DEBS CASE IS POSTPONED

Counsel for the Defence Makes a Sensational Address in Court.

COURTS GAVE TO LABOR NO REDRESS

Time for the People to Take Matters in Their Own Hands When the Courts Go to Sleep-Judge Grosseup Withdraws.

CHICAGO, July 25 .- Attorney W. W. Erwin, counsel for the American Railway union officers, afforded a sensation in the contempt proceedings today by violently assailing the government officers and indirectly attacking the court. During his speech, which was delivered immediately after the adverse decision of the court on the defendant's motion to quash the information against the prisoners, Judge Woods was visibly excited, and although retaining control of his anger showed his suppressed excitement by his trembling hands and agitated expression. Mr. Erwin asserted that in cases of injustice the power of the people, back of the government, reverts to the people, and as he spoke his tall frame quivered with excitement, his gestures were wild and his voice rose almost to a shrick. Beginning his speech with a review of the trouble leading up to the strike Mr. Erwin declared that the railroads had entered into a conspiracy to sustain the Pullman company in the latter's fight with their employes. The court must decide the supreme question, he said, whether the men were not justified in resisting such a conspiracy when the courts were silent regarding it.

"Such a conspiracy did exist," he said,
"and the courts and officers of the government gave no redress. The que tion is whether the people are sovereign, or whether they have delegated all their powers to wicked men and representatives who are asleep. Had not the men a right to resist this conspiracy of the railroads to sustain Pullman in his inhumanity and illegal acts?"
When the contempt case opened Judge Woods delivered a brief opinion formally overruling the motions of the defense to quash the information against the American

Railway union officers. Judge Grosscup then announced that he had taken no part in the decision on the motion to quash and he announced further that he would take no further part in the contempt proceedings, for the reason that the defendants are under indictment in the United States district court over which he presides, and the same questions of law will be raised under the indictments. In fairness to the defendants, Judge Grosscup said he would not sit any longer in the investigation of the charge of contempt.

After making this announcement, Judge Gresscup left the bench.

District Attorney Milebrist announced that Special Counsel Edwin Walker was ill and could not attend the hearing. He said that he, Milchrist, will go out of office on August 2, and Mr. Walker will be left sole counsel n the case, and suggested that hearings in he case be postponed until Mr. Walker is able to take charge of it.

After considering the district attorney's suggestion, the court announced that the case would be continued until September 5. By order of the court the ball of the four prisoners was reduced to $7,000 each today. The bonds first required were $10,000 each. Debs and his associates went into consulta-tion regarding the givnig of bail, and the court adjourned.

Debs, Howard, Keliher and Rogers, after a lengthy conference with their attorneys, decided this afternoon to give bail. Since the committee went to jail, the prisoners have refused numerous offers, but because of the continuance of the hearing until Sep-tember they changed their tactics. William Skakel and William Fitzgerald appeared as bondsmen, and the four men were released.

SATISFIED TO RETURN.

Strikers Along the Union Pacific Have Enough of Idleness

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 25.—(Special to he Bee.)-The A. R. U. at Cheyenne, Lara mle and other points on the Wyoming division has addressed a communication to President Debs informing him of the true situation with reference to the strike on the Union Pacific and asking permission to de-clare it off. The leaders realize that it is simply working an injury to the men and towns along the line to continue the strike any longer. The citizens and business in the various towns will make an effort to induce the officials to increase the forces in the shops as soon as the strike is declared off. Cheyenne has taken hold of the matter and a special committee has been appointed to present the status of affairs to the railroad officials at Omaha. ALLEN WORKS RESUME.

Pullman Employes Themselves, How Are Not Weakening in the Least CHICAGO, July 25.—The Allen paper car wheel works at Pullman started up today with about a dozen new men. STRIKE RIOT IN CHICAGO.

Policeman and Two of the Mob Injured-Officer May Die. CHICAGO, July 25.—Policeman Lindgren was seriously wounded and two strikers badly hurt in a fight which occurred in the Grand Trunk yards at Forty-ninth street. A small crowd of strikers attempted to stop a freight train, and when the officer went to the rescue he was met with a volley of stones and coupling pins, and fell breised in a dozen places. Regaining his feet Lindgren fired, probably fatally injuring Alexander Hart, and slightly wounding a striker named Donnigan. But one of the rioters were arrested.

HURLED STONES AT THE HOUSE.

