Suing for a Board Bill. DES MOINES, May 24 .- (Special Telegram In the superior court yesterday Judge to The Bee.)-A test case under the mulct McGee heard the testimony in the case of Dewey against the Electric Manufacturing company of South Omaha. The plaintiff is the proprietor of the Revere house, where an agent of the company whose name was Watson put up when he first struck Council Bluffs. Dewey claims the company guaran-teed the payment of his board bill, and he immediately proceeded to run a bill that finally amounted to about $200. Dewey is now trying to make the company stand up to its alleged guaranty. The company claims Watson was not its agent, and a part of vesterday's testimony was for the purpose showing what the relationship between this week in the criminal section of the district court, but owing to the fact that there are some other matters that have the right of way, it has gone over until next Tuesday. This case was tried at the February term, the jury failing to agree. At that time it is known that for forty-eight hours the jury stood six for manslaughter and six for ac quittal

In the case of the state against William Coffee, charged with the crime of grand lar-ceny, the jury has returned a verdict of not guilty. Coffee was charged with having stolen harness of the value of $45, the property of Abner Travis.

Contesting a Policeman's Claim.

The defendant has filed its answer in the case of Louis Godola against the East Omaha Street Railway company, alleging that the plaintiff has no cause of action, and therefore has no standing in the court. Godola, who is a member of the police force of this has sued the East Omaha company in an action in which he seeks to recover the sum of $10,000 damages. He alleges that last summer he went over to Courtland heach for a little outing and that while returning to the city he was upon one of the defendant's trains, from which he was thrown, receiving severe and lasting injuries.

The defendant admits that there was an accident similar to the one described by the plaintiff, but alleges that at the time when t took place Godola was standing upon the platform of the motor, contrary to the rules of the road; that there were plenty of va-cant seats inside of the car, and if the plaintiff had occupied one he would not have been injured.

Another Ejectment Suit-

The suit of John Hansen against Edward Callahan has been dismissed from the dockets of the courts and at the costs of the plaintiff. This was one of the East Omaha bottoms ejectment suits, in which Hansen figured as a squatter. At the time of the ejectment of Christianson and some other individuals, Hansen was picked up and removed from the lands claimed by Cal-lahan. He sucd for $10,000, claiming that he had been damaged in that sum. At a former term of court the case was tried, but the jury failed to agree upon a verdict your Paskola. and when it was called for trial in Judge Hopewell's court today a dismissal was en-

Book Dealers at Law.

G. L. and R. F. Bittenger, members of a firm of book sellers at Chadron, have sued John S. Caulfield of this city in an action to recover the sum of $5,000 alleged damages. The petitioners allege that prior to March, 1891, they were engaged in the book trade and were doing a good and pros-perous business. About this time they allege that they were sued by Caulfield on a claim of $191, after which attachment papers were issued. The case went through York.

the lower courts and up to the supreme court, where the plaintiffs in the present suit were victorious. Now they aver that they are entitled to damages in the amount for which they sue.

Mrs. Christlausan's Suit. The case of Anna Christiansan against Edward Callahan and others, which has been on trial before Judge Hopewell for more than a week, was submitted to the jury yesterday. The plaintiff claims the sum of $25,000 damages caused by reason of an eviction from some of the disputed territory on the East Omaha bottoms. In submitting the case Judge Hopewell intructed that the jury could not fit
