RAINS HELPING THE CEOP PROSPECTS

Very General Showers Reported from Nearly All Parts of the State-Depot Burned at Cmaha Heights-Grist of Local Railway Gossip.

The report of rain and prospects of rains emanating from the various railway centers are numerous and encouraging. Monday night there was a heavy downpour all along the line of the Milwaukee between the Bluffs and the Mississippi, the greater fall being throughout the eastern section of Iowa There was a refreshing storm of two hours duration in the region roundabout Perry yesterday morning.

There have been good rains along the en tire route of the Wabash, and a vastly improved look is already reported in the crops of all kinds, particularly corn and pasturage. The Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley, and the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha, have both been well drenched. On the Elkhorn, from Omaha to Oakdale, there was a good fall, especially heavy and soaking between Norfolk and Fremont. On the Albion and Cedar Rapids branch they were lavishly visited, as far south as Linwood on the South Platte and as far north as Verdigree. Along the Sioux City & Pacific, in lowa, there were good rains Monday n'ght and yesterday morning. The B. & M. reports a heavy fall of rain. but brief in duration, at Atwood, Herndon and Cambridge in the Republican Valley, and spasmodic showers at sundry other points. On the Union Pacific yesterday had a beautiful rain storm, accompanied with much electricity between Omaha and Schuy ler and between Omaha and Millard Mon

road passed through the city vesterday enroute from Hot Springs, S. D., to New "Do you know the reason," he remarked in the Elkhorn office, "why so many western people patronize the eastern watering places and pack off to Europe? It is simply because they do not know the wonderful resorts of their own immediate vicinity. It may sound better to say you are going abroad or to Saratoga, Newport or Long Branch, but so far as genuine sight it isn't in it. The fact is, some people choose to go abroad to sizzle in heat, and chill it fog among strangers, when it would be in finitely more comfortable at some resort here-at Dakota Hot Springs for instancein the midst of scenery which Switzerland or Italy can't rival; in a climate as pure as a maiden's blush; an altitude of pleasant exhileration; where good hotels, splendid drives, and numberless attractions obtain, and above all, 'the plunge bath' world entertains, cures and cleanses the mul-titude of their sins as well as their ills. Well, why do they go to Europe or east? Omaha has this season, I am told, gone mainly to Dakota Hot Springs, secondly, to Spirit Lake or Minnetonka, but quite a few

o Europe."

Mr. Halford with his wife just returned via the Elkhorn railroad from the Hot Springs. He farther said his trip up was a delight. Arriving in early morning in an elegant Wagner sleeper in which they rested adjacent to the Evans hotel until 7:30 a. m. got up and dressed leisurely and stepped just across the road to breakfast. When they left, they took the sleeper again in front of the hotel. "Oh!" he said, "we are rapidly acquiring all the conveniences and the comforts of the best, even out here in the wild and wooly west,"

Disputes Calamity Figures. F. L. Beatty, a twenty-year resident of Johnson county, was among the B. & M. arrivals yesterday. On inquiry Mr. Beatty said that it is all a mistake to say that the corn crop in this state is all gone up, because it is not so. He asserts that the yield will be considerable above the said to show how the case stood, up in his county, there were several stockmen coming in with him yesterday for the special pur-pose of picking up "feeders," young cattle to put out on corn. Their idea was that owing to the scare reports being dissemi-nated throughout the state they could pick them up cheap, say at less than one half their actual worth. Mr. Beatty has been over a good deal of territory and in many places he says the outlook is very good. Between here and Lincoln it is not nearly as bad as reported, nor west of Lincoln either, only in spots. Douglas county he estimates will yield a three-fourths crop. During the electrical storm at Omaha Heights yesterday morning the depot building was struck by lightning and entirely consumed. It was a handsome little structure, on the Gothic plan of architecture, and was the pride of the locality. There was no one in the building at the time the bolt de scended and fortunately no one hurt. Job Hathaway, manager of Burlington beach, Salt lake, near Lincoln, came in on the B. & M. yesterday. R. H. Harris, the big 'Frisco packing Golden Gate via the Union Pacific yesterday H. A. Snyder, general agent of the Rock Island, is in Chicago. General Passenger Agent Kennedy returned from Lake Minnetonka yesterday.

Sixty-nine carloads of California fruit left Ogden yesterday for Omaha and the east over the Union Pacific. And for the next sixty days the shipment will undoubtedly be tremendous. J. P. Nichols, general superintendent of the Nebraska division of the Union Pacific, is of the opinion that the recent rains have been of incalculable benefit to the state and insure more than half a crop of corn. John M. Thurston says that the general reports of the Union Pacific receivers are under preparation, but there is no telling when they will be completed and ready for filing in the United States circuit court. The Northwestern is handling a tre-mendous quantity of California fruit, more than at any one time in a dozen years. There has been a big revival in this traffic since the subsidence of the labor troubles.

The troops have not as yet been withdrawn from along the western and northern line At many stations the force has been reduced but it will not be wholly withdrawn unti things get back to their normal condition. All the roads report the biggest move in stock, cattle and hogs ever known in this western country. Many are shipping through fear of an absolute failure of the corn crop, and in many cases car loads of small pigs have come in.

Holmes Blair, engineer of maintainance of way of the western division of the B. & M., was in the city yesterday enroute for Dennison, Ia. He says while the corn out-look is pretty had throughout the southwestern portion of the state, that the reports are largely exaggerated. The Union Pacific is doing a gigantic Sun-day business with excursionists to Courtland beach. All of the excursions that converge here on the different lines, the Union Pa-cific gets for transportation to the beach.

