CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE

Puture Prospects Very Satisfactory to Retailers and Jobbers Alike.

AUCTION SALES OF CALIFORNIA FRUIT

June Closes With a Very Fair Movement of Goods in a Jobbing Way, but Shrinkage in Values Makes Showing Poorer.

The jobbers of Omaha are full of enthusiasm over the magnificent outlook for the corn crop of Nebraska, and their confidence increases in proportion to the improvement noticeable in that crop from day to day. Almost all jobbers are receiving reports daily from their traveling men and customers, and the cheering news contained in these reports during the past ten days is responsible for the good feeling manifest everywhere in the jobbing district of Omaha. As usual, at this season of the year, business is not so very active, but still there is a very fair volume of goods moving. The shrinkage in values has been so great in many lines of merchandise that it requires a good many more goods than it did a year ago to amount to the same in dollars. For that reason, when the totals are examined alone and compared with those of a year ago there is danger of one being misled as to the actual volume of goods moving out from jobbers' hands. Orders for fall goods are coming in quite freely, and from their size it would appear that the retail merchants of the state have considerable confidence in the future of business. The fact that farmers are very busy their corn fields just at present is no doubt keeping down the volume of trade in a re-tail way in the country. Still, collections are generally reported as fully up to the average for this reason.

Unquestionably there are some signs of an improvement in the business situation. They are to be noticed in a revival of interest on the part of buyers, which is an ex-cellent indication of some improvement in business. Under this influence prices have advanced in the various markets of the country on some few lines, at least. During the past month cash wheat has risen 5c, and June corn nearly 3c. Pork has advanced 50@75c per barrel. In many lines of merchandise there has been a stiffening of val-ues, if nothing more. In cases where no

Glorious Week for Crops-Retail Busines Somewhat Under the Weather

Mr. W. H. Roberson, local manager of R. G. Dun & Co., speaking of trade, says. "This has been a glorious week for Nebraska, rains almost everywhere and crop prospects improving as every day goes by. In some localities there is more rain than the exigencies demand, but generally speaking the ground is greedily absorbing all that falls and converting it into corn stalks. Our annual crop and trade report will be printed in Monday's papers and will show the situation all over Nebraska to be decidedly encouraging, although there are a few localities where everything is burned up, and farmers are completely discouraged. Taking the state at large, however, there never was a better prospect for a corn crop and never before have we had so large an acreage. All this means that Omaha will this fall have the largest wholesale trade in her history, provided, of course, that nothing interferes with the realization of our present hopes in regard to the corn crop. The reason for this is plain: Country merchants have reduced their stocks to the minimum. They are buying only from hand to mouth and at the nearest market. The stringency of the times and the extra care with regard to credits has forced many merchants who never before patronized this market to come here for their goods. They have been well treated and well satisfied. Consequently they may be regarded as regular customers. It is safe to say that of every 100 customers now buying in Omaha markets twenty-five have never before given this city their trade.

"The uncertainty in regard to tariff legislation has been perhaps more intense within the last week than at any time since the Wilson bill was introduced. This has a bad effect upon trade throughout the country, and even the interfor is affected. Eastern business men will do practically nothing in the way of new business until the tariff law is out of the way. It matters very little to the country at large whether it is passed or killed. All that business people want now is to know what they can depend upon.

"Retail business during the week has not been made and the can be a succession of the country at large whether it is passed or killed. All that business people want now is to know what they can depend upon.

"Retail business during the week has not been week has not the country at a succession." that falls and converting it into corn stalks. Our annual crop and trade report will be people want now is to know what they can depend upon.

"Retail business during the week has not been specially rushing, except at stores advertising special sales and otherwise forcing trade. There are comparatively few unemployed people in the city, but steady employment is not always available to the common laborers, and a reduction in salaries, combined with the uncertainty of positions, has induced usual customers of the retail stores to buy light. Savings banks show a gain in deposits, indicating that people are economizing. Local retail collections are reported better. Real estate collections are reported better. Real estate has never been more quiet.

"At the banks money is reported pienty and business duil. As an illustration of the depressed state of business generally I may state that a leading banker in this city who is worth millions and who has a great variety of interests, stated to a friend of mine recently that not one single branch of industry in which his money was employed was paying running expenses, and this included one of the large banks. He went farther and said that this condition had prevailed for a year and that, although ne was rated as a very rich man, he was actually annoyed at times for want of ready cash.

