Omaha Almost Loses a Game After Having it Won Easily.

SAINTS MAKE A HARD U HAL FIGHT

Rourkes Secure a Winning Lead in the First Inning and the Visitors Tie the Score in the Ninth-Other Sanday Scores.

The splendid rainfall in the morning made an almost perfect field for ball playing at the Charles Street park yesterday afternoon and a magnificent crowd turned out to witness the Rourke family toy with the St.

It was Freddy Clausen's debut on the home grounds, and there was much speculation in the grand stand before play was called as to what the result would be. Well, sir, the old Columbuster just garnered laurel leaves until he had enough to make a wreath that would go around The Bee building, and the unanimous verdict was that he will do.

Had be been well supported he would have won just as easy as the erysipelas, for out of the eight tallies Tubby Welch took unto his big, fat bosom, only one was earned. Frederickus mowed down the doughty Apostles whenever he felt like giving that good, right fin of his the necessary kink, like so many mulicin stalks before the gale.

To be sure, he was hit pretty often, but, with the exception of one inning, this always happened after chances had been offered to retire the side. On the other hand, notwithstanding he did his very best, Young Mr. Johnson was batted hard and

Just before the game opened up Hugh Nicol who is now holding the reins over the Saints, said: "Johnsoo's my crack pitcher," but at its close he modulated this statement by saying that he meant his cracked pitcher. Generally, when Omaha needed a hit, she just reached out and picked it off like you would a ripe pomegrapate or a banana. But don't you believe that it wasn't an exciting game, after all, and, notwithstanding, it should have been easy, it took the Rourkes ten innings to clinch it.

HERE'S WHERE WE WON IT. Grasshopper Ulrich, as usual, was the first man to face Mr. Johnsing. He had his eyes freshly cleaned up in the morning and the second ball pitched he straightened out along the left field line like a streak of chalk. Then before Mr. Nicol, Mr. Johnson or Mr. Welch could realize it, the Rourkes had piled up six big oleagenous runs, pastelles, every one of them.

Lily Langsford laced one up against the palisades for a pair of sacks. Colonel Kling-atone muffed Willie Bill Moran's fly; big McVey smashed her over the fence, Grandpa Serry accepted a pass, and Fear and Frederickus both hit safe. This bit of fancy work, linked to a wild pitch or two, was the cause of the half dozen raw above

In their half, the Apostolic gang g t on of these back. Kid Mohler hit safe, a wild pitch shoved him on to second, Preston's out to third and through a lunkhead play by the dapper Mr. Fear, he was enabled to slap his valises on the plate. That was all, In the second McVey was slammed out at first by Preston, then Scery made a hit and stole second, but here his journey ended, both McCann and Old Hutch flew out to

We had a big scare in the second, but that was about all, for they only got one more pearly little tally.

Cole led off with a smash for two bags, then after Holly had been erased at first Colonel Johnsing reached first on an error, while Cole gayly romped home. It looked as if they were in for a gob of there is nothing in looks. You know the old adage about an onion smelling just as delectably if you call it a rose. Well, that's the point I am trying to make. crowd all hald their breath as Mohler, the boy from Japan, waddled to the plate.

Bang! That was a wicked slash by the Kid at one of Freddy's choicest convolutions.

Then one of these indolent drops of his came moping along, and the Kid smale it with prodigious power. It went way out over left like a swallow on the wing, and Mr. Johnsing and everybody else thought it was over the fence. But it wasn't. Running swiftly back to the fence, Grandpa Seery leaped up into the air about eleven or thir-teen feet and tare the lights out of the flying sphere. It was so hot it singed his hand, and by a lightning throw he got it back across the lot to McVey. And the people all cried aloud in their ex-AND HERE'S WHERE TROUBLE CAME Well, things went along in this style until the hinth, when the score stood 8 for Pa and 4 for Tubby Welch. It looked like a riveted cinch. But you know what Mobiler was again the first man up and he swatted out a nice, clean single. Then, after Preston had ripped three gaping rents in the air Marcum and Welch hit safe and the bags were full. That was bad, and Colonel Clausen grew somewhat inflorescent about the gills, and more so when Ulrich let Kling's grounder get through, and redder yet when Works whaled out a single and Cole a two-bagger, four runs getting in and tying the soire.

There was much quietude and soreness in the grand stand, but the tenth inning evened matters up nicely, and of course the victory was a great one. Ulrich got his base on balls, again exemplitying the old adage that everything comes to a man who waits. Langsford died at first, but Billy Moran got in a picturesque lick and Preston permitted McVey's grounder to alip by him. Then Seery and McCann lammed out a c-uple of butes and Pear his second two-sacker, and the day was ours. This bit of artistic hitting netted another quartet.