Fifteen cents pays for the round trip, in cluding admission to the beach. That old chestnut about the Illinois Central having reached Onawa and intending to come on into Omalia is being again in dustriously cracked. It makes a good com-panion piecs for the Northwestern shops a North Omaha, and would look well in the harness room of any man's barn.

W. D. Cornish, master in chancery, o St. Paul, together with his wife and daugh ter, took a special car on the Union Pacific yesterday for a trip over the line. The Judge goes in conformity with the order of Judge Sanborn directing him to inspect the various nonpaying branch lines of the Union

Probate Court Called on to Deal with Something of a Curiosity. One of the most remarkable will cases that has ever appeared on the docket of the Douglas county court was being heard be ors Judge Baxter yesterday. The document at issue is the last will and testament of

Mrs. Marie Mader, who died at her residence in this city about the middle of April. Mrs. Mader was a woman who was said to have had a remarkable history. She first came to Omaha in the arly '70's and scon became well known in German circles. She was a person of marked ability and was a prominent factor in the literary and dramatic events of the local German world. In those days the dramatic performances given by the German society in the old Turner hall on Tenth street were conducted on a large scale and acquired a well merited reputation for their excellence, which was commented on not only in Omaha, but all through the state. In these performances Mrs. Mader always took a leading part, and her interpretation of some of the prominent roles of the standard German dramas was marked by a degree of ability that attracted considerable attention. The fact that she was said to have a very romantice history before her appearance in Omaha did not detract from the prominence which she acquired in the best circles of German society. During this time Mr. Mader was the editor of the leading German paper of the city. Previously he had occupied the same position on German papers in St. Joe and other cities. His newspaper venture in this city was not a financial success and finally he was compelled to abandon it. At this time the advantage of having a sensible wife was made apparent. Mrs. Mader aside from her histrionic ability had also the reputation of being the best cook in Omaha. was said, whether justly or not no one ever knew, that before her emigration to this country she had been at the head of the kitchen of the king of Bavaria, and she then conceived the idea of turning this acquirement to account. She opened a boarding house which at nee became the headquarters of the leading lights in German society. Among the boarders were numerous young men are now among the most prominent German citizens of Omaha and the social position landlady as well as her well known ability in the culinary line made her house a very popular home.

After some time she gave up her boarding house to become head cook for Ed Mauer, but subsequently had a dispute with him in regard to a question of wages and re-established herself in the boarding house business in the old building on Tenth street, nearly opposite the present location of the Windsor hotel. There her old boarders came back to her and she did a flourishing business. Two or three years before her death, and as she grew advanced in years, she gave up business and settled down to spend the remainder of her life in quiet. She had made enough money so that the in-terest sufficed for her wants and she lived in quiet retirement until her death.
Some time after her death her will was filed for probate. This was in brevity and form the most remarkable document kind that has ever been before this court, the following being a complete copy:

"It is hereby my will if I die, that everything I leave belongs to Mrs. Rosa Schmidt.

-Marie Mader."
The name of Fanny Pribyl and Christian

Obermoller were also signed under her own, but whether as witnesses or not did not appear. Not a shred of writing apeared on the paper except that given above, and the curious document was the cause of considerable comment at the time. A. S. Brown was appointed administrator of the estate, and the present issue is an action brought by him through his attorney to decide on the legality of the w.ll. Rosa Schmidt came to Omaha from St. Joe where she first formed the acquaintance of Mrs. Mader. She is a costumer, and still occupies the shop at Eleventh and Harney She used to furnish the materials for the German theatricals in which Mrs. Mader was a leader, and in this way became an intimate friend of the deceased.

Officer Storey and Two Toughs Engage in a Brief Battle.

Officer Storey exchanged a number of shots with two suspicious characters on the south side of the High school grounds at 2:30 yesterday morning. The officer was patroling Dodge street, near the school grounds, when he noticed two men sneaking along in the shadows. He called to them, when one of the men drew a revolver and fired three shots at him. The officer brought his own pistol into play and fired four shots, the last one evidently finding a denoting pain and staggered for a moment. He recovered, however, and, with the assistance of his comrade, managed to escape in the vicinity of Twentieth and California hit hard. Officers were scouring the neigh-borhood for the men at daylight. It is thought the men were burglars who had planned a robbery near the High school

Fishing and bathing, Courtland beach. Fought Over the Furniture. Ike Kaplan, a North Sixteenth street furalture dealer, and Frank Pascal, a customer, had a fight to a finish over a common dining room table, Pascal coming out several points ahead. Pascal went into the store to buy a lot of furniture, picked out what he wanted and agreed upon the price to be paid. At the time he paid a portion of the purchase price, arranging to pay the balance the next day, when he was to take the stuff away.

The next day he called, paid his money, and was loading the furniture into a wagon when he discovered that instead of getting the table which he had bought, Kaplan was palming a worthless one off on him. He protested, but could get no satisfaction out of the dealer, whereupen he pounced upon him and gave him a beating that made him next to unrecognizable to his most intimate friends. For this Pascal was arrested and brought into court yesterday, where both sides told their respective stories, Pascal exhibit-ing a demoralized t-ble and Kaplan a couple of discolored eyes. Taking all of the dr-cumstances into consideration, the judge dis-missed the case, holding that Pascal had
