LINCOLN, July 14 .- (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-When Papa Bill rose this morn ing and looked out upon the rain that fell on a few just and numerous unjust he felt like singing a few pacans of joy, but unhappily he had left all of his in the hotel safe over night. His heart rose and fell all day, as it showered or shone, but he knew the worst had come when at 5:30 Buck Ebright grasped him by the arm and said they must play. Papa felt so bad over it that he put himself on the bench and sent Camp to right. Joe Nell made his initial appearance with the Rourkes, and he was very cordially received by the Ebrights who gave him some sixteen tokens of their esteem. The infield was a sea of mud, and the boys performed prodigies of valor in skating around on their persons. Many of the hits would ordinarily have been singles, but as it required two minutes for a man to get a start a ground hit was generally safe. Omaha got four runs in the first on a base on halls, three lucky hits, a sacrifice and an error. In the eighth the Rourkes took another streak and on five hits a base on balls and a sacrifice scored five. Lincoln also got her hits in bunches, and a few well placed errors gave them three in the first, four in the sixth and six in the seventh. The figures for it: LINCOLN.

Grand Rapids telegraphed for. JACKSONIANS WON THE GAME.

Opposition on the Ball Field.

The Jacksonians demonstrated what true democracy is at the Charles Street park yesterday afternoon by jumping on the Samosets and tramping them deep into mother earth. Honin, the redoubtable Danel, pitched for the licked and showed that with proper training in the course of several hundred years he might be good enough to carry water for the Bostons. But why individualize. It will only cause unnecessary heartaches, and for once we pass 'em up. There was a large crowd of spectators, and the sport was of a rare kind, and withal the game was a very good Bunkers Badly Heaten The Pacific Express base ball nine played a game of ball yesterday afternoon at Forty-fifth and Jones with the First National bank nine, defeating them by a score of 19 to 7. The Millers and the employer of the Omaha Semis Hag factory played a game of base ball yesterday afternoon. The contest was a close one, but was won by the Millers, the score being 3 to 5. Manager Peters, who was in the box for the factory men, had to walk home from the manufacturers

"The Chop" is still the play on the boards in Louisville. Jerry Denny, Billy Earle and Larry Twitchell have been given notices of release. Earle lends the club in batting. Jimmie Chard joined the Kansas Citys at Toledo yesterday, and he was so wild that the Swamp Angels simply had fun with him.

Manager Rourke got a prize in Bob Langs-ford. He is about as graceful as a cow, but oh, how he does swat the ball and eat grounders! Already he is a prime favorite with the crowd.

The game at the Charles Street park between Lincoln and the Rourkes this after-noon, will certainly be a hair raiser. There is intense feeling between the two outfits, and they will fight like Kilkenny cats. Joe Neil, Omaha's new twirler, got in Friday. He looks like a good one. He came from Memphis and Memphis won the Southern lengue pennant, or would have won it had the lengue continued the season out. Billy Moran is leading a life of elegant cisure. He quit the Rourkes because he go too strong to play, and will rest up the bal-ance of the season. Notwithstanding Billy's questionable action, he is a splendid fellow, a good ball player, and all the cranks are sorry that he quit.

In little Hollingsworth, St. Joe has got one of the star players of the Western association, and he will be in faster company in another season. He is way ahead of sev eral National league short stops today. But better than all, he is a well behaved, gentlemanly fellow, and deserving of all the good that may come his way.

In the summary of the report of last Wednesday's game Captain McVey, who is one of the boldest and most conscientious players who ever stepped on the field, did not get credit for his home run. It was a magnificent drive made in the fifth inning, with the bases full and two hands out. The ball went a mile and the crowd yelled itself hoarse.

Carver Defeats Elliott.

KANSAS CITY, July 14.-Dr. Carver today won the last of the series of live pigeon shoots with F. A. R. Elliott of Kanpigeon shoots with P. A. R. Embot of Ran-sas City, and thus takes the match. To-day's score was as close and exciting as have been the previous ones. Carver killed 35 birds to his opponent's 94. Several phe-nomenal long distance shots were made by both men. The match was for $100 a game, with a side bet of $100 on the final result.

GOSSIP OF THE RACE TRACK

Public Favor This Season.

