NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Electric Light Company Will Not Present Any New Proposition.

HAS THE COMPANY A VALID CHARTER

Attorney Holmes Wants to Know Why His Claim Has Not Been Paid—Tax Levy for the Year Certified Up.

The city council had a meeting last evening, the main purpose being to consider what was best to be done in the matter of providing for the lighting of the city.

Mayor Cleaver presided and all the aldermen were present. Chairman Nicholson of the light committee reported that he and the other members of the committee had been taken through the light plant during the afternoon by Manager W. S. Wright, who was unwilling to make any further proposition than the one contained in the contract which it is proposed to renew for a period of five years.

It was said that the company would sell out its plant to the city or to any one else for what it is worth now. The mayor suggested that the council should be allowed to name the price, but Nicholson thought another expert might come in handy in determining the valuation.

Neither of these propositions were taken very seriously. After some discussion it was decided that the city attorney should be called upon for his opinion as to whether the council has the right to renew the contract, inasmuch as there seems to be some doubt as to whether the company has ever had a charter.

It is claimed that the company's so-called charter was granted merely by the council, in spite of the provisions of the law, which at the time no one seemed to know anything about, that required a vote of the people on the question of giving a franchise to any public corporation.

The city charter it is claimed that any citizen who saw fit could come into court and have the levying of a light tax enjoined, and so make things decidedly unpleasant. The city attorney was consequently instructed to hand in an opinion upon the legal status of the case at the regular meeting next Monday evening.

H. H. Haines appeared before the council and asked the council in vigorous terms to pay his claim of $2,400 for attorney fees in the park litigation, as he holds a lien for the amount, the city has not appealed the case and he could not see what was to hinder his getting the money. He called attention to the fact that his attorney, Finley Burke and Judge Trimble, had been paid $10,000 in cash, while he, who was the senior attorney, was left out in the cold and compelled to get a jury to give him a chance to get what was coming to him.

Auditor Gould and Attorney Hazleton called his attention to the fact that the judgment had been rendered after the levy for this year had been made, so that he would have to wait until after next May, when the present levy would materialize. Holmes couldn't see it in that light, however, and so to bring the debate to a close the matter was referred to the judiciary committee and the city attorney.

Mayor Cleaver called attention to the fact that the Russian thistle was making its appearance in the northwest part of the city, a patch having been recently discovered near the approach to the Terminal company's bridge. He recommended that the city employ a man to dig up the thistles, a patch having been recently discovered near the approach to the Terminal company's bridge.

Mrs. Ellen Nelson, wife of Elder Nelson, pastor of the U. B. church at Galena, Ill., in speaking of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, says: "I can cheerfully recommend it." Applied to a cut, bruise or burn, it produces a soothing, pleasantly effect, relieving the pain almost instantly and healing the parts quickly and without leaving a scar.

A fanned cloth dampened with this balsam and bound over the affected part will cure a sprain in less time than any other treatment. Sold by druggists.

Traveling Men Play. Council Bluffs and Omaha traveling men play the third game of base ball this afternoon at 3 o'clock sharp at Charles street ball park, Omaha. This will be the hottest game of the season as it is the rubber game and each side is sure to win. Outmen will be charged 25 cents admission. Ladies and children free.

My boy was taken with a disease resembling bloody flux. The first thing I thought of was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Two doses of it settled the matter and cured him sound and well. I heartily recommend this remedy to all persons suffering from a like complaint. It will answer any inquiry regarding it when stamp is enclosed. I refer to any county official as to its reliability. Wm. Roach, J. P., Primory, Campbell Co., Tenn. For sale by druggists.

IOWA'S STATE FAIR. Forty-First Annual Event Will Eclipse All Other Exhibitions.

DES MOINES, Aug. 31.—Special Telegram to The Bee.—The forty-first annual fair of the State Agricultural society was opened here today. There will be another and informal opening next Tuesday. The day on the grounds was very largely devoted to getting things in readiness for visitors. The amount of material for exhibition has never been larger at this time of the fair than it is this year. There are no evidences of short crops in what is being placed on exhibition. The agricultural departments are especially rich in manufactured products of the soil. The animal departments are all well filled. A feature will be made of races this year and the entries are many and of fine horses. The Des Moines Kennel club has organized a department and the dog show has attracted fine animals from all over the state. Iowa manufacturers are placing on exhibition the best display ever made by them. The outlook for attendance next week is extremely flattering and the officers are confident it will be one of the best fairs yet held.

DON'T LET BABY CRY.

The Protin, Fitous Cr/ Shows Something Wrong With Food—Eab's E. Rich Lactated Food—Tacy Grow Fat on it.

If baby keeps a dry eye, would be full of nothing but eating, sleeping and growing. These three things make up baby's existence. Plenty of rich, nourishing food, taken with relish, brings sound sleep, and babies grow most rapidly during sleep.

When a child cries piteously, as if some terrible pain was convulsing his little whole tender form, when the mother fails to soothe it either by lullaby or plaything, when perfectly distracted she runs to the doctor she is generally astonished by the simple statement which the doctor makes to her, that the sole cause of this trouble lies either in the lactated food the baby had received or in the want of nourishment, which is rapidly imparting his constitution.

Then she feeds the infant with the good lactated food, and her fears disappear in the happy smiles of the baby.

Thousands of mothers know by experience that lactated food surely prevents cholera infantum and other summer disorders of a like character, and in hundreds of cases it has cured the severest attacks of these diseases. It is not safe to be without lactated food in the house.

Babies that are gaining in weight, as their mothers wish, and who show too little animation and interest in things about them soon gain a liveliness and zest for living when fed with this splendid nutriment. They gradually cry less and less; their sleep becomes sound by night, and by day they are bright and noisy and happy.

Such is the great difference between babies that are nourished by lactated food and those that are poorly, because improperly, fed.

There is no parent in the land but who can read the following letter with profit. It is from L. D. Yager, a well known lawyer in Alton, Ill., and tells how his brother's child became the stout, sturdy youngster whose portrait is shown above. He writes:

"My baby nephew, Henry Hewitt Yager, was born January 1892. Of that event he might quote Richard III. by saying, 'Set before my time into this breathing world, scarce half made up.' At birth he weighed three pounds and there were few who thought he could live. The mother was unable to nurse him, and this made the case all the more complicated. Sterilized milk was much consumed, goat's milk, and three or four kinds of baby food, but all to no advantage.
