THE DMARK DALLY BEEN TURNEY, JUNE 12 1894

TENNIS TOURNEY OPENED

Nominal Beginning Made in Spite of the Rain of Yesterday.

TWO FIRST-ROUND MATCHES PLAYED

Battin Beats Naudain and Pierson Beats Dickey-Courts in Good Shape and Play Will Be Started Early Today-Other Sport,

Tennis players have come to know that a tournament is a surer rain producer than any amount of dynamite exploded in the sky. It seems as if it was too good an opportunity for the weather clerk to dispose of man's hopes. No sooner does the date that has been set aside for a tennis tourney come around than, for a surety, the heavens will open and the rain descend. Yesterday morning it looked as if it would be out of the question to expect any play at all on the courts at Twenty-third and Harney streets, and a notice that the tournament had been postponed until today was posted on the gate. But this was only another man's proposition, which was disposed of as the day advanced. The sun came out and the wind blew, and by 5 o'clock in the afternoon one court was in excellent condition. save for a small patch in the center, where the court is least used. This was marked out ready for a start, and another court was also prepared, although the traces of the morning's downpour were still abundantly apparent.

But with only two courts fit to use only two matches were played off, and the start was, therefore, little more than a nominal ne. Pierson and Dickey were the first in ourt and they had considerable of a tussie before the event was decided in favor o Plerson. Dickey received 15 and this proved sufficient to enable him to win a set. The score of 7-5, 3-6, 6-2 shows better than words now even the handicap had made the two players, and especially so as the stronger

In the other court Battin met Naudain, living him 15. The general impression eemed to be that he would win in spite of the handicap, and there was some surprise evinced when the younger man captured the first set. Battle was putting in some extremely long strokes, but there were not enough of them to win the games that he wanted, and with his opponent one point ahead of him at the opening of every game he found it very uphill work to make any headway. In the second set, however, he pulled himself together, and hitting all the time with greater confidence he took the remaining two sets with more and more case

The following are the results in the two matches that were decided yesterday:

Men's singles—First round:

J. W. Battin (scratch) beat T. N. Naudain (15), 3-6, 6-2, 6-1. R. Pierson (scratch) beat C. S. Dickey 5), 7-5, 3-6, 6-2. There still remains seven matches in the first round of the singles, and the fourteen competitors who are involved in these seven matches are expected to be on the ground in good time tonight to get things moving. It is impossible to have the tournament stringing out for week after week, and if the competitors do not appear at the time they are wanted they are liable to have their names crossed off and their opponents given a walk-over. It is very likely that one or more matches in the doubles may be put into court tonight, always providing of course that there is no more delay from rain, and every one who is entered in either of these events is warned that the saftest place for him to be for the last few hours before dark this evening will be on the courts of the Omaha Lawn Tennis club. Yesterday's attendance can hardly be taken as a criterion of the number of people that are likely to put in an appearance later in the week, for the reason that it had become very generally understood that nothing would be attempted yesterday on account of the condition of the courts; but there have been a considerable number of season tickets sold and no doubt the number of others who will pay their little dime for a few minutes view of the game on one of the nights will to come through the venture without financia

SEVERAL DUMPS AT LATONIA.

Good Things on the Card All Proved Costly to the Talent. CINCINNATI, June 11.-An excellent card was offered to the 2,000 persons who came out to Latonia today. The track was lightning fast, the weather clear and pleasant, and the betting lively. One solitary favorite came first under the wire in the six events. Little Miss, in the first, was left standing still. She was equally played with Advo-cate for a time, and nearly as much money was dumped on her as on Advocate, who ran second. Tancred (8 to 5) and Jidonlen (3 to 2), in the fifth and sixth races, were the only favorites who did not get a mark. The day wound up with a startling surprise in the victory of Partner, on whom as high as 30 to 1 was offered. Results:

First race, mile and twenty yards; Ell (7 to 1) won, Advocate (5 to 2) second, Footrunner (8 to 1) third. Time: 1:43½.

Second race, mile and seventy yards: Pomfret (2 to 1) won, Bob L (6 to 1) second, Little Walter (7 to 1) third. Time: 1:45%.

Third race, five furlongs: Lady Diamond (4 to 1) won, Voladora (3 to 1) second, Miss Reynolds (6 to 1) third. Time: 1:01%.

Fourth race, one mile: Nephew (even) won, King Charlle (7 to 2) second, Tariff Reform (6 to 1) third. Time: 1:42%.