"This thing cannot continue. There must be a change and the change must be for the ready cash.

"This thing cannot continue. There must be a change and the change must be for the better. It is not legislation that is needed to bring about prosperity, but confidence and certainty. As soon as we are certain of the present we shall be confident of the future. The moral of this is that congress should transact its business without further delay and go home, and the demagogue should take a vacation.

"At South Omaha the week has been light, though receipts of hogs and sheep slightly exceed receipts of last week. In the cattle trade the week has been discouraging, receipts being light and foreign markets showing no improvement. Nevertheless, the fact that receipts were light has helped to hold prices steady. Hogs are still bringing a good price, and the Omaha market is holding its own. The strike is seriously affecting the stock market.

"The most serious strike that has been inaugurated for years is now on between the railway employees and the railway companies. It is strange indeed that at a time when everyloudy is anytous for everylous.

inaugurated for years is now on between the railway employes and the railway companies. It is strange indeed that at a time when everybody is anxious for employment and everybody else is economizing at every point that 100,000 men, or any other number, greater or less, should deliberately quit work and tie up the business of the entire country. This is the situation, however, and from the standpoint of trade it is deplorable. It hardly seems possible that the strikers can succeed. The railway companies have so much at stake in the matter that they will waste a great deal of time and money before they will yield. Meantime business is in danger of further paralyzation. Without expressing sympathy with either party, I cannot help saying that a more inopportune time for precipitating a financial disturbance such as this could not be found. It is to be hoped that the strike may be amicably settled before the week ends, though the hope is not likely to be realized.

"Lincoln, observing the good accomplished in Omaha, is organizing a commercial club. That wide awake city is developing a good jobbing trade, and the bankers there are fully as enterprising as the wholesale merchants. This may account for the statement made to an Omaha jobber by one of the Lincoln bankers that his bank had increased its country bank deposits $200,900 in the last four months."

Wheat was quiet within 46c to 56c range. Opening trades were at a %c loss and after that gaining 1/4c, declined from 1/4c to 1/4c, rallied from 1/2c to 1/2c, became quiet, changed some and closed easier. The principal factors in creating the weaker feeling, besides the more complicated railway labor troubles, were lower cables, the favorable weather for harvesting and the exports for the week, which were less than for some time. The market rallied a little on the closing Beerbohm cable, which quoted wheat at from 14c to 16c higher. Corn was generally firm within 1/2 to 1/4c houses kept prices up.

Oats were quiet within 1/2c range, some buying causing steadiness. Provisions, after a weak opening on the strike, rallied on buying by packers. Com-pared with last night September pork is 74c higher, September lard 24c higher and September ribs 24c lower.

OMAHA GENERAL MARKET. Condition of Trade and Quotations on Staple and Fancy Produce. The week closed wish the market generally steady on the leading lines of produce. Weather conditions in the cheese producing sections of the country have not been the best either for cows or for cheese making. Heat and flies have been uncomfortable features to struggle against. Not only is the milk shrinking, but it takes considerable more of it to make a pound of cheese. There is at hand the record taken from the books of one of the best factories in the country, showing how the ratio has increased since June 6. While the increase was not perfectly uniform, it was gradually progressing, until on the 15th it took 1,32 pounds more of milk to make a pound of cheese than it did on the 5th. This in itself would make a shrinkage of more than one-tenth, and when taken into connection with the decreased yield of milk it denotes quite a diminution in the make aiready. A year ago the sarinkage had scarcely begun to be perceptible.

