Bill Traffley jumped right on to Bill Rourke the moment they got inside the lot yesterday, and the fight that ensued was a rattler. Like giants they wrestled to and fro for a few moments, then Traffley got Rourke down and wallowed him around on the moistened earth awhile like a bull dog would wallow a rat terrier.

Papa finally regained his feet, but he was a sorry spectacle. His handsome face was splotched with mud, one ear gone and both eyes in heavy mourning, while his natty gray uniform was nothing short of an assemblage of rags. But he was dead game and went right at Traf again just as if he had been brought up on that sort of diet. And my! how they did struggle and writhe and twist. A cat fight couldn't be mentioned in the same day. Now Rourke was on top, now Traf; then they'd roll over and over, scratching, punching, biting and gouging like ravenous beasts. So terrific was the battle that at times you couldn't tell Rourke from Traf-Their entwined and convoluted b looked as if incorporated into one, and it was anybody's light until suddenly, in an ill-starred moment, Traffley rammed our Bill's head down into the soft earth about a like a flash, he arose, only, however, to re-ceive a rap on the jaw that keeled him over as dead as if he had been hit in the head

OUR BILL'S ABNEGATION. Just before the scrap opened up, Burrell, he youth who did the catspulting for Traffley, offered to give the game to Rourke, but Papa drew himself up in all his altitudinous pride and replied: "No, my little man. I appreciate the kindly motive which has prompted you to offer me this small tribute to the esteem in which you hold me, but I cannot accept it. I'd rather see myself lying dead before me than accept, aye even as much as a chew of fine cut, from any man, woman or bearing the vaguest propinquity to Bill Traffley. No, Harry, me boy, go in an' do your best, and we'll knock the conceit out of you in hunks bigger'n Mike Lawerence's gall." Then with the stride of a proud and haughty aristocrat our Bill told his men to go in and do their worst. And that is just what they did do-their worst. For despite the fact that young Burrell did some of the wildest pitching that ever came out of a swamp, they couldn't do a thing to him, and seeing that they couldn't get their base any other way, he gave it to them no less than twelve times, would you believe it, but one man out of that whole dozen scored. Ordinarily, a base on balls is the bane of Bend or bring FOUR coupons and ten coin to this office and receive the 18th part of this superb work—the story of the war, told by the leading general the crank's life, for they almost invariably result in runs. But not so yesterday, for the Rourke family ran bases like a lot of vags on the chain gang and batted the ball with the hideous ferocity of a man cutting cheese with an ax.

And all the afternoon Papa was beside himself, in fact so near to himself was he several times that he could have stretched forth his hand and stroked his own fur.
I never saw a madder man than Pa especially in the eighth inning when Fear had reached first base on a radiant drive, and then got caught just like any common stock yards fat head. Pa shot a glance at him that would have broken a plate glass window. The corners of his mouth hung down like a striped horse blanket, and if he had had a gun I believe he would have used it.

And in the inning just before he was hot. so hot that the steam arose in clouds from his heated brow every time he lifted his lid for a little fresh air. That was when the for a little fresh air. That was when the umpire, King Gaffney Haskell, called McVey out at first on his lovely tap into right field, and which Dutchy Hoffman scooped up and fired to McFadden just as Georgie sunk his talons in the bag.

That out not only retired the side, but it beat us out of two runs, as Seery and Mun-yun, who had previously made hits, came

SOME THINGS AGAINST THE UMPIRE. Those were the two runs Pa wanted most. They tied the score, and when he saw them float over the plate he gave a sharp, quaver ing cry of joy, and fluttered like a great, big, double-jointed moth around a candle. Then, when Haskell got in his work, Pa fairly blew the foam off of things. He ran over and grasping hold of one of Jack's cars with both hands, he pulled it down to his mouth and poured it full of flowery and passion-breathing oratory. Demosthenes, in his wildest delirium, wasn't half as elo-

But Papa Bill wasn't the only warm man there was there, for Grandpa Traffley, in the ninth inning, when Haskell called Boxendale safe at first, when he was out by half a mile, acted up awful. A man having a cataleptic fit in a crowded motor car couldn't have caused greater excitement than did this irritable old man from the soldlers' home. He fairly gnawed a hole through the center of the grand stand, and spat great, big spikes and old horseshoe nails out of his mouth just like so much licorice root.