Fifth race, nine-sixteenths of a mile: Satsuma (3 to 1) won, Bookle (7 to 1) second, Shanty Bob (10 to 1) third. Time: was dumped on her as on Advocate, who

Partner (20 to 1) won, Sir Rohe (5 to 1) second, Little Fish (4 to 1) third. Time: 0:56%. Fair Grounds Favorites Floored. ST. LOUIS, June 11 .- Today's card at the Fair Grounds was a good one, and withe track lightning fast some good spewas witnessed by the good crowd in a tendance. The results, however, were series of dumps for the talent, but o favorite, Ethel Gray, landing in front. Tourth and sixth events presented to fourth and sixth events presented the somewhat remarkable feature of a split handicap. There were twenty-three acceptances to the fourth, and the field was divided to make the sixth race, an occurrence quite infrequent. Results:

Eventful Day at Morris Park.

NEW YORK, June II.—It was a stiffing hot day at Morris park, and the track was as fast as lightning. In the All Breeze stakes the spectators were treated to a stirring finish between Stonenell and Roche, in which the former won by the shortest of heads in a hard drive. It is probable Roche might have won if Midgeley had not bungled. An eighth of a mile from the finish Roche had Stonenell driving, and could have taken the lead, but the boy waited until it was too late, and although he was gaining rapidly on the Dwyer sprinter the distance was too short and Midgely was clearly outridden, although he had the best horse. W B, a rank outsider, captured the second race from the favorites, Romer and Willfonse. In the third race St. Maxim was an odds-on favorite, and won in a romp. When the stretch was reached Griffin tried to make a short cut on the inside with Atrophine. As he did this the colt's leg broke off short at the pastern joint. The colt was a full brother to St. Leonards, and was shot soon after he was taken to the stable. In the last race Arab won easily from Tom Skidmore in 1:39, a record for the track. Results:

First race, five furlongs: Addie (7 to 1) won, Prig (30 to 1) second, Peter the Great (30 to 1) third. Time: 1:404.

Third race, Pocante county handicap, one mile: St. Maxim (1 to 2) won, Ornus (2 to 1) second, Harrington (25 to 1) third. Time: 1:404.

Sporting I ditors Day. The Sandy Griswolds and the Omaha Juniors had a hot game of ball yesterday Juniors had a hot game of ball yesterday morning, but, of course, Mausger Ellington's pets won. Kessler was terribly hoggish. He used his authority just as he pleased. He shut out fiteen men, while on the other hand the Sporting Editors knocked four pitchers all over the field. Manager Ellington stuck his finger in the pie himself yesterday by nailing his frame in shortstop and doing well. The feature of the game was the fine pitching of Kessler and the fire base running of Coleman. Score:

Let's nor the Saints took three straight from the Rourkes down on their own cellar door last week, didn't they? Well, Papa Bill says he intends to return the compliment. If he does that will leave us but an eyelash behind the leaders. Then when Rock Island comes here next week we will jump into the lead. The St. Joes play here today, Wednesday and Thursday, Friday and Saturday Omaha is in Lincoln and Sunday next Hickey's farm hands will be here for a game which has been transferred from the capital here. The games this week are important ones, and as the St. Joes are in the lead great crowds will assuredly turn out to see how they do it.

Police Commissioners Disposed to Stop Raids by Officers on Householders.

OFFENSIVE ODOR ABOUT SEAVEY'S ORDER

Haze and Shoop on Trial for Entering Private Dwellings Without Proper Authority-Excuses Which They Have to Offer.

The Board of Fire and Police Commissioners last night heard charges against Chief Detective Haze and Sergeant Shoop, who are accuesed of unlawfully entering Mrs. McKray's house at 1817 Leavenworth street on two different occasions. Attorney Simeral conducted the case in behalf of the complainants, while Mr. Haze icted as his own lawyer. Mrs. McKray was the first witness. She said that she leases the flat at 1817 Leavenworth street and sublets rooms. She said that she had been married to George McKray for twelve years. On the night of May 31, Haze and Shoop called at her residence, rang the hall door bell and without waiting for an answer, came into her house and began searching the rooms. They came to the room occupied by Mr. Shelby and a woman who Mrs. MrKray had been informed was his wife. They opened the door and walked in, Shoop lighting the gas. Haze came out and asked her if she was keeping any girls there and said that he would take down her name and report her so that Chief Seavey could decide whether or not she could live there any longer or would have to get out and move down into the "burnt district." The men went away, but they came back again about 11 o'clock on the night of June 6, and searched the house in spite of her protests. When she net Haze and Shoop at the door she told them that they could not come into her house unless they had legal authority, but they pushed her to one side and told her that hey were in now and wanted to know what she was going to do about it. They used insulting language in her presence. the cross-examination Haze tried to go into the past differences which had arisen be-tween McKray and his wife, but the board concluded that this had no bearing on the

ase. Haze then drew out Chief Seavey's some what notorious order appointing him and Shoop to the special duty of driving the immoral women into the district or else drive them out of the city. After the order was read Commissioner Strickler said that he thought it was the duty of the officers to go into Mrs. Kray's residence and form into Mrs. Kray's residence and search for supposedly improper characters. Hartman, Smith and Coburn thought thart these men had gone a little too far in this instance. Mrs. McKray then denied that the accu pants of any of her rooms invited the of ficers to enter. She also said that whe they were about ready to leave Haze that they would come to her house and come in whenever they felt so disposed.

