England's Premier Will Abandon Horse Racing to the Professionals Hereafter.

LIBERAL LEADERS OPPOSED TO THE TURF

Political as Well as Moral Grounds Afforded the Premier on Which to Base His Retirement After Winning the Derby.

(Copyrighted 1894 by Press Publishing Company.) LONDON, June 9 .- (New York World Cable-Special to The Bee.)-Lord Rosebery has privately announced his intention to withdraw from the racing field. A public statement of the fact will be made here in a few days. The current belief that the victory of his colt, Ladas, was worth many thousands of votes at the coming election has had a general expression in the papers, but the premier's trusted advisers have made very different representations to him: They have been furnished with statistics of the really terrific extent to which gambling over horse races has grown in England, One statement I have already quoted, is that the scratching of Cloister for the Grand National, with the most suspicious evidences of fraud on the part of the bookmaking syndicates. cost the working classes of England more millions than did even the great Liberator company frauds.

WILL INVESTIGATE THE TURF. A turf inquiry is about to be started here, which promises very evil and far reaching disclosures. It is likely to show not only the vast extent of the mania in England and how it is pauperizing many classes of the community to a degree worse than the lotteries effect the Latin countries, but also that organized fraud makes the turf a huge system of robbery.

On economic as well as moral grounds, there is developing, particularly in the liberal party, a bitter feeling against horse racing in any form, although it has not had much public expression, even in the liberal papers. It is appreciated by the liberal leaders, and they have so strongly expressed themselves to Rosebery. He is a consummate politician, and has recognized the force of their facts and figures, hence his decision. MR. MORTON'S HEALTH IS GOOD.

There is no foundation for the report that Levi P. Morton has suffered a relapse and is in a dangerous condition. I saw him today in obviously good health. He attended a state ball at Buckingham palace last night.

George Gould and Lord Dunraven have apparently made no further progress toward arranging a race. The former is absent on the continent. In conversation while here Mr. Gould said he saw no prospect of any Improvement in financial affairs at home before another year. On the other hand President M. E. Ingalls said that he looked to an immediate revival after the passage of the tariff bill as it is. Business will spring up which will surprise everyone.

Princess Colonna, with her children, is with her mother in the Carleton Terrace gouse. Mrs. Mackay said today that they will take a house in the country for the summer, where they think the prince will not attempt to get possession of the children. Every precaution will be taken against such BALLARD SMITH. a possibility.

LONDON THEATRICAL SEASON.

The Long Heralded "fllackmallers" Falls Flat and is Pronounced Without Merit.

(Copyrighted 1894 by the Associated Press.) LONDON, June 9 .- Charles Thursby gave his expected special matinee at the Prince of Wales theater on Thursday, and produced the new play of the two youthful members of the Oscar Wilde school, John Grey and Andre Roffalvich, entitled, "The Blackmailers." The play, in its preliminary announcements, was described as being of "strong dramatic interest," and turning upon the vagaries of a young man who, under hypnotic influence, blackmails people. The play turned out to be a most tedious and purposeless presentation. The repulsive story outlined by the disciples of Oscar Wilde was without merit of any kind. The authors of "The Blackmailers" were called before the curtain at the close of the play, but they did not appear, being apparently very distrustful of the spirit of the compliment intended for them.

The run of "Utopia, Limited," at D'Oyle Carte's theater comes to an end today. The new opera which is to follow "Utopia, Limited," at the Savoy will probably be produced on June 16 or June 23. The title a present selected is that of "Mirette." The libretto, which has been done into English by Fred Weatherby and Harry Greenbank, is the work of M. Michael Carre, author of "L'Enfant Prodigue." The music is by M. Andres Sager of "La Basoche" fame.

The princess of Wales and her daughters and other members of the royal family were present at the charming entertainment, Jonotha's concert at Daly's theater on Tuesday. Hobbes and Morris' "Journeys End in Lovers' Meeting" was exquisitely acted by Ellen Terry, Forbes Robertson and William Terris, and met with an enthusiastic reception. Two pretty songs, the words by Lord Beaconsfield and the music by Princess Beatrice (Princess Henry of Battenburg), were sung by Amy Sherwin and Antoinette

VERDI ON A NEW TACK. Verdi's next production will be a new de parture, consisting of a series of eight prayers to the Madonna for chorus and orchestra, words by Doito. They will be presented at a full mass to be celebrated upon the occasion of the festival of San Antonio at Padu next year. Little Ruby Johnson, the baby dancer from New England, has taken the salons of Old England's royalty by storm and is the leading attraction of the small army of infantile wonders at present before the British public. The tiny American wonder has already had the honor of appearing at Mariborough house before the prince and princess of Wales and their family, and before the duke and duchess of Teck and other members of the royal family, in addition to delighting crowds of members of the aristocracy in the most distinguished salons of the metropolis.