Of course the Rourke family were tickled to death, and it was plain to be seen they meant to rescue themselves if possible. But it wasn't in the cards. Seery, whose thoughts were far away with that old St. Louis sweetheart of his, pushed a little one down to Michael Angelo Lawerence, and he and little Boxcar were doubled up like a folding bed. Just as I was leaving the grounds I saw Papa Bill with his children all assembled close about him. He was lifting his voice up in both hands and gesticulating energetically with his neck, and you may rest assured he was telling them no lie. But I do not believe in these parades of authority. Better that Papa led his boys away to the wild woods when the day was done and there, in the last pink rays of the slate colored sun, with the fragrant flowers nodding about them, chloroform them with a club. The fragments are appended: OMAHA.

LINCOLN, June 9.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—St. Joseph's proverbial ninth inning luck was all that saved the Missouri boys from a shutout at the hands of the Lincoln team this afternoon. Jasper Johnson, who occupied the box for the locals, held the visitors down to one lonesome hit until the eighth inning, in the meantime striking out seven men. In the eighth he let down, and the visitors helped themselves to two hits. In the ninth a single, a double and three men sent to first on wide ones gave St. Joe the only runs she got. During all this time Lincoln made seventeen clean hits and thirteen runs, nine of which were earned. Both teams nine of which were earned. Both teams go to Grand Island for an exhibition game tomorrow, during which Lincoln will pre-sent a new pitcher named Kimerer, a local with an excellent amateur record

CRICKET RECORD FOR OMAHA.

Good Struggle and a Tie Between Two Well Matched Elevens.

For the first time during all the years that cricket has been played in Omaha the outcome of a game has resulted in a "tie." It was played yesterday afternoon. Messrs. E. Stringer and A. D. Robb were the captains of the two elevens, and the former having won the "toss" decided to bat first.

Messrs. A. Gavin and H. Lawrie opened the innings for their side and faced the bowling of Messrs. G. H. Vaughan and A. D. Robb. Mr. Gavin, who seemed to be in his best form, soon got to work and be in his best form, soon got to work and A. D. Robb. Mr. Gavin, who seemed to be in his best form, soon got to work and made it lively for the fielders. He hit freely and with good judgment, and before he had the misfortune of stepping out of his ground to make one of his sensational hits (thereby giving Taylor the chance to "stump" him), he had put up the very respectable score of 18 runs.

McPherson, who came next, was disposed of by Vaughan before he could do anything, nor was it until the advent of New that things began to look up. This batsman played a faultless innings for 24, during which he achieved a few drives which would have done no discredit to a Hornby or a Grace in their palmiest days. The innings closed for 65 runs, which, without being a very large score, is a fairly respectable one, considering Vaughan, "the demon bowler of the west," had something to say in it.

After a slight intermission Robb's eleven undertook the defense. Messrs. Taylor and Vaughan opened the ball for their side, and the way that the former started in conveyed the impression that he was going to do the proper thing for his side.

side, and the way that the former started in conveyed the impression that he was going to do the proper thing for his side "off his own bat." This, however, was not to be, as, although he covered himself with glory and made a quarter of a century for his side, the fates were working against the cause under which he was enlisted, and his best efforts could not attain more than a "tie."

Among others who contributed most toward the 65 made by the whole side, were Rev. J. P. D. Liwyd and Messrs. Hart, Johnson, W. Gavin, Robb and Cookson.

The last wicket fell for 65 runs, and the most remarkable match in the annals of cricket in Omaha was brought to a close. Below are the scores in detail:

ENTRIES IN THE TENNIS TOURNEY.

Many Lovers of Racket and Ball Work t Compete in the Coming Contest.