WEST HAS HER SHARE OF THE WINNERS

Searon Has Only Fairly Opened but Some Remarkable Races Have Already Been Seen-Prospects for Some Record Breaking.

Chicago and eastern papers are engaged n bewailing the falling off in interest and attendance at their running race meetings. There is nothing particularly strange in this, because harness meetings have the call on the public just now, and at the Minseapolis trotting and pacing races the first of this month the average attendance was 15,000 people a day for a week. This is as it should be, because breeders and trainers of trotting and pacing horses have expended a great deal of money to develop speedy herses, both for road and track pur-loses, and they have succeeded so well that t is almost useless for a man to enter a horse in any of the circuit meetings that cannot pass under the wire on the short ilde of 2:25. Even 2-year-olds are hitting no turf all the way from 2:30 to 2:14% this early in the season, and yearlings have gone in better than 2:50 on the eastern ciruits, while the season has only been opened bout two weeks.

Then, a running race meeting depends great deal on the interest taken in the a great deal on the interest taken in the betting ring. A horse race is not a race unless the people can back some favorite with their wads of "long green." In all of the big events this season the favorites have failed to show the winner's colors, and the dear public has been heavily dumped financially. This has inside many of them chary about betting, and a horse race with-out a bet or two on the favorite is as stale to them as a glass of beer without foam s to a toper.

And another thing which is drawing the patrons of running races away is that the trotting and pacing turf is producing some ensational events this year. Patrons of he turf want sensational performances and exciting finishes, and they are finding more such events at the harness meetings than at the running races. The decline of running meetings is the legitimate outcome of continued jobbery.

The past week has seen some good racing at Dayton, Saginaw, Bay City, Lexington, Peoria and Minneapolis. One noticeable thing which must be very gratifying to western men is the fact that out of large fields of fast trotters and pacers western horses are more than holding their own, and are either taking first money or getting a part of the purse by gaining a place in the totals. Dick Tilden did not overesti-mate the qualities of Clinton Briggs' horses when he said that he would land some good purses with them at the Minneapolis races, Dick entered Fairy Wood in the 2:35 class three-mile dash, Minneapolis Derby. The purse was $1,500, and he drove Fairy Wood the three miles in 7:20½, making the first mile in 2:28½, the second in 2:30, or the two miles in 4:58½. Fairy Wood left here in June after the Blue Ribbon meeting without a record, and Tilden is confident that he is good for 2:24 in any future race this season. The Minneapolis trotting Derby is as of much interest in the Twin Cities as the Chicago Derby is to the Windy City people.

Another of Briggs' horses, Hurly Burly, took fourth place in the 2:17 class, and Kate Caffrey made an excellent showing in the 2:25 trotting race, which was won by King Patchin, the horse which acted so badly at Union Park, in 2:1614. Then Neilie Cobb won first money in the 2:30 trot in straight heats in 2:23¼, 2:21¼, 2:22¼. ert E, another western horse, captured the free-for-all pace, making the second heat

Colonel Harry Loper, the well known western starter, closed a most successful harness meeting at Dayton, O., on July 6 There was a good attendance at this meeting, the track was fast and nearly all the favorites won. Some southern horsemen tried to run in a ringer on Colonel Loper named Colonel Burr. The horse was pro-tested, and finally barred from the con-Loper is too well onto his job to allow ringers to be worked off on him.

That 2:50 class pacing race at Indianapo lis on July 5 was a sensational race, and was won by Coleridge, the C. F. Clay horse. American Ladd, by Ethan Allen, won the first heat in 2:10%, and out of the cleven starters only one was distanced. The race required four heats for a decision, and the time was 2:101/2, 2:111/4, 2:191/4, 2:15.

If all reports are correct a meeting will be arranged for a big purse between Alix. 2:07%, and Directum, 2:05%, before the season is ended. A five-heat race between this king and queen of the trotting turf would be a magnificent drawing eard for any track, and would develop the bottom and speed of both animals. The Western Resources has this bit of information to mpart about these horses:

"A party of horsemen were standing under the wide spreading limbs of a generous maple in Union Park during Mr. Briggs' neeting, listening to the talk of Monro Salisbury. During his remarks he said Sallsbury. During his remarks he said: I think Directum a great horse, but I don't like the way I was treated by Green, and I would like to have Alix beat the black rascal. Morris Jones was one of the group. and in his quiet way he said: 'You can get her.' In a moment or so these two gentlemen were seen walking among the t engaged in earnest conversation, the come of which was the purchase by Salisbury of an interest in Alix, 2:07%. How much of an interest or how much the price for the portion purchased we are not at liberty to state. It is believed the pride of the west will be able to clip the present trotting record before winter retirement. By this time Alix and Mr. Jones are part and parcel of the Californian's outfit, and this week she will be piloted to victory, it is hoped, in the free-for-all at Saginaw, by Andy McDowell."

