WOODEN PAVEMENTS.

However early the president of France may be changed the French republic never dies.

To wait so long for the postoffice and then to have the emolument cut down in cruelty which even patient and long-suffering democrats must resent.

Governor Waite seems to have let go the opportunity offered by the Republican league meeting without making another bid for notoriety.

The populists in the senate must be enjoying their possession of the balance of power in this tariff debate more than they would have the responsibility of a majority on the shoulders of their party.

Anything that escapes the judiciary committee of the city council is caught in the drag net of the joint committee.

Denver is being made the testing grounds for determining the resistance which democratic armor plates offer to shots of republican oratory.

Omaha is not suffering from a building epidemic, but it is doing as much in the building line as other cities in the west.

The scramble for the appointment to the position now held by Major Puray on the Board of Public Works will be over next Tuesday.

Wiley is in no haste to have the city take steps toward completing arrangements for city electric lighting after his present contracts shall have expired.

Senator Peffer wants to amend the tariff so as to include an import duty of 50 per cent upon every immigrant coming into this country.

It is always unpopular for anybody to advocate the cutting down of the salary list, but when it becomes a question whether there is to be a deficit in the treasury or an unbearable increase of taxes it is manifest that retrenchment is a matter of necessity.

The constitutional power of congress to raise revenue for the support of the federal government by the imposition of import duties is undisputed.

Colonel Alkin is being quoted as the chief arbiter of the destiny of all the school man's and regulator of all the internal and external affairs of the Board of Education.

Des Moines deserves to be congratulated upon capturing the national convention of the Republican league next year.

The council will not give the mayor an opportunity to know whether it proposes to confirm or reject Mr. Schurig as city electrician until next Monday night.

REPUBLICAN LEAGUE PRINCIPLES.

The declaration of principles adopted by the National League of Republican Clubs is in the main commendable.

The declaration in regard to protection is judicious in omitting to endorse any specific act. It is quite enough for republicans to stand squarely by the principles of protecting the industry, the labor and the homes of this country.

The declaration regarding the currency should have stopped at the first sentence. It would then have been unqualifiedly endorsed by all republicans.

Except the reference to woman suffrage, which also shows the influence of environment, there is no serious objection to be urged against other portions of the league platform.

CARNOT'S SUCCESSOR.

Although there were several candidates for the presidency of the French republic, the contest in the national assembly over the selection of a successor to the late President Carnot was short, and appears to have been entirely free from any of the intrigue and strong feeling between factions which usually mark events of this kind.

President Perier is as earnest in his republicanism as was his lamented predecessor and quite as strongly devoted to a strong and stable government.

There has been a tremendous ebullition of popular passion directed against the Italians, with a tendency to reach out to other foreigners, but the government has shown no countenance, and probably no complications will arise from it.

THE PENNSYLVANIA DEMOCRATS.

The democrats of Pennsylvania, who held their state convention yesterday, have not learned anything from the crushing defeat they sustained last February.

STATES OF THE STATE SCHOOL FUND.

The decision of the supreme court granting the writ of mandamus prayed for by one of the capital warrant brokers to compel the state treasurer to register general fund warrants in order that interest may accrue upon them.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE.

claim that the enactment of the tariff of 1890 impaired international exchange of commodities is most conclusively disproved by the statistics of our foreign trade during the two years following the enactment of the McKinley law.

What, having been the difficulty, and what promise to continue to be the difficulty for some time, is that a considerable portion of the permanent school fund must remain idle on account of the impossibility of securing the proper securities in sufficient amounts.

It is hardly probable that any but speculators and warrant brokers will prefer to hold warrants drawn upon exhausted state funds for no other reason than to secure the interest to which the law entitles them.

A JUDICIAL ANARCHIST.

Anarchy is defined to be that state of society where there is no law or supreme power; in other words, an absence of government and a state of general lawlessness.

Whenever anything is done in connection with the fire department that does not exactly suit the fire insurance companies the business men of the city are immediately threatened with a raising of the rates on the policies which they hold.

The populist Wealth-Makers prints Prof. Heron's commencement address and entitles it "The Great Oration."

Suspicion Added to Contempt. Louiseville Courier-Journal. Senator Gorman is said to have declared that the senate investigation into senatorial stock jobbing has done nothing but bring ridicule upon the senate.

IOWA'S PRIVATE SON.

Candidates for the presidency come and go. Many are called, but few are chosen.

STATES OF THE STATE SCHOOL FUND.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE.

Minneapolis Journal: The Nebraska democrats have split on the silver question. It is a matter of congratulation that there are some democrats in that state who are sane enough to object to a proposition to stomp down to the silver standard of 50-cent currency.

Courier-Journal: Some of the Nebraska democrats have said the silver horse is six feet high, and they propose to stick to it and swear by it and legislate on it. Why don't these Nebraska democrats also resolve that a bucket of wheat is equal to a dollar in gold or a barrel of pork to $20 in the yellow metal?

Chicago Record: If the great state of Colorado is not already sick of the miserable messengers which have lately characterized its public proceedings the last outrage ought to suffice to make it so.

TAR AND TARSENY.

Chicago Post: The assault on Adjutant General Tarseny at Colorado Springs was contemptible, and one has little patience with the newspapers and individuals that attempt to stave off the responsibility of the strike at Cripple Creek.

PERSPICUOUS PLEASANTY.

Puck: The tramp will not descend to slang when it comes to using "sop" as a synonym of money.

SPARE MOMENTS.

Brooklyn Life. He wrote letters to the papers, saying 'twas a crying shame. To run open cars unless the day was matter how it rained.

Chicago Post. William Stacey of Iowa Falls was charged with being engaged in some land swindling scheme and the Texas wished to discourage him.

A JOYFUL PROSPECT.

Chicago Post. The brightest prospect of the tariff bill carries with it that of an early adjournment of congress after its passage, which will remove the principal obstacles to the restoration of prosperity.

PSALM OF THE SENATOR.

Sullivan. Tell me not in mournful numbers Life is but a tale of woe, For the trusts and corporations Make it pleasant here below.