More entries have been received for the Omaha Lawn Tennis club's tournament, open to all residents in the city, than had been hoped for. No fewer than twenty-five men entered for the singles and most of these are in the doubles also, this event comprising as many as thirteen pairs. Even the mixed doubles, which was put on the card very much in the way of an experiment, has proved quite an attraction, and an even dozen gentlemen have found lady partners.

The handicapping has of necessity been on a very rough and ready principle, for the reason that so many of the players are unknown to those who have the affair in charge. In the singles there are but three classes, those who owe 15 (Austin and Cullingham), those who start at scratch, and those who receive 15. For the benefit of those who are not familiar with the system of handicapping it may be explained that when 15 is owed the first point made in each game won by the man receiving such odds brings his score up to 30. In other words, if a man receiving 15 met a man owing 15 the score at the commencement of each game would be, not love-all, but 15-owe-15, or owe-15-15, according as the case might be.

In the doubles there is no handicapping other than that two pairs who are conceded to be several points ahead of any one else who have entered are piaced at 15 behind. They are Cullingham and Cookson, and C. H. Young and Roy Austin.

In the mixed doubles every pair stands on the same footing, and there is considerable question as to which one will come out on top.

Omaha National Bank building, on or before Friday, June 15, accompanied by an entrance fee of 10 cents for each competitor. This deposit is required in order that the expenses of the committee for postage and other incidentals may be defrayed independently of the treasury of the Young Men's Christian association, and has been made small so as to exclude no one from entering the competition.

The events will comprise gentlemen's singles and doubles and mixed doubles. The tournament will be confined to members of the Young Men's Christian association, though it is the intention of the committee to hold a tournament open to all comers later in the season. In the preliminary round three sets will constitute a match, and matches may be played at any time of the day during the days of June 18 to 22 inclusive, the competitors reporting the results of their matches to the chairman of the committee, E. E. Thomas. The second and succeeding rounds will consist of matches of five games to the match. The second round will be played Saturday afternoon, June 23, at 3 o'clock. The time for playing the succeeding and final rounds will be designated later.

rounds will be designated later.

The committee has arranged to have benches built for the accommodation of spectators, and, while expecting the preiminaries to prove of less interest, desires that the second and other rounds should be well attended for the sake of encouraging tennis in the Young Men's Christian association. For the same reason it is desirable that all members of the association who play tennis should enter for the tournament and at once.

Last of Old Bill Today. The Rourkes and the Traffleys will come together again this afternoon. As the matter now stands it is a tie, each team having won a game, and this afternoon both will struggle hard for the mastery. CONFERENCE AT COLUMBUS Miners and Operators Making an Effort to Reach a Settlement.

SCALE COMMITTEE NOW AT WORK

Adjournment Taken Until Monday Morning to Give Them Time to Formulate a Plan of Settlement-Both Sides Ready to Quit.

COLUMBUS, O., June 9.-The committee of coal operators who are here today to confor with committees representing the miners went into executive session at 9 o'clock, The joint meeting was held later in Lyn don ha!!. J. B. Serbe of Cleveland, an operator, was made chairman, and William Warner, a miner, secretary, with Frank S. Brooks of the operators as assistant. The joint committe appointed as a committee on scale of wages Operators F. L. Robbins and William Taylor, Pennsylvania; A. L. Sweet and E. T. Bent, northern Illinois; W. S. Bogel and J. S. Talley of Indiana.

On the part of the miners the scale committee is composed of John McBride of Ohio, P. H. Penna of Indians, Joshua Dinkerly of Pennsylvania, James M. Murray of Illinois, Cameron Miller of Ohio, A. A. Adams of Ohio and John H. Kearns of In diana.

The meeting is small because of its being composed of representatives. The operators represent over two-thirds of the bituminous coal fields in the United States. More than half of the miners are represented. Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and northern and eastern Illinois is the territory epresented by operators. The representa ives of Ohio operators are: H. L. Chap-nan, Jackson district; J. S. Morton, W. S. Courtland and C. Marvin, Hocking district B. Serbe, A. G. Blair and A. E. Woodford western Ohio.