There has been a perfect glut of concerts this season, with the result that artists other than those of the Patti, Paderewski and Josephim order stand very little chance of receiving more than casual notice in the papers. The "infant phenomenon" has been very much to the fore recently and recitals by performers under 10 years of age are of almost daily occurrence. Of future concerts, two of the most interesting are to be given by Hayden Coffin and Arthur Somerville on June 18 and June 20 respectively. The first of these takes place at St. James hall, and Mr. Coffin will have the assistance of Miss Marguerite Hall, Miss Agnes Janson and Edward Lloyd, I lunkett Green, Lawr nee Kellie and the little 'cellist, Jean Garardy, Arthur Somervell, who is well known as a composer of graceful songs, will be assisted at his concert by Miss Fanny Davis, Mrs. Henschel, Miss Marguerite Hall, Leonard Berwin and Mr. Shakespeare.

PLAY BY A CRITIC.

The manager of the Independent Theater Society announces a play for next season by Edward Fordham Spence, the dramatic critic of the Westminster Gazette and other papers. The play deals with the marital relations of a young girl who is driven into marriage with a wealthy old man, and the subject is handled with some audacity in a realistic style. It may possibly have a little difficulty with the censorship, but Mr. Pinero has now opened the door so wide that a 'Consecrated Bargain" will doubtless get through. The author is one of the younger school of critics and has reached an impotant position rapidly. He is the son of the late James Spence of Liverpool, whose book on the great civil war, entitled "The American Union," excited immense discussion and resulted in his appointment, with the late Beresford Hope, as one of the English representatives of the confederates. James Spence was likewise the author of the celebrated "S" letters to the London Times. His son, after being called to the bar, took up dramatic criticism while waiting for briefs. He first represented the Society at the theater and then the Daily Graphic and the Pall Mall Gazette. On the purchase of the last named paper by William Waldorf Astor, Mr. Spence followed the fortunes of his old editor and went on the Westminster Gazette. His wife has also become a journalist since her marriage, and her work, signed "Binocle," sometimes appears in the Sketch side by side with her husband's pseudonym "Monacle." On June 21 a matinge in aid of the Theatrical Choirsters association is to be given at the Lyric theater, which has been kindly lent for the occasion by Mr. Horace

London Crop Revie

LONDON, June 9 .- The weather continues dull and cold. Sunshine is needed, but the crops are making fair progress. The wheat market has been fairly active, with prices lecidedly strong at from 6d to 1s advance The rise was due to a reduction in the quantity affoat, light shipments and the substantial advance in American options. Holders were very firm. Buyers were reserved, being checked by the higher rates, but 1s advance was paid for Russian cargo. The parcel trade was moderate. There was a fair spot business. An Australian cargo, March, sold at 23s 1/d. A parcel of red winter, June, sold at 21s 9d. The country markets were firm and dearer. Flour was firm at from 6d to 1s higher. There was a fair demand. Differences Between England and France Likely to Lead to a Diplomatic Rupture-Emperor William's Sister Pays Him a Visit.

(Copyrighted 1894 by the Associated Press.) BERLIN, June 9 .- Herr Ludwig Bamberger, an eminent authority upon the question of bimetallism and a member of the silver commission, declares, after twenty-one days of earnest discussion, not only no tangible result has been arrived at, but the meeting of the commission has furnished overwhelming proof that in the future no conference. either national or international, will arrive at a different result. According to Herr Bamberger, an understanding upon bimetallism seems to him impossible between the different states of Europe, including England or without England. He says the difference of interest of these countries precludes any satisfactory agreement.

