WITH THE HARNESS HORSES

What the Trotters and Pagers Have Accomplished During the Week.

SIVERAL SENSATIONAL PERFORMANCES

Cleveland's Track Witnesses Some of the Pastest Races Ever Watched-Alix Scores a Great Victory-Money Won at Detroit.

HE RACing season is now at its zonith and the midsummer harness meetings during the past two weeks have furnished the lovers of this sport with some sensational performances. But such events are getting to be rather common, and record after record has been broken up to the present date, until there seems to be no limitation to the speed of the thoroughbred trotters and pacers. The Grand Circuit accociation held its meeting at Cleveland during the past week. The crack horses from the east and west, north and south, started in these races, and in one afternoon, Thursday, three records were broken and new ones made. Alix broke Maud S's track record by traveling a heat in the free-for-all trot in 2:08, and Ryland T stepped a mile in a race in 2:07%, while he went the three fastest consecutive heats ever trotted. The people were furnished with a first-class program each day, and the greatest "Blue Ribbon" meeting of them all has gone into history and the record books. While the Omaha lovers of fine harness racing have to content themselves by reading the summaries of these fast races. they have been furnished with some good races at home, or rather at Union park. across the river, by the Saturday matinee meetings. Some really good contests have occurred between local horses, and a great deal of interest is being manifested by horsemen and horse owners. These races are to continue throughout the summer sea

The project of establishing a fine mile track and driving park in this city is being again discussed by lovers of fine horses. There is no doubt that if the right parties could be induced to take hold of the matter a track would be built in time for the late fall racing and another Blue Ribbon recting could be held here. A fall meeting which would equal Clinton Briggs' meeting at Union Park in June would prove to a money making investment and would the means of bringing thousands of visitors to Omaha. The main thing would be a good track and a good field of starters in each race. Then some attention should be given to rates to Omaha for the meet-ing. If the railroads would make reduced rates for the week for a radius of 350 miles from this city there would be at least 20,000 outsiders who would attend the meeting. Then, again, the track must be of easy access, both from the city and the depots. There are plenty of goed horses in this part of the country, and the big stables at Lincoln, Fullerton, Council Bluffs. St. Joseph, Kansas City, Sloux City, Sloux Falls, Des Moines, Denver and other points could be induced to bring their horses here after the close of the eastern circuit meetings, and it is not unlikely that Salisbury could be induced to stop over on his way to California with his famous nags, among which are Alix, Expressive, Azote and others. Then there are the Paxton and Briggs' stables, with such fast performers as Conqueror, Two Strikes, Alamito, Newsboy, Kate Caffrey and others, and Ed Gould's string, with Online at the head. There is material enough convenient to soon be a thing of the past, as it has been omaha for one of the best race meetings ever held in the west. Let liberal Fleetwood was designed in 1870. The cost purses be hung up, treating all of the horsemen fairly and in a courteous and accommodating manner, and Omaha will have established her reputation as a racing center. In this connection it has been suggested that premiums and medals be hung up for breed-ers and their exhibits of finely bred horses. giving the public a first-class horse show as well as racing. As soon as the weather gets cool enough for a man to think of business enterprises it would not be a bad idea for a number of horsemen to hold a meeting at some convenient place and discuss the sub-ject in earnest and see just how they feel about undertaking the project.

The Northwestern Association of Trotting Horse Breeders will hold its annual meeting at Washington Park, Chicago, August 18 to 25, and will close the entry list to eleven purses, which will be decided at that meet-ing August 1. These purses are for the 2:30. 2:25, 2:22, 2:17, 2:13, 2:11 and the free-for-all trotting classes, and the 2:20, 2:11, 2:08 and the free-for-all pacing classes. The purses are $1,500 to $2,000 each, and the entrance fee is 5 per cent, with 5 per cent additional from the winners. Nominators to the stakes of this association will also bear in mind that the final payments are due in fourteen stakes on the same date. August 1. During seven days $50,000 will be distributed in purses. stakes and specials. There are nine cold stakes, the smallest value being $1,000. There are six class stakes from $2,000 to $5,000, while the eleven regular purses would fill the time of a good average meeting.