Western Pennsylvania is represented by

M. H. Taylor, F. L. Robbins and John Blythe; northern Illinois by W. H. Holcomb, A. L. Sweet, Harry Taylor, E. T. Burt, S. M. Dalsell; Indiana by W. S. Bogle, J. K. Siebert, A. M. Ogle, Joseph Martin, David Ingle, I Kenner and J. S. Talley.

The representatives of the miners are all shown on the scale committee.
R. H. Johnson asked at the opening if this was a meting of the various districts. Mr. Chapman replied that it was, but he was anxious to have all persons present who were interested in the coal business and that the general public should know all that was said.

The rules of the Cleveland convention were adopted for the use of this convention.

Mr. Morris of Cleveland, understanding that the meeting was suggested by the miners, asked to hear from them.

In response John McBride said the usual plan was to appoint a scale committee, but before doing so the miners desired to hear from the Pennsylvania operators as to what interests were represented and what influence any split among them might have.

M. H. Taylor has accepted the invitation to come here with the understanding that the miners have receded from the position they held at Cleveland. Sixty-three Pitts burg operators favored settlement, fifty three were opposed. Out of this number fourteen represented miners in the big vein district, who would not pay the same price as other operators. It was not fair that they should. However, if a fair agreement was reached thirty-four of the opposing mines would join the sixty-three in accepting the scale. Colonel Sweet said Illinois would stand by any reasonable agreement made a

The scale committee, as above noted, was then appointed and the meeting adjourned until 4 p. m. to give the scale committee time to work and operators time to confer with each other. 'An Indiana man said his state would stand by any reasonable proposition. There is a seling that an adjustment will be reached It is known that men on both sides are will-ing to agree on 69 cents per ton for the Pittsburg district, 60 cents for the Hocking Valley and other districts in proportion The miners, however, will try to have that scale adopted for summer, with an advance of 5 cents for winter.

The committee did not report at 4 o'clock m. as was exyected, and after waiting intil 6 o'clock, them eeting adjourned until 8 p. m., when the scale committee asked for still further time, and the meeting ad-journed till Monday morning.

CONFERRED TO NO PURPOSE.

Meetings Between Miners and Operators that Resulted in Nothing. KANSAS CITY, June 9.-Only a small minority of operators came to this city today to meet the miners. None of the Kansas miners are represented, as the mines in that state are all in operation. The operators state they will concede nothing, and the miners are firm in holding out for their demands. It was after midnight when the conference adjourned. No decision had been reached but the consensus of opinion among the delegates is that the strike will be settled at tomorrow's meeting, both sides having MERCER, Pa., June 9 .- A conference of coal operators and miners is being held here this afternoon. Miners' delegates are pres-ent from Stoneboro, Butler, Newcastle, Wam-oum, Jackson Center, Hall shaft and Sandy ake. A number of operators are also present. A conciliatory feeling prevails.

LATROBE, Pa., June 9.—Up to noon the conference between the miners and operators of this district had falled to materialize so far as the latter were concerned. Only one operator, M. A. Preston, came and he re-mained but a very short time. NEWCASTLE, Pa., June 9.—The miners' delegates of Lawrence county left for Mercer today to attend a conference of operators and miners. It is the general impression that the strike is off so far as Lawrence, Beaver, Butler and Mercer counties are con-ALTOONA, Pa., June 8 .- The conference of operators and miners of the Central Pennsyl vania region today struck a deadlock at the outaget. All of the operators and miners are represented. The operators expressed a willingness to confer with the miners as individuals, but not as an organization. District President Bradley told the operators that the result of the conference would have to be referred to National President McBride. The operators say this was not the understanding. The miners went to the hall engaged for the conference and waited for the operators to put in an appearance. The operators has appointed a committee to confer with the miners.

