favor a Single Standard.

CALLED TO MEET IN OMAHA LATE IN JUNE

Will Organize a Nebraska Democratic Free Coinage League-Call Signed by Representative Members of the Party Throughout the State.

The Bee this morning prints a call which announces formally the revolt of the Bryan democrats against the administration. It is the result of carnest consideration among members of the party who feel that the administration and its representatives in Nebranka have driven the party on the rocks. The formal pronunciamento is:

"Believing that the question of the restoration of the double studard of gold and silver as money of ultimate redemption and standard of values is now one of the foremost issues in the minds of the voters of Nebraska, and that the change from the double to the single standard is, has been and will continue to be, until reversed, a grievous wrong to the people of the United States, and particularly to the people of Nebraska; and believing that nine-tenths of the democrats of Nebraska so fe 1, and that they have not always been fairly represented on the subject by the democratic conventions of Nebraska; and believing that the time has come when the welfare of the party in this state imperatively demands a plain, unequivocal statement of the party on that subject.

"Therefore, We, the undersigned, demo crats of Nebraska, for the purpose of propagating the double standard doctrine in the democratic party and enabling the masses of the democratic party in this state to obtain the fairest expression of their views on that subject in the conventions of the future, do hereby call a state conference of free silver democrats, to be held at Omaha, commenc ing at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Thurs day, June 21, 1894, at which conference will be organized a 'Nebraska Democratic Free

MAGNIFICENTLY ILLUSTRATED.

H. Guy Livingston, Plattsmouth. Robert Payne, Nebraska City. WHAT IT MEANS.

Mr. C. J. Smyth Explains the Significance of this Action of the Democrats. Mr. C. J. Smyth, who handed to The Bee the above call for publication, was asked to state what the object of the conference was, whether it meant separation from the democratic party or action within the party. To this he replied as follows: "It means this: Mr. McShane was elected once and Mr. Bryan twice to congress upon platforms declaring in favor of free silver. James E. Boyd became governor of the state upon a free silver platform. The last state convention, without any previous discussion of the question, repudiated the position of the party in those campaigns which brought it victory, and forced it to take a stand and conduct a political contest on a platform pronouncing in favor of monometallism, the single gold standard. On that platform Frank Irvine was nominated for supreme judge. A cleaner, abler lawyer could not have been selected. He was, too, personally very popular. Years of service on the bonch had proved to the satisfaction of all his eminent qualifications. It seemed that the fates decreed his selection that there might be no question as to why the party was not only defeated, but routed. No peron ever thought that a stronger man than son ever thought that a stronger man than Irvine could have been named. Yet, stand-ing upon a platform which pledged the party to a gold standard, he polled but 37,000 votes against 71,000 cast for Boyd standing on aagainst 71,900 cast for Boyd standing on a-free silver platform. Why this difference? The answer is plain and does not need to be stated. It is true also that of the 37,000 who voted for Irvine there were thousands who, while condemning the financial plank of the platform, voted for him because of their loyalty to the party and his personal

"All these things demonstrate that the democratic party in the state is in favor of the free colnage of silver and has no patience with those who seek to commit it to the vicious principle of monometalso, at the last state convention, and if treated in the same way at the next con-vention, it will refuse to contribute to the support of the standard forced into its hands a number sufficient to constitute a respectable funeral procession for the defrated candidates. Those in the party who have been watching the current of events callze this to the fullest extent, and hence they have asked themselves the question, is there nothing to be done to save the party from destruction at the hands of those who pretend to be its friends and spokesmen The free silver men know that the machin-ery of the party is in the hands of those who would strike silver down. They know, too, that the free silver forces within the party, although greatly outnumbering the others, are not organized. To arouse, solidify and discipline those forces is the object of the conference summoned by the call, to the end that all who are now in the party may be retained and that all those who have left it, or who sympathize with its doctrines, no matter to what party they now belong, may be induced to take their position under "All the signers of this call are democrats. With Jefferson, they believe that the unit of value should rest on both metals, gold and silver. This, they affirm, has been the doctrine of the party through every step of its existence down to 1873, and this dectrine has always had the support of the democratic party as represented in both houses of congress. Even in the last memorable fight, a majority of the democrats in each house swung into line under the banner of free coinage of silver. Proud of its history on all questions affecting the welfare of the people they refuse to permit fare of the people, they refuse to permit, without a struggle, the dear old name of democracy to be polluted by association with a financial principle ruinous to the wellfare of the people, particularly of the people of this great west. They endorse the Atlanta Constitution in its controversy with Judge Hines, a leading old-time democrat of the state of Georgia who left the party to become a populist, that the place to fight for demo-cratic principles is in the democratic party. It is upon this principle we are acting and it is upon this principle we expect the conit is upon this principle we expect the con-ference to proceed. If the party's convenit is because the rank and file have been indifferent when they should have been active. The great brain and heart of the people are right. Let its organs of speech not falsify its thought and sentiment. "We have no personal fight to make on any one, besides none will be made. For a long time the party in this state has frit-tered away its best strength in fighting within itself for the gratification of individuals. Henceforth we hope to see these an-cient and profitless feuds buried. Henceforth let principle and not personal spite command our forces."

MANEY COURT MARTIAL BEGUN.

