a Settled Question.

ern Experts and What is to Be Gather.d Therefrom-Prospect of a New Plant,

At the star chamber session of the city ouncil tomorrow morning the question will be discussed of how much the city ought to pay for its electric lights? The estimate recently made by Stone and Webster, elec trical experts, of Boston and Chicago, will guide the council in its deliberations. The contents of this communication have been carefully kept secret by the councilmen but The Bee is able to give the public the information which the council seems fit to suppress. Two estimates were made, one on a tlant unitable for present needs, the other for those of the future. In the first estimate the calculations are made on a basis of 200 are lights of a full 2,000 candle-power each. and 2,000 Incandescent burners. The cost of the entire plant, with the exception of the land upon which the buildings stand, is estimated at $58,500, and the cost of operation, together with repairs, depreciation of the plant in value, insurance, and 6 per cent nterest on the money invested, at $12,000 it is figured, makes each arc light $81.30 per annum. The city is now aying $92 per annum, and private consumers are paying $150 per annum. In the second estimate calculations are on the basis of 250 arc lights of the same capac-ity, 2,000 candle power, and 4,000 incandesalculated to be $78,500, and the cost of operating each light about $80. Both of these estimates are based on what is known as the Philadelphia schedule, in which al-lowances are made for moonlight nights, it would cost but a triffe more, however, to nave the lights run all night, for the same amount of help would have to be employed in either cuse, and but little more fuel would required.

These figures are somewhat disappointing o the gentlemen composing the Economic eague, at whose request the firm of Stone and Webster was engaged to make the survey. Both the cost of the plant and the expense of its operation are figured higher than these gentlemen had expected, and that makes the cost of each individual light con-sid rably higher. The Economic leaguers had hoped to get the price of arc lights down to less than $50. In spite of their disappointment, it is evident that if Stone and Webster are not off in their calculations, the people of Council Bluffs are paying a good, round sum for their lights. The citys which buys light at wholesale, and might be expected to get it at wholesale rates, pays $11 per light more every year than the retail price given by Stone and Webster. And the private individuals pay nearly twice as much as th Several firms are figuring retail price. upon putting up a plant here, and it is prob-able that the competition between them will result in the city's getting terms that will be something like fair.

Rev. Burnett H. Allen, a brother of Rev. E. H. Allen, pastor of the Christian church of this city, is missing, and his brother is very much worried. Early in July he went to Plattsmouth, Neb., from his home in Elmword, a small town on the Missouri Pa-cific, twenty miles from Lincoln, intending to preach there. He filled the pulpit for three Sundays, but no permanent arrange-ments had been made for him. On Saturday evening, August 4, he dressed himself for evening service and went out late in the afternoon. He did not appear at the church in the evning, nor on the following day, and not a word has been heard from him since. The missing man is 22 years of age, about 6 feet tall, large build and weighs 175 pounds He has dark hair, brown eyes and prominent cheek bones, and went smooth shaven. He wore a black cutaway coat and block soit, white shirt and necktie.

District Court Opens. Judge Macy opened the August term of the district court yesterday, and spent the day trying to get ready for the trial of cases today. The grand jury was empaneled, and consists of the following: William Currie of Crescent, foreman; O. P. Kemp of Garner, time. L. Works of Hazel Dell, O. B. McBride of Boomer, S. S. Frank of Hardin, William Downs of Norwalk, Fritz Blumer of Minden. Judge Macy gave the jury some instructions with reference to the mulci law, laying down the path in about the same manner as their predecessors were told to walk by Judge Deemer last fall. The court instructed them that they were to investigate the question whether or not the law was being lived up to in all its details, and if not indictment be returned accordingly. He Cau tioned them about looking up the question if there were any women employed about the salcons, if chairs or tables were allowed in the space in front of the bar, and if any o other provisions were not being lived