The Saints tried hard in their half, but their efforts were futile, and again they went down. Score:

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. Sept. 2.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—Rock Island and Quincy played a tame game today, attended by but few fentures. Both teams fielded loosely. It developed today on the arrival of the two teams from Quincy that the game played there which Quincy won will not be counted in the pennant race. Originally Quincy forfeited the game, not being provided with a new ball to begin with, and when the time had elapsed to play the two captains sured to play an exhibition game rather than disappoint the audience. ENTERING THE HOME STRETCH.

Race for the Western Association Pennant Holds Out Strong in Interest.

The great race in the Western association continues with unabated interest, notwithstanding the fact that Rock Island seems to be clinching her hold on first place. As the clubs stand this morning Omaha is but forty-two points behind the leaders, with five games less won and four more lost. This is but a narrow margin and will lost. This is but a narrow margin and will require but a few games the right way to wipe it out. Omaha has nineteen games yet to play, and considering the standard of the pitchers now with the team. Whitehill, Albey and Clausen, and judging by the article of ball they have been playing during the last week, notwithstanding reverses at Lincoin, we may yet be able to end the season in accordance with the management's original war cry of "third or better." That the race still continues the closest and most exciting in the country is attested by the fact that fifty-two points yet cover the six leading clubs. This afternoon the Omahas meet the St. Josephs at the Charles Street park and a battle royal may be sanguinely anticipated. Tuesday Euckerino Ebright will be on hand with his brawny agriculturists for three games, and of course we want all five of these games. Thursday evening the team goes to Des Moines for three games, thence these games. Thursday evening the team goes to Des Moines for three games, thence to Pecria, Jacksonville, Quincy and Rock Island for three each, the three at the latter place ending what has been certainly latter place ending what has been certainly a most wonderfully prosperous and successful season.

Omaha and St. Joe will play but one game today. Efforts to induce Manager Nicol to transfer the postponed Saturday game to Omaha were fruitless, and that game will probably never be played. With Abbey against Kling this afternoon the battle should be a warm one. It will be called promptly at 2:30, and the teams

LEIGH & ROSE STABLES SOLD.

Clifford Brings $25,000 and the Others Fatch Fatt Prices. NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The sale of the racing stable of Leigh & Rose took place at Sheepshead Bay before several hundred of the best known owners and trainers and the the best known owners and trainers and the prices realized were good. The greatest demand was, of course, for the horses in training, which have been running lately and winning. Much competition was seen on the sale of Clifford before he was finally knocked down to R. L. Rose, one of the partners. Ducat was sought after by several, as were Chant, Lazzarone and Handspun. There was some disappointment over the price brought by the brother of Butterflies, the Futurity winner, but the next yearling on the list, a half brother to Handspun and Lazzarone, brought $5,000, Richard Croker belog the purchaser. The horses which brought more than $5,000 were as follows: Clifford, ch. c., 4, R. L. Rose, $25,000; Ducat, b. c., 4, E. Corrigan, $6,000; Chant, b. c., 3, C. H. Malvern Particular as to Grounds. MALVERN, Ia., Sept. 2 .- (Special to The Bee.)—Last Friday after the Glenwood base ball nine had for the second time this season been defeated by Malvern, the Glenwoodites boastingly said Malvern could not do it again for $100; that they would play Malvern again on their own ground for $100. The Malvern boys concluded they would "call their bluff," and sent a challenge last Monday to play Malvern on the grounds here, as they proposed, for $50 a side, neither nine to have other than the men who played in the preceding two games. After considering the challenge until last evening, Glenwood replied that they would play Malvern if they would go to Glenwood or Plattsmouth. Malvern replied that masmuch as Glenwood had proposed that they play here, they did not feel like running all over the country for the privilege of playing with a club they had already defeated twice, and would not play at Plattsmouth or Glenwood. see.)-Last Friday after the Glenwood base

Questions and Answers.

SIDNEY, Ia., Aug. 26.—To the Sporting Editor of The Bee: I would like to ask your opinion of a decision that was made in a game of ball Monday. There was one out, a base runner on second base; the batsman makes three strikes and runs to first (the catcher failing to hold the third strike); the catcher throws the ball to first and the batsman is out, but in trying to avoid the first baseman the batsman falls in such a manner that it looked like he did it intentionally. Now, could the umpire call the man out that runs from second to third, the baseman claiming that the man ran into him purposely to hinder him from throwing to third base to catch the baseman running from second to third. The umpire called the man out, and I claim it isn't right. Please let me hear from very leave the second to th Questions and Answers. it isn't right. Please let me hear from you in regard to it.—F. PURELY A BEAR MOVEMENT

Decline in Stocks fast Week the Eccult of a De ire to Gain.

