DISCORD AMONG STRIKERS

Probably More Than Half of Them Have Gone Back to Work. OTHERS WOULD LIKE TO DO THE SAME

They Are Prevented by the Leaders—One of Them Describes the Situation—Packers Prefer Old Employees—Some Violence Last Night.

The rumor was on the streets of South Omaha last night that the strike was to be declared off today. Even at police headquarters the officers were congratulating themselves on the good news...

It was estimated when the most men were out that in all there were 1,800 strikers. It is now estimated that at Omaha 1,300 of these men have asked for their old places and that 1,000 of them were put to work...

The following communication was given to a Bee reporter by Henry McKinstry, who for a long time has been employed at the Hammond plant in the hog business. He went out with the rest of the men and is still out. The letter explains itself and is as follows:

Last spring the beef and hog butchers were organized under the American Federation of Labor. A short time after a meeting was called at Omaha to discuss the packing house employees. I was present and voted for the charter under the condition that there was to be no strike...

After the committee made its report I was in the hall when the chairman, Mr. Miller, said: "I know, as the matter stands, both are losing money, but the question is which will stand it best. The packers have millions, or the poor man with his small children and nothing coming in for the coal he has to buy for his family..."

OH, THE BABIES!

175 Died in Boston in a Week. Cholera Infantum is Raging Now. Lactated Food Should Be Fed to Little Ones.

August a Critical Time for Thousands. Every Mistake in Diet Must Be Avoided.

The death rate goes up with a jump. There were almost a hundred cases of mortality due to cholera infantum alone in Boston during the last week, says the Herald of that city.

One hundred and seventy-five babies died from this and similar causes. The fearful jump in the infant death rate that comes in August is due to improper feeding during hot weather.

In thousands of homes where love and watchfulness seem to have surrounded baby with every safeguard, these two conditions that lead to cholera infantum often exist—improper diet and possibility of contagion in food.

These causes are preventable, and every death from an intestinal disorder shows either their neglect or ignorance on the part of parents.

There is no reason today why baby should not receive proper nourishment, and be kept absolutely free from any possibility of contagion.

Lactated food is always obtainable. Physicians and mothers who have brought up a family of children know how nutritious, how easily digested, and how absolutely pure lactated food is, and how easily it is taken by children that cannot take other nourishment.

Lactated food saves babies' lives. The diet of a child from six months to three years old should be as carefully regulated as in the first weeks of life. And during hot weather, especially the first symptom of diarrhea should cause redoubled watchfulness.

Children who are evidently not thriving, who show a lack of energy, who are becoming listless, fretful, thin and weak, must quickly gain strength, or the slight attack of diarrhea that strong child readily overcomes will prove fatal.

There is always a chance of slight mistakes in feeding baby, and in hot weather such errors are more likely to occur. In case baby is not strong and abundantly nourished.

Babies properly fed on lactated food never succumb to cholera infantum. The experience of hundreds of physicians, public institutions, and thousands of mothers prove that lactated food is the safest article that can be used as the diet of young children during the hot months.

Mothers who have never used lactated food should remember that it is so inexpensive as to be used by the poorest of the poor. Enough meals can be made from a dollar package to last nearly four weeks.

The food thus prepared from plain directions on each package costs less than five cents a quart, and lactated food saves babies' lives.

MR. CARPENTER'S RETURN.

Frank G. Carpenter, special correspondent of The Bee, has just returned from Asia after one of the most remarkable newspaper expeditions on record. During the past six months he has traveled more than 25,000 miles, and he brings back with him the notes of a series of wonderful experiences.

After a trip to the ruins of North China he returned to Tien-Tsin by river, and then went by sea to the coast of Korea. He visited the Korean capital, was given an audience by the king and the crown prince, and got an insight into the life of the nobility at Seoul, such, as he reports, as has not been shown to any one else.

He investigated the prisons, and in company with soldiers, was shown everything. He took a trip across the country over the mountain passes to the west coast. Some of the places were so steep that he had to be carried up them by men, and his tour he almost starved.

He looked into the mines and resources of Corea, and has dug out a vast amount of interesting material. It must be remembered that there are no guide books on these countries, and that the matters about which Mr. Carpenter writes are not described in books of travel.

He was only his letters and his good notes, which he has examined and published. He investigated the Korean army, with its equipment, and saw the American general who went over there to reorganize it, and with his photographs he has published a very interesting and small amount of this matter has been published, and many of the letters to come were written by Mr. Carpenter while on the trip.

Going to the east coast of Corea, he next took a trip to Russian Siberia to give us a report on the trans-Siberian railroad. He reported on the organization of the police in Vladivostok and took a trip over this road, a part of which is now in running order.

Leaving Fusan he sailed for Japan and landed at Nagasaki, in the extreme western part. He then made his way through to the great Chinese gun-works at Osaka. He has some original things to tell about the new Japan, and he has investigated a number of new industries that are being established seriously to affect our markets.

Leaving Kioto, he went through the country by railroad to Yokohama, the seaport, and then to the capital, Tokio. Here everything was thrown open to him. He had letters from Secretary Lamont to the minister of war, and introductions to the chief of the Japanese secret service at Washington, the premier of the government. He was taken inside the palace walls, and he had a long talk with the emperor and the Japanese features through his letters from the chief of police at Tokio. He had a most stand it best, with the army, and the troops in review. And he had many interviews with prominent men on the present outlook.

He takes forty days to get letters to America from Asia in advance of the cable, and Mr. Carpenter thinks rightly that he can use this material to better advantage in the future than by remaining on the ground. Before leaving, he made arrangements for full reports of everything that happened to be forwarded to the Bee by the leading detail correspondents among the leading men at the Chinese, Korean and Japanese centers, and his letters will be the embodiment of his researches in the latest news up to date. His letters will be the best things published during the present war in the east, and no one can afford to miss them.

Special Policeman Goes to Lincoln Under Arrest—Magie City Gossip. A dudsman, about 35 years of age, wearing a suit of light gray clothes and a linen helmet, drifted into South Omaha about two weeks ago. He fell in with Dave Anderson and rented a house from him. Dave was acutely jealous of the appearance of the young man out of a job and get him sworn in as a special policeman during the strike.

The man gave the name of Harry Johnston, twenty-seven and a half years of age, and Harry H. Ward. Ward wore kid gloves and strutted about the streets carrying a large club and talking to the police. Judge pinners on him to conduct his court and gave it out to others that he proposed to take the case to the court through Dave Anderson and the city council.

Last evening an officer arrived from Lincoln with a warrant for his inside pocket for Mr. Ward. The officer and his partner were there for several charges lodged. One is for stealing a watch and another for stealing a set of harness. The officer was named Ward when he made a policeman of him.

Magie City Gossip. Tom Maloney of Lennox, Ia., is visiting friends in this city. Traffic Manager J. F. Knox of the Cudahy company is home from a trip through the east and north.

George Parks, the contractor, has gone to Sioux City and built a large beef house for the Cudahy Packing company. The members of the people's party congregated at Bauer's hall last night and held a meeting for an hour and a half. The principal speakers were Dr. Rudolf and George A. Magney of Omaha.

GRANTED AND SUSPENDED. Judge Scott Decides that Poppleton Avenue Dump is All Right. An injunction suit was filed in the district court yesterday afternoon, in which P. S. Boyer and H. Peterson, proprietors of the Gate City Milk company, sought to prevent the city from dumping garbage at the foot of Poppleton avenue.

The style of cabinet work which best lends itself to economic limitations in the Omaha house of today is that simple, light and elegant class of household furniture which sprang into existence during the eighteenth century.
