THE OMAHA DAILY BEE SUNDAY, AUGUS: 19, 1894

CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE Jobbing Situation Remains Practically Unchanged.

BANK CLEARINGS SHOW DECIDED GAIN

Usual Number of Orders Arriving but Smal in Volume-Passage of the Tariff Bill Relieves Some of the Uncertainty-Live Stock.

It being the off season in a good many times of business, no great activity is to be anticipated in jobbing circles. At the same time about the usual number of orders are arriving and there is a good deal of business doing in the jobbing district. The great trouble is, however, that the orders are nearly all very small and the volume of business is not large in consequence. It requires just about as much labor to fill a small order as it does to prepare a larger one for shipment, so that the jobbers have plenty to do.

There is every indication that this will be a year of small orders, as the retail trade of the country is in such condition that the merchants cannot be expected to buy liberally for some time to come.

The passage of the tariff bill was a welcome event to the business men of the city, as it served to remove some of the uncertainties surrounding the business situation, though its provisions may not have been pleasing to all. While some of the effects of the bill on the market have al-ready been anticipated, there is no doubt but what a good many other changes in values will occur. For example, in hardware the price on sporting guns of foreign make, a good many of which are sold in the west, will come down about 10 per cent. Cutlery of foreign make and tin plate will be lowered in price. The reduction in the tariff on the latter will make a very material difference in the price of that article. The American manufacturers, according to a local hardware jobber, have had a very fine thing the past summer. Every one has been buying in too small lots to import plate, and, in consequence, the American manufacturers have had all the trade. It would appear these manufacturers have reached a position where they expect to be able to com-pete with the foreign manufacturers in spite of the reduction in the tariff. With the ab-solute certainty that the duty on tin plate would be reduced, men have been putting capital into new plants or enlargements of existing plants for the manufacture of tin plate. Within a few days Mr. David B. Oliver, general manager of the Oliver Iron and Steel company, was quoted in Pittsburg dispatches as saying that the company's mill on South Fifteenth street, Pittsburg, would soon be turned into one of the largest tin plate mills in the world, and the American Manufacturer of the same city said: "There is just now considerable activity in making preparations for the manufacture of tin plate. A number of new projects that have been on paper merely have been commenced in earnest. Old mills are making additions, and the tin plate trade thus increases the activity in numerous lines of the iron and steel trade."

The list of goods that will be affected by the tariff changes is too long for enumeration in this connection. In a good many lines it is still a question as to what effect the new tariff will have and on these the future course of the market will be a matter of interest. The situation in the drouth-stricken dis-tricts of the country tributary to this martet continues a leading topic of discussion among the local jobbing fraternity. As noted last week there are a good many schemes proposed for relief in the way of supplying work for farmers who have lost their crops, but none of the plans proposed appear to be in any danger of being carried out. A merchant who was in the city the other day from a western county rather discouraged those who have been advocating the furnishing of work by claiming that the people in his county had openly stated that the county was in duty bound to support them without work.