There was some "hot footing it" at the Cleveland races on Thursday. Twelve heats were traveled in the average time of 2:10. and all kinds of records were smashed, while Jones made a killing with the famous little Alix in the free-for-all trot. Some of the people over there thought that because Alix got beaten in a race at Detroit that she was never going to win. They have rea-son to believe differently now, for it cost them a gob of gold to find it out. And look at the time, too. Alix not only won the race in straight heats, but she beat her track record and went the first heat within a quatter of a second as fast as her last year's record of 2:07%. She beat such speedy nags as Pixley and Walter E to a finish, and the real race was between the latter two for second place, but Pixley was able to outfoot Walter and he took second money after a game fight. The heats were traveled in 2:08, 2:08¼, 2:09½, and the purse amounted to $2,500. Then, there was the 2:20 class pace. All three heats below 2:12 and one in 2:19 flat. That is going pretty fvely, but just look at the time made in the 2:11 class trot. A mile in 2:07%, and all three heats in less than 2:09. That horse. Ryland T, who has kept all the critics guess ing what he will do next, was the winner, and he effectually heat Lord Clinton, another record breaker. This is the manner 'n which he lowered the record and made the timers think their watches had stopped First heat in 2:08%, second in 2:07%, third in 2:08%. These are the three fastest conin 2 08%. These are the latter taxes in 2 08%. These are traveled on any track. The Patchen won the 2:20 pace, and Ballonna won the 2:19 trot. Alamito, one of Clinton Briggs' horses, was started in the latter race, but he did not succeed in landing any of the money.

That was a great race meeting they had in Detroit. There were twenty races fin-ished during the week, requiring more than sixty heats and the average time of all the heats was 2:15 1-5. This Blue Ribbon meeting was the most successful from every standpoint of any meeting ever held in De-troit, and they have had some mighty good racing among the harness horses over in that neck-o'-woods, too. On two days the high water mark for paid attendances was beaten and all through the meeting the crowds were large enough to make racing profitable. There was no drawback in connection with the meeting, although the facili-ties for getting to and from the track were not what they should be for such a race meeting. There has been considerable talk about a fall meeting, but nothing has come officially from the club as yet.

great two-mile race to come off 8 at Buffalo park, Buffalo, N. Y., is being locked forward to with great in-terest. At this meeting the race referred to between the mare Nightingals, 2:10½. swhed by C. J. Hamlin, Buffalo, and the Contracts have been ntered into by the owners of these cham-dons for a race at two miles, best two in entered or a race at two miles, pest the horses matched are queen As the horses matched are queen and king of the turf at that distance, usual interest is taken in the contest. Moreover, it will be the first two-mile race ever trotted on a grand circuit course. Nightingale will be driven by Ed F. Geers, and Greenlander will be pitoted by Rody Patterson, both of whom declare that the record will have to be lowered considerably by the Monroe Salisbury has no better money maker in his string of fast horses than the mare Expressive. This animal has been started in all of the 3-year-old events on the grand circuit tracks and she has landed some of the money in nearly every race. A sensation was created by her at Cleveland last Tuesday. She started in the 3-year-old 2:35 class trot on Monday afternoon. Red Bud, another fine horse, won the first two heats, and it begun raining, so that the event had to be postponed until the next day. These two heats were traveled in 2:17 and 2:1814. When the field was called out the next day Expressive brought her speed with her and surprised the talent by winning the next two heats in close finishes in exactly the same time of the heats on the previous day In the fifth and last heat McDowell drove Expressive so that she was crowding Red Bud all the way 'round, and as the horses swung into the stretch Mac began overhaul-ing the leading borse as if he had been hitched to a post. Bud's driver saw that he was beaten and deliberately fouled Mac by crowding him into the fence so close that he had to pull Expressive down in order to pre-vent a collision. The judges saw the per-formance and distanced Red Bud, giving the race to Expressive. The action of Red Bud's driver was severely condemned, and if all such "jockeying" was as promptly and summarily sat down upon there would be less real cause for complaint because of "jobbery" among patrons of the turf.

The trotters and pacers have been coming to the front at a lively rate during the pas week, and there have been some record breaking races at the grand circuit meeting at Cleveland. But harness horses have been coming to the front all this year, and now over 675 pacers and trotters have made records in 2:30 or better so far this season. O this number two-thirds of these animals have marks of less than 2:21. There have been several Blue Ribbon meetings this season, but this will be the blue ribbon year for harness racers. Among all the fast rec ords can be found some western borses, and the fast nags upon whom western sportsmen pinned their faith early in the season have not only proved their stability and speed. but are rapidly getting to the front as money-makers. About $70,000 were hung up in purses for the Blue Ribbon meeting at Detroit last week, and the money was di-vided between forty stables and owners, as

The famous Fleetwood park, the home o the New York Driving club and the only trotting track around New York City, will soon be a thing of the past, as it has been sold and will soon be divided into town lots. of constructing the race course was very The site selected was simply wampy Money was, however, plentiful, and there was no great trouble in raising the $150,000 required to make the track. The first race at Fleetwood park took place June 22, 1870 but the formal opening did not occur until the following month. The control passed through several hands until 1883, when Mr. Gates Barnard, the lessee, turned it over to the New York Driving club. Last September, however, saw the greatest and successful race meeting ever held at Fleet-wood. The presence of such cracks as Nancy Hanks and Directum drew thousands of spec tators, who are not ordinarily interested in trotting races. Nancy Hanks trotted 2:06% and Directum won the fastest rac ever trotted by a stallion.