Slayer of Captain Hedburg on Trial at Fort

ST. PAUL, May 23.-The courtmartial of Lieutenant Maney on charges growing out of the fatal shooting of Captain Hedberg at Fort Sheridan, Chicago, began at Fort Snelling today. Colonel E. C. Mason, commanding at Fort Snelling, is president of the court, which is made up of twelve of the best known army officers of high rank, all of whom arrived last night and were on hand today promptly when court convened. The scene in the court was a notable one. The members in full dress uniforms made a most imposing appearance. The place of trial, Fort Snelling, is famous in northwestern history as military headquarters and the center around which early pioneer life gathered. Almost within sound of Minnehaha's waters the strength of the fort reminds of sterner times when the war whoop and the deadly rifle shot were familiar sounds. Proceedings began by the reading of the order of Secretary of War Lamont convening the court. Then Lieutenant Colonel Barr as judge advocate read the charges and the accused was called upon to plead. The court was not apprised of the nature of the charges until Colonel Barr read them on opening court. The accused knew them, for the military law requires that when the charges are formulated a copy must be served upon him. There were several charges, all being summed up in the general charge of conduct prejudicial to discipline. The question of whether the acquittal by the civil court was a bar to this courtmar-tial was taken up. Frank P. Blair, attorney for Lieutenant Maney, arguing in favor of that construction.

Captain George A. Cornish, Fifteenth United States infantry, reported today to the president of the general court martial. These two officers are important witnesses in the case.

The court adjourned after half an hour's session this afternoon, Attorney Blair not yet having finished his arguments. The specific charges against Lieutenant Maney are offering violence to a superior officer and subversion of military discipline in that he did assault Captain Hedberg and inflict injuries from which he died.

Attorney Blair argued at length in support of his motion to strike out everything in connection with the case of the killing of Captain Hedberg, Insisting that a person could not be put in jeopardy either of life or honor twice for the same offense. He was not through with his argument when the court took a recess for lunch, and the argument for both sides in motion will probably occupy the entire day.

AMUSEMENTS.

There was a noticeable increase in the size of last night's audience at Boyd's, and per consequence, "Fra Diavolo," Auber's remantic and dramatic opera was given with even greater success by the Carleton Opera company than the "Queen's Lace Hand-kerchief." The audience was enthusiastic, and principals and chorus, under these kindly influences, sang with spirit and with fine appreciation of the many possibilities the opera gives for atrong concerted and

BABY BURNED TO DEATH.

Children of Mrs. Millar Play with Fire with Fatal Results.

At the residence of Mrs. D. Millar,

Seventh and Williams street, an accident occurred yesterday afternoon that resulted in the death of her baby daughter. Mrs.

Millar left home to visit a neighbor, leaving her three children, Tom, aged 3, Agnes, aged 4 ,and Mary, aged 1, in the house. She also left a good, hot fire, and she had no more than left the house till she was recalled by the screams of her children, and going back saw her daughter, Mary, in flames. After the flames had been extinguished she found that the child had been burned badly about the legs and face. Dr.

Wilson was called and did all he could, but the child died in six hours. The boy says that after their mother left they began playing with the fire and poked a stick into the stove. This became ignated, and in fun they poked it at their little sister. Her clothes caught fire as a result.

Mrs. Millar is in a serious condition as a result of the shock she received. Mr. Millar

This afternoon will witness the beginning of a running meeting at Council Bluffs. For weeks past Colonel L. S. Hatch and his assistants have been making preparations for the event. The race course at the driving park is one of the finest in the country. If the weather clerk can be prevailed upon to "tote fair" there is no reason why the meeting should not be a great success. The mayor and citizens generally are in active sympathy with the movement to make Council Bluffs the scene of racing meetings each year, and with a view of showing their sympathy Mayor Cleaver was prevailed upon by leading citizens yesterday to declare this afternoon a holiday and issue a proclamation, asking the merchants of the city to close their places of business at 1 o'clock in order that their employes may be allowed to see the opening of the races.

ROASTING STARTER ROWE.

Gravesend Patrons Dead Sore at the Work of the Man with the Flag. NEW YORK, May 23.-Rowe was in one of his worst moods and the starting was worse than on any previous day. poorest piece of work was in the third race and he probably never got such a scoring in his life. There were but six horses in this race, and all but one were old campaigners. After the jockeys had been every way for a time, Rowe got down on the ground and after he got them in line walked to the rall. The six broke away in perfect order, but he refused to les Then he stood on the ground for awhile until the horses again got into line, and as he got up on the stand he turned and saw five of them off together, turned and saw five of them off together, but he did not see the favorite, Frig, standing still and dropped his flag. It was a bad blunder and Rowe did not add to the good feeling of everybody by throwing down his flag in disgust. Sull Ross took the lead in the stretch after indulging Shadow for awhile and won easily, while Emin Bey got up in time to beat Shadow. T. W. Doswell sprang a surprise on the talent in the fifth with the little 2-year-ord filley Melinda, and she simply played with the others and won away off. Ninevah was second, and the favorite, Mosquito, was never in the contest after the stretch was never in the contest after the stretch was reached. Results:

Even Breaks at the Fair Grounds. Even Breaks at the Fair Grounds.

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—In spite of the threatening weather, the attendance at the fair grounds races became decidedly better today and the speculation improved proportionately. The track was in tip top condition and the sport of a better class than for a week past. The finishes were all good, but the results anything but pleasing to the talent. The biggest dump of the day was in the lifth race, when the judges disqualified Rover, a 15 to 1 shot, for fouling, making invercauld, a 30 to 1, the lexal winner. Results:

First race, six furlongs: Clausman (6 to 1) won, Blake (9 to 2) second, Unitah (4 to 1) third. Time: 1:16%.