*** Two Nebraska horses set a mark for the natives at Oshkosh last week and lowered the track record of 2:17 in five different heats. These horses were Online, the peer-less western pacer, and Prince T. No horse in the free-for-all pace could be found fast enough to act as pacemaker for Online and in the last heat the distance flag was removed to let him travel a heat, which he did in 2:11. This was a great meeting for Ed Gould of Fullerton, Neb., who carried off a majority of first moneys. Lovelace, Bar-ondale, Edith Gard and Online were all winners. There were good crowds present every day and the track was considered three seconds slow. James Culbertson was starter and his work was quite satisfactory to all horsemen. McGuire, the Omaha to all horsemen. McGuire, the Omaha driver, handled the ribbons over Prince T in the 2:16 pacing race, and landed him an easy winner. After this meeting W. L. Elwood of Galesburg, fil., purchased Tom Miller and his 2-year-old sister of Kinney Bree, of this city file, $5.500. Bros. of this city for $5,500.

Some of the turf writers predict that Onine will never get into a herse race until he and Flying Jib face the starter together, which event will probably occur in the freefor-all at the Grand Cmeuit meeting at De-

Lovers of fine horses witnessed some nificent racing events at Saginaw, Mich., during the past week. The weather was fine and the track was in good condition. Monroe Salisbury had his string of horses at this meeting and Expressive, a horse well known here, won the 3-minute trot in the first, fourth and fifth heats, finishing second in the second and third heats. The best time was 2:17½ and the slowest 2:19½. It took eight heats to decide the 2:19 trot, and Don Loweil was distanced, after winning the second heat in 2:1414, the fastest heat of the second heat in 2:1412, the fastest heat of the race. Salisbury's horse, Azote, won the 2:14 race. Salisbury's horse, Azote, won the 2:14 trot, which required six heats to finish, and the best time was 2:12%. Barondale, by Baron Wilkes, one of Chandler's horses, which was here in June, won the 2:24 pace in 2:174, 2:13% and 2:17% defeating the crack Canadian pacer, Lord Ferguson. Salisbury has a good string of fast nags and he and Driver Andy McDowell go out for first money in every race.

promising get on the turf this season, among which are Barondale and Baron Dillon, the 3-year-old. Baron Dillon won the 2:27 trot at Fond du Lac, Wis., in three straight heats on a soft and heavy track in 2:23, 2:21 and 2:19%. He made a record for the track and won the race hands down, so to speak. This race makes Baron Dillon eligible to the $10,000 Review race, in which he has since been Harness Horses Appear to Have the Call on Dandy Jim, g. g., by Young Jim, broke the track record of 2:18 at Toledo, O., on Thursday by trotting a mile in 2:16%. He won the 2:16 class trot in 2:19½, 2:18, 2:16%. This horse is looked upon with favor by eastern horsemen, who consider him a "comer."

The people at Davenport, Ia., have been treated to some good racing the last week. The Davenport Mile Track association has one of the best tracks in Iowa and is getting to be quite a racing town. Ella O, one of Dullois Bros,' string, only let four horses finish in a field of nine starters, and she won first money and the 2:35 pace in first, fourth and fifth heats, traveling one of them The harness season was opened at Ashta-buls, O., and Eimira, N. Y., during the past week under the most encouraging auspices, and besides some first class racing cards, the attendance was large enough to be re-munerative to the associations controlling the tracks. This season promises to be th best ever enjoyed by owners of trotters and pacers and good horses are not only making good records, but are winning big money. Turfmen predict a most prosperous season for 1894. ***

An eastern horseman says that there is not much use of campaigning anything less than a 2:20 performer this season. At Philadel-phia last week there were four races on the card and it took thirteen heats to decide them, the slowest heat being traveled in The Pala Alto stables will be represented in the Horseman $10,000 stake at the Detroit meeting, by a full brother to Palo Alto, 2:08%. Purses amounting to $92,000 have been hung up for the harness meeting at Terre Haute, which will be held August 13 to 18 inclusive. These purses have secured the best horses in the United States for entries, and some records are bound to be broken. The Axtell syndicate has twentyone horses in training on this track.