The correspondent of the New York dallies who announced that Flying Jib low-ered the track record when he paced in 2:97 at Saginaw last week overlooked the fact that the same horse paced the same track in 2:04 last year.

A new system of numbering horses was employed at the Worcester, Mass., meeting last week. The numbers, instead of being placed on the drivers' arms, were adjusted to the horses' harness, directly back of the withers. ***

By virtue of his performance in the 3-year-old trotting division at Columbus, O., ihe bay colt, Dimonero, becomes the fastest trotting performer to the credit of Piedmont, 2:174. The colt won the event off the reel in 2:184, 2:184, 2:184, beating some of the best 2-year-olds out last year.

The big bay gelding Azote, by Whips, that Hickok brought over the mountains two summers ago, winning five good races with him, and marking him in 2:144, is a good horse in McDowell's hands this season, as he won the 2:14 class at Saginaw, after the Canadian stallion, Fides Stanton, had won the first heat in 2:16. In the third heat Azote reduced his record to 2:123, After losing the first heat of the 2:29 pace at Columbus, O., on the 10th, to Alti, by Philips Blue Bull, in 2:1145, the chestnut horse. Clay Hontas, that has been pacing through the New York state circuit since the first of June, paced the text three in 2:124, 2:1224, and 2:1254. Clay Hontas started the season with a record of 2:394, and will reach 2:10, it is thought, before the season is over. He is by Pocahontas Boy, out of a mare by Buckley's Clay.

The free-for-all pace at Mystic Park last Friday was a battle royal between Scott McCov's bay stallion, Riley Medium, and Lisie Simmons' chestnut mare, Prima Donna, by Betterton, and the stallion won after five heats. Prima Donna won two heats in 2:125, and 2:135, and then the son of Happy Medium came back with a mile in 2:135, and another in 2:106. In this heat Prima Donna hearly severed a tendon and was drawn. The chestnut gelding Paul was distanced in the first heat.

Mascot, 2:30, began his campaign proper at Columbus, O., last week by winning the free-for-all pace over Crawford, Atlantic King, Reflector and other fast ones. Crawford, who will undoubtedly pace as fast as 2:36 this year, is by Favorite Wilkes, others of whose get are showing remarkable form this year.

WILLIE BRADY IS BACK AGAIN.

Corbett's Manager Returns and Begins to Talk of Jackson. NEW YORK, July 28.-W. A. Brady, manager of Pugilist Corbett, arrived on the Britannic. He appears to be deeply interested in bringing about a meeting between Corbett and Jackson. "Jim has very pronounced ideas of Jackson," he said. "He does not believe the negro wants a finish fight. This is the talk about a twenty-round engagement at the National Sporting club, which should be called the Jackson club," he added, with a sneer. "Why, they are all Jackson people to a man, and Jim would not have the ghost of a chance. We know that Davies and Lord Lonsdale have been in constant communication, and the former, by guaranteeling a purse of $15,000, tried to force Jim jinto, a match, but they did not succeed. George Pierre told me that two men could not fight twenty rounds in that club house, unless one was beaten, yet I saw four draws. It is only a 60-foot ring, and Jim, after looking the place over, told them frankly he did not like their club and their money, and would not fight there." ested in bringing about a meeting between

"But there are no available clubs here save those in the south," was suggested. "Do you want Jackson to fight there?"
"For my part, I do not know what to expect from Jackson, but I'll tell, as I started to, what Jim expects to do." Brady replied impressively: "Jim thinks Jackson will plied impressively: "Jim thinks Jackson will come on here, make a grand stand play about the south, and then retire, or else, after a whole lot of talking, finally agree to fight below the Mason and Dixon line. Then his manager will say he has conceled everything to Corbett. Jim will fight him anywhere in the United States, and any time will suit him."

"How about Fitzsimmons?"