ALES MADE TO SECURE SMALL PROFITS

Large Holders Have Paried with Very Little of Their Lines - Railroad Prospects Encouraging and the General Outlook Much Improved.

NEW YORK, Sept. z.-Henry Clews, head of the banking firm of Henry Clews & Co., writes of the situation in Wall street: "As might have been expected, the Wallstreet markets have during the past week shown a partial reaction from the advance and the activity immediately following the settlement of the tariff question. It was natural that an advance, after such a long period of duliness, should be followed by sales to realize profits. A luxury so long out of reach was seized with prompt avidity, and the consequent decline in prices has been encouraged by 'bear' sales. One fact, however, deserves to be noted as a symptom of the market. The realizing has been mostly by the smaller class of op-erators, who had bought for a 'turn' upon the prospect of the passage of the tariff bill. The large holders, who have been carrying big lines of stocks, bought around panie times and held ever since, have as yet sold very few stocks. They appear to be of the opinion that the real advance is not to be expected upon the transient sensational effect of the first settlement of this question, but upon later effects, arising from the outworkings of the readjustments and the general expansion of business. The starting up of manufacturing and merchanting now apparent on every hand is, with them, a reason for expecting a permanent revival of confidence, an increase in the earnings of the railroads and improving dividends upon corporate capital generally. That the capitalist holders consider to be the true time for realizing, and, with money still abundant and cheap, they see no reason for parting with property which a few weeks or months hence is likely to be worth much more than it would bring upon large sales today. Another motive induencing this class to cling to their holdings is the fact that, owing to the large amount of stock held stagnaut through receiverships, this is, and for some time must remain, a comparatively marrow market, not best calculated to draw into Wall street a large outside interest. The practical significance of this factor is that until a considerably higher range of prices is reached the market is likely to be sustained by comparatively light of erings of stocks and by the countenance of a very influential class of holders.

"The crop reports show improving prospects for the railroads, The latest estimates indicate a probability of fully 500,000,000 bushels of wheat. Up to the 20th of August the crop of corn was estimated at about 1,500,000,000 bushels, but later weather conditions have encouraged the hope that the yield may prove to be close upon an average. So far as respects transportation interests, the increase in wheat, amounting to something near 100,000,000 bushels, will probably quite offset any possible falling off in corn, he prospect of the passage of the tariff The large holders, who have been carrying big lines of stocks, bought around garded as materially underestimating the probable output. The opinion gains ground that the aggregate supply of wheat from all sources will turn out to be the largest in the world's history. Should this prove to be the case, it will afford a valuable help towards the abatement of political discontent and the recovery of depressed industry among the European nations. In England, Germany, France, Belgium, etc., the recovery of trade comes slowly. Large expectations (in England especially) have been built upon the adoption of a lower tariff in this country. It remains to be seen how far the event will justify that hope, but it will, at least for the present, give a stimulus to European industries, and that may possibly suffice to break up the prevailing stagnancy and start old world commerce upon a fresh era of activity.

"The enactment of the new tariff has had less effect upon the English market for our securities than had been expected. Like our own market, London had bought moderately on the prospect, and it sold promptly on the advance. British investors have been so discouraged by the recent receiverships of our great railroads that time must elapse and those events be forgotten before London will become a considerable buyer either for investment or speculation. Here this is expected, and the effect of this loss of the usual London co-operation has been already discounted and has no further effect for the New York market."

Omaha Still Has an Excellent Standing Among Eastern Business Men. Mr. W. H. Roberson, Omaha manager of R. G. Dun & Co., speaking of local trade,

"I returned from a vacation trip east on Monday. During my absence and while in New York City a number of the leading credit men of the largest houses in this credit men of the largest houses in this country were interviewed. It was gratifying to find that Omaha jobbers and retail merchants were in most excellent standing with these eastern people. Representatives of some of these great houses, in speaking of our local jobbers, named a number whose paper they would cheerfully take if they could get it at much less than legal rates. It may be worth while to state that in all the conversations held with the credit men above referred to. while to state that in all the conversations held with the credit men above referred to, in which nearly every house of consequence in Omaha was discussed, not one word was dropped uncomplimentary to our people. "Some interest was manifested in the political situation in Nebruska, and a good many inquiries were made as to whether or not Nebruska would join Kansas and Colorado with a populist governor. Not being a politician and not being well informed, it was not possible for me to enlighten them, but among conservative business men throughout this country there is considerable uncasiness with reference to the strength of the populist movement, especially in the west.

mess men throughout this country there is considerable uneasiness with reference to the strength of the populist movement, especially in the west.