Referring to the report from Washington that Germany has protested against the decision of the United States senate to place a differential duty of one-tenth of a cent on sugar imported into the United States from countries granting bounties to sugar growers, and that the German government has threatened reprisals against certain American imports, notably pork, the Nord Deutsche Zeitung today says the report Is false and probably emanates from Americans interested in the sugar trade and who are desirous of stirring up American feeling for the furtherance of their own selfish designs. BOYCOTT ON BEER. The socialist boycott of the brewers of this city and vicinity, which was supposed to be on the point of collapse, owing to the ridicule cast upon it by the fact that the socialist leaders had been proved to be drinking boycotted beer, has revived with redoubled vigor. The leaders of the boycott have announced that any grocery or other store offering such boycotted beer, bottled, for sale will forthwith be proclaimed by the boycott committee. The brewers threaten if the boycott is not raised by June 15 they will be compelled to dismiss another 25 per cent of their men. The Anglo-French dispute over the Angloditional strip of African territory, resulting in free communication between Cairo and Cape Town, and the unusually decided tone of the speech made by M. Hanotaux, the French minister of foreign affairs, in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday is regarded very seriously here.

The National Zeitung, echoing the opinion of the German press generally, declares that M. Hanotaux could not have used such language without danger of a diplomatic rupture, and says: "Such language renders negotiations difficult."

CONGO GOVERNMENT'S DENIAL. The Congo government, through the German minister at Brussels, has repudiated the least desire to offend Germany by the conclusion of the agreement with England Emperor William leaves Kiel on board the Imperial yacht on June 22. The relations between Emperor William and his sister cooled considerable from the time she joined the Greek church, and the present reconciliation is said to be due to the meditation of Queen Victoria and ex-Empress Frederick of Germany, Emperor William's mother.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND HOMELESS. Losers by the Fraser Flood-Estimates Made by the Dominion Government. VANCOUVER, B. C., June 9.-Reports from the interior state the Fraser river is sill slowly rising. The rise reported ranges rom one inch on the lower river to twelve inches at Lytton. The steamship Queen, bound for Alaska, called here yesterday to take on board the Raymond excursionists from Boston, who were erroneously reported to have been wrecked. The excursionists are still floodbound, and as there was no chance for their getting through from Banff fo a week at least the Queen sailed for Alaska without them. Thieves have begun to ravage the flooded districts. A safe was stolen from the offices of the Moodyville Mill company. The burglars evidently intended to carry the safe to the woods and blow it open. Their boat capsized and the safe and boat were found on the flooded flats. The Dominion government is having a careful estimate made of the losses and losers by the flood. In the following municipalities, corresponding to American counties, it is found by the census, taken as carefully as possible, that fully 15,000 people are today homeless in consequence of the flooding of the Fraser. What their losses will be o have been connot yet be calculated. The enormous number of homeless ones is made up thus: Delta municipality, 2,000; Lang. 1,500; Matsqui, 1,000; Sumas, 500; Chilliwack, 3,000; Richmond, 1,500; Burnaby, 8,000; Couquitlam, 2,000; Maple Ridge, 500; Mission, 500; Dewdney, 500; Nicomen, 300; between Nicomen and Yale, 200, and Yale, 300.

Though the Fraser river is 1,050 miles long, and all the lower valley is flooded, the greatest damage has been done in a district of 100 miles between Landers and Yale. Austria's Severe Hall Storm. VIENNA, June 9 .- Many reports of casualties and damage to property from Thursday's hail storm have been received.

There were fearful storms yesterday in dif-ferent parts of the country. It is estimated 200 persons were injured as a result of the hall storm.

TOO FAST SPEED ON A CURVE.

Fireman Crushed and a Number of Passengers and Postal Clerks Shaken Up.

ST. LOUIS, June 9 .- The New York fast mail and express of the Vandalia line, leaving here at 8:10 a. m., was wrecked one mile east of Pocahontas, Ill., at 9:22 a. m. today, the fireman, S. A. Paulton of Terre Haute, Ind., being crushed under the tender and others injured. The train was running about forty-five miles an hour, when, on a curve with a twelve-foot embankment, the engineer. Thomas Menifer, felt something, supposed to be the forward truck, give away, in an instant the engine, tender, two mail cars, a combination car and a coach were in the ditch.

Fireman Paulton fell under the tender and was crushed to death. Mail Clerk Henry Albaugh was dangerously crushed in the chest and Thomas Menifer, engineer, slightly hurt on the hand and arm. The passengers were shaken up and many more or less injured, though none dangerously. The postmaster wrote across the top of the letter in red ink: "Sent from Lexington with the request to

One of them said: "Well, we know the handwriting, though we can't blame him for doing all in his power for Colonel Breckinridge, though it be done in ever so mean a manner. The letter will have no effect. We know our husbands pretty well and such threats are beneath our notice."

