CAUCUS AMENDMENT IS ADOPTED Vote on the Sugar Schedule Considered Decisive of the Fate of the Tariff Bill-Will Frobably Fass by About the

WASHINGTON, June 5 .- The compromise amendments to the sugar achedule were all adopted in the senate today, and the pivotal schedule, on which the fate of the tariff measure depended, went through without change. On the vital amendment to place all sugars on the free list the democratic line was drawn, Mr. Hill of New York voting in favor of it and Mr. Irby of South Carolina being paired the same way. But the republicans were unable to hold their own side intact, Messra, Manderson and Perkins voting against the amendment, and Mr. Quay being paired against it, while Mr. Sherman, who was present, did not vote at all. Only one of the populists, Mr. Peffer, voted for free sugar, Messrs, Kyle and Allen, in the final issue, joining with the majority of the democrats against it. Had all the republicans, with the three populists and the two disaffected democrats, joined hands, sugar, raw and refined, would have gone on the free list. On all the other ments offered by the republicans the majority against them ranged from three

Same Vote as the Sugar Schedule.

The adoption of the sugar schedule practically insures the passage of the bill at an early date, although it is claimed that the republicans will make a final stand on the sugar schedule when the bill is reported and considered in the senate.

PROVISIONS OF THE SUGAR SCHEDULE. As adopted today, the schedule imposes a duty of 40 per cent ad valorem on all sugars, nd refined, with a differential of oneeighth of 1 cent per pound on sugars above sisteen Dutch standard, and an additional one-tenth of 1 cent against sugars imported from countries paying an export bounty. It continues the Hawalian treaty, admitting sugars from the Sandwich islands free of duty, and places a duty of 2 cents per pound on molasses testing above 40 degrees by the polariscope. The schedule goes into effect Jaunary 1, 1895, and the bounty is continued until that date. On motion of Power, Montana, a bill authorizing the Missouri River Power comto build a dam across the Missouri pany river was passed.

The tariff hill was laid before the senate and the sugar schedule again taken up. Hig-gins, republican of Delaware, opened the dewith an arg ing the present bounty provisions. Mr. Aldrich, alluding to statements made in the senate yesterday regarding the alleged influence of the Sugar trust in the framing of the McKinley bill, said, while there was a Sugar trust in 1890 it was not the gigantic concern it is now, and speculation in its shares was comparatively trivial.

Measurs Peffer, Allen, and Kyle voted with the democrats. VOTING ON FREE SUGAR. VOTING ON FILES SUGAR. Mr. Peffer offered an amendment to place all sugars on the free list. Mr. Hill of New York asked if this would precipitate the direct question as to whether sugar should go on the free list or not, and, being in-formed that would, he said he hopped for a record-making role upon it. Mr. Hill voted in favor of free sugar, and announced that he was authoused to state that Mr. Irby th layer of free sugar, and announced that be was authroized to state that Mr. Irby would have voted for free sugar had he been present. Who was present at the inquest. Mrs. Emma Burton, the widow of the musician, did not wish to see the body, but iden-tified the clohting of the deceased as having belonged to her husband. Mrs. Burton said that she had been married for twenty-two years, and for the last four years she had been separated from her husband. The couple had four children, the youngest of whom was 9 years old. Burton made his wife an allowance of from 6 to 8 shillings per week. He earned his living as a musician and was in the habit of playing outside of saloons G. A. Burton, a scavenger, son of the deceased, identified his father's body.

Benjamin Bowering, a vestry employe, said that as General Hewston passed, his arm struck the harp which was carried by one of the musicians. The general thereupon gave the instrument a push, and Burton, who was the instrument a push, and Burton, who was carrying a tin whistle and a stool, said "Why did you push that harp?" To this the general is said to have replied: "It hit me on the arm." Burton, according to Bowering. then remarked: "You had no business to do

It gathered at an alarming rate, sweeping before it a cloud of dust, which neveloped everything in darkness. People rushed to places of safety. For about half an hour the gale swept with terrible fury over the town. When it was over the ground was literally covered with boards and debris from wrecked buildings. Most of the business buildings and residences escaped serious injury. The Grand Army ball, a large frame building used as a lodge room by various socleties, is a total wreck. The Episcopal church is blown off its foundation and badly twisted; the Methodist church is in the same condition; the school house, a fine two-story brick building, is a total wreck; nearly all the barns and outhouses in the town were damaged and more or less injury was done to residences and other buildings. As far as learned no injury was done to life or limb. It is impossible to estimate the amount of damage, but it will amount to thousands of

TIME FOR VOTING ARRIVES.

