

THE DAILY BEE.

COUNCIL BLUFFS. OFFICE - NO. 12 PEARL STREET

Delivered by carrier to any part of the city. H. W. TILTON, Lessee.

MINOR MENTION.

Attend Boston show syndicate sale. A young son of James Goodwin, living on Vorhies street, fell and broke his leg Monday afternoon.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to William Lenihan and Mary Corrigan, both of South Omaha.

All members of the Woman's Relief corps will take part in the parade today and are requested to meet at room, 12 Pearl street, at 8 p. m. sharp.

Six new members were initiated into the Woodmen of the World last Monday evening. Hereafter the meeting nights of this order will be the first and third Monday of each month.

All members of St. Alban's lodge, Knights of Pythias, are requested to meet at the hall at 1 o'clock this afternoon to take part in the parade. By order of chancellor commander.

All members of auxiliary No. 17, Union Veteran Legion, are requested to meet at their hall on Broadway at 11 o'clock to attend the ceremonies at Walnut Hill. E. P. Williams, president.

The members of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics are requested to meet in their hall this afternoon at 1 o'clock to take part in the Decoration day parade. G. W. Turner, counselor.

Divisions Nos. 1 and 2, Ancient Order of Hibernians, are requested to meet at their hall on Wednesday, May 30, at 1 o'clock to take part in Decoration day services. By order of M. T. Sullivan, marshal.

The Jones-Cooper $10,000 damage suit came to an unexpected end yesterday afternoon, when the attorneys agreed to submit it without argument. It was given to the jury, who at a late hour were still struggling.

J. J. Steadman had a fine gold watch stolen from the pocket of a vest as it hung in a closet at his home on Oakland avenue early yesterday morning. Several hours later it was found lying on a table in the back yard, but how it got there no one knows as yet.

Willie, the 4-year-old son of Matt Peterson, died at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon of membranous croup. A private funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock at the family residence, 2404 South Sixth street, and the remains will be buried in Walnut Hill cemetery.

The regular council meeting of Potawatowamie tribe, No. 21, Improved Order of Red Men, will be held this evening in its wigwam, corner Broadway and Main street, at the eighth run, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing term. A full attendance of the members is desired.

Charles Denney, a Union Pacific employe living at the corner of Sixteenth street and Seventh avenue, ran into an ice wagon Monday afternoon while out driving. He was unconscious when picked up and for twelve hours he did not gain his senses. Last evening his condition was considerably improved.

There has been an industrial division organized to participate in the parade on Decoration day. All labor organizations desiring a place in the column will report at 1 o'clock p. m. south of the Grand hotel, to receive orders. By order of P. A. Sneathan, marshal industrial division.

Special exercises were held in all the schools yesterday in honor of Memorial day, and the fallen soldiers. Delegations of veterans from Abe Lincoln post visited every school room in the city and made two-minute speeches to the pupils, in which they told of the differences between school days now and those of forty years ago. The pupils filled up the balance of the afternoon with music and recitations.

The case of the state against Herman Parr has been on trial for two days in the district court at Glenwood, before Judge W. S. Lewis, and ten witnesses have been examined among them being ex-Superintendent A. K. Stone, John Galvin and George Burke. The trial will occupy the rest of the week. No session will be held today, but taking of testimony will be resumed tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

It costs no more to have your fire insurance in old and tried companies, than in the Glens Falls and Imperial, than in those which are new and untried. Loughe & Towle, agents, 235 Pearl street.

Your Wife Will Leave You If you wear that old hat much longer. It looks worn and shabby, and has no more style about it than a cord of wood. You would not be a bad looking fellow at all if you wore one of Tom Hughes' nobby new spring hats. If your head is an odd shape have it conformed—the hat, not the head. Huges is also conforming his prices so as to make them fit the times. 919 Main street is the lucky number.

Charles Lunkley, the well known undertaker, will occupy the building at 228 Broadway after May 20. Various improvements will be made which will give him one of the finest undertaking establishments in the west.

The laundry use Domestic soap.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Business Will Be Suspended to Pay Tribute to the Soldier Dead.

PROGRAM OF EXERCISES MAPPED OUT

No Vehicles or Horses Will Be Allowed to Enter the Cemetery Grounds—Public Schools Held Appropriate Exercises Yesterday Afternoon.

