Will Tax Playing Crads. From now on every dealer in playing cards will have to pay a tax of 2 cents upon each pack. Section 38 of an act pasesd by congress this month and now awaiting presidential action, reads as follows: "That on and after the 1st day of August, 1594, there shall be levied, collected and paid by adhesive stamps a tax of 2 cents for and upon every pack of playing cards containing not more than fifty-four cards and manufactured and sold or removed, and also upon every pack in the stock of any dealer on or after that date, and the commissioner of internal revenue shall make regulations as to dies and adhesive stamps." This act further provides that each dealer is subject to a penalty of $50 for every omission to affix such stamps, together with the forfeiture of all packs of unstamped playing cards.

Allege a Con piracy. SIOUX CITY, Aug. 27 .- The Credits Commutation company's answer to the Manhattan Trust compan's foreclosure proceeding against the Sioux City & Northern Railway company has filed in the United States circuit court. The petition alleges conspiracy on the part of the Manhattan Trust company, trustee for the first mortgage bondholders of the Sloux City & Northern, the Union de-benture company of Jersey City, N. J., J. Kennedy, Todd & Co. of New York and J. J. Hill of the Great Northern road, to get the various properties referred to and particularly the Sloux City & Northern road in their hands. In pursuance of this scheme, it is assisted that they loaned to the officers of the road large sums of money at usurious rates of interest and they worked together in numerous ways to depreciate the stock in the hope that they might buy it at less than it was worth.

MODERN VULCANS. How Fireworks for "Last Days of Pompeli"

Are Made. Fireworks possess an undying fascination for the young and old. Their meteoric life -or rather death, in its various flery phases -is more or less familiar to all, but few are the facts popularly known as to the trade that yearly produces millions of dollars' worth of scintillant beauty — truly as mysterious an art as the alchemist's of old

Many thousands congregate each night of boach to see performance at Courtland Gunpowder enters largely into the manupenetrates a priming on the head of each "lance," which ignites the instant the fire is present. After all the lances are in position present. After all the lances are in position and the fuse applied, the whole design is elevated into its position each frame being securely tied into place, and fuses of each carefully connected with adjoining ones. When the design is to be presented the pic-ture is touched off at two different points, giving an effect of every lance, being lighted at the same instant. How nearly this is go can be judged from the fact that were a man to take one hundred feet of quick match used for this purpose, hold both ends in his hands for this purpose, hold both ends in his hands and light one end, the fire would reach the other end before he could drop it.

General James B. Weaver made one of his flying trips to Council Bluffs last week and was closeted for a whole evening with a number of the party leaders. He had learned of the determination that existed among some of the local populist leaders to put up a county ticket this fall, instead of fusing with the democrats, as had been the first intention, and the main object of his visit was to nip the scheme in the bud if possible. It is related by one of those present, who for obvious reasons does not care to have his name mentioned, that the general raked certain individuals over the coals pretty warmly and gave strict instructions that hercafter the populists in the Ninth congressional ditarict should pay no attention to anything except to secure his election; that would be all they had any time for. As dictator for his party he gave it out cold that ony one who advo-cated the idea of putting up a county ticket would be considered a traitor to the populist

The talk in which he indulged caused a sensation among those who heard it and had two sorts of effects. Those who believed in and it them. all around fusion before were strengthened in the belief, while those who wanted to put up populisis to be voted for at the county election had their wrath raised by being yanked up and lectured like a lot of school boys who had been caught cimbing over the fence at recess to steal green apples. Among populists of this lattr stripe it is the general opinion that Weaver did not help his care any by his talk, and the democrats who believe n standing up for democratic principles are still standing around waiting for a chance o stick a pin into his congressional boom on

CALLING FOR JUDGE LYNCH.

Fiendish Crime Perpatrated at Des Moines Causes Numerous Threats of Violence. DES MOINES, Aug. 27 .- (Special Telegram o The Bee.)-One of the most fiendish crimes ever perpetrated in this city came to light

this evening. It was perpetrated by two villains Saturday night in the western suburbs of the city and has been kept quiet in order ti give the authorities a chance to arrest the perpetrators, but which is not yet accomplished. The victim of the outrage is Mrs. Kate Pathoff, a widow.

About 2 o'clock Sunday morning she was aroused by a noise and got upto see what was the matter. As she opened a door upstairs she was confronted by two burglars, who demanded her money. She said she had but little, which the fellows were allowed to se-cure. They threatened to outrage her and she fought desperately to get away. Finding she would not yield, the villain threatened to outrage her little daughter, and to save her child the poor woman submitted. She is terribly prostrated by the assault and the excitement, and although she will recover, it will be many days before she will regain her normal condition. She describes the fellows as young, with clean shaven faces, over which they had smeared dirt or blacking to disguise their features. They wore good clothes, and talked as though they had been burglars for a long time. The neighborhood is aroused, will go hard with the fellows if the people can get their hands and a rope on

Enlarging Shenandoah Churches.

