ANNUAL MERCHANTS MEETING

Banquet of the Manufacturers and Consumers Association to Be Held Friday.

Interesting Program Arranged for the Occasion-Many Prominent Citizens of

State Will Be Present. NEBRASKA CITY, July 11 .- (Special to The Bee.)-The annual banquet of the Manufacturers and Consumers association of Nebraska given this year to the business men of Nebraska City and vicinity will be held Friday evening. The following pro-

the Mercantile Circles of the gram has been arranged; Toastmaster, W. A. Page, president of the association. Address on behalf of the assoclation by Secretary O. C. Helmes; "The Manufacturing Industries of Nebraska, What They Owe to the People," by Hon. L. M. Raymond of Lincoln; "Nebraska City, Her Manufacturing Interests," by Judge M. L. Hayward of Nebraska City; "How Shall We Secure the Location of Factories in Nebraska?" by Hon. Charles Hanley of Lincoln; "The Milling Industries of Our State," by Hon. C. C. White of Crete; "The Press and its influence on Home Industry," by Hon. Edward Rosewater of Omaha; "Ne-braska's Raw Material Products," by Hon. Robert W. Furnas of Brownville.

Donne College Keunion. CRETE, Neb., July 11 .- (Special to The Bee.)-Trustees, faculty, former and present students of the Doane college, to the number of 135, gathered between the hours of 5 and 8 o'clock p. m. near the hall in the Chautauqua grounds. Tables were fairly loaded with sandwiches, cake, ice cream and lemonade. When ample justice had been done to the viands, President Perry of Doane college, as toastmaster, called upon fir. Willard Scott, president of the assembly, to respond to the sentiment, "The College and the Assembly." The doctor responded with his usual readiness and eloquent earnestness, showing how young lives were given shape and tone by the training. Rev. Mr. Brenton, a trustee of the college, responded to the toast, "The Relations of the College to the Assembly." He showed what the col-lege had to do in originating the assembly and in determining its location and the Rev. J. D. Stewart dwelt upon the good to be derived in the studies of the C. L. S. C., particularly in the normal methods of study. Fred Leavett, an undergraduate, spoke enthusiastically for athletics and their influence in giving physical development and moral toughness of fiber to the college

Prof. Swazey, recently elected to a department of the State university, spoke briefly of the way in which college and university had each their individual work and suppleed each other.

Dr. Duryea spoke most enthusiastically in favor of the college. Some college songs enlivened the occasion. May Employ All His Relatives.

LINCOLN, July 11 .- (Special to The Bee.) -For the information of an inquisitive correspondent at Falls City, who wants to know if there is any law regulating the employment of sisters, cousins and aunts by mem-bers of the district school board, the state superintendent states that no law has covered the matter, if the female relations are armed with the requisite certificates. As to the policy of such nepotism there may be a difference of opinion. Trachers' Institute at Tekamah. TEKAMAH, Neb., July 11 .- (Special to The Bee.)-The Burt County Teachers' Institute convened Monday morning in the High school room with the largest attendance at the opening day for many years. The institute is in charge of County Superintendent C. F. Beck, with Profs. D. E. Reese of Oak-land, A. V. Sunderlin of Tekamah and Mrs. Ida Remington Notson of Omaha, as instru tors. Several lectures from prominent edu-cators of the state will be given during the institute, the first one of the series by Prof. Beattle of Cotner university, Lincoln, Thursday evening. There are about 100 teachers n attendance. The institute will continue two weeks.

NEBRASKA CITY WILL ENTERTAIN Entertaining Many Visitors. FREMONT, July 11 .- (Special to The Ree.) -The number of preachers now in attendance at the Chautauqua add to the interest of the Sunday school work with the Itinerants club. The regular program was carried out Chancellor Sims winning new laurely today, his two lectures and E Graham receiving frequent applaces in his chalk talk. Rev. Dr. Murray of Hansoom Park church, Omaha, delighted the large rowd yesterday with his lecture on "Abraham Lincoln." Thursday is to be Sunday school jubilee and basket picnic day. A parade will be made on the bicycle track at 4 o'clock p. m., and two banners will be presented, one to the largest country school and one to the largest Fremont school present. The beautiful clear water of the natatorium is enticing and is enjoyed a large number every day. Rev. Mr. Dawson of the Omaha South Tenth Street church is attending the Chautauqua. Atarmed the Farmers. M'COOL, Neb., July 11 .- (Special to The Bee.)-The petition to the supreme court by the receivers of the Union Pacific railroad to cease operating the Kansas City & Omaha railroad because it is not paying perating expenses is said by some to nean an abandonment of the line. Considering the wonderful corn crop that seems assured and a fair small grain crop already harvested, with proper railroad facilities good returns may be made. The Kansas City & Oniaha railroad runs from Fairbury to McCool, thence to Stromsburg, and the western branch from McCool to Alma.

Two girls, aged 15 and 17, from York, although registered from Grand Island, engaged board for one week of Landlord Hill. Yesterday Hill wanted his pay, and this payning about 2 o'clock the girls broke out screens and slid down by the lightning rod route and akipped, leaving an unpaid board bill.