Decorations day will be observed today with the usual exercises, in which the old soldiers will take the lead, while the citizens will unite with them in honoring the dead heroes. In accordance with the time honored custom, the banks, courts, city and county offices and many of the business houses will remain closed all day, while a great many more will be closed during the afternoon, thus giving their employes half holidays. All the freight depots in the city will be closed during the afternoon.

Below is given the program which has been arranged for the exercises of the day by Commander P. A. Sackett. Positions in the line of march have been assigned to all the societies that have signified a desire to take part in the parade, but if any have been omitted they will be given places upon application to any of the marshals.

All organizations and societies should meet at their respective halls at 1 o'clock and complete their arrangements at once, preparatory to marching to their place of assignment in the column at 1:30. All mounted marshals will report to Commander P. A. Sackett at 1 p. m. for orders at Grand Army of the Republic headquarters on Pearl street.

No carriages or other vehicles will be admitted to the cemetery, excepting those necessary to convey the floral offerings and the fifty singers from the schools. All marshals will dismount and leave their horses outside before the column enters the cemetery.

Immediately upon entering the cemetery posts of the Grand Army of the Republic and ex-soldiers will break column and by detachments proceed to the decoration of graves. The main column in the meantime will close up the space made vacant and proceed to the platform and form en masse by organizations immediately in front of the column, each society keeping its respective position.

The decoration of graves being completed, the Grand Army of the Republic will take position immediately in front of the platform.

Column will form on Willow avenue, right resting on Pearl street, at 1:30 p. m. All carriages and other vehicles will form on Eighth street, north of Willow avenue, right resting on Willow avenue, and positively move at 2 o'clock sharp in the following order:

out of the wagon and landed on his head. One shoulder was dislocated and a thumb broken in two places, and he was covered with cuts and bruises. He was picked up and carried to St. Bernard's hospital, where he was resting easily last evening.

RACKWITZ WILL LINGER ALONG.

Attempt to Get Him Out on Bail Proves a Lamentable Failure.

For some time past it has been a question whether James Harris, who turned state evidence against Limerick, Hall, Rackwitz and Kerns, the Wabash train robbers, would be prosecuted. He has told everything about the case while on the stand with the most careful attention to details, and every one is convinced that he was not only the truth, but the whole truth, and so doing has so implicated himself that he might reasonably expect to be sent up for life. But his fellow prisoners have been afraid that he was going to give away the result of his giving his services to secure their conviction. Yesterday afternoon Limerick filed an information charging Harris with breaking open a Wabash train, and Harris will have a hearing as soon as the others have finished their ining.

The prisoners used a large-sized commotion last evening when it came time for court to adjourn. Rackwitz has been put under bonds in one case after another until five charges of car burglary stand against him. Yesterday afternoon he succeeded in getting a bond in the last case, and it was presented for the approval of the court, which was given. The United States authorities are not likely to be allowed under no circumstances to get away.

Constable Baker announced his intention of keeping Rackwitz in jail, whereupon Rackwitz's attorney, W. A. Myrster, told him that he would undertake to rearrest his client at his peril. Rackwitz seized a chair and made for Baker, while the other prisoners offered to join in the assault. Justice Vien added his muscular endeavors to the general fray, and for a time the court room resembled a menagerie at feeding time. With the assistance of Officer Mathey, Baker got Rackwitz bound to another prisoner and started off with him, Myrster in the meanwhile threatening all sorts of direful things at the court.

East Sams Sunk in Life Insurance.

