OFFICE - . NO 12 PEARL STREET | Highwaymen Stop Lon Kerdall but Fled When E'e Showed Fight.

THEY LOOK LIKE TWO OLD TIMERS

Mrs. Stockholm, a Milk Dealer's Wife, Held Up at Her Home and Compelled to Give Up fler Purse.

Lon Kendall, yardmaster of the Milwankee, avoided being robbed Friday night shortly before midnight as he was going along Pearl street past Bayliss park on his way to his home on Third street near Seventh avenue. His wife accompanied him. They saw two men come out of the shadow of the trees in the park and follow them down the street. They quickened their steps, and their pursuers did the same. Near the corner of Willow avenue the two highwaymen called to them to stop. Mrs. Kendall started to run, and Kendall turned around to show fight. At this the two highwaymen fell over one another's feet in the mad attempt to get away. One of them is described as being tall and slim, and the other short and thick set. Their description tallies with that of the two men who committed so many highway robber es on the streets here about a year ago, but always managed to escape the police.

A milk dealer named Stockholm, who lives at the erner of Ninth street and Twenty-fourth avenue, started for Lake Manswa at 3 o'clock as usual. Just after his departure a fellow made his appears his departure a fellow made his appear-ance and compelled Mrs. Stockholm to give up her pecketbook, containing a small amount of cash, and some silverware and clothing. There is no clew to the perty who com-mitted this offense, although Mrs. Stockholm was able to give a rather complete description of h m.

A Midway for the Church. The young people of the First Congregational church gave a novel entertainment Friday evening at the residence of H. W. Tilton on Fifth avenue. The lawn was transformed into a "Midway Plaisance," patterned, very crudely to be sure, after that attractive feature of the World's fair, but affording fun and frolic without limit. long stretch of tents contained various at tractions, notable among which was the "congress of beauties," all nations represented, from the blackest African to the Smooth-faced boys person fairest Saxon. ated these feminine beauties, and so skillfully that almost the elect were deceived.

Had it not been for an occasional awkward hunting for the pants pockets the boys would never have given away their identity. There was an attractive Japanese village, with tea serving. Fair maids in Grecian costume served sundry delicacies. Refreshment ta-bles on the lawn, with music in the air, gave delightful hint of old Vienna. Goff, acknowledged to be the youngest cornet player in the world, gave a number of solos. He is not 7 years old, and he handles the horn wonderfully, sounding the highest notes with sweet clearness.

The streets of Cairo were characterized by the loud tom-tom and the unearthly yells. Donkeys, genuine fiesh and blood affairs, afforded short distance rides at the cost of a nickle. Old and young patronized them. and it was difficult to determine which had the most fun, the young or the old or the donkeys. A huge elephant added to the sport. It was a deceiving combination of laths, cotton cloth and boys. One tent contained such trained animals as cats, dogs and canaries, and such curiosities as red (brickbats), and a six-legged horse without head or tail-a carpenter's horse, in fact arranged for the occasion. Then there was the fortune teller, the Spanish flower girl, the Columbian Guards, etc., and all joined in a grand wedding march and parade, the bridal pair being two little 5-year-olds.

Altogether it was a unique affair for a church entertainment and it drew a crowd. Like all great things, it must come to an end some time. For the past two weeks the great dissolution sale at the Boston store has had a wonderful run. This week will be the last chance to buy goods at the low prices now offered. We have on hand over 300 cases of new fall goods to open after this week, which must be put on sale soon. Take advantage of the prices now offered, as sale positively ends this week. See extraordinary low prices put on remnants in different departments to close out previous to the opening of fall goods. BOSTON STORE,