"The feeling among eastern manufacturers and jobbors was very encouraging. All that I saw took the view that the tariff was settled, and that as a result business men could readjust themselves to the new conditions and business could resume the even tener of its way without delay. A good many instances were cited of a resumption of operations in the factories, and all perdicted a very garly activity in commercial matters of stating the line.

"Since my return I have had a conversation with one of the leading financiers of Omaha, who is not so hopeful in his views. On the contrary, he says that the tariff question is not settled, and that on the reconvening of congress the same old agitation with reference to the monetary system and the tariff pointy will be respended. He is disposed to discount everything that is said by eastern people looking to a resumption of presperity. His idea is that we can probably wait the system for a return of the old time activity In bissiness circles.

"In visiting the trade locally few of our business men are faund in the dumps. Omaha's trade has theld its own remarkably, especially in jobbing lines, and all agrees that the jobbers and manufacturers of the city will enjoy quite a fair business this fall and winter, notwithstanding the destruction of the crops in nearly all our tributary territory. Instead of large bills to a few customers small bills to a great many customers will be the rule, and the aggregate will make a very satisfactory showing at the end of the year. The following brief statements of facts bear out this theory:

"One of our largest grocery houses has soid twenty-four cars of canned goods since July 20, and soid a large for process of the in a single order. The firm soid 19,000 half chests of tea in 1889, and will exceed this number for 1864.

"One of our largest grocery houses reports an increase of 60 per cent to has been pushing its trade in western Iowa lately, and now reports orders enough ahead to keep its entire force trusy for thirty days. August proves the largest month of the year for this firm.

"One of the members of a young wholesale house here, which commenced a few years ago with light capital, informed a confidential friend within the week that his firm had netted $13,000 in its business within the year.

confidential friend within the week that his firm had netted $10,000 in its business within the year.

"Another wholesaler in a special line, supplying small dealers throughout the country, states that it is simply a question of getting good men with them. They can sell all the goods their capital will allow and not more than half try.

"Taking everything into consideration the jobbing trade is extremely compineent, though some of the less hopeful ones are somewhat apprehensive that the short crop will prove a great drawback to trade.

"The demand for money locally is very light. One of the best banks in Omaha loaned a customer the other day $10,000 at 6 per cent. This is a new departure which is probably a straw showing which way the wind is blowing in this commercial center. It has frequently been remarked that Omaha merchants were obliged to pay too high rates for bank accommodations, and this probably explains why many of them carry a part of their money in eastern banks and borrow heavily at 4 per cent and 5 per cent from eastern financial institutions.

"Senator Paddock, in a conversation hel-"Senator Paddock, in a conversation held this week, expresses very positive views as to the value of real estate. He holds that there is nothing equal to real estate for a permanent investment, even at present prices, and in the face of present conditions. In his discussion of the matter he cited the fact that real estate activity marks certain cycles in a century, and that an examination of the history of speculation for fifty years in this country will show that investors have turned to real estate at regular intervals. As the senator is a large property owner in this city and has made considerable money by adhering to his theory in times past, his suggestion is entitled to consideration.

"Hon. W. G. Whitmore was in my office the other day, and in a brief discussion of conditions opened my eyes to several facts which I think will be interesting to readers of this trade review. Whitmore Bros. have which I think will be interesting to readers of this trade review. Whitmore Bros. have done an average business of $70.00 a year in grain, stock and hay for the last five years. Their losses for the whole period have been but $200, showing that farmers and grain, dealers should utilize the facilities afforded them by the mercantile agencies for inquiring into credits. These brothers have $4.000 acres of corn on their land this year, which will yield forty bushels per acre in spite of drouth, and be worth, $60, 70, or perhaps $0 cents per bushel. Mr. Whitmore says there are sixty-five acres of beets sugar in Valley precinct which will be a profitable yield. He grows quite enthusiastic over the sugar beet production, acres of beets sugar in Valley precinct which will be a profitable yield. He grows quite enthusiastic over the sugar beet production, and says in years like this the beets are worth more for feed than for sugar. As illustrating how they stand the drouth, he stated that out of curiosity he dug down to the roots and tendrils of a sugar beet, following it in all its ramifications to the end of its tendrils, and found that this tuber extended its tendrils to a depth of seven feet and drew moisture from the subsoil, which in the Platte bottom is entirely reliable.

which in the Platte bottom is entirely reliable.