Indians Enjoying Themselves. LYONS, Neb., July 11 .- (Special to The Bee.)-The Winnebagoes and Omahas are having a grand time about four miles north of town. The Poncas and Sioux are there on a visit. Five hundred loaves of bread taken from here yesterday to amp. Friday and Saturday will be devoted to Indian and squaw races. Crops in Burt county are needing rain.

Small grain will be about one-half a crop;

if the weather is favorable; beets that came up at first planting will be a crop, and hay W. C. T. U. Convention at Wayne WAYNE, Neb., July 11 .- (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-The annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union of the Seventh district met in the Presbyterian church this afternoon. The room was beautifully decorated with flowers and banners, with the picture of the temple and a portrait of Miss Willard. Several delegates are in attendance and others are expedted this evening and tomorrow morning. Mrs. Antles, the district president, not having arrived, Mrs. C. M. Woodward presided.

STEAD'S PICTURE OF PULLMAN

that Haydens' is not in line.

What the British Critic Says of Chicago's Feudal Lord.

CAUSTIC CHARACTER SKETCH FROM LIFE

Came to Chicago," in his chapter on the Chicago trinity, as he terms Marshal Field,

Philip D. Armour and George M. Pullman,

Grasping Greed Paraded as Philanthropy-Ignores the Fundamental Principle of American Institutions-Specimen Instances. William L. Stead, the author of "If Christ

> thus sketches the last named:
> "Mr. George M. Pullman is an active republican rolitician, well known in Washington, and much esteemed by party treasurers, to whose campaign funds he has been a liberal contributor. Mr. George M. Pullman is notable among the millionaires of Chicago as the man who, taking a hint from Krupp, endeavored to found a town in his own image. The town of Pullman, which was named after the author of its being, is a remarkable experiment which has achieved a very great success.
> "Unlike Mr. Field or Mr. Armour, Mr. Pullman has built up his fortune without resorting to the more ruthless methods of modern competition. Indeed, his career is notable as an instance of competition by high prices rather than by low. Mr. Field wiped out the retail storemen, and Mr. Armour the small butchers, by underselling them. Mr. Pullman has undersold no coe. He has always succeeded, not by producing a cheaper article, but by producing a dearer, but the high-priced article was so much better that Mr. Pullman succeeded in establishing a virtual monopoly of one of the most highly specialized businesses in the world.
> "The first Pullman car which he gonthus sketches the last named:

> most highly specialized businesses in the world.
> "The first Pullman car which he constructed and put upon the rails cost $18,000 to build, as against $4,000, which was the price of the ordinary sleeper. Railway men shrugged their shoulders. It was magnificent, they said, but it was not business. A palace sleeping car at $18,000 could not possibly pay. Mr. Pullman refused to be discouraged. 'Let the traveling public decide,' was all he asked, 'run your old sleepers and the new one together; I will charge half a dollar more for a berth in the Pullman, and see which holds the field.' The verdict of the public was instant and decisive; everybody preferred the Pullman at the extra price, and the success of the inventive car builder was assured.

MADE IN HIS OWN IMAGE.

"The Pullman company was incorporated with a capital of $30,00,000, the cootation for which in the market today is twice that amount. He took up an estate of over $,000 acres around Lake Callmet, which is fourteen miles from the center of Chicago, and which was at that time far outside the city limits. There, following the example of Messrs. Krupp at Essen, he set to work to construct a model city in his own image. Mr. Pullman's ambition was to make the city which he had built an ideal community. In order to do so he proceeded in entire accordance with the dominant feelings of most wealthy Americans by ignoring absolutely the fundamental principle of American institutions. The autocrat of all the Russias could not more absolutely dishelieve in government by the people, for the people, through the people, than George Pullman. The whole city belongs to him in fee simple; its very streets were the property of the Pullman company. Like Tammany hall and various other effective institutions in America, not from the broad basis of the popular will, but from the apex of the pressing bess, Mr. Pullman was his own boss. He laid out the city, and made the Pullman company the terrestial providence of all its inhabitants.

"Out of a dreary, water-soaked prairie," the terrestial providence of all its inhabitants.

"Out of a dreary, water-soaked prairie, Mr. Pullman reared high and dry foundations, upon which, with the aid of his architect and landscape gardener, he planned one of the model towns of the American continent. Here was a captain of industry acting as the city tuilder. With his own central thought dominating everything the city came into existence as a beautiful and harmonious whole. He achieved great results, no doubt. Pefore long the increment of the value of the real estate on which Pullman is built is expected to amount to as much as the whole capital of the Pullman company. Every house in Pullman is fitted up with water and gas and the latest sanitary arrangements. Grounds have been laid out for recreation and athletics; there is a public li-building. It is a town bordered with brights beds of flowers and stretches of lawns, which, in summer time at least, are green and velvety. It has its parks and it lakes and its pleasant vistas of villas, and, in short, Pullman is a great achievement of which not only Chicago but America deas well to be proud.