Although the Ganymede race meet is more than a week a thing of the past, the bills are not all in yet and it is therefore impossible to tell exactly how the boys came out. Only one thing is certain, and that is that the guarantee fund of $300, which was sub-scribed before the race meet came off, to insure against financial loss to the club, will all, or nearly all, have to be called in. One week ago the wheelmen of this city were singing glory hallelujah over the suc-cess of the meet, without thinking whether or not the glorification would bring along with it a piper that must be paid. Now they are engaged in the less delightful, but euqually necessary, occupation of diving down into the lowest depths of their pockets. It is expected that all bills will be collected and paid by the end of this week and the committee will have a statement of where each dollar went, to show each man who is called upon to pay his subscription. Yesterday Hines of the Ganymede came back from Atlantic and ran across the usual hoodoo on the way. He made the outward sixty miles without any difficulty, and had gotten to within five miles of Council Bluffs on his homeward trip, when he suddenly had to stop congratulating himself on his good luck, as he discovered that he had punctured both of his tires. He had to walk the last five miles and lead his wheel. It has come to be generally understood among the wheelmen of this city that any one who starts out to make a run to Atlantic takes his life, in his hands when he does it. A neck is fractured, a tire punctured, a handle har ruptured, or perhaps all three, as the inevitable result. Try a glass of Sulpho-Saline or Soterian miteral waters from the famous Excelsion springs at George Davis', Paul Schneider's and O. H. Brown's drug stores. John Lin-der general agent der, general agent.

The people at the School for the Deaf were considerably worried during the summer on acount of the apparent dying out of the artesian well, which for years had been furnishing the water supply for the institution. From an output of something like fifty gallons per minute, it fell off to five gallons, and it was feared that a new well would have to be dug. A. T. Flickinger of the beard of trustees is authority for the statement that the falling off was the result of the choking up of the pipes with dirt. He says the workmen have succeeded in getting the obstructions out of the way, and the water flows at almost its oid rate.

Vine street is a short street, only two blocks long, but it is to be long on matrimony before long. No less than five weddings are announced to take place on that street dur-ing the next six weeks. Besides these, two have already been announced to take place next Wednesday, one on Third street and the other on Fairview avenue, and Bluff street and Willow avenue are each to con-tribute at least one star to Hymen's coronet before the latter end of the month. It is evident from this that while the little god has been paying strict attention to the re-quirements of Vine street, he has had time to send a few stray shafts out in other directions, and with good effect.

FAIR WILL BE HELD.

Suit Against Lessees. The injunction case of the Douglas County Agriculture society against Kinney Bros., the lessees of the fair grounds, was decided by Judge Scott in favor of the plaintiffs yesterday afternoon.

Agricultural Society Wins the Injunction

This is the case where Kinney Bros who hold the fair grounds under a lease from the owners, refused to allow the fair people entrance to the grounds to prepare for their annual exposition. One of the provisions of the lease held by Kinney Bros, is that the agricultural society shall have the use of the grounds for twenty days in each year at such ime as they shall designate.

This year, however, the breeders' meeting s to be held simultaneously with the exposition. Through their attorney they stated to the court yesterday that they did not propose to offer any obstacle to the right of the fair association to use the grounds, but they would not allow the breeders to occupy the grounds unless they were given the privileges of the stalls and lemonade stands, which they should have received if the breeders' meeting had been held at any other time and independently of the exposition. An effort was made to reach a compromise but this was not successful. The fair nuthorities stated that they would abandon the fair unless they were able to carry out their agreement with the Breeders association, and the trial of the case was proceeded with. The evidence was in the nature of affidavits bear ing on the agreements between Kinney Bros and the owners.

These, together with the arguments, occu-pied the greater part of the day. In ren-dering his decision the court held that durfair people had the exclusive right to th grounds, with the exception of the house, the two red barns and Kinney's private house, and could have as many races there as they saw fit. The injunction asked for was granted and the managers of the exposition are jubilant over the result.

PASTURAGES LITERALLY BURNING UP

No Rain for Six Weeks, Dairy Interests Suffering Severe Losses-Plague of Grasshoppers Adds Its Terrors-Reports from Several Countle ..

BUFFALO, Sept. 1 .- Western N.w York is almost literally burning up. The drouts is without precedent. Farmers mourn the loss of crops and fear havee by fire and starvation of stock. Counties like Chautauqua and Erle, which have dairy interests of great magnitude, are the chief sufferers, but unless rain comes speedily and continuously this entire end of the state will experience a financial loss which it can ill afford. The bordering province of Ontario is similarly parched. The Associated press has collected the following data regarding the effects of the drouth from its correspondents:

Niagara Falls-The long drouth has left its visible imprint on the fields everywhere in Niagara county. In Lockport, Brockport, and other inland towns, hay fields lie burned and blackened; crops have been dwarfed; fruit has deteriorated, and trees shorn of their foliage. Through the fruit section there has been a gen ral attempt to overcome the ruin by artificial means.

