New Phase of the Social Evil Crusade at Lincoln.

VALIDITY OF THE ORDINANCE QUESTIONED

Efforts Being Made to Compel the Mayor and ills Friends to Rely on the State Law in the Fight.

LINCOLN. June 29 .- (Special to The Bee.) For some time the mayor of Lincoln has been waging a crusade on the social evil, and with very fair success. But now comes an attorney with a motion for a new trial, in which he attacks the validity of the ordinance under which the convictions have been had. This ordinance imposes a fine of from $20 to $100 on frequenters of the disreputable resorts, but as incorporated in the present code has no title attached. The attorney in question appears to be very confident that the ordinance will be declared void, in which case the moral reformers will have to fall back on the state law. D. E. Thompson, Ed Bignell and their political followers are said to have fixed up a slate like this: For senators, L. C. Pace and G. W. Eggleston; for representatives, F.

C. Munger, Joe Burns, Paul T. Clark, E. R. Spencer and J. C. F. McKesson.

The publication of this piece of news by the Evening News created something of a sensation among local politicians and a number of them have since been out with sledge hammers looking for the slate. The evening paper in publishing this ticket pertinently inquires as to the identity of D. E. Thompson and explains that he is a late director of the Capital National bank, and runs the electric light and gas companies of the city of Lincoln, while Ed Bignell is the super-intendent of the B. & M. railroad and the

The State Journal looks upon the Thompson slate with a very friendly eye and says so in its issue of this morning.

The Fourth ward is left out of the combination because it has two candidates, neither of whom, it is said, can be worked by the railroads. However true this may be, the ward is out in the cold. A red hot caucus was held by the Fifth ward last night and the indications are that Langester. and the indications are that Lancaster county has on hand one of the hottest cam-paigns in its history. A meeting of the State Board of Agriculture was held at the Lincoln hotel last night for the purpose of completing arrangements for the state fair. Those present were: President R. H. Henry, J. B. Dinsmore, M. Doclittle, M. Dunham, S. M. Barker, E. A. Barpes, E. L. Vance and Robert W. Furnas. The state was districted for Furnas. The state band is having a hard row to hoe these days. Some time ago, in response to the request of the clergy of the city, it gave up its Sunday night concerts, which was a source of considerable income, and inaugurated a series of week night entertainments in a pavilion erected for the purpose. These have not been properly patronized, and the band is losing money.

Tecumseh to reorganize a militia company there. The supreme court decision in relation to the liability of church property for special taxes is considered with great complacency by the city fathers of Lincoln. Something like $40,000 for special paving taxes and been levied in this city against church properties and a former decision of the supreme court, which came after the levy had been made, left the city just that much in the hole. New bonds were at once issued to meet the deficiency and sold. Now that the court has held that the churches are liable it is probable that these will be redeemed. At any rate the city is $40,000 better off. There were opposition Catholic entertain-ments in the city this evening.