"We have had one bad failure this week, being the retail boot and shoe house of M. H. Cook & Son, an old and well established retail store which has usually done a good high class business. This is the first failure of any consequence in Omaha for many months, and the first shoe failure that has occurred here for six months.

"At South Omaha cattle receipts have been larger than last week, and prices on hogs have gone up, but good hogs are becoming scarce. Packing house products are in good demand, and the general effects of the strike are rapidly wearing off.

"Last August there were seventy failures in Nebraska, and seven in Omaha and South Omaha. In the month just passed the failures aggregate but twenty-seven, and in the city but one." MANCHESTER TRADE REVIEW.

BOSTON, Sept. 2.-The American Wool and Cotton Reporter says of the wool market: Domestic wools have been rather quiet ket: Domestic wools have been rather quiet since the 21st, particularly while nearing the close from Thursday to Monday, the majority waiting to see what the final action on the tariff was to be, the chief feature being the purchase of 1,500,000 pounds of Montana by a manufacturer belonging to the class referred to last week, "who come in any time regardless of any speculative influence—not being forced in by any advance." There has been considerably less demand for fleeces, and a slight easing up in the views of holders of territorial wool; still, it has been, on the whole, a fair week for trade, and wools in general have been sold at as high a price as at any time during the month; medium wools are especially firm. On August 28 the suspense in which the trade has labored being at an end, they saw their way clearer as to what to do and what to expect. The feeling in general is hopeful. The sales of fleeces consist mainly of medium and low medium unwashed wools at 150/18c, of which several hundred thousand pounds were taken. Texas wool was in some demand. There were sales of "short" at 11c, of eight months' at 12c, and a fair-sized lot of twelve months' at 12c and a fair-sized lot of twelve months' at 102/12c for average, and 12/24le for choice. Oregon wool was in fair request at current quotations. In addition to the sales of f. 500,00 lbs. of Montana, there were several moderate sized lots of territory disposed of, amounting, all told, to over 5,000,000 lbs. this included some Wyoming and Idaho at 12/24le, and miscellaneous lots of various territorial wools ranging in price from 10½ filt ac. LONDON, Sept. 2.-Money rates during the week were a shade easier. It is not expected that they will strengthen for some time. The enormous stock of gold held by the Bank of England shows a glut of available resources. The opinion of the best authorities now, however, favors a turn in the tide of business ere long, which will absorb these unprecedented accumulations. One of the leading factors is the settlement of the American tariff question, which promises to have an immediate effect on international trade. Business continues to expand and the strength of the market is well maintained. Naturally this is greatly due to cheap money. All gilt edge stocks stand almost at prohibitive prices and second and third rate securities are consequently profiting thereby. There has been censiderable investment in the foreign markets. Home railway securities were strong with an increase in demand. Low priced stocks in the market for American securities received a full share of the business. Prices showed unexpected strength. expected that they will strengthen for

SPECULATION CAUSED THE FAILURE.

Junior Partner Invested in Sugar and Lost the Firm's Money. NEW YORK, Sept. 2.-Unsuccessful speclation in Sugar by a junior partner was the cause of the failure of the large knit goods manufacturing house of S. Barron & Co. of this city. The confession was made at a meeting of the firm's creditors by Theodore Barron, who places his loss at $7,100. The latter is a son of the senior member of the firm. For years S. Barren & Co. did a prosperous business, and when an assignment was made last month it was a surprise to the trade. Counsel for the firm said today that the assets were $122,132.49; preferences, $41,000; liabilities, $185,000. The firm has hoped to pay 3814 per cent on the instead submitted a proposition for 25 cents on the $1. This basis of settlement did not meet with the approval of the creditors. Creditors examining the statement sheet noticed an unexplained deficit of $7,100, and asked for an explanation. Theodore S. Bar-ron was visibly agitated, and his face flushed as he said: 'Gentlemen, I took that $7,100 unknown to my father, who is the 'company' in Theodore S. Barron & Co. I drew i out in two checks, one for $4,000, and the other for $3,100. I speculated on Wall street and lost every cent.

"And what did you speculate in, pray?" demanded a creditor.

"Sugar," answered Mr. Barron.

"And you drew out the money unbeknown to your partner. I demand that this story be investigated. Let us have his bank books and broker's accounts. Counsel insisted that the young man was telling the truth. Subsequently the creditors agreed to a compromise at 33% per cent, the money to be paid in three installments.