Thought to Get Even with Pullman by Breaking His Windows.

CHICAGO, July 25.-Simon Ruskins, a Russian, made an assault on the residence of George M. Pullman today. He hurled many stones at the massive building, breaking out ten or a dozen large plate glass windows, He was arrested, charged with malicious mischief.

Shortly after 7 o'clock the servants in the Pullman residence observed an ill-clad, rough looking man pacing back and forth in front of the house, which stands at the northeast corner of Prairie avenue and Eighteenth street. He cast sharp glances on the house and before the servants had taken any measures to learn his business or the purpose of his presence he began hurling stones at the windows. He took stones from the pockets of his overcoat. He had thrown perhaps a dozen rocks, each striking and breaking a pane of glass, when the butler and another man employed in the household rushed out to the sidewalk and seized hold of the stranger. He made little resistance. They started to march him toward the Cottage Grove police station, but a few steps distant were met by a policeman who had heard the crash of the window glass and was

In the pockets of his overeeat were found several more good sized stones and in his coat pocket were found preliminary naturalization papers. When questioned he de-livered himself of curses against the United States government and George M. Pullman. He said Pullman had thrown him out of work and that this was not the last Pullman would see of him.

Later he admitted he was a tailor by trade and had not been working at anything for a year. No weapons more dangerous than

EASTMAN TO TEACHERS.

Prof. F. C. Eastman, who occupies the chair of Greek and Latin at the Upper Iowa university at Fayette, Ia., delivered an address last evening before the Douglas County Teachers' institute at the High school building on the subject: "Live English." Prof. Eastman's address was well timed to the occasion. He refrained from a didactical discussion of school methods and theories and entertained his audience with a delightful recital of some of the many encumbrances which surround the average boy in the pursuit of knowledge. He pictured in the pursuit of knowledge. He pictured the artificiality and sham which surrounded educational methods of the older three and made a plea for more natural and more reasonable systems. He began by saying that to him life was like a book, every page being illustrated, some with the bright, cheerful colors of the sunset, others with the bleaker pictures of black and white. One of these pages was shadowed in somber colors. It was the page which instinctively came to his mind on the days when he felt the blues, when cash was low, when influenza pervaded the air, when it was dark and dismal and rainy. This was the page which represented his school life. Other pages were bordered with flowers, this one with weeping willows and cypress trees. He believed that with every boy, as with himself, the old-time school room was the

The professor then drew a vivid word picture of the old school method. He de-scribed the rules, the signals, bell taps. regulations, marching orders, which were in former times deemed essential to the eduation of youth. The whole attention of the teacher, he said, centered upon the observ-ance of disciplinary ruics, which permitted knowledge to filter into the mind of the boy, provided the boy's mind was sufficiently absorbent to receive it. It was generally a matter of indifference to the leacher whether the boy obtained the knowledge or not, so long as he memorized and lived up to the rules. He described what he characterized the wooden clock work monotony of recitation in the study of geography, where capes, islands, bays, lakes, continents and seas were loaded into the mind like ammunition into a shotgun, and then fired off with the boy's toes to a crack and his attention directed to a signal. The lessons in arithmetic were equally monotonous. The boy was confronted at the outset by rules which he could not comprehend. The reading lessons were better appreciated, but as little understood. In all the studies that went to make up the boy's education the life, the beauty, the feeling were encased in shells which he was unable to penetrate. The professor's entire address abounded in brilliant word paintings, epigrams and meta-phor. His address was not intended to teach new methods. He wanted the barriers between natural life and the schoolroom thrown down and natural methods introduced He would first interest the boy in some-thing that he could understand, and then lead him to apply the facts he learned from nature to the rules and formulas laid down by science. He wanted the boy to first study grammar by learning to appre-ciate the beauties of words. He would show the boy first the beauties of mathematical science and then afterwards teach him the rules which were mere artificialities when taken by themselves. He would have him study literature, not by the circumscribed limits of elecutionary rules, but by first leading him to appreciate the beauties of lan-guage. The average boy thirsted and hun-gered for knowledge, but he wanted to get it his own way. He must be led into the paths of knowledge and not debarred from them by rules which convey to his compre-hension no reason. He did not deprecate dis-cipline, but he would make discipline sub-servicant to the attainment of knowledge, and he congratulated the teachers of the prezent ord, and his capture is thought to be an im-
