Tired of a Life of Poverty L. C. Screnson Commits Suicide.

PREVIOUSLY QUARRELED WITH HIS WIFE

No Food in the House, No Money, No Work and Debts to Pay Proved Too Heavy a Load of Trouble- Two Brothers Had Ended Their Own Lives.

J. C. Johnson went into a barn at the corner of Twenty-fourth avenue and Seventh street yesterday noon and found the body of L. C. Sorenson, aged 70 years, hanging from the roof, with the feet about six inches from the floor. Sorenson fived in the house adjoining. Last winter he and his wife had a disagreement, which resulted in her leaving him and going to Harlan, where they had a son and daughter living. She has never been back since.

Last week Sorenson drove across the coun try to Harlan, and there saw his wife, returning Friday night. He was seen about the place during the evening and yesterday morning until about 9 o'clock, when he was seen for the last time alive, so far as can be learned. When his body was found it was cold and stiff, and he had evidently been dead for some little time. Sorenson had frequently told his neighbors that he contemplated suicide. His house was furnished in the barest manner imaginable and he was completely out of food. This is thought to have been the prime cause of his rash act. He was out of money and had some notes just about to fall due and no place from which to expect assistance. Coroner Jennings was summoned as soon as the body was discovered and an investigation was made, which resulted in Dr. Jennings etermining not to hold an inquest. Mr. and Mrs. Sorenson were married forty-three years ago and had four married children. A conversation with a relative of the dead man developed the fact that two of his brothers had committed suicide by hanging.

A son and daughter of the dead man will arrive in the city this morning to make arrangements for the funeral.

SYMPTOMS OF A BOOM

Real Estate Activity in the Northwestern Part of Town Creating Excitement.

Rumors of a vague and indefinite character have been actively circulated in the past two or three days that extensive improvements are in contemplation in the northwestern part of town, and partly from this cause a remarkable activity has sprung up in real estate in that locality. For several days for options on vacant lots, and it was stated yesterday that more than 2,000 options had been secured. This has had a tendency to give real estate values a healthy boost. One block of ten lots sold for $1,500 was transferred in less than two hours for $2,000 The greatest activity is in the vicinity of the Paul land tracts, and every bit of prop erty in that vicinity is covered by options If the people who are getting control of the property know the cause of the activity they are keeping the information strictly entre nous, in the hope of getting more of it. Many of the rumors are absurdly ridiculous, but the information that seems to be reliable is to the effect that important and extensive improvements will be commenced in a few weeks that will add very greatly to the commercial importance of Council Bluffs. The real estate men are vigorously combating the idea of a boom, but they are very jubilant over the prospects of the immediate future

THE BOSTON STORE CHANGE.

Mr. Whitelaw Remains in Charge of the Big Dry Goods Establishment.

The change of proprietorship of the Boston Store announced yesterday was further supplemented by the agreeable intelligence that Mr. Whitelaw would remain in full charge of the store, and that the change will in no way affect the character of the business. Mr. Fowler will remain in town several days, assisting Mr. Whitelaw, but his business terests in the east will demand all of his tention. It is the intention to enlarge and increase the business in all lines, and Mr. Whitelaw will have a larger enterprise than ver to manage. Mr. Fotheringham has not yet confided his friends his plans for the future, but it is not probable that he will leave the city. He has recently purchased an expensive and beautiful home, and he is well satisfied to remain in it.

Bicycle Thief's Work Arthur Brown of Sandwich, Ill., who vis ting his brother-in-law, C. P. Railsback lost a bicycle last evening. He had left his wheel standing in front of W. A. Maurer's store about 9 o'clock and Mr. Railsback sat in the front door watching a picious looking individual on the sidewalk. whose intentions he thought might not be strictly all right. He watched for as much as half an hour, when he was called to the back part of the store for five minutes. When he came back, the fellow and the wheel were gone. The police of both cities were at once notified, and there is sme hope that the thief may be captured. The wheel was a Sylph, with a Rambier tool bag, wood rims, and weighed about twenty-five pounds. It was a $125 machine. The fellow who is suspected of stesling the wheel is described by Mr. Railsback as fellow who is suspected of stesling the wheel is described by Mr. Railsback as being about six feet in height, weighing about 165 pounds, wearing a straw hat with

Domestic soap outlasts cheap soap. The Brown Social. On last Tuesday evening Miss C. C. Brown assisted by Misses Tower and Phelps of Omaha and Miss Wolcott of Council Bluffs. gave a lawn social at her home, 725 Seventh avenue, in honor of the Baptist Young People's union of the First Baptist church of Omaha. An excellent program, which was happily arranged, pleased and delighted her guests throughout the entire evening. Festoons of flowers, mingled with boughs of evergreens and emerald designs, greeted the eyes of the visitors in every apartmen throughout the copious mansion. This, sup-plemented by the surrounding lawn, whose various illuminations of gas, electric and Chinese devices, contrasting with the green sward and luxuriant foliage of overhanging trees, produced an effect of magnificence and loveliness which could be excelled only by a scene from fairyland. Misses Nellie Francy and Mildred Mum augh, bright little girls, not yet in their teens, gave a few choice recitations in a very creditable and artistic manner.