Lemons, which ordinarily sell in this market at from 12 to 25.50 a box, were quoted today stiffly at 810 a box, while thousands of boxes are rotting between New Orleans and thiosago, lee, which ordinarily is 32 a ton, has risen to 119 a ton, and is scarce at that. Strawberries, meions and all kinds of garden produces have advanced in like fashion. The botels find themselves in a peculiarly unfortunate predica-ment. Travel is very generally cut off, the price of all articles of food materially increased.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

the Street. NEW YORK, June 30.-This was one of the dullest Saturday's on record at the Stock exchange, a fact which will be fully realized when it is known the total sales were, but 25,000 shares. The most active stock was Sugar, in which the transactions footed up but 4,000 shares, and the fluctuation therein were confined to a limit of % per cent, the last sale being at yesterday's closing price. In the grangers the movement was also very slight. Burlington and St. Paul were the only shares which made any special appearance in the trading and both are down 1/2 per cent on the day. Rock Island is unchanged and there was no dealing in Northwestern. Rubber is down 1 per cent, St. Paul & Omaha % per cent and Distilling absolutely featureless. Linseed oil shows a gain of 1½ per cent, Oregon Navigation, 2 per cent; Pullman, ½ per cent and New England, 14 per cent, with an improve-ment of a smaller fraction in the rest of the shares traded in. At the close the market was fairly firm. The bond market today was firm. Evening Post says: This was a Stock exchange holiday in London. So far as the transaction of business went it might as well have been a holiday here, for, in the existing situation, and especially with an intervening twenty-four hours in which events may take a sudden turn in either direction, speculators are as disinclined to touch the market as are investors. Receipts for June Foot Up to a Very Respectable Aggregate.

PACKERS HAD THEIR OWN WAY YESTERDAY

Absence of Speculators, Who Were Driven From the Market by the Strike, Gave the Local Dealers a Great Advantage Over Seilers.

SATURDAY, June 30.

Receipts for the past week show comparatively little change as compared with the previous week and the corresponding week last year, the principal differings being a decrease of nearly 10,000 hogs, as compared with the last week of June, 1893. June receipts show a big increase over last year. The following figures show how receipts have run for the past six months:

Receipts this week. 10.415 41,273 Receipts last week. 8.353 43,542 Receipts last week. 8.353 43,542 Receipts for June. 55,278 217,668 Receipts for May 68,517 187,876 Receipts June, 1893. 46,317 159,541 Receipts 6 months, '94,375,118 531,409 Receipts 6 months, '92,342,761 881,652 Receipts 6 months, '92,342,761 881,652 The cattle market has been for the most part dull and unsatisfactory the past week. Receipts have not been at all heavy, but from a variety of reasons the demand has been confined largely, almost exclusively, to local dressed beef houses, and as a result the heavier shipping and export grades have been more or less neglected, with prices discouragingly low as compared with the lighter cattle. Prices showed comparatively little change, how-ever, up to the latter part of the week, when, on account of light supplies, prices firmed up a trifle. The railroad strike, however, paralyzed the trade the past day or two and the market for the week closes 10c to 15c lower than last week on all except perhaps the handy fat grades that just suit the killers.

UNDER THE STRIKE EMBARGO. The market today was dull, dragging and generally about a dime lower. Railroads refused to take eastbound live stock on ac ount of the strike and sellers were practically left to the tender mercies of local killers, as shippers could do nothing. Owners could either sell their stock to the slaughterers or keep it-it could not go on through. Handy fat steers, on which there was some competition, sold in many cases at very nearly steady prices, but the heavier grades were hard to move at any price. Half fat and grassy stock was moved with difficulty at prices from 5c to 15c lower than yesterday. The market for grass cattle will not improve any from now on, as Texas is furnishing a class of stock that is cheaper and answers just as well or better. Trading dragged along through the greater part of the day and there were a few cattle still in first hands at the close.

Cow stuff was in light supply and the market showed no material change. Fat dry fed cows and heifers sold readily at good, firm prices, while the market for the common and canning grades ruled dull at low figures. Veal calves continue in good request at fully steady prices, and the same was true as to fat bulls, stags, etc. Com-mon rough stock ruled dull and weak. As has been the case for two or three days the bulk of the business in the stocker and feeder line was done by yard traders. Prices were firmly held at the recent advance, but sales to the country were comparatively limited. Sales today included a lot of pretty good Oregon stock at $3.40. Good to choice feeders are quotable at $3.15 to $3.50, fair to good at $2.80 to $3.10 and common to poor at from $2.75 down. HOGS FREELY MARKETED.