"Oh, yes." said Brady, pausing as though to place the man named. "Fitzsimmons wants to fight Corbett, eh? Well, Corbett desires to arrange things with Jackson just wants to fight Corbett, eh? Well, Corbett desires to arrange things with Jackson just at present, but the long one need not be alarmed about getting shut out. Some time, and perhaps very soon, Jim will agree to put him out in four rounds. Fitz cuts no figure with Corbett. He will be attended to in due senson."

Brady spoke enthusiastically of the treatment shown Corbett in England, Ireland, Holland and France.

BASE BALL AND LACROSSE. Y. M. C. A. Grounds the Scene of Three

Live Athletic Contests. Yesterday afternoon was pretty well filled at the Y. M. C. A. ball park, the honors being divided between base ball, races and lacrosse. The ball games were two in num-and Bruner; Weish and Country Small.

At 4 o'clock according to agreement, the Clean Clippers then took the field to wipe up the winners of the first game, and succeeded admirably. Score: Hurley and Reed; Clark and Sage. Um-pire: Lacey.

Next Saturday the lacrosse team will go down to Kearney and tackle the Kearney lacrosse team. On the same date the Hast-ings Y. M. C. A. base ball club will play the Omaha Christians at the park, and a good game can be looked for.

BILLY MADDEN'S, GREATEST SHOW. Buffalo Red Hots Highly Entertained by a Combination of Sports.

BUFFALO, July 28. The much exploited a Combination of Sports.

BUFFALO, July 25.77 he much exploited athletic and boxing thurnament of Billy Madden took place at the driving park today. It opened with base ball and other cutside sports, and flosed with boxing bouts in the Exposition building. The star match was the bout between Bob Fitzsimmons, the thampfort middleweight, and Frank Keller, a library weight, from Ypsilanti. It lasted zwo brief rounds. In the first Keller rushel sand swung heavily, landed once of Fitzsimmons' phiz and chased him to his agrarer as time was called. In the seconds Fitzsimmons walked over to Kellar's corner, poked him once in the jaw, and all was over. It took o force of surgeons to brings kellar to life. The following battle between Jim Daly, Corbett's old sparing wastner, and Tom Lynch, the Irish giant, was stopped by the police in the first raind, because Lynch utterly refused to regard Queensbury rules, got Daly down on the floor and tried to bite a piece out of him. The other contestanes were amateurs, and their exhibition was very rank.

Last Game in the Tennis Tourney for Singles Practically Defau ted.

YOUNG WAS TOO SICK TO PLAY WELL

Game for the Championship to Be Played Next Saturday if Cuilingham's Hand Will Permit-Work of the Week Reviewed.

The finals in the tennis tournament were played last night at 5:30 instead of 6:15, as previously announced, and resulted in a vicory for Austin. When the game was called Young was sick, and, after playing two sets, he defaulted the third. Consequently it would be unfair to criticize his play. Austin won the games, one after the other, without using special efforts. He did not even play his usual game. The score was 6-0, 6-1, and the defaulted set, 6-0. What a complete walkaway Austin had can be seen better by the score of points: 24-7, 29-15. The largest crowd of the tournament was present and much disappointed, coming as they did with the expectation of seeing a good match.

Now that he has come out on top in the ournament, Austin's only obstacle to the state championship lies in the person of the present champion, Cullingham. Of course according to the views of the partisans of one or the other, this obstacle is surmountable or not. But the opinion of the great majority of those who have seen both play is inclined to give the superiority to Austin Cullingham's sore hands will be a great disdisadvantage to him. Another disadvantage he must contend against is his lack of prac-And to win a good tennis game, le alone a championship game, requires con stant and hard practice. With such handi-capping, it does not seem possible that Culingham could win, and it would be the part of common sense for him to wait until his hand is well or default the championship. But above and beyond these disadvantages there are not a few that think Austin has been putting up a game this year that could down any of Cullingham's best last year. This, of course, could not be proved this year. Austin, when ne played his hardest, put up a game much superior to any in th tournament. Some of his strokes are good, and he places well, and occasionally he does bits of brilliant playing. But of course he has had no man such as Cullingham against

Thus, the consensus of opinion and also common sense give the victory to Austin under present circumstances. Arrangements are being made to play off the match next Saturday if Cullingham's hand will permit. If it does not the game will of course b defaulted and Austin will become champion ONLY A PARTIAL SUCCESS.