Throughout the music numbers Miss Tower presided at the piano, assisted by Mr. Grigor who sang some of his favorite melodies, which were well received. This was followed by a number of vocal selections rendered by the Elk quartet of Omaha The oracle was one of the features of the vening, and provided amusement for those

B. K. Olds of Ferry, In Charged with

Forgery. PERRY, Ia., Aug. 18 .- (Special Telegram o The Bee.)-B. K. Olds was arrested tonight for forgery. Olds is a prominent real estate dealer and loan broker. Some time ago he negotiated a loan of $500 from A. Bohner, for J. K. Myers. A note bearing the signatures of Myers and wife was given Bohner by Olds and the money turned over to him. Myers now claims the note a forgery and Bohner had Olds arrested. Olds is now under $2,000 bonds for alleged crooked work upon a Greene county farmer. George Chandler of Des Moines claims Olds has forged his signature to a document calling for $1,200.

Failed for a Large Amount. CRESTON, Ia., Aug. 18 .- (Special to The Bee.)-A. and S. E. Bartholomew, who have for years been engaged in farming and conducting a dairy, have failed for a large S. E. Bartholomew has always been reputed to be worth considerable money, and til recently has possessed a clear title to valuable farm land adjoining the city. the strength of their possessions the Bartholo-mews have succeeded in borrowing large sums of money on personal endorsement, the amount approximating $10,000. Since this amount has been secured the unincumbered property has been conveyed to other mem-bers of the family, and those parties who have loaned them money are now holding worthless paper. An effort will be made to have the conveyance set aside. The failure is a surprise. The Bartholomews have always practiced the most rigid economy, and made the assertions that their interest more than sustained them.

Holiness So lety Camp Meeting. BENNETT, Neb., Aug. 18 .- (Special to The Bee.)-The second day of the Nebraska State Holiness camp meeting finds every tent taken, and an increasing demand for more. Not for years has the management been so crowded for quarters as now. All are being provided for, however, and accommodations will be made for the many who will come in next week. Saturday's service pened with a 6 o'clock prayer meeting. At o'clock Rev. H. L. Powers conducted a bible reading, and at 10 o'clock Rev. T. C. Webster of Omaha delivered a powerful seron to a good audience. The sermon in the afternoon brought many from town. Evangelist G. W. Wilson of Des Moines, Ia., is the principal speaker, and his sermons are powerful and eloquent. Everything points toward a splenid and profitable meeting.

Smallpox Scare Subsiding. M'COOK, Neb., Aug. 18 .- (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-The smallpox scare here is rapidly subsiding in spite of the misrepresentations of adjoining towns. The four cases, all from the original exposure, are rapidly convalescing, and, as the most rigid quarantine was established by the board of health, there is little probability of any further spreading of the disease. The business men of the city are very indignant at the attempt of rival towns spreading reports that over 100 cases existed and request The Bee to give this dispatch publicity as the best means of counteracting these reports.

Pops Surprise the Democrats. CRESTON, Ia., Aug. 18.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)-The populists held their county convention here today and put a straight ticket in the field, surprising the democrats, who expected them to endorse some of their candidates. Delegates to the ongressional convention were instructed to vote for no man who was not fully and une-quivocally pledged to free coinage of silver and government ownership of railroads.

Wes ward l'assage. NEW YORK, Aug. 18.-The steamer Campania, which arrived last even ing from Liverpool and Queenstown, left Daunt's rock at 12:45 p. m. on August 12, and arrived at the Sandy Hook light-ships at 5:45 p. m. August 17. Her time of passage was five days, nine hours and twenty-nine minutes, which beats all previous records by about three hours and eighteen minutes. The Canapania had just previous to sailing been in dry dock and was in prime condition for making a fast run. Moderate westerly winds were experience up to August 14, when the wind veered to the castward and there was a fresh breeze. On crossing the banks on the 16th much fog was encountered, and it was necessary to run the engines at reduced speed for two hours. The wind at this time veered to the north ward and continued to port. On the 17th the steamer made the remarkable good run of 545 knots. The Campania's daily runs were 516, 528, 543, 525, 545 and 126. The Lucania, the sister ship of the Campania, had held the best vestern record between Queenstown and New York since November 3, last, when she made the voyage in five days, twelve hours and EDGEMONT, S. D., Aug. 17 .- (Special Correspondence of The Bee.)-Very general interest will be felt all through the wist in the large and valuable deposit of sandstone that has been discovered three and a half miles north of this place, and to work whee, on an extensive scale arrangements are now being made. The supply is practically inexhaustible, while the quality of the stone, which is a very fine grindstone, is declared by eminent geologists who have analyzed it to be unequaled by any of the few grindstone quarries in North America.