SHENENDOAH, In., Aug. 27 .- (Special to The Bee.)-Both the Methodiat and Congregational churches of this city have been closed most of the summer for the purpose of repairs and the building of large additions to both buildings. The Methodist church was reopened with dedicatory services August 19, Dr. Louis Curts of Chicago preaching the sermon. This church edifice will now sent more people than any other in The conference of the Des Moines district, omprising over 200 ministers, will meet in this city September 4. Bishop Fowlerof Des Moines will preside. Yesterday the Congregational church was reopened, Rev. E. C. Moulton of Red Oak delivering the dedicatory sermon, while the enlarged capacity of the church was taxed to the utmost. Prof. F. H. Baldwin, late of Lenox college, will have the department of natural sciences in the Western Normal college of this city for the next year. Prof. William G. Bishop of Normal, Neb., has been chosen to become principal of the commercial department. Wealer Starves to Death.

CRESTON, Ia., Aug. 27 .- (Special to The Bee.)-John M. Moore, hailing from Pueblo. Colo., died here this morning. He was endeavoring to get to Mather, but actually starved on the way. Moore was 55 years of age and a member of the Commonweal army.

He fell down on the streets of Creston yeserday in a famished and exhausted co He was given proper care, but this tion. norning was found dead in his bed at the Avondale house. M. O. #### Mystery of a Council Bluffs Killing

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 27 .- (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-A couple of weeks ago a young man was killed at Council Bluffs by being run over by a train, the body being cut in two. The remains were finally identi-fied by Al. C. Roper and wife of this city as those of their son and the funeral was held from their home in this city. Today, however, they were greatly surprised and shocked to see their son walk into the house alive and well. He left home the first of May to travel with a circus and had not been heard from since. The identification of the victim of the railroad accident is now more of a mystery than ever. The body was marked with the initials of F. R. on the left arm. There was a broken tooth and other marks identical with those of young Roper, and the resemblance was remarkably strik ing in many ways.

Work of Incendiaries.

CEDAR RAPIDS, la., Aug. 27. - (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-The large barn and granary of George Hoadley near this city were totally destroyed by fire this morning, causing a loss of $3,000. It was evidently the work of incendiaries. While the family was at the barn fighting the flames two unsuccessful attempts were made to fire the house Thire is no clue to the incendiary.

Fatal Runaway at Creston

CRESTON, Ia., Aug. 27 .- (Special Telegram o The Bee.)-Harvey Crossen of Ross township, Taylor county, was fatally injured by a team running over him and breaking sev-eral bones in his body. The injuries resulted in his death a few hours afterward.

FEW SPEECHES PRINTED.

Members Did Not Avail Themselves Largely of the Privileges of the Record.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 .- When the house of representatives receded from its disagreement to the tariff bill it granted ten days leave to print to all its members. That is to say, that all members who had not been given time to speak during the debate were given leave to print their speeches in the Record as though they had been delivered. Only thirty-six speeches on the tariff have printed since this permission was given. Part of these are speeches that were, fact, delivered on the flobr, but were with-held for revision. In several cases one man has more than one speech inserted.

In the senate during the iong considera-tion of the bill the democrace have, very generally refrained from making speeches on ccount of the time it would require. The bill has passed and a few democratic senators sought to make speeches on the bill, but the republicans objected to their delivery, and there being no voting quorum of senators in the city they were able to pre-vent it. It will be seen that the majority of congressmen of both parties do not intend present tariff literature to their constituents this fall in the contest they are making for re-slection.

Refused to Restrain Cartisle.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 .- Judge Cole of the district supreme court today denied the petition of Lyttleton P. Drydan, formerly shipping commissioner of the port of Baltimore, for a mandamus on Secretary Carlisle to compel his retention in office, the secretary having removed him without cause. Dryden's counsel noted an appeal. The decision of Judge Cole, upless reversed, will establish beyond cavil the authority of the secretary of the treasury to remove shipping com missioners at will the gorgeous pageantry, splendid acrobatic specialties and other features incident to the 'Last Days of Pompell,' but it is not pre-suming to say the greatest interest centers in the fir works display that terminates each performance, and surely interest will not be decreased by an explanation of the causes producing such effects-the blowing away, as of the dense smoke that so mystiwere, fies the fiery art.

Back of the huge sceneries and buildings at the Pompelian park are several workshops, where a large force of Messrs. Pain's experienced men are daily engaged in prepar-ing fireworks designs for the forthcoming exhibitions. Not all the fireworks are made here, as many come direct from the Long Island factory, but what the workshops did not reveal was made up by a trip through the big iron-sheathed magazine, where the factory products are stored.