Matt Geers is fitting Rex Americus for the Buffalo races and has him in pretty good condition, working Rex three sweating miles in 2:17, 2:17, 2:15. William Andrews is also after the big purse at the Buffalo meeting with Hummer, who is traveling exercise miles in 2:1614, and can go even faster. Some of the western cracks will also try for a bit of his money, and Rex and Hummer may not have easy sailing after all.

The following bit of gossip is going the rounds: "The colt that Monroe Salisbury expects to become the two-minute trotter or pacer is by Direct and his dam is by This There is a strong bit of thoroughbred in the little one and his granddam was by Woburn, whose sire was Lexington. Queen Emma was a great race mare in her day and has a record of 1.42. She posse ses two crosses of Lexington blood. Woburn is well known in the trotting world, for he was the sire of Monarch and many other trotters. "The little son of Direct has some of the lines of Fantasy in his make-up. Woburn was out of Heads-I-Say, and she was the third dam of Almonarch, the sire of Fantasy. So, while Mr. Salisbury was looking out for the thoroughbred cross he ran into plenty of good trotting blood. While Queen Emma had no trotting instinct the had plenty of the trotting blood in that thorough bred cross.

"The horses that were bred in accord with rectum. They were race hor es of the first class and were as game as they were fast. The little colt by Direct just suits him. He has the speed of Thistle and Drect, and then the dam, Queen Emma, was a race mare of great speed. That Direct will prove a great sire there is not the least doubt, and it is expected that his son will be the prize of the lot. Mr. Salisbury is a firm believer in the doctrine that the two-minute trotter is a possibility.

"But Mr. Salisbury has another thing which may be very useful in the making of that two-minute record. He calls the device his electric battery. It is a bicycle sulky with a different hub than any other now in use. It has little or no friction and draws much easier than the ordinary bike. He is a bit doubtful whicher the racing associations will allow him to use it, and if he should be granted this opportunity he will have the others handlcapped, for the sulky is much easier than anything yet invented. vention is an improvement on the ball-bear ing, and when the wheel is once set in motion it will run for many minutes without stopping. It is certainly the best sulky yet invented and one that ought to show a great difference in speed. What the difference is the future must show."

A good meeting of trotters and pacers was A good meeting of trotters and pacers was held at Sioux Falls, S. D., last week. Thorn-wood, Senator A, Lewellyn, Investigation, Crysolite, Howard Medium and other well known track performers were started and the meeting was a most successful one.

It is alleged that Byron McClelland has won $100,000 on Henry of Navarre and Caesarion this year. The following stables are credited with these winnings at Sheepshead Bay meeting which ended during the past week: Gideon & Daly, $45,450; Dick Croker, $43,330; Oneck stable, $15,385; Byron McCleiland, $12.835; Mike Dwyer, $11.400; Preakness, $6.500; Leigh & Rose, $6.210; the Keenes, $5.950; the Morrises, $4,595, and "Father Bill" Daly, $4,425.

Captain Babcock's sudden death at Eliza-beth last Tuesday was a shock to his friends. "Old Bab," as he was affectionately termed, had been official timer at the race tracks for many years. He was the famous maker of "Bab's" sauce, a peculiar and appetizing decoction that made his clam bakes talked of from ocean to ocean. His death was the out of races in which there were horses that have not as good a record by four or five seconds. At Denver, this spring. Jib was shut out by Online, and on Thursday he was shut out at Saginaw by Robert J. Jib has a record of 2:04, and paced an exhibition mile here in June in 2 03%, which is nearly two seconds faster than any heat in the Saginaw race. Jib is driven by one of the best horsemen in the country Andy McDewell, who can get the speed and work out of the horse if anybody can, is a wonderful horse, but he ceems to b erratic this season, although in fine condition for fast work. But the free-for-all pace at Saginaw was a horse race and every heat was below 2:0912. There were six starters-Robert J. Online, Flying Jib, Guy Jr. Robert J. Online, Flying Jib, Only Jr., Lucille H and Charley Ford. Charley Ford was distanced in the third heat and Jib was shut out in the fourth after winning the first heat in 2.07. The other heats were made in 2.08, 2.08, 2.0845. Robert J won and Online followed him under the wire in last three heats, a close second. Guy won third money and Lucille H was able to pass the flag each time and save fourth place. This is the first real race Online has been in, and if he keeps up his remarkable development of speed it is likely that Ed Gould will bring him to Nebraska in the fall with a new record and several "reams of long green" un the right side of his cash account.