To one acquainted with the importance of grindstone as a commercial article and aware of the scarcity of grindstone deposits, the facts relating to this new field soon to be opened up will be of more than passing interest. Up to this time the only known diposits of grindstone on this continent are those at Berea, Amherst, Elyria and Massillon, O., and one locality in Nova Scotla, with the exception of the new one at this Some idea of the extent and quality of the ledges can be gained from the following report of Prof. H. mation in his report:

"The economic geological feature of the district in which you have the sandstone claim is as follows: County of Fall River, E. B. H. M.; altitude above sea level, 3,50 feet; elevation above the town of Edgement about 70 feet; distance northeast of Edgemon 19,400 feet. At this particular point there has been much disturbance caused by rents and bolts by the dynamic action of the earth's crust. The geological series to which the sandstone deposits belong is that of the Permian and underlies two others, the Juriassic and the Triassic systems. About three miles south of the town of Edgement the fossils of the Jurassic series can be seen. At the junction of the Triassic and the the lines are quite distinct and nature has, by the eroding action of the atmosphere, excavated the rock until there is an open cut to the depth of from fifty to eighty feet of a rock face, and its surface has also been de-nuded and has left bare the top of the stone and thereby left it all ready for operation. and you will be able to take out commer cial stone at once. This is a condition very seldom met with anywhere. The deposits are inexhaustible, and as to quality it is excellent-much superior to so taken from the same system of rocks in other localities. Its crushing strain is 3,888 tons per cubic feet, and when it is well seaso it will take much more to crush it. It wil also stand the weather changes well, better in fact, than most other stone of the same class of formation that you meet with in the United States. Analysis:

stone than any now made in this country it can be manufactured at a comparatively small cost, and sold at a good profit. The stone will wear uniform, as there is no iron in the bisulphite form, as many of the stone quarries of other states contain. sity is also alike through the deposit. When stone is first mined out of the quarry is quite soft and very easily worked, but when it has been out a short time it becomes dense and much more indurated upon posure to the action of the atmosphere and exhalation of the hydroscopic water, thereby causing the uncombined silicon acid to solidify; hence the meteoric water has no effect on the stone once it has been well seasoned. "The cost of manufacturing grindstones will be comparatively small and a business with but few competitors, for the reason that the grade of the stone cannot be found so plentiful in North America. I do not know where they have anything like a fair stone for such purposes except in Massillon and Berea, O.

"The freight rates being in your favor "The freight rates being in your favor there is no reason why you should not get all of the business you would desire to handle, east and west. The trade would prefer your goods by reason of their fuperiority. For the manufacture of grindstones it will be necessary, however, to erect a plant. With the same machinery you can With the same machinery saw out pavement and other rocks for ing purposes. The stone is much admired by many of the architects of the city of Chicago, and you may find business as far east as this city, for the reason that no stone of like chareter is found in this section of the country."

WHAT PRACTICAL MEN SAY. The reports of the geologists as to the value of the depait as a grandstone are corroborated by the reports of planing mill men and butchers in Omaha who have prac-tically tested the stone in their establish-ments, and also by the foremen of railroad machine sheps, where they were tested with heavier work, sample grindstones being stones were small, but the reports say that they did better work than larger stones from other quarries, as the grit is exceedingly sharp. The speaker was Mr. C. W. Foster, the well knewn sexion of Fairview remetery, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

"I can't say too mush in praise of Drs. Copeland and Shepard, for they have surely saved my life."

Lusting Results.

The above positive and strong statement of facts was given to the public two years ago last December, Mr. Foster, when asked a few days ago, in reference to his present obtainable, while in the building stone both white and pink are found to satisfy varying tastes as to color.

