

DESTRUCTIVE HAIL STORM

Much Property in the Vicinity of Kearney, Neb., Destroyed. CROPS DAMAGED VERY EXTENSIVELY. Several Hundred Acres of Garden Truck on the Farm of the Industrial School Rendered Practically Worthless by the Hail.

KEARNEY, Neb., July 8.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—A hail storm destroyed all crops on the section extending from the Industrial school west for about six miles today. Everything was literally pounded into the ground. Damage to the Industrial school buildings will approximate $1,000. About 700 large pans of glass were broken. All crops on the school farm were destroyed. It is difficult to estimate the loss, there being 325 acres of garden truck which promise a heavy yield.

CLEW TO HOLDREGE MURDERERS.

Officers Discover Additional Traces Near a Deserted Ranch. HOLDREGE, Neb., July 8.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—The cart and harness that was stolen from Anderson the night of the murder have been recovered and the horse found dead, with a bullet hole in its head. They were found concealed from view about one-half mile south of the Kearney bridge in the elm bushes that grow about the site of the old Dirty Woman's ranch. The buildings on the ranch have been deserted for some years. The robbers cut their way into the bushes, unhitched the horse, turned the cart upside down and shot the animal, leaving the harness on the horse. They covered them up with the brush they had cut out to make the cart more difficult to find. They were discovered by the odor arising from the carcass of the horse. This gives the officers a clew to work on. A $1,500 reward is offered for the murderers and a probability of that being raised $1,000 more when the county supervisors meet, the 10th of the month.

Interesting Chautauqua Work. FREMONT, July 8.—(Special to The Bee.)—Admission to the Chautauqua grounds was free today and the full attendance goes to show that people appreciate the insignificant charge made for tickets fully as much as the interesting and expensive program fully presented. Up to date the receipts have barely paid the running expenses and for the balance of the season, which continues to July 19, season tickets will be sold at the reduced rate of $2.

Ord Masonic Officers Installed. FREMONT, July 8.—(Special to The Bee.)—A public installation of the officers elect of Mizpah chapter No. 16, Order of the Eastern Star, took place in Masonic hall last evening. An eloquent oration on Masonry was delivered by Horatio N. Leach. The proceedings were closed with an elegant supper.

Got the Latest Reports. NEBRASKA CITY, July 8.—(Special to The Bee.)—Saturday evening's Bee, containing a full account of the strike, reaching here at midnight last night, was eagerly bought by hundreds of people who were still on the streets discussing the strike and its probable results.

Blaine, Neb., July 8.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—C. J. Faber died last night from the effects of a paralytic stroke Thursday. On the Fourth of July he overtaxed himself. He was highly respected by all. Burial, Monday at 4 p. m.

FOUGHT THE DOCTOR.

Woman Who Did Not Want to Be Bled at Suffering. Mrs. Allie Adams, wife of a B. & M. switchman living at 408 South Twenty-seventh avenue, took a large dose of morphine yesterday afternoon, and it required the efforts of Dr. Towne and two policemen to bring her out of danger. The police headquarters received word of the attempted suicide and Dr. Towne was sent to attend the woman. When he got there he tried to give her a hypodermic injection. The woman resisted, and finally grabbing up a heavy shovel, hit him on the shoulder. He summoned Police Surgeon Dibern and Officer Hatter, who held the woman while the antidote was administered. She was soon out of danger and will recover. The woman is living with Blanche Beedle, and they are said to be sisters. Neither would talk, but it is thought that the attempted suicide was the result of domestic difficulties. The amount taken was twenty-eight grains, which was purchased about noon at Lanyon & Co.'s drug store. The purchase was not registered, as the druggist said that the law requiring the purchases of poison to be registered was null. A woman clerk sold the stuff, and said that Mrs. Adams told her that she wanted the drug to ease pain from which she was suffering. She remarked to a man standing near her that she had been out to the Fourth of July picnic at Sippy Mills and had danced so much that she had been sick ever since. Her husband said that she tried to overdose of this drug in a previous occasion.

She Tried Laudanum. Edith Greene, a young colored woman, attempted to commit suicide last night by taking laudanum. She was found lying on the walk on Jones street near the Barker hotel in an unconscious condition. The patrol wagon was called and she was taken to the Presbyterian hospital, where City Physician Saville pumped the poison out of her and at midnight there were hopes that she would recover. Edith's parents live on Fourteenth street between Jackson and Jones and she left home some time ago on account of personal matters. When she was picked up from the walk the following note was found thrust under the belt of her dress, addressed by her to her mother: "I hope you will forgive me for this rash

ITS SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY

Central United Presbyterian Church Looks Back Over a Little History. SERVICE LAST NIGHT IN THE NEW EDIFICE. Boating at Courtland beach. BLACK HILLS CHAUTAUQUA.

The congregation of the Central United Presbyterian church observed the seventh anniversary of its organization with appropriate ceremonies last night at the new church on the corner of Twenty-fourth and Dodge streets. The church was crowded and the members of all the other United Presbyterian churches in this city and South Omaha united in holding union services.

Chicago Being Visited with a Judgment—"Love Thy Neighbor" Must Be Heeded. The strike was the subject discussed by Rev. Frank Crane of the First Methodist church in his pulpit last evening. "Let us beware," said he, "of the partisan spirit. Many on the one hand are crying out: 'Down with the labor organization! Down with the labor union! Down with the labor law! Down with the labor agitator!' These men are responsible for all this trouble. But this is a superficial view. Organized labor doubtless makes mistakes, but it is acting under conviction and loyalty to what it conceives to be the truth. We must remember that it is not the true laboring man that is burning and rioting in Chicago. It is the labor agitator, the laboring man is staying peacefully at home or out of the way. On the other hand comes the cry: 'Down with capital! The corporation are to blame! The laboring man is not capital that is to blame. If there were no capital there would be no chance for labor. Look deeper than these things. Beware of the front of the laboring man."

AFRAID OF HIM.

Mrs. Albertson Asks to Be Protected from the Anger of a Divorced Husband. Mrs. John Albertson, who secured a divorce from her husband last Saturday in Judge Ambrose's court, applied to the police last night for protection. Mr. Albertson began a suit for divorce against his wife some time ago, but she fought the case and won it, and on Saturday Judge Ambrose decided that Albertson should be compelled to afford a separate maintenance for his wife and their five children. If he failed to contribute $500 at once to Howard Blairidge, as trustee, for the support of the family his goods would be sold and the proceeds applied for this purpose, and if at the expiration of a year he had not made suitable provision for his support he should be compelled to pay them through the trustee $50 per month in advance.