Probably the most eccentric of all fireworks is the "water devil." Each piece consists of two distinct parts, the propelling power, which is represented by the cylinder, which is the foot, and the effect, which is the head. These two parts are set at an angle to each other so as to propel the piece in a zigzag path. The propelling force is the same ciple to that which propels skyward the rockets.

Skyrockets are among the most generally known of fireworks devices. There is a vast difference in the size of these, the smallest used at "Pompeli" being of one ounce size, while the largest is six pounds. This large size requires a stick six feet long and one inch square to guide it in its flight. In or-dinary rockets the stars are independent of each other, and when the paper cylinder bursts during the downward flight they fly in every direction. In the hanging chain and festoon rockets the stars are attached to a string, but in such a way as to be burned before the stars have become extinguished. The parachutes to these rockets are somereach times made of silk, but usually of Japanese paper designed especially for the purpose When the rocket explodes the chain, which has been carefully rolled up so as not to become untangled, unrolls, and by its fall automatically opens the parachute, causing the stars to float in midair. Bombs or shells are probably the most popular and at the same time most expen-sive firtworks used. A description of the way bombs are manufactured was given in The Bee a few days ago. The tourbillion or "table rocket" is another interesting plecs. It hisses like a rocket and sends out a shower of stars which assume the form of an umbreila. In the large size the stars fill an area from twenty to thirty feet in diameter, producing an exquisite and novel effect.

No great display of fireworks is complete without its set piece, or as it is technically termed, "lance work." Portraits, moticas, pictures of buildings, in fact, almost snything that can be drawn on paper can produced in this way with surprisingly vivid effect, even to every desired color. An amount of prelimenary work is required which seems out of proportion to the time that the picture actually lasts, but the impression left in the mind is lasting. The picture to be repro-duced is sketched by an artist on paper laid off in squares corresponding with squares on the frame work upon which the lance work is to be done. In the case of the designs given at "Pom-In the frame work is usually 25 feet high and 20 feet wide, comprised of ten blocks, each 10 feet long and 5 feet wide, laid off into squares 1 foot each way. The artist, with a piece of chalk fastened to the end of a long stick, sketches the outline of the picture on the frame work and stage corresponding to the sketch in his hand. Assistants follow behind him nailing strips of rattan or bamboo over the chalk lines. The ten individual frames are then sawed apart where these strips joined them together. A boy follows the second man and puts wire nails at intervals of four or five inches in all the bamboo and rattan tracing. Then another goes over the job with pinchers, clipping the head of each nail. Another man follows the hiad of each nail. Another man follows with "iances" of various colors and places one on each nail, glue and the nail holding it in place. When the lances are all set and glued in place a quick match is pinned over the upper end of each lance, connecting them all together as shown in figures. This pin facture of fireworks to serve for ignition, but not for color effect. Several grades and qualities are used. One kind called "meal" powder, being manufactured especially for the purpose. In the manufacture of fireworks extra hazardous compounds are avoided as much as possible, for at the best the risk is great.

Many are the components used to produce the varied results. Saltpetre, sulphur, Paris green, sodas,"charcoal, sawdust, cotton, mag resium, stroncha, steel and iron filings and other chemicals are used to produce the more common effects, while some of the colors and tints are produced by compositions known only to the head of the great fireworks firm. SURVEYING LAKE SUPERIOR.

Mark Harrington Makes Interesting Observations for His Weather Maps WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 .- Mark Harrington, chief of the weather bureau, recently returned from a trip along the northwest shore of Lake Superior undertaken with the purpose of the survey in order to complete the weather bureau maps showing the currents of the great lakes. The professor was accompanied by Mr. N. B. Comber, the inspector of the lake marine work. The trip was made in a sall boat with a crew of three men in which the professor approached the shore of Lake Superior and the Isle Royal. Owing to the character of the northwest coast of Lake Superior and the shores of the Isle Royal, which are very rocky and steep, showing the occurrence of a very heavy surf, it is impossible for the current bottles used in the determination of the lake currents to be landed without breakage. In fact only one current bottle has been returned from these shores and that in a deep inlet on Isle Royal which the seas did not

Owing to the absence of information to be obtained in the usual way, Prof. Harrington was forced to rely on other methods such as the indications of dry wood, the drift wreck age and the accounts of fishermen; also firect observations of the drift of floating objects, the distribution of surface tempera ures.

Prof. Harrington reports to the secretary that from the information he has obtained he has made it possible to finally complete Lake the scheme of surface currents for Superior as shown on the map which ac-companies the report. Many temperature observations were taken during the trip, ob servations which showed some interesting facts. It was found, for instance, that th temperature of the water in Lake Superior is very low and especially in the open lake sometimes in July and August to falling below 40 degrees.
