AMUSEMENTS.

Mrs. Cora Urquhart Potter and Mr. Kyrle Bellew concluded their engagement at Boyd's last evening, producing "Charlotte Corday," a sombre story of the life of that most unfortunate of women, who, had she lived in these latter century times, would have no doubt been a leader of the Reds and an anarchist of the most pronounced Mrs. Potter is overwhelmed in the character of the woman who stirred all France by the assassination of Marat, although she may have done the deed for the public good. "In beholding her act of as-sassination," says LaMartine, "history dares not applaud, nor yet while contemplating her sublime self devotion can it stigmatize or condemn." Herein is the keynote for the drama, but the story is not interesting, neither is it natural, and even an actress of Modjeska's abilty could hardly hope to make anything out of so unreal a personage as Charlotte Corday is pictured to us in history. At the matinee "Camille" was the bill, and Mrs. Potter shone splendidly, the Armand of Mr. Bellew being a finished study. In point of fact, "Camille" has not been so well done in years, the company as a whole being far above the average.

Unknown Man Drowned.

Yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock medium-sized man walked out on a sandbar jutting into the river just below Gibson, and removed his hat, coat, vest and boots. He hen went into the water. A dozen or more boys were swimming just above the bar, and after watching the man disrobe and enter the water, paid no more attention to him. Just about dark it was discovered that the clothing was still on the bar. Some railroad men took charge of the clothing and carried it to the B. & M. roundhouse, where it still remains.

t still remains. The hat is a brown derby, gray and white checked summer coat and vest. The boots are good and have been worn but little. It is supposed that the unknown man either committed suicide or was caught in the eddy at that point and drowned.

Yesterday morning the M. H. Cook Clothing company made its initial bow to the city of Omaha, and a very pretty bow it was, to The Impression made upon all who visite the store today at Thirteenth and Farnan was so good that it will take some might good talk and many years of time to wear i win and have done nothing by halves. They have spent a nice little income upon the renovation of the store and the past week has seen a dozen brush artists decorating the walls of this historic corner. But while all these improvements were going on the army of clerks were not asleed -in fact, they labored far into the night making things ready for yesterday's grand achievement. Thousands and thousands of dollars' worth of new goods were opened, marked and piled on the counters in those mammoth perpendicular stacks, such as only the expert clothing salesman knows how to build. The sight was good for sore eyes. The clothing markets have been ransacked far and wide for the very best and the very latest to be had. Every style made by man, every color, every fabric, is now represented in this new and probably the largest clothing house west of Chicago.

But the way, the cults were going out of the store it that everybody was convinced of this fact. The M. H. Cook Clothing company succeed the Columbia, with every indication of making themselves a decided feature in the clothing business of this city.

NO CASH FOR CAMPAIGNERS. Municipal Money Closely Guarded by Board of Public Wor.s.

Another step in the direction of retrenchment was taken by the Board of Pub-Le Works at an adjourned meeting yesterday. For some time past the board has been everflowed with resolutions introduced by various members of the council calling for street repairs at various points in their territory. These involved the ex-penditure of small amounts in each instance, but as election time approaches the uncilmen are getting into the good graces of their constituents by introducing dezens of these resolutions at each meeting, and the aggregate amounts up to a heavy ex-

The board has finally determined to put a stop to all expenditures of this sort, as is evidenced by the following resolution, which "Resolved, That between September 1, 1894, and January 1, 1895, this blard will not incur any expenditure of public money other than that heretofore or hereafter specifiordered by the mayor and council by ordinance or concurrent resolution, excepting such as may be absolutely necessary maintain the sewers in good working order and also such repairs of streets and alleys as may be absolutely necessary to prevent serious accidents and resulting damage suits against the city."

only additional business transacted was the passage of the regular pay roll, which was approved with the exception of one item. This was an item in favor of Dominick Cosgrove for seventeen days service nspecting the paying of the alley between fwenty-second and and Twenty-third and Chicago and Davenport streets. This made the cost of inspection, at $4 a day, $68, and the bill was promptly laid by for investigation. The last five alleys that have been paid cost $54 for inspection altogether, or less than Mr. Cosgrove managed to put in for the single piece of work.

Captain M. W. Day. Captain M. W. Day of the Ninth cavalry, she was stationed at Fort Robinson, is now n detail at Mount Union college, Alliance, O. Captain Day has made an enviable rec-ord in the west and is held in high esterm by the officers and troops of the Department of the Plate. The Alliance Critic makes the following reference to the captain:

Captain Matthias W. Day of the Ninth inited States cavalry arrived in this city orm Mansfield to take charge of the military department of Mount Union college. Captain Day is a young man of commanding appearance and splendid physique and is a pleasant and highly accomplished gentleman. His original home was in Mansfield, O., his father and Petroleum V. Nasby having been the founders and for many years the editors and publishers of the Mansfield Herald, now called the Mansfield News. Captain Day left Mansfield about twenty-three years ago when quite young, att:nded school at Oberlin and later graduated from West Point, since which time he has been in the active service of the regular army.