"It was not a philanthropic but a business experiment, and none the worse on that well to be proud.

"It was not a philanthropic but a business experiment, and none the worse on that account. The great principle of quid proquo was carried out with undeviating regularity. If every resident of Pullman had gas laid to his house he was compelled to pay for it at the rate of $2.5 per Libb feet, although the cost of its numulacture to the Pullman company was mit $2 cents per 1,000 feet. Ample water supply was given with good pressure, but of this necessary of life the Pullman company was able to extract a handsome profit. The city of Chicago supplied the corporation with water at 4 cents per 1,000 gallons, which was retailed by the Pullmanness at 10 cents per 1,000, making a profit large enough to enable the corporation to have all the water it wanted for its works for nothing. Thus did the business instinct of Mr. Pullman enable his right hand to wash his left, and thereby created at the very threshold of Chicago are object lessons as to the commercial profits of municipal socialism. Fur between municipal socialism, representing the co-operative effort of a whole community voluntarily combining for the purpose of making the most of all monopolies of service, and the autocratic exploiting of a whole population of a city.

all monopolies of service, and the autocratic exploiting of a whole population of a city, such as is to be found in Pullman, there s a wide gulf fixed. PULLMAN FROM BEGINNING TO END. PULLMAN FROM BEGINNING TO END.

"As a resident in the model town wrote me, Pullman was all very well as an employer, but to live and breathe and have one's being in Pullman is a little bit too much. The residents in the city, he continued, paid rent to the Pullman company, they bought gas of the Pullman company, they walked on streets owned in fee simple by the Pullman company, they paid water tax to the Pullman company, Indeed, even when they bought gingham for their wives or sugar for their tables at the arcade or the market house, it seemed dealing with the Pullman company. They sent their children to Pullman's school, attended Pullman's church, looked at but dared not enter, Pullman's hotel with its private bar, for that was the limit, the light of the pullman's court was the limit. school, attended Pullman's church, looked at but dared not enter, Pullman's hotel with its private bar, for that was the limit. Pullman did not sell them their grog. They had to go to the settlement at the railroad crossing south of them, to Kensington called, because of its low row of salouns, "bumtown," and given over to disorder. There the moral and spiritual disorder of Pullman was emptied, even as the physical sewage flowed out on the Pullman farm a few miles further south, for the Pullman company also owned the sewerage system, and turned the waste into a fluid, forced through pipes and conducted underground to enrich the soil of a large farm. The lives of the workingmen were bounded on all sides by the Pullman company: Pullman was the horizon in every direction.

"All this provoked reaction and a feeling of resentment sprang up in the model city against the too paternal despotism of the city builder, and so it came to pass that the citizens by a vote annexed themselves to Chicago, of which it is now part and parcel. This was a sore blow and a great discouragement to Mr. Pullman. But no annexation can destroy his control over the town. It is still the property of the corporation of which he is the blief and controlling mind.

"But in the civic life of Chicago Mr. Pull-

"But in the civic life of Chicago Mr. Pullman takes no part. He may reply that he has done enough for dufy and more than enough for glory in creating what is model suburb of the city, and if every employer had done as much Chicago would have been a very different place from what it is today. That may be admitted, but the fact remains, so far as the administration of Chicago is concerned, Mr. Pullman is almost as much of a nonenity as istration of Chicago is concerned, Mr. Pullman is almost as much of a nonentity as Mr. Marshall Field and Mr. Philip Armour. Where Mr. Fullman can be autocrat he is willing to exert himself; but where he must be one among a multitude, although he might be if he chose primus inter pares, he will do nothing, no, not even although with a little exertion he might do everything. He lives in Chicago. His house is one of the best built mansions on the lake side. Compared with his lordly pleasure house, the residences of Mr. Field and Mr. Armour dwindle into homely insignificance, but at the city hall we look in vain for any trace of the influence which has revolutionized the traveling accommodation of the world. intonized the traveling accommodation of the world.

"Mr. Pullman in Chicago is something like the mediatized sovereigns in Ger-many. He is not exactly in the suiks, but he has about as much direct influence in the city administration as the king of Hanover had in the north German con-federation when his kingdom was absorbed against the will of its monarch."

OMAHA'S BOOKS.

Annual Report of the Public Library Presented to the Council. ual report of the Omaha library board which was presented to the council Tuesday night shows there are now 45,355 volumes in the library. Of those 3,023 volumes have been added this year, of which 2,243 were purchased and the remainder obtained through private contributions. Among the contributions during the year were sixty-one volumes of government publications by City Attorney Connell, 109 volumes of similar works by Edward Rose-water, seventy-two volumes of medical publieations by Dr. Horace Ludington and pamphlets and periodicals by the Omaha National bank. There are now three special delivery stations, which are located respectively at Burdette street and Military avenue, Park and Woolworth avenues and Sixteenth and Martha streets. This system has been largely experimental during the year, but the opinion of the board is to the effect that it has proved very successful. The average expense of delivery through this system has been found to be four mills per volume. The total number of books issued from the library during the year was 220,-825, against 190,734 in the previous year.