Angelica-The loss to Alleghany county will amount to many thousands of dollars. The yield of milk has shrunken from one-third to one-half, it is estimated, and it has been necessary to feed more than half the dairies. Since August 10 the plague of grasshoppers has been alarming.

Hornellsville—Serious damage has been on: to the pastures of Steuben county, and many farmers have been obliged to feed their cattle. This condition is aggravated by the courge of grasshoppers. Outs and buckwheat have been affected seriously, and fields of the former have been cut before maturity to save them. The drouth has ripened the potators prematurely, and the yield will be

Jamestown—The Chautauqua river has shrunk two and a half feet, and other large creeks have dried to mere rivulets. Acres of pasture lands have been burned over and fires are raging in timber lands. Great damage is done to the Gairy interests, and a milk famine is feared. Hamburg—Farmers in Erie county who sell their milk and general produce to the city are downcast over the damage from the drouth. The loss will be inestimable. The soil near the lake shore suffers less than that on the eastern edge of the county, where timber lands are burning and where sparks from passing railroad trains have kindled the lifeless grass. Batavia—The first rain since July 21 fell night before last in Gen-see county, but not in sufficient quantity to quench the thirst of he arid soil. Pasturage and potatoes are TORONTO, Ont.-Since August 1 but .36 inches of rain have fallen, the least since 1874. The western peninsula of Toronto, the garden spot of Canada, is parched and burned. All along the north shore of Lake Ontario and half way to Montreal the drouth is nearly as serious. Pastures are drying up and streams supposed to be everlasting have vanished. The drouth threatens to ef-fect the output of cheese, as pasturage is drying up. The honey yield will be curtailed by the drying up of the buckwheat blossoms In Middlesex and Essex counties farmers are fighting destructive fires and news comes that village on every side and the whole of the population is defending it. RESULTS ON THE RUNNING TRACKS.

Simms' Foul Riding Loses a Racs.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The chief feature of today's racing at Sheepshead Bay was the disqualification of Dobbins in the Ocean handicap, and the decision of the judges met general approval. The horses ran as if blanketed until the turn into the stretch, when Simms took Dobbins to the outside and began his driving. One after the other he bumped the horses out of his way, and when the last furiong was reached he had Roche and Faraday to beat. He bore in against Roche, who in turn drove Faraday against the rails, and the gray had to give it up or go over the fence. He took a bit of revenge out of Roche, for he gave that coit a savage bite to pay for the crowding. Then Dobbins continued on his course, and by crowding Roche so hand that he was nearly driven over the fence, he won by a neck. He was set back, however, amid the applianse of the crowd. Results:

First race, five furlongs: Correction (6 to 5) won, Rubleon (10 to 1) second, Harrington (30 to 1) third. Time: 1:10.

Second race, five furlongs: Applause (8 to 1) won, Waltz (10 to 1) second, Gotham (8 to 1) third. Time: 1:12.

FLOOD HAS RECEDED.

Later Reports Do Not Lessen the Stories of De truction and Suffering.