"Do you have any idea of the vast amount of money, in cold cash, that is constantly being sent out of Council Bluffs to pay premiums in life insurance companies?" inquired a local investigator of a Bee reporter yesterday. "It would be difficult to find out the exact amount, but it must be immense. I have been making inquiries in the city and there, and I believe, if the work was systematically prosecuted, it would startle the public and would account largely for the scarcity of money in the city. I dropped into the office of a justice of the peace, where half a dozen men were sitting, discussing life insurance. Curiosity prompted me to ask each man how much he was paying in premiums to eastern companies. One man paid $80 a year, or nearly $7 a month; another was paying $400 a year, or $33 a month; another paid annually $140, or $12 a month; the fifth man carried no insurance whatever, but the sixth figured up his monthly contributions to eastern old line companies at even $15, making a total of $57 a month contributed by the five men. In an attorney's office a large number of men were found whose joint monthly contributions approximated $83. From one agricultural implement house $138 was sent away each month. In a physician's office, where two medical students were talking and a minister and a medical student were listening, $96 was the aggregate amount sent away monthly. In a dry goods store nearly $200 was paid monthly for the remodeling of a building. In an eastern coffee house each month. In another law office three partners sent away annually nearly $1,700. In every group of men, no matter where located, business circles, the information that there were individuals who sent away from $3 to $15 each month, the few inquiries I made made me find that the citizens of Council Bluffs are sending away each month in the year, and have been for many years, amounting aggregating more than $50,000, or the enormous total of $600,000 a year. What proportion of it ever comes back? That's a hard one to answer, but only a small part of it, and much of that is very often reinvested in eastern securities.

"Suppose now that all of this money was kept at home—wouldn't there be a great improvement in all channels of business? It could not be kept out of general circulation, and there would not be any kind of business that would not feel its exhilarating effects. There is no need of sending money away there is need of making voluntary contributions to China, for we have right here at home two life insurance companies which are giving the insured a far more desirable policy in every respect than is given by any old line company in existence and at one-third the cost. The United States Masonic Benevolent Association, with its members a flat rate policy that ranges from $13.65 annually per $1,000 to a somewhat higher figure for older ages, and the Guaranty Fund Life Insurance Co. do for all outside of the Masonic fraternity. Both of these companies have a large and constantly growing guaranty fund that is an ample provision against excessive death rates, and its interest is used in paying assessments. In the Masonic association this interest was sufficient to pay seven deaths last year, and will pay still more than that this year. The results obtained in the Guaranty Fund have been fully as satisfactory to the policy holders, the present situation showing every persistent certificate holder will have a self-paying, non-forfeitable policy in ten years.

Such results as these and the management of the companies right under our own eyes, there is no reason why the great bulk of the money that has been sent away should not be kept here to purchase better, cheaper and more satisfactory insurance from our home companies. While we are all economizing and talking about encouraging home institutions, it would be well for all to consider this question."

WEAVER NOMINATED IN THE NINTH.

Populists of that District Want to Send the General to Congress.

ATLANTIC, Ia., May 29.—(Special Telegram to the Bee.)—The largest and most enthusiastic populist convention ever held in this, the Ninth congressional district, was in session here today. Seventy delegates, representing nine counties, were given seats.

A. M. Hutchinson of Council Bluffs was made chairman, J. B. La Chapelle of Glenwood secretary, and George B. Lang of Wooding recording secretary. On the first formal ballot General James B. Weaver of Des Moines, in the Seventh congressional district, was nominated for congress. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the Omaha platform and condemning Hon. A. L. Hager, who now represents the Ninth in congress, for voting against the income tax measure and for the demoralization of silver.

General Weaver was notified of his nomination and arrived this evening from Council Bluffs. He was met at the train by a committee of populists, headed by a brass band, and escorted to the city park, where he spoke to a good sized audience. This is the first political gun of this district since the republicans, but this report is without authentic foundation.

Take the family to Courtland Beach Decoration day. Music day and night.

CRESTON, Ia., May 29.—(Special Telegram to the Bee.)—Mrs. J. B. Root, the wife of a steam dye house proprietor and a bride of a few weeks, tired of her husband of 45 today and left for Corning with Frank Scott, one of Root's hired men. She left the following night, leaving her husband and children.

My Kind and Loving Husband: I am gone, as I suppose you will know by this time, and I cannot live with you after what you have done. I have got a place to work in the western part of Creston, and you had better get ready to leave. I have got to go home on. Think as kindly as you possibly can of me, for I love you yet, but cannot live with you and quarrel all the time. I am your wife.

ABBE ROOT.

As soon as the deserted husband read the message he telegraphed to Corning, where it was understood the pair had gone, and Sheriff Aldridge arrested the couple and placed them in jail. Root and his wife were arrested this afternoon while looking for a private boarding house. The marshal of that city soon arrived and escorted them back here, where they were taken to the law and the irate husband of Mrs. Root.

Ten cents admits to all at Courtland Beach, day or evening.
