Great Frequentions Peing Made for the Celebration of Labor Pay.

RAILROADS HAVE MADE SPECAL RATE

Many Visitors Expected from Outside Towns -Order and Line of March for the Grand Parade-Speaking at , the Parks

Next Monday will be Labor day, and in accordance with the proclamation of the pres dent and governor it will be observed with appropriate exercises by the people of Council Bluffs. For weeks past committees appointed by the various labor organizations of the city have been at work on the arrangements, and the preliminaries are now so well in hand that a successful celebration seems assured. It being a legal holiday, business will be quite generally suspended and the day will be given up to enjoyment. It is the first time Labor day has been celebrated in this city, and efforts consequently have to be made to eclipse all celebrations that may come hereafter, instead of all that have ever been witnessed, as is usually the case. All the railroads have made an excursion rate of one and one-third fare for the round trip, and already word has been received that people will come here in large numbers from the neighboring towns. The parado will form at 10 o'clock Monday morning, and it wil be noon before it is over and the people have reached Fairment park for the leas spectacular but quite as pleasant job of cating diener. As soon as the celebrators have f riffed themselves with a good dinner they will proceed to listen to specches. The fellowing will give an idea of the sort of parado that will be seen:

BETRAYED AND DESERTED

Teresa Leonard Tells to the Police the Story of a Ruined Girl.

Teresa Leonard has come to the full realization of what it is to love well but not wisely, and now she is making a vigorous search to find a man to father her unborn child:

Last April, while walking through the shady dells of Hanscom park, Teresa met Alfred Jones, a young man who was fair to lock upon, and who at the time rustled the trunks and baggage at the Nock hotel. There was no introduction, it being a case of love at first sight, Cupid shooting his darts into the hearts of both of the young people After this first meeting there were any number of moonlight strolls, and in due time an agreement to marry was entered into, the time for the taking place of the event being fixed for the early days of September. As the courtship progressed, Alfred suggest d that the ceremony was a mere matter of form and could be omitted, and eventually he persuaded Teresa that this was true. After that the two went to living together, renting rooms at 405 North Nineteenth street where they held themselves up to the public as man and wife, Matters went along well enough until last Monday evening, when Alfred and Teresa went out for a stroll, which was continued until a number of the streets of the city had been walked. As the hour of midnight was reached, Alfred took his Teresa back to the boarding house, telling her to go and re-tire for the night and that he would go down to the hotel and stow away the trunks which had arrived on the late trains. Having implicit confidence in her Alfred, the woman sought sleep and ner pillow, not awakening until the Tuesday morning sun was high in the heavens. Then she discovered that the other side of the bed had not been disturbed during the night and that Jones had not been around the premises. Hastily donning her clothes and imagining all kinds of accidents befalling her lover, she hurried down to the hotel, there to learn that he had not been seen since early Monevening. Still harboring the that he was true, she hunted the town Tuesday, only to learn that she had been deserted. Yesterday the woman applared at the police station, where she laid her troubles before the detective department and asked that a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Jones be issued. The officers informed her that they were powerless to render any assistance and Teresa Leonard went out into the wide world with her faith in the honor of the male portion of humanity very badly shattered. Jones came back to Omaha last night, hoping to get some of his possessions and escape under cover of darkness, but Detectives Dunn and Donahue were locking for him, and they captured him in the livery stable at Fifteenth and Cass streets. He was locked up and charged with seduction.

CONSTABLE KILLED IN SOUTH CAROL NA

One Other Man Dead as the Result of a Street Melee and the Coroner Held as an Accessory-Outcome of an Old Fend.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 29 .- A bloody tragedy was enacted at Blackville, whereby Scio-mon Brown and John Gribben, a dispensary constable, were killed. The double killing was the result of an old feud between Gribben and the influential Brown family. Gribben went to the depot and opened a case of dry goods consigned to Solomon Brown, ostensibly for the purpose of seizing contraband whisky. Simon Brown, the father of Solomon, met Gribben on the street later and repreached him for opening his package, accusing him of persecution. The quarrel waxed warm and Brown was joined by his sons, Solomon, Isadore and Herman. Gribben offered to fight any one of them, and Isadore, 22 years old, accepted the challenge. Gribben struck at him, but the blow was parried, and Brown knocked Gribben down. At this juncture pistols were drawn and six or seven shots were fired in rapid succession. Gribben was shot through the left shoulder and near the heart. He staggered into a store, firing at the same time at the Browns. A bullet struck Solo men Brown, who fell half way to the ground. Gribben continued his firing, and one bulet penetrated Solomon Brown's head, killing instantly. Another bullet penetrated heart. When Gribben's pistol was his heart. When Gribben's pistol was emptied he walked through the store to the back yard, where he fell and died in ter minutes. Some contend that Coroner H. P. Ditches, who was standing in the store at the time, fired the shot that killed young Brown. The coroner proceeded to hold an inquest, however, but the sheriff arrived in the midst of it and arrested him on a charge of being an accessory. Justice Hallet then empaneled a jury and took testimony in relation to Grib-ben's death. The verdict was that he was killed by Brown, and that Simon and Isadore Brown were accessories before and after the

The Elkhorn road will probably ship this season between 1,500 and 2,000 car loads, and the B. & M., since the season began, has been shipping from forty to seventy car loads a day. Tipple Bros. and associates, who have driven a bedrock drain for a distance of 300 feet on Deadwood guich, about one mile above town, have at last struck dirt that will pay to sluice. At the point where they are now working one of the old bedrock drains put now working one of the old befrock drains put in in 1876 has been uncovered. Though buried for a period of eighteen years, the lumber of which it was constructed in as good condition as the day on which it was put into the ground. All this ground, which is drained by the workings, had been worked over in early days, when good shovelers commanded wages of from $6 to $10 a day, consequently any ground which did not pay more than $6 a day to the man was passed over. It is such diggings that the various prospectors now working in Whitewood and Deadwood gulches are looking for and many have been successful in their search. Good wages are being made by search. Good wages are being made by numerous parties who are working these "worked out" claims along the guiches men-

The siliceous ore belt of the Black Hills is of unknown extent, and is apparently co-extensive with the Hills. During the present season it has been encountered in many unlooked-for places, localities which for years past have been worked for other ores by people who failed to see anything of value in the ordinary-booking flat rock that covers acarly every emineuce throughout the Hills. The latest discovery of this character of ore has been made at the head of Whitewood by a party who has been prospecting in that by a party who has been prospecting in that vicinity for some time past. Several shafts had been sunk in the quartitic without finding anything, when it was concluded to go through that formation, which was done, and at a depth of eighteen feet the workers were rewarded by uncovering a sheet of oxide ore of good grade. This position of the ore is peculiar, as in every other portion of the Hills it has been found above the quartzites and in the shales.

B. B.-Barley Beer-B. B.

The most wholesome and the pleasantest summer drink made. Guaranteed to meet the requirements of the Iowa and Nebraska liquor laws.
It is not a new drink, but has stood the test of years and has steadily grown in popularity. Read the analysis and testimonial of a well known chemist: Office of Prof. Nell Johnson, Lincoln, Neb., April 8th, 1885.

Having made an analysis of a compound known as B. B. or Barley Beer, I found it to contain 0.014 per cent, of absolute alcohol, which is a much less per cent, than found n any temperance beverage on the market. There is no more alcohol than is necessary to preserve the vegetable matter. It is perfectly harmless as a drink, and is no sense an alcoholic beverage.