NEW YORK, July 11.—As usual, the grand stand at Brighton Beach was packed today, and as usual it was frightfully hot. The track was dry and fast and the good card was sadly marred by scratches, which reduced the racing to a poor exhibition The handicap was only an exercise gallop for Sir Walter. He won handily, with Comanche second and the others beaten off. The nine horses on the card were reduced to four in the first, and Harry Alonzo was the choice. He could do no better than third, for in a driving fluish between Mary S at 8 to 1 and Tiny Tim, the former won by a head. The Scould race was another surprise. The McCaffertys plunged on Florence again, and the distance was more to her liking, but again she was beaten, as Stonencel had a fockey up at last and won in the easiest possible fashion by a length, which could have been more had Summas so desired. Columbus Handicap Stake at Washington Park Ta en by an Outsider. CHICAGO, July 14.—Like many of its pre lecessors at the meeting, the stake event at Washington Park today went to a despised outsider. On the advent of Mr. W. R. Vaughan a little quicksilver entered into the composition of the game, as that gentleman began "laying about" him in the most approved style.

Mr. Vaughan was retired by his brother after making ten runs, but not before he witnessed Mr. Doyle's dismissal, the latter being caught off Vaughan's bowling.

Mr. Taylor, after making four runs was clean bowled by Robb. Mr. Evason was retired after making two runs, and was succeeded by Mr. McPherson. This gentleman was "strictly in it," so to speak. His hit to "square leg" was one of the prettiest performances seen this season, and would have earned him six runs on a better ground. Had he not been "run out" after making twelve runs, it is hard to say what his score might have been, as Mr. Mc-Pherson, besides being good at defending his wicket, is a hard and clean hitter. Mr. D. Johnston's five runs was the out-ome of some good batting.

Mr. Brothchie's was the last wicket to fall, he being bowled by G. H. Vaughan after Mr. E. Stringer carried out his bat, and the innings of Vaughan's side closed for Messrs. E. Hart and F. H. Marshall were he first to undertake the run-getting for New's side. New's side.

The former, after making eight, was bowled by Lawrie, and the latter, after a magnificent "drive" to the "on" for three, was "stumped" by McPherson off one of Mr. Lawrie's balls.

Mr. Wilson was the next to assume the defensive, and this he did to good effect, as after making twenty-eight runs, including a five, he may virtually be said to have won the game for his side. GAVE WILSON A BAT.

Vice President Kemp infused a little adlitional interest into the proceedings yesterday afternoon, by presenting Mr. G. E. Wilson with a bat for making "half a century' at Kearney. Mr. Kemp supplemented the presentation with a neat little speech, which overwhelmed the bashful G. E. with blushes. The latter, however were soon put to flight, and the face of the recipient of the well earned mark of recognition was soon beaming with smiles as he lovingly handled his "very own willow" for the first time. It is not presuming too much to say that the festive George has his eye on the "siller" cup. Well, if he gets it none will grudge it to him, but—he will have to "play hall" (of more properly speaking, "play bat," if such an expression be allowed) before he gets it. The batting of Rev. Mr. Liwyd was one of the features of the game, and his twelve runs had much to say as regards the outome of the game.

R. W. Taylor's bowling was quite an agreeable surprise to his side, as in less than three "overs" he took three wickets for three runs. This may be almost called phenomenal bowling.

It may interest the players to know that President Lawrie intends publishing the batting and bowling averages next week, so t behooves all those who play next Saturlay to do il eir best, in order that they may appear to advantage on the "average list."

It will be noticed that the winning side in yesterday's game played one man more than the losing one. This fact might have had