In taking charge of the military department, with his splendid ability as a com-manding officer and drill master, he will doubtless keep the department up to its present high standing.

Upon being asked the result of his quest, Mr. Martin said there was no truth in the rumor whatever. The secretary of war positively assured the Omaha committee that no such change is contemplated. MONEY WENT TO THE DOCTOR.

Sensational Will Suit Promised Within a

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Sept. 1 .- J. Delaney, an attorney, left here for Louisville, Ky., today. He went on a s cret legal mission, but enough has been learned to warrant the statement that a sensational law suit may be filed in Louisville within a few days. It seems that about three weeks ago a Mrs. Spears, a wealthy woman in Louisville, died, eaving an estate of $150,000. When she died she willed nearly everything to a physician. One of the items was $80,000 for hospital to cost $30,000, the physician to be in charge. How the other $50,000 was to be used was not stated. This lady had a son named Charles Spears living in this city, but he died a few years ago, leaving a son, also named Charles Spears, who is no 13 years old. Mrs. Spears thinks that her son was cut off the will by undue invence on the part of the doctor and proposes to have most of the money or sue. TRYING TO SAVE KURTZ.

Efforts in Behalf of a Former Omaha Man Sentenced to Hang in Chicago. Strenuous efforts are being made by the relatives of Frank Kurtz, recently of Omaha, sentenced to hang in Chicago, October 19, for the murder of his wife, to have the penalty commuted to life imprisonment.

Kurtz, on going to Chicago soon after the beginning of the year, began to abuse his wife and child. Mrs. Kurtz promptly had him placed under bonds to keep the peace. This rendered Kurtz furious, and on his centinued ill-treatment his wife left him. March 24 he wrote his wife a letter asking her to meet him on the Kingle street bridge saving that he would give her $15, and expressed regret for the manner in which he had abused her. Kuriz also intimated that he hoped their domestic difficulties could be smoothed over, so that in the future they would live together. Mrs. Kurtz went to the appointed place only to meet her death When she approached her husband he drev a revolver and shot her three times. Death came instantly. At the first fire a policeman and the bridge tender rushed toward the murderer, reaching his side just too late to save the woman's life. Kurtz turned his gun and tried to kill the officer, but the officer's thumb caught the hammer and the cartridge did not explode. Kurtz was tried before Judge Smith, convicted of murder, and sentenced to be hanged on October 19. Miss Mary Kurtz, sister of the condemned man, has been straining every nerve to have brother's sentence commuted to life im prisonment. It is said that she has visited the various members of the jury which found Kurtz guilty and to get their signatures to a petition for executive elemency. The claim has ben advanced that Kurtz is partially insane and was not responsible for

Miss Kurtz called on Rev. William Clarke, pastor of the Campbell Park Presbyterian church and president of the Society for the Prevention of Crime, and asked him to use his influence in her brother's behalf. Dr. Clarke called at the jail and had an hour's interview with Kurtz. On leaving 'Dr. Kurtz said: "From the talk I had with Kurtz I am fully convinced that the law should take its course. He claims that he had an extreme provocation and that is why he killed his wife. While I am not an in-sanity expert, nor familiar with the symp-toms of inciplent lunacy, I think that Kurtz is perfectly sane. I am anxious to do what is right and just, but my judgment is that the law should be carried out and Kurtz made to pay the death penalty."

LOCAL GERMAN AFFAIRS.

Xandl is Content. Xandl Bauer, the once well known German comedian, who forsook the boards to engage in business of his own in South Omaha, declares himself now well satisfied with his lot. Though as yet a tiny bit of femininity, hardly beyond the first efforts at locamotion, the little feet respond gracefully to maric's

ELABORATE PROGRAM PREPARED the Organizations Will Fall for the Hig Street Parade -

at syndicate Park.

The Omaha Central Labor union appointed committee some weeks ago to make arrangements for the proper celebration of Labor day, and as congress had by statute made the first Monday in September of each year a national heliday the local workers considered that a special effort should be rande for the first celebration of the day thus dignified in character. All of the ork has been done without the least fricion, and unless all signs fall or the weather be bad the people of Omaha and visitors will witness the grandest labor parade tomorrow that has ever been seen west of Chicago. It is the intention of Grand Marshal John H. Withnell to have the procession ready to start at 9 o'clock, and the members of all organizations are requested to be on time. As will be noticed in the program, arrangements have been made for the amusement of the children, and the emmittee hopes to make this a day no o be soon forgotten by the little folks. Arrangements have also been made for plenty of refreshments on the grounds, and dancing platform 50x100 feet, with good