Harry Berwynd, speaking for the operators, says they came to meet their miners. who are not here. The operators will not consent to be governed by what is done in other districts or by what may be determined by President McBride. The operators are willing to do anything that is reasonable to end the strike. The price of mining has not been discussed. District President Bradley has wired the situation to National President McBride, and is walting instructions. It is bardly probable that any conference will be held.

CENTRAL CITY, Ky., June 9.—At 1:45 no agreement had been reached by the miners and operators. It looks now like will probably be no amicable adjust before late this afternoon if at all. LOUISVILLE, Colo., June 9,-At a meeting of coal miners a letter was read saying that if the Louisville men did not quit work the southern miners would come up 1,500 strong and make them. The United Coal company's niners have notified Receiver Brooks that if their March and April wages are not paid them by June 18 they will go out on strike.

FIREMAN'S SKULL PRACTURED.

Miners Stone an Engine in Ohio and Elude the Troops.

BELLAIRE, O., June 9 .- Miners stoned an engine hauling a coal train at Neff's landing, and Charles Bailey, the fireman, was struck in the head and his skull fractured. Engineer Schwartz was also slightly injured. Colonel Gyg of the Eighth regiment made a search for the assailants, but they could not be found. The miners have stopped all trains from crossing the Ohio river at Henwood.

MOVING COAL TRAINS SLOWLY.

Soldiers Assist Materially in Getting the Blocade Opened.

BRIDGEPORT, O., June 9 .- The Cleveland, Lorraine & Wheeling road has sent out four coal trains so for today, bound for Cleveland. Each train has on board a detachment of soldiers, who were greeted by hoots and jeers from the miners as the trains passed along the road. No resistance was offered by the miners entil the first train reached Barton, eight miles north, where it was held up by a big crowd of strikers, and still remains at that place, ap-parently awaiting for reinforcements before

After a short delay a train loaded with soldiers came up from Bridgeport and the strikers were quickly dispersed. The coal trains then started northward again and the railway officials anticipate no further rouble until Uhrichsville is reached, where the miners are reported to be massed in large numbers with the intention of holding up trains hauling coal.
WHEELING, W. Va., June 9.—A train of twelve cars loaded with Monongahela river coal destined for Pittsburg and Cleveland moved out under a guard of deputies about noon without hindrance. As soon as the mob at Boggs Run, two miles below, heard of this, they started over the hills to head the train off at Elm Grove, six miles from this city on the Pittsburg division of the Baltimore & Ohio. At the present writing the situation is quiet, but may become serious strikers resist the military.

WHEELING, W. Va., June 9.—Five companies of the West Virginia state militia arived over the Ohio River railroad today and encamped south of town. They were rein-forced by later arrivals and moved on the Boggs Run yards. The rioters retreated, but placed obstructions at dozens of places along the road into this city, and the troops were several hours moving the first train. No shots were fired, but bayonets were used SOMERSET, Pa., June 9.—Late last night he tipples of the Brubacker & Coleman mines, near Berlin, Pa., were completely de-stroyed by dynamite. The mines have been in operation day and night and last night was the first time for several weeks that a force has not been working in the mines. On ac-

Accepted the Adverse Situation with the Best Grace Possible. DENVER, June 9 .- Sheriff Bowers, whose armed deputies were turned back yesterday by the militia when advancing on Bull Hill, telegraphed Governor Waite asking him to withdraw the troops if they were not to aid the sheriff. The governor replied: "If the deputies resist the orders to General Brooks to suppress insurrection they resist the lawful power of the state."

Sheriff Bowers concluded to accept the situation and there will be no wholesale arrests. The warlike attitude of the miners is so far changed that many of those for whom warrants have been issued have scattered in all directions, and it is not at all likely that Sheriff Bowers will find many of the men whom he wants.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 9.—The deputies marched through Victor and ar-rested fourteen men without warrants. General Brooks regards this as an aggressive move and has advised Governor Waite to declare martial law. The men are all under arms and formed for battle and the cannon and gatling guns are so trained as to rake the camp of the deputies. General Brooks only awaits orders from Governor