Union Pacific Will Require at Least a Month to Repair Its Roads. PORTLAND, Ore., June 9.—The river here has fallen about four inches since yesterday. In eastern Oregon and Washington a lower temperature prevails and the Columbia at Sanders' Horse Was Finally Shot from Under Him and the Boy Followed Him Up and Riddled Him with Bullets.

WAGONER, I. T., June 9 .- This afternoon there was a robbery and sensational tragedy enacted on the road between Fort Gibson and Tablequah, where the big Cherokee payment is in progress. A stage load of passengers was some miles out from Tahlequal enroute to Fort Gibson, the railroad station, when Levi Sanders, a desperate Cherokee character, who was on the front seat with the driver, punched the driver in the side with a pistol and ordered him to hold up. He then made the passengers get out and robbed them of about $600 and some jewelry. One man, a person from Texas, who declined to give his name, was shot through the breast because he had no money to give up. The wounded man is now at Fort Gibson in a critical condition, the bullet having passed through the left lung. The robber then left, walking through the woods and in the direction of Tablequah. He found a man and an Indian boy herding some cattle and began shooting at the boy and killed him. He then mounted the horse the boy was riding and again emerged into the road, where he came upon two wagons containing some men and women. He shot into one of them and killed Mrs. Duncan, a lady connected with one of the best families of the Cherokee Nation. Her son, Levi Duncan, was with her. He began shooting at Sanders, as also did the man in the other wagon, but he was getting away on his horse when young Duncan got a Winchester and shot the horse. Sanders was then afoot and could not escape. He was literally shot

ATCHISON IS STURBORN.

Refuses All Overtures for Peace on the Summer Excursion Business. CHICAGO, June 9.-Chairman Caldwell of the Western Passenger association received this morning formal notice of the Atchison's withdrawal from the summer excursion agreement. During the day the lines interested in the keeping of the agree ment met at the office of Chairman Caldwell and drew up a letter to Passenger Traffic Manager White of the Atchison, declaring in the most positive terms that they were not violating the agrement, and were willing to surrender all contracts that could be shown to be in violation of the agreement. This mas given to Mr. White shortly after noon, but no answer was made today. The Atchison has already declared it will not come back into the agreement, as it firmly believes that the Alton, Burlington and the Union Pacific have violated it, and instances are cited. The Atchison claims each if these roads has made contracts contrary to the agreement. The accused lines stoutly dely they have made such arrangements, and offer to satisfy the Atchison on that point. #### WANT THE DEPOT COMPLETED.

Improvements East of Sixteenth Street Discussed by Interested Citizens. In accordance with an invitation sent out some days ago a company of business men met at the club room of the Mercer hotel

last evening. The invitation stated that the meeting had been called for the purpose of devising plans. ways and means for the developing and improving of property interests east of Sixteenth street; also to talk over the best means of building up the old business portion of the city and the resident portion between the railroad tracks and Riverview park. W. J. Broatch was chosen chairman and John Butler secretary. The chairman opened the ball by stating the object of the meeting and expressing regret that Dr. Mercer, the instigator of it, was unavoidably absent.

Mr. Broatch favored the opening of Twelfth street south to Riverview park and also the extension of Howard street in order that trade might be attracted to the wholesale part of the city. If more street cars could be run around the loop, Mr. Broatch thought business in the lower part of town might improve.

Isaac Hascall made a speech immediately after Mr. Broatch had resumed his chair. He thought the opening of Twelfth street south was impracticable if a boulevard was intended. The speaker pointed out the fact that at present there were three viaducts across the tracks and he did not see the necessity for another. He talked about endeavoring to increase business in the central portion of the city and said that after that was done trade would radiate and each portion get its share. Ernest Stuht differed with Hascall and claimed that the south side had been treated

The chairman called upon President Yates of the Nebraska National bank. Mr. Yates thought that the way to build up the old business district was to have a metropolitan depot built at the foot of Farnam street, where all the car lines would converge. As now, the shed which serves as a depot was of no use to any one, and property in that vicinity was virtually worthless except where a few cheap restaurants and saloons had sprung up. Stuht took exception to Mr. Yates' remarks, but no one paid any attention to him. When John A. Horbach was called for he got up like a man who had something to say. Mr. Horbach advocated the finishing of the union depot and of building others if necessary when the demands of the city warranted it. Mr. George W. Lininger favored the open ing of Twelfth street, and of building a market house and auditorium on a viaduct across the railway tracks. He thought enough capital could be raised here to put up such a structure. Its cost would be about $200,000. The land would cost nothing, and this was one reason he favored such a scheme. Mr. Lininger thought that the great trouble with Omaha was that there were too many schemes on foot and so few carried to a successful termination.