F. D. Thomas, who has roomed at Mc

Kray's for five years, said that he was in his room the first time that the officer came, and that he was entertaining a lady acquaintance, but that this did not stop Shoop from pushing open his door and asking him was married. He heard Shoop accus Mrs. McKray of being a prostitute, and say-ing that she ought to be down in the district. He and Shoop hod some words when Thomas was disturbed on the occasion of their second visit.

CHIEF SEAVEY EXPLAINS. Chief Seavey said that he issued the order to Haze and Shoop as the ministerial officer of Omaha, and that he expected them to compel every known prostitute to move ou of the residence or business portion of the city and get out of town or else go into the burnt district. He did not know what construction the officers had placed on his orders, but he expected them to obey their injunctions to the letter.

Haze said that he wanted to understand just what the chief meant by his order, and Attorney Simeral suggested that it was rather late for him and Shoop to begin seel ing information after all that they had been doing. Haze said that he thought that the had done some good, as he and Shoop had notified sixteen couples to quit living in adultery and that six of these couples had married since receiving his orders to move. Seavey claimed that it was not necessary for these officers to have warrants to enter houses where they believed that lewd wome were domiciled. This lead to qui This lead to a lengthy discussion as to whether Seavey was responsible for issuing an order that is illegal or whether Haze and Shoop had placed their own construction upon i and used their discretionary powers to commit illegal acts. Seavey said that the offi-cers had the right to enter any building cers had the right to where they had good reasons to believe there was a known prostitute, but he said that he did not issue the order with the expectation that these men would forcibly enter private residences.

Then Haze wanted to know how he was to discover such people unless he could enter a building at all times without

STORY OF THE OFFICERS. Sergeant Shoop said that he understood the order to mean that he and Haze were to go through Omaha and drive the prostitutes into the "burnt district." He said that a Mrs. Sommers, who had been accused of running a house of assignation at 622 South Sixteenth street, told him and Haze when they visited her place that they ought to give Mrs. McKray a call, as she had a couple rooming with her who were not married. He said that they did so and found a man and woman living there and the man acknowledged that he was not married. He said that he also married. He said that he also found a woman in Mr. Thomas' room, but saw nothing wrong. He also a girl named Eva Trihune in one of the rooms, whom he and Haze had ordered to leave the Karbach block. He acknowledged that Mrs. McKray told them when they went to her house for the second time that they could not come to unless they had the proper authority, but that they went in anyway. He said that people had told him that Mrs. McKray was running a house of bad reputation, but his memory was so defective just then that he ould not recall the name of any of his informants. George Lodge, an employe of the Union Pacific, said that he had heard that Mrs. McKray's flats were in bad repute, but he refused to give the name of any person who told him this.

J. E. Loomis, driver for hose cart No. 5. was the next witness, and with brazen ef-frontery he related acts of adultery which he committed with a woman who was room-ing at Mrs. McKray's last summer, when she kept rooms on Sixteenth street. He said that he had occupied a room with this person on several nights, but was not aware that the landlady knew anything about his acts. Andy Haze, a brother of one of the ac-cused officers, and W. W. Cox, an ex-policeman, were called by Haze as witnesses, but as they knew nothing having any direct bearing on the case the board excused them. Chief Haze said that he concurred in all that Shoop had testified to, in fact he agreed with his brother officer word for word. He also denied insulting Mrs. McKray. He marked that in serving Sesvey's order marked that in serving Seavey's order he was between the devil and the deep sea. If he carried out its provisions he had to act in an illegal manner, and if he didn't the chief would have him before the board for refusing to obey his superior officer. He said he understood the law well enough to know that he had no right to enter any house in the manner that he did, and that he would have no recourse if he was ashe would have no recourse if he was as saulted by the occupants. He said that the not act in a strictly legal manner, but what be did was in good faith. He said that in the performance of his duty he was fre-quently compelled to enter houses in such amanner. He said that they had all sorts of information about flats and tenants, and that they had to be governed largely by circumstances.

Attorney Simeral denounced the chief's or der and the manner in which it was being enforced, and read decisions and statute showing that it was absolutely without any legal foundation. Commissioners Coburn and Hartman remarked that they were in favo and Shoop to cease working under it. Court Officer Walker pleaded guilty to

gation into the sale of liquors in houses of prostitution and the board referred the matter to the county attorney, as none of them seemed to want to prosecute the women fo selling liquor without a city license

Firemen Crowley and Vanderford were given ten dayst leave of absence. The board informed Judge Berka that Chief Seavey or either of his captains could accept bonds in cases where a ballable offense had been committed.

had been committed.