The tournament, as a whole, may be con sidered only a partial success. Only four or five players were present from outside the city and these were not the best by any means. Doubtless the close proximity of the date of the interstate meet which takes place on the 20th of next month was the cause of the absence of outside players. Naturally one would rather be an interstate champion than a state champion. However the city association must be praised for its efforts to make the tournament a success The individual playing was not remarkable but very fair. An altogether too easy game was played. The ball was not smashed as it should be and the play was not aggressive enough. Austin and Johnson of Hastings were the only ones who showed any bril liancy in play, with perhaps Haskell. The latter could be classed second to Austin whom he made fight hard to win. His vic tory over Haverstick was well won and deserves mention. With another year's practice he will become a good player. He appears weak in judging returns and his smashing of lobs is not always successful. Johnson did some really remarkable work on returns. He is an experienced player and does not seem to lose his head. Of Austin enough has been said. C. H. Young played a good, steady game without doing any brilliant work. It is to be regretted against Austin. A resume of the matches played during the tournament follows:

FAILED THROUGH A FALL

Harry Tyter's Assault on a Record Spoiled an Accident on the Track.
WALTHAM, Mass., July 28,—Harry Tyles did not succeed in breaking the mile rec ord at Waltham today, on account of the poor pace making and an accident. He succeded in breaking the record for one half and three-quarters of a mile. Nat Butler of Cambridge fulfilled the expectations of the knowing ones by breaking the record for two miles, and breaking it hard. Tyler's time for the mile was 1:55.3-5. Intermediate time was as follows: One-fourth, 0:28.1-5; one-third, 0:37.1-5; one-half, 0:55.4-5 (world's record): two-thirds, 1:14.1-5; three-quartersfi 1:24.1-5 (world's record. When Tyler appeared for his second trial the tandem took the Springfield boy across the tape, and he was riding in elegant style when his front wheel came in contact with the rear wheel of the tandem, and Tyler was thrown, but was not seriously injured. After the first mile of the two-mile ride had been reeled off in 2:03.4-5, the records began to drop. About six of them went inside the next two minutes and seven seconds. Butler's time for the intermediate distances was as follows: Quarter, 0:29.2-5; one-third, 0:39; one-tail, 0:59.1-5; two-thirds, 1:20.2-5; three-quarters, 1:31; one mile, of the knowing ones by breaking the record one-third, 0:39; one-hair, 0:39 1-3; two-thirds, 1:20 2-5; three-quarters, 1:31; one mile, 2:03 2-5; mile and a quarter, 2:36; mile and one-third, 2:45 3-5; mile and a haif, 3:05 2-5; mile and two-thirds, 3:26 3-5; mile and three-quarters, 3:36 4-5; two miles, 4:07 2-5.

LONDON, July 28.—The race for 100 guineas cup in Carmarthen bay, off Tenby, Wales, has been postponed until September, The postponement is due to the receipt by those having the matter in charge of a letter from Mr. Gould saying that it would be impossible for him to fix a date before the middle of August on which the Vigilant could take part in the race. The deferring of the race until September will add to the interest that will be taken in the event, for the reason that the German emperor's yacht, Meteor, formerly the Thistle, which in 1837 was beaten by the Volunteer in the races for the American cup, will be present.

INVINCIBLES GOT WHAT THEY DESERVED

Fifth Rate Batting and Execuble Fielding Answerable for the Result in Yesterday's Game Surprising Showing Made by the Champions.

A fairly representative team from the members of the Omaha Cricket Club had to regale themselves on a banquet of mud, served up by an aggregation of cricketera from the Union Pacific shops.

Although it was a case of twelve playing against sixteen, there is not the slightest excuse to offer as regards the result of the game. On this occasion, at least, the game was won and lost on its merits.

The batting of the Omahas was weak enough, but their fielding was simply awful, while their bowling was enough to bring tears to the eyes of the oldest inhabitant. 'In no one respect can an excuse be found for the hitherto victorious erew, and they deserved what they got.

The effect of the club's demoralization was such that its worthy president is reported to have covered his face with his hands and wept. Had it not been for Messrs. W. R. Vaughan and A. D. Robb, with their 19 and 15 respec-tively, the club would have made a poor showing indeed. Both these gentlemen seemed to realize that they were required to do something—and they did it. Had some of the others on the side done half as well this "tale of woe" had been left untold.

For the winners, the bowling of Neale proved very effective, while the batting of Patullo, Sheppard and Barnett proved very formidable to the losing side. It might be as well to state that the fall of the eleventh wicket left the Union Pacifics eight runs to the bad, and the fact of them having sixteen men to bat alone saved them from defeat. This superiority in num bers also told its tale in the fielding. Below is the score in detail: OMAHA C. C.