them without work. An event of special interest to manufac-turers of the state was the banquet given the merchants of Beatrice by the Manufac-turers and Consumers association on last Thursday evening. The attendance was very large and according to all reports the busi-ness men present were very favorably impressed with the excellence of goods of Ne-braska manufacture, as placed before them on the banquet board. The attendance of Omaha members of the association was not so great as at the recent banquet in Nebraska City, owing, no doubt, to the time that would be required in making the trip to Beatrice and return. Nearly all the cities of any commercial importance have during the past week been able to show an increase in the matter of clearings as compared with a year ago, many, in fact, that there is a gain of 8 per cent for the whole country. While Omaha does not show as large an increase as many cities she is considerably above the average, the gain at this point amounting to 17.6 per Business men generally appear to be anticipating some improvement in the business situation of the country and the course of events in the business world is being carefully watched for signs pointing in the right direction. Every favorable change is direction. Every favorable change is grasped upon as an indication that the tide has turned and mindication that the tide turned, and matters of comparatively small importance, that in ordinary times would not attract much attention, afford at the present time no little consolation. The report of the imports and exports for July, which has just come to hand, is looked upon as a most favorable indication. The imports of goods of foreign manufacture for the month of July were the largest of any month month of July were the largest of any month since the commencement of the business depression a year ago, the total being $65,251,057, of which amount $38,959,913 was for articles free of duty. It is claimed that the im-ports of goods liable to duty would have been still larger had it not been for the fact of the impending tariff bill and the prospective reduction of duties. The total exports for July were $52,713,133, against exports in July, 1893, of $69,113,857. The seven months ending July 31 show almost exactly the same exports for both 1893 and exactly the same exports tor both 1893 and 1894, the figures in the first case being $457,511,344, and is the second $457,142,411. The imports for the same period were $520,-$83,574 in 1893, and only $401,194,253 in 1894. The falling off in art.les imported free of duty for the seven meaths was about $30,-000,000, while in Cutiable articles it was 000,000, while in Cutiable articles it was

It would be sood business sense on the part of our western counties to bond themselves for funds to sake of future benefits, but because this would give employment to many worthy or the support of its basis. "The strike has been declared off at South Omaha, and one more failure of the sympa-thetic walkout has been added to history. It is to be hoped labor troubles are ended now. This country has burdens enough to bear at present without the self-imposed one of a labor strike."