In the midst of this sensational debate, in which crimination and recrimination prewailed, the hour of 1 o'clock arrived, and under the agreement a voie was taken on Mr. Jones' amendment fixing January 1, 1895, as the date on which the repeal of the Fugar bounty should go into effoct. On this the vote resulted: Yeas, 40; nays, 21. The amendment was adopted. Mr. Hill 01 did not vote and Mr. Peffer voted with the republicans. Alien and Kyle voted with the motrats. Brice and Vilas withdrew their votes, being paired with Wolcott and Mitcheli of Oregon

The next vote was upon the amendment offered by Senator Manderson of Nebraska providing fer the retention of the bounty provision of the McKinley law. This. was also defcated. Yeas, 31: mays, 40. [fill no, also Allen and Kyle. Peffer yoted with the republicans.

Mr. Manderson next proposed an amend ment increasing the boanty one-tenth of 1 cent each year until the time fixed ir the McKinley law for total expiration. This was also defeated. Yeas, 34: nays. 37. Was also defeated. Yeas, 34; nays, 37. Allen and Kyle voted with the republicans. Hill did not vote.

Manderson then offered an amendment applying the bounty to sorghum and beet sugar only. This third amendment of Senator Manderson was defeated. Yeas, 31; nays, 39. Allen and Kyle voted no.

Manderson offered another amendment confining the bounty to sorghum and beet sugar and after 1835 reducing it to 1 cent per pound. This was also defeated. Yeas, 54; nays, 57. Allen and Kyle voted yea. Allison then offered an amendment to add at the end of the paragraph a provine that the bounty shall be one-eighth of 1 cent for sugar produced in the United States in 1894 This was also defined. Yens, 22: mays, 40.

not greatly disturbed over the intimation that an amendment will be offered providing for the repeal of the state bank tax. They do not believe that it would be pressed by those who have the deepest interest in the the repeal of the state bank tax and they also constitute the element in the senate

most interested in the passage of the tariff bill, and it is not believed that they would agree to imparil the tariff bill or to delay it

n any way by pressing in connection with t as a rider a measure which they consider of only comparative importance. The friends of the bill recall in discussing the possibility of such an amendment the fate of Senator Lodge's effort amendment, and also revert to the fact that when the sliver repeal bill was before the senate during the extra ses-sion an amendment for the bank tax repeal was introduced, but not passed. They argue that if at that time when a majority of the

REPUBLICANS CARRY OREGON. Legislature Which Will Elect a Senator

Overwhelmingly Republican.

PORTLAND, June 5 .- Partial returns from ten counties give Lord (rep.), for governor, a plurality of 1,200. The remainder of the state ticket is following close, with the exception of Irwin for superintendent of schools. At this rate, Lord's plurality will reach 15,000. Returns from this city and county are very incomplete. The republicans elect their city and county ticket with the possible exception of sheriff.

The complete returns from ten counties give Lord (rep.) for governor, 7.200; Gallo-way (dem.), 3.231; Pierce (pop.), 4.590. Lord's plurality in the state is estimated at 15.000. Seven counties in the First congressional district give Hermann (rep.) for con-gress, 4,479; Weatherford (dem.), 1,490; Miller (pop), 2,809. In the Second congressional district only two counties have been heard from. They give Ellis (rep.), 2,172; Raley (dem.), 879; Waldrop (pop), 1,002. The entire republican stats ticket is elected except Irwin for school superintendent, who is probably defeated by Reid (dem.) by a small lurality

The floods have so interrupted communicat on so that it will be a week before complete returns are received. The republicans will have an overwhelming majority in the legishave an overwhelming importy in the regulicant lature, insuring the election of a republican United States senator to succeed Dolph. The legislature will stand as follows: Senate, republicans, 17; democrats, 7; populists, 6 House, republicans, 42; democrats, 10; populists, S.

PUEBLO, June 5.-Soon after 5 o'clock this evening, reports came in from Florence that the Arkansas was again on the boom and that two of its irbutaries. Beaver Creek and Four-Mile creek, were over their banks. The alarm was given and residents of the bottoms moved to higher land and business firms put their employes to work raising their goods above the water line of last Wednesday night's water line of last Wednesday night's flood. It is reported now (0.30 p m.) that the river is eight inches higher at Swa-lows, sixteen miles of here, than it was last week. The Rig Grande is washed out west and north at the same places that were damaged last week, and have just been repaired. The Santa Fe is also blocked between here and Colorado Springs by high water in the mountains.

Dixon County's Downpour.

ALLEN, Neh., June 5 .- (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-Dixon county was treated to a copious rain vesterday afternoon and last night, which has saturated the ground to a sufficient depth to assure moisture to the growing crops for the three weeks. Corn since the rain looks immense, and the fields are beauteous to behold. During May's dry spell the farmers had a splendid opportunity to kill weeds, hence the corn fields appear as clean and refreshing as a newly scrubbed kitchen. The corn never looked better. The yield of hay promises to be heavy. A week longer without rain would most certainly have blighted the hay crop of Dixon county. Our wheat fields are noticed by all strangers. They are since the rain in the pink of condition.