Judge Wakeley said that in his opinion great mistake had been made when the building of the union depot was enjoined. He said that there should be no fights or jealousies between different sections of the city, but that they all ought to pull together for public improvements no matter where.

"Let us get two depots if we can," said the judge. "If we can't do that, let us try to get one. Do something. Do not stand idle." At the conclusion of Judge Wakeley's remarks Mr. Hascall asked the indulgence of the gentlemen while he made a motion regarding the depot property. After several amendments had been offered and adopted the following resolution was carried by

DUBUQUE, June 9 .- (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-A fire in the lumber district this evening caused a loss of $475,000. It was caused by a spark from a Chicago Great Western locomotive which alighted in Lesue's lumber yard about 5:15 o'clock. The yard was full of sawdust and mill refuse with which the company has been engaged in raising the yard above high water mark. Instantly the mass was aflame, and the wind from the east carried the fire with alarming rapidity about a crescent lined with lumber, and bounding the sloughs from Sixth street to Eleventh,

A slough intervening between it and Lesure's mill, together with the direction of the wind, saved the mill and most of the yard of the Standard Lumber company, but everything west along the crescent was ablaze within an hour, and oppeals for assistance were wired to Freeport, Clinton and other towns near by.

Lesue's mill was first to fall, then the flames swept west to the large frame building of the Dubuque Buggy Top company, and bounded into the Knapp-Stout company lumber yard, scorching also the water company's power station, the Knapp-Stout company's planing mill and the Glab house. At Eleventh street the field of flame encountered the paper mill, a large brick building unoccupied. On the north side of this street lies the Carr, Ryders & Engler company lumber yard, which fifty men worked to save. They accomplished little, but the paper mill and the pond beside it proved a wall so effectual that it enabled the fire department to get the flames under control. At this hour, 10:30 o'clock, the lumber yards are still burning, but will extend nq , further unless the wind changes, in which event the Standard Lumber company's yard and mill will go. The Lesure Lumber com-

Standard Lumber company loses $75,000 and is fully insured in board companies. Some of Lesure's is in non-board companies. The total loss of lumber is 25,000,000 feet. Lesure employed 225 men. Several persons OMAHA, June 8 .- To the Editor of The Bee: After reading your statement in Tho Bee concerning Detectives Haze and Shoop I desire to add to the already large list a few of the indignities imposed upon our neighborhood by the aforesaid Haze and Shoop, To begin with, one morning about a week ago I was standing at my dresser arranging my hair. I will further state that was in an undress uniform. I was startled to hear some one speaking behind me. I turned to see a man standing there. He had entered the back door quietly, as a thief in the night, without knocking or otherwise announcing his presence until he commenced a conversation by saying, "Well, what are you doing?" I asked him what he wanted and what he meant by entering my house in such a manner. He answered me in a most ungentlemanly way, saying that he wanted to look around, search the premises, etc. He was not even gentlemanly enough to retire long enough to allow me to slip on my dress, which I had to do while he stood there. I told him to search the place if he wanted to and leave. He informed me he would take his time. He picked up several photographs around the room, inquiring who they were, questions that I consider who unnecessary to the fulfillment of duty. will not attempt to further give a list of his insulting questions or his insolence of bearing toward me. Leaving my house he went to the next house, the home of a prominent barber in the city, whose family also includes mother and father. The wife at the time was lying sick in bed. Nothing daunted Sergeant Shoop, however. She needs must rise to answer his questions and explain who the old couple were who were

If this be America we live in, I would like to ask whether we are allowed any privileges in our own homes, and can we not have our friends and neighbors visit us without explaining the whys and wherefores to such creatures as Haze and Shoop. I mention no names of the parties of whom speak because we are not looking for no toristy, but this I will say, if these would-be custoffans of the peace continue to annoy the people in this vicinity you will hear from