There are probably very few, aside from hose whose business identifies them closely with building interests, who have the slight-est idea of the importance and extent of the building stone industry in this country. The Cleveland Stone company, which owns or controls the Ohio quarries, is the largest concern in the country in that business, being capitalized for $2,225,000, and producing 40,000 tons of grindstones annually, besides a vast amount of building stone. From fifty to 100 carloads of grindstone and building stone are shipped each day from their quarry at Berea, where from 500 to 700 men are worked, with a monthly pay roll of from $50,000 to $75,000. The price of grindstone ranges from $8 to $12 per ton, and building stone from 30 to 35 cents per cubic foot, showing the value of the annual output to be something enormous. This stone is used in buildings as far east as Boston and as far west as Omaha and L ncoln, while the grindstone is shipped to all parts of the world, that destined for the Pacific coast going to New York by rail Pacific coast going to New York by rail and thence by water to San Francisco. The Douglas county court house, Omaha city hall and Union National bank building are built of Ohio stone, and there are several other buildings in the Nebraska metropolis constructed of the same material It will be but a short time until this new candidate for commercial honors will be in the field in active comp tition, presenting what will be practically a home industry product to the transmississippi country. Representatives of the Edgement Stone com pany have just returned from the east, where they secured a large plant of the most improved machinery for operating the quarry here, and engaged several skilled workmen of large experience, who will direct the open ing of the quarry in a thoroughly pracical and most advantageous manner. The Bur-lington Railway company is putting in a switch and sidetracks at the quarry, and the work of getting out stone will be begun at once, for several large orders have already been received. Stone will be furnished from this quarry for the new court house at Sheridan, Wyo., to be erected by Contractor H. F. Cady of Omaha, a new bank building at Crawford, and a postoffice building and news-paper building at this place, the latter to be the new home of the Edgemont Express.

In view of the fact that this will be superior stone to any other in the that the deposit is entirely bare and may taken out at once, whereas the Cleveland stone lies beneath fifteen feet of slate, which must first be removed; that the ledge is from fifty to eighty feet at Edgement, no other ledge exceeds forty feet; that the stone at Cleveland has to be carefully picked out, as only a small proportion of it is available for grindstone use, while there is a solid wall of eighty feet at Edgemon ready to be utilized for grindstone purposes; that in the same quarry win the grindstone is found an inexhaustible supply of splendid building and paving stone, it is at once ifest that there is no western market in which the Edgement article will cessfully compete, and that a great industry must perforce speedily grow out of this great mass of s'one, which is sufficient to supply the world for generations.

AFTER HIS BROTHER'S SHARE.

Charles Fair Bringing Suit for an Additional Haif Million. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18,-Charles Fair, surviving son of ex-Senator Fair, began another effort in probate department of the superior court today to secure $1,000,000 of his mother's estate, the amount being the aggregate legacy of his deceased brother, James, and himself. Mrs. Fair left $500,000 to each of her sons, James to receive his at 35 and Charlea when 30 years of ageat 35 and Charles when ou years of earlie was provided by her will that in case either son died before attaining the age named without wife or lawful children, his share should revert to his brother. James died two years ago, when he was 33 years old. Charles claimed the legacy then, but both the higher courts decided that Charles must wait for James' legacy until such time as the latter would have ben 35. Since that decision Charles has married, and claims that the ceremony altered the case, entitling him to immediate possession of both legacies. If he should get what he claims his wife would receive half of his inheritance and his father one-half, and as his sister cannot get either legacy now, there is no use in their fighting to keep the money from im longer. Mrs. Fair's eldest daughter is now entitled to receive $1,500,000, her share of her mother's estate, which is now ready for distribution. Charles' new cont at will probably tie up the property for another year.

"Since my treatment nearly three year, ago with Drs. Copeland and Shepard. I have been in perfect health. I have had no return of my distressing asthma and cough, and the remarkable results of their medicines have been with me every day. I am in better health than I have been for ten years, It is putting it pretty strong to say that these physicians saved my life, but such is the plain truth, and I want the public to know it."

Mr. Fester can be found every day at Pairview Cometery, Council Blufts, where he is in charge as sexton, and he will gladly verify his printed statement.

SHE STAYED AT HOME,

A Lady Who Never Saw the Doctors, But Got Well Through the Mail Treatment

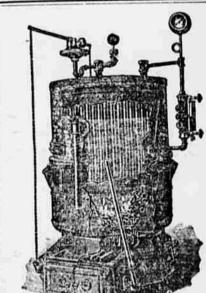

Mrs. G. B. Woolman, Julesburg, Colo., wife of a meat and provision dealer, writes to Dr. Shepard as follows:

"Recently I wrote for your symptom blank and began the home treatment for a catarrh I had had since childhood. I had continual roaring and singing in my ears, with a headache that never stopped. My throat was always sore, the vocal organs impaired had the tonelis discharged yellow humps. The bronchiad tubes yielded to the mainly, and I had hard work to breather, my chest had lungs bring sore and painful. The cyps were blurred and watery, so that my sight became very imperfect. I was more like a dead woman than a live one when you took me in hand, but you have given me excellent health in exchange for my former distress. I praise the wonderful home treatment to all my friends."