The arrivals of hogs this week show a moderate decrease, something like 2,200 head, as compared with last week, and fall fully 10,000 short of the same week last year. Receipts for the month have been comparatively heavy, heavier in fact than for two years and a half, or since Decem-The total for the month was ber, 1891. 217,658, and the increase so far this year over last amounts to over 250,000 hogs. In quality the hogs have averaged up fairly well all week. There are lots of young hogs coming, but most of them are fat, or at least in fair marketable condition. The demand during the early part of the week was good both for packing and ship-ping account, and trade ruled active with prices ranging anywhere from strong to a quarter higher than for the first half of the previous week. During the latter half of the week there was a big change. On ac-count of the railroad strike shippers and speculators dropped out of the market, leaving the field to the packers. As a natural result the market declined as rapidly as it had advanced, and closing prices are fully 20c lower than a week ago. Aside the disturbing element of the strike, Aside from ver, there is a good undertone of strength the trade and an active general demand. The market today was a packers' market. Receipts were comparatively light, less than 6,000 head, but the absence of shipping and speculative buyers enabled packers to buy the hogs pretty much as they pleased. Opening bids were ridiculously and unnecessarily ing bids were ridiculously and unnecessarily low and sellers refused to entertain them. In consequence it was nearly 9 o'clock before dealers got down to a trading basis. As there was no outside demand little attention was paid to weight, and fair to good hogs, both heavy and light, sold early largely at $4.50 and $4.55, or fully a dimelower than Friday's average market. Under the influence of free buying and more favorthe influence of free buying and more favor-able reports from Chicago trade picked up gradually, and closing sales, largely at $4.65 and $4.70, were not a great deal lower than Priday. The trading was fairly brisk after it once opened, and the pens were cleared some time before noon, the bulk of the sales being at $4.60 and $4.65, as compared with $4.65 to $4.75 Friday and $4.80 to $4.86 one week ago today.

Light receipts of sheep during June are he rule, but it seldom happens, as it did this week, that sheep are received on only one of the six days. As these were largely stockers the slaughterers have been a triffe hard up for supplies. Bad markets east have prevented any improvement in the tone to the trade, and prices are nominally little. Cool zephyrs, always-Courtland beach. DEATH OF THE CHIMPANZEE.

Mrs. Pat Rooney Survived Her Mate but Four Short Months. Mrs Rooney, widow of Pat Rooney, was found dead in her cage in the Zoo carnivora in Cincinnati last Monday. Consumption carried her off, as it did her husband three months ago. They were the finest chimpanzees ever in captivity, and were all but human. They ate at a table, sitting on chairs and using dishes, knives and forks and spoons like human beings, and had often been declared the missing link. Since Pat's death Mrs. Rooney has been melancholy and would spend nearly all of her time gazing earnestly at the stuffed form of her husband that stood near by. A month ago consumption developed, and all efforts to save her life were futile. Prof. Garner, who studied the chimpanzee from a cage in the African for-ests, visited Mrs. Rooney last week and declared she could not live long. He had seen Mr. and Mrs. Rooney some years ago, and last week declared them the finest and most intelligent chimpanzees he had ever seen. Mrs. Rooncy's remains were dissected. Her right lung was entirely gone, and her left badly affected. Her skin will be mounted and placed alongside the stuffed form of her late husband. The two chimpanzees lived late husband. The two chimpanzees lived six years. There are but two others now in this country, they being in New York. Found a Cure for Sciatic Bheumatism. Mrs. A. Inveen, residing at 720 Henry St., Alton, Iil., suffered with slatic rheumatism for over eight months. She doctored for it nearly the whole of this time, using various emedies recommended by friends, and was treated by the physicians, but received no relief. She then used one and a half bottles of Chamberlain's Pain balm, which effected a complete cure. This is published at her request, as she wants others similarly afflicted to know what cured her. The old janitor of the Chicago Board of Trade died the other day and left to his heirs the snug estate of $100,000, all of which he accumulated by thrift and which he accumulated by thrift and economy. He found a substantial source of revenue in the sweepings of the floor, in which there was every day a considerable portion of grain. This he gathered up and sold to small dealers for chicken feed, Many plungers who were to him familiar figures in the "pit" often made more money in one day than he succeeded in scraping together in thirty-nine years. But the old janitor saw scores of these grain gamblers reduced to penury, while he passed his de-clining years amid the comforts of an ample competence. It is men like this plodding janitor who produce the vast bulk of the world's wealth, sithough they make much less noise than the plungers who amass quick fortunes and, as a rule, dissipate them