Complaint were made against three saloon keepers, but as usual there was not enough evidence upon which to base an action, and Commissioner Strickler said that the whole matter was getting to be a farce, and that if they could not keep the saloons closed on Sunday he was in favor of letting them run wide open.

The board went into executive session, but took no action on the questions under consideration, and adjourned until this evening.

AN INTERESTING STORY.

AND CAREFULLY RECORDED

A Page From Real Life Which Can Be Read

With Interest and Is Certain To Be of Vaine,

On a recent Sunday afternoon the writer gave interested attention to the narration which follows. It is here reproduced almost exactly in the words of the lady from whose lips it fell-Mrs. S. C. Cook of 250 Tompkins ivenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook and myself sat at the front windows of their home overlooking the park, as Mrs. Cook gave this leaflet out of her life, one of her little children nestling against her knee.

"My husband and I have been married." said the lady, "almost nine years. Before my marriage I was often tired, weak, exhausted, and my strength seemed to be passing from me. I was then troubled a great deal with indigestion and dyspepsia, and sometimes since. I would be well two or three months and sick two or three months, off and on. That was the history of several years-sleeping badly and suffering. I could not eat any solid food. I lived on boiled milk, taken hot, right off the stove. That was my diet, and I got very tired of it; but I was afraid to touch anything else.

"Now to get back to the year 1893, last year, was a long and sad one for me. As the warm weather came on I hoped to get better, but did not. The opening buds on the trees out there in the park found me as weak, low and miserably as I had been in the winter. I was losing flesh and strength, slowly but surely, all the time. My nerves were feeble and shaken so that my sleep was habitually bad.

"At last, by the advice of my friends, I went to Peckskill, where I remained for some time, but my friends saw I was growing thinner, and expressed the opinion to one another that I was in a decline.

"The doctor suggested that I take cod liver oil, but I told him I couldn't bear the looks or the taste of it, either in its natural state or as an emulsion. He looked grave at this, but said no more about it. So I lay there and lingered and sank; that is all there is to say of the results of my trip to the country."

"Every time I went up to visit my wife," said Mr. Cook, "I could see she was much thinner and more feeble than before, although she didn't like to admit it." "Well," continued the lady, "I felt that if it were physically possible I must get home, and so, on the 3d of November, they wrapped me up and brought me home, what was left of me; and what there was of me weighed just 98 pounds, 37 pounds less than I weighed in my girlhood. Here I could do nothing, eat nothing; only wait for what might happen. had tried doctors and drugs-often useful to others—but of no use to me.

"On the next day after my return my husband brought me a bottle of pre-digested food, and said a friend of his recommended it, and hoped I would try it. I tasted it, and it tasted good, nothing like cod-liver oil. I began taking it according to the directions without feeling the least confidence in it or indulging any hope from it. But it did have a good effect, and that quickly. It gave me an appetite.

"I could eat the old kinds of food and they didn't distress me. Then I began to get some strength. At the end of a week, to my surprise and delight, I found I had gained two pounds. At the end of the second week, two more. And so on, gaining two pounds every week.

is eight weeks now, and I weigh 114 pounds, just 16 pounds more than when I came home. I can eat anything, have no pain, no cough, no headache, can run up stairs like a girl, and I know you will be lieve me when I say it is all due to Paskola."

And you think the pre-digested food, Paskola, did all this for you, Mrs. Cook?"
"Certainly; if it didn't, what did? I never felt so well and like living in ten years as !

do now."
"It isn't my wife's increase in weight Cook: "but look at alone," remarked Mr. Cook; "but look at her! her strength! her enjoyment of herself! her bright spirits! She had none of those things till Paskola gave them to her. If it can do as much for other people, through her statement being published, why it ought to be published."

"What my husband says, I say," added Mrs. Cook; "anything less would be ingratitude on my part and culpable indifference to the suffering of others."

Has this case any lesson for you? Are you thin? Are you famishing for food which the palate refuses and the stomach cannot digest? Are you pale for the want of red blood? Are you chilly because you have not flesh to feed the vital fire? Are you weak because your food is not assimilated? Are you slowly sinking like a scuttled ship? Milions are. Abandon the use of drugs and medicines, and test the successful modern scientific treatment. Paskola is a food, and enables the system to use all other foods. It arrests emaciation, re-establishes nutrition, fills up the hollow cheeks, and out of weakness develops power.

A pamphlet giving full particulars respecting Paskola will be sent on application to the Pre-Digested Food Co., 30 Reade street,