parent change in the business situation this week. Much complaint is heard of the crop failure in the west, and much despondent talk is general. To those, however, who are in a position to carefully observe all ex-isting conditions and rate them correctly, there is a very decided change in the tone of trade, both general and local. The final passage of the tariff measure has had a noticeable effect on business in the cast. Stocks and bonds almost immediately as-sumed a firmer tone, and a steadler market prevalls in American securities, both at home and abroad. There is little doubt in the minds of eastern traders that business men in general will experience a gradual revival during the next few months. "At Omaha and other jobbing points in the west the crop failure is discourasing to a certain extent, and will no doubt retard the progress of events, but both wholesalers and retailers are gradually recovering from the shock occasioned by the misfortune of a shortage of the crops. The prospects were altogether so favorable and so en-couraging early in the season, the acreage of corn planted so large, that business men had come to rely largely on the result—an abuidant crop—a term synonymous with prosperity and easy times. The total failure of the crops in some sections and the par-tial failure in others naturally resulted in extreme disappointment. It will take some time for this feeling to wear off, but grad-ually it will give place to a feeling of more confidence, and there can be little doubt will materially affect business here. "The enactment of the tariff measure and the gradual revival of trade in the east will asturally benefit western industries. This about characterizes the situation in conservative business circles at Omaha, at ifme on this feeling to trade in this territory. It is difficult to state at this time just to what extent business will be affected this fail. Orders are coming fairly well in all staple lines, while dealers in huxories still complain of a slackness in trade. Retail busine ic below its current value at the close terday. "A matter which is being agitated to some extent in business circles is an amend-ment to the collection and foreclosure laws. These are so lenient in this state as to seriously affect the credit of the community, and there is a general demand on the part of responsible merchants for the enact-ment of such laws as will amply protect the interests of local wholesalers, and pro-tecting the interests of easter creditors and investors, encourage a feeling of confidence much needed at this time. This is an important year for Nebraska. It is a legis-lative year. An eastern capitalist largely interested in this and other western states, and whose investments would sum up in seven figures, recently made the statement do use near so much damage as the calamity cry of populistic legislators." portion of the week. The batter market has remained in about the same notch without quotable change, in spite of the bullian reports that are bong sent out from some sections of the country. The re-cepts were somewhat emailer than for the previous week and it has been no easy matter tor dealers to always secure enuing good buffer to dealers to always secure enuing and buffer to the prices upward. In the opinion of some the full effects of the drouth have not been first by the buffer market as yet. The receipts of easy have shown an increase during the week under review, the arrivals being the largest for any week since July 29. The very hirze proportion of poor stock arriv-ing, however, has had the effect of cutting down the receipts considerably below what is indicated by the report of the number of cases received. Good eags have been scarce all the week, so much so that a stronger feeling has been de-veloped during the past few days and the mar-set is quoted to per dozen higher than at the close of last week. The polity market experienced considerable improvement toward the close of the week. The advance was due upparently to the de-grease in the receipts, which amounded to some seventy cases for the week. The receipts are still large to what they were a month ago and dealers as a rule do not look for the advance to be of a very permanent character, as they mure that precipts will be stimulated, which would rapidly force the market down again. The following will show the arrivals at this meket of the lines of produce indicated for the weeks ending on the dates at the head of the quality reported as unsatisfactory. exceedingly buoyant that it was able to lift not only itself but every other market on the floor, was heavy as fead and closed with a loss since yesterday of 1c per bu. Wheat joined the funeral march of corn to the ex- tent of 4c per bu. Provisions followed the procession reluctantly, closing at a moderate decline. The corn market was weak and ap- peared to need more buying orders from the country, as the demand was very light. The general impression that the crop dam- age had been overestimated was chieffy re- sponsible for the decline. Trade was fairly active. Receipts were only 245 cars, and for Monday 350 cars are estimated. The prices of the day were made at the opening, and these were at a trifle improvement upon the closing rates of the day before. The price for September declined 1½ cunder the high- est it sold for at the opening, and it left off ic below its current value at the close yes- terday. May pursued a similar course, gain- ing for an instant at the start 1½ con the previous afternoon's prices, but dropping 1c of that and closing with a net loss of 3% for the day. The opening was at from 52% to 52½ c and closed at 51% c. Trading in oats, while only active at times during the session, amounted in all to a very good day's business. The tone of the mar- ket was easily influenced by the actions of corn. September closed 3% c lower at 29% c bid. May ranged from 34% c to 34% c and ended with the latter price bid, a decline of 3% calso. Provisions opened higher on light live hog receipts, but under increased offerings soon sold down. Comparisons with the totals for higher levels, and the market closed strong the previous week will show that there has at or near the highest figures touched. The causes which led to this upward movement were the strength of American securities on Hve stock at this point during the past six the Lonion Stock exchange, good buying by the arbitrage, and, perhaps, chief of all, the confidence imparted to the street by the about 10,000 hogs. nearly $90,000,000. The changes in the turket for country produce and live stock cave, for the most part, been favorable to shippers, the gen-several lines of ordinar being upward. Several lines of ordinary produce have shown substantial intrivement, as will be noted from the market reports given in another column. In viost instances the ad-vance is ascribed to a falling off in the re-Fruits were also considerably higher celpts. at the close than they were at the opening of the week.

The live stock market has also been on the up grade. The cause for this would ap-pear to be due in part to the improved condition of eastern markets and to a better local demand. The ending of the strike of the pscking house em-ployes has placed the local packers in a position to do business once more within a position to do business once more with-out hindrance, and they have been much more liberal buyers than they were a week ago. In the way of cattle the receipts have been too light to supply the demand on some days, and the market has been gradu-sily working to a higher level. The re-ceipts of hogs have been fair, but not heavy enough to prevent the market from making a rapid advance. Unon the whole the mar a rapid advance. Upon the whole, the market has been quite satisfactory, so far as sellers were concerned.

AS DUN SEES IT.

Some Good Will Come from the Drouth if

Farmers Only Hoed. "Trade is not improved," said the local manager of R. G. Dun & Co.'s mercantile agency, referring to commercial conditions for the week. "Copious showers have faller many parts of the state, breaking the drouth, but they are too late to do much good, except for fall pasturage. Hay is short, corn a failure, and the farmers of Nebraska will this year be buyers and con-umers instead of producers. "These dry years are productive of good in one way. They turn attention to the