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 1.-The scene of destruction and desolation in the flood districts for a distance of 100 miles east and west from here, and extending south from the Southern Pactific railroad to the Rio Grande, 200 miles away, is simply terrible Thousands upon thousands of acres of pasture and farm land is still under water .It is estimated that the damage to the crops in the valley of the Leona river alone will reach $500,000, while in the valleys of the Saco and Sabinal rivers the losses will be fully as much more. Many thousand heads of cattle, horses and sheep were swept away and drowned. Up to last midnight all telegrams received here by Southern Pacific railroad officials and for the press came by the roundabout way of El Paso, Pueblo and Kansas City, all direct connection with Uvalde and other flooded towns being cut off. The wire is now restored, however, and information from the Leona valley is now coming in. Reports received this morning are more alarming than the earlier ones. It is still a matter of uncertainty as to the number of lives lost. but additions to the list of drowned are constantly being made. About one-half of the houses in Uvalde, a town of 2,800 population, were carried away, and there is much suffering thereby, but no more fatalities are reported there. Nothing has yet been heard from the settlement of seventy-five families several miles below Uvalde, but there are still grave fears that many if not all of them were swept down by the torrents and lost. The town of Batesville was entirely inundated and there was heavy loss of property, but no lives reported lost. There are several other towns in the flooded district, but they are away from the railroad and telegraphic reach and nothing can be heard from them until the waters subside All construction officials of the Southern Pacific railroad have gone to the scene of the principal disaster, and several train loads of material and men have gone west to repair damage to track and reconstruct bridges. NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 1 .- The Southern Pacific officials here had full advices from the sext of the storm in Texas up to 11 o'clock today, and said that the reports of damage to the track and of the amount of loss to the Southern Pacific has been exaggerated. Dispatches received from the general manager, who is in Texas, show that the principal damage sustained by the road near Uvalde, Tex., was the washing away of iron spans of bridges over the Leona, Hondo and Secor rivers. This was caused by cloud bursts in the mountains near the head of these streams, which brought down a vast amount of water against the bridges. Although they were of the most substantial construction, of the heaviest iron work, resting on stone piers, the bridges were damaged to such an extent as to prevent the pissage of trains until repairs can be made. Wires were repaired today and a temporary office opened at Secor bridge, enabling the officers to obtain accurate information from the seat of trouble. Officials say the report that forty miles of track were washed away and that $1,250,000 loss is involved is ridiculous.

UVALDE, Tex., Sept. 1.-The high water has almost entirely receded and the full effect of the destruction has been made plain. There is no further report of losz of life and the estimate of damage is somewhat lessened. A call for aid, wired to people were present. The day was fine and | San Antonio, met with ready responses and word was soon received from there that $700,000 was on hand and that additional collections would be added thereto, and informing the Uvalde committee to draw on the fund. The Southern Pacific had a large number of men at work and it is almost certain that repairs will be completed enough to allow the resumption of traffic at noon Sunday, at which time a west bound train will leave San Antonio. News of high water have been received from other localities, but it is not thought loss of life will exceed reports of last night.

Des Moines Attorneys Determined to Test the Mulet Law.

DES MOINES, Sept. 1 .- (Special Tele gram to The Bee.)-The attorneys for this (Polk) county decided today to begin action Monday to close all the saloons running in this city under the mulct law. It will affect the business of forty-five places. It will probably not close the saloons for fair week. The basis for the injunctions is the allegation that the petition on file at the office of the county auditor is defective and insufficient. It is claimed by the attorneys that the number of signers is too small to come within the 50 per cent limit of the law. They claim to have had a careful examination made of the petition during the last few weeks, and although the work is not yet finished, the names are running far short of the required number. The petition should have on it some 5,200 names.

The saloon men had but a few hundred of unexamined names as a margin. The examination of the county attorney reveals the fact that the petition is deficient by at least 300. This vitiates the entire petition It is the theory of the county attorney, as outlined to a reporter last night, that the saloon men cannot go out and get the num-ber of names that the petition lacks in order to perfect it, but that they must get an entire new petition of the 5,300 names.

Swartwood, who was attending the Grand Army reunion at Grand Island last week, ran short of funds and made a draft on the house which he represents here for $20. He got a lumber dealer named Harrison to endorse the draft, on which he had no difficulty in obtaining on which he had no difficulty in obtaining the money. He left his Omaha address with Harrison and visited some other towns before coming home. He neglected to before coming home. He neglected to notify the Omaha firm of the draft and when it came it was protested and sent back. Believing that he had been victimized Harrison swore out a complaint against Swartwood, who was found at his home last night and held for the Grand Island officials, who will send a man after him today. Swartwood bears an excellent reputation here and it seems to be only a case of carelessness on his part in neglecting to prepare for the payment of the draft, when it was for-

Board lu No Hurry to Take Action -Plenty of Applicants. A local contemporary has been industriously electing a different successor to Superintendent Fitzpatrick of the city schools each day since it was known that that gentleman had practically resigned his connection with the educational department of the Omaha city government. Notwith-standing these assertions, however, it may be understood that no conclusion has yet been arrived at by the members of the Board of Education as to the man to be chosen and the chances are that several weeks will elapse before any definite action is

It is the general sentiment of the board that time enough should be taken in making the selection, to be sure that no mistake is made. Frequent changes at the head of the department are looked upon as injurious to the interests of the schools and an effort will become a fixture for some years at
